No. 66,482

THURSDAY APRIL 8 1999

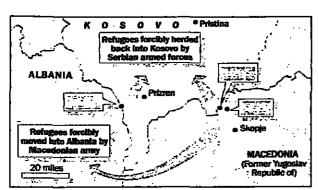

Travolta: City slicker in action

NEW FILMS page 35

Asian values: Britain's new millionaires

page 15

'The Macedonians worked even faster than the Serbs to get these people out of their country'

Refugees moved at dead of night

A doll, family albums, passports: all went under the bulldozer at Blace, reports Daniel McGrory

THE United Nations led the condemnation yesterday of a midnight raid by Macedonian troops to evict forcibly 30,000 refugees from their makeshift camp on the border.

And there was further alarm as the Serbs suddenly closed their borders at Blace and Jazince, ordering thousands of ethnic Albanians back to their homes in Kosovo. Nato officers fear they will now be used as human s against allied attacks.

At Blace, aid workers described how Macedonian soldiers spread through the camp tearing down tents and dragging families on to buses that were then driven across the neighbouring border. In the frightened mélée, par-ents were separated from children and most were prevented from bringing even the few possessions they salvaged when they fled Kosovo.

The UNHCR called this evacuation brutal and a fundamental violation of human rights. "You do not move people at dead of night without telling anyone where they are going and split up families in the haste to tip them out of your country," an official said. As dawn rose over what had suddenly become a ghost camp there was ample and poignant evidence of how ruthlessly these thousands of Kosovo Albanians were moved. A child's doll lay trampled in the mud. Passports and documents were strewn among a tangle of clothes and in the mud were obviously treasured keepsakes such as a family photo album and letters. Jars of baby food sat open on tables made from cardboard boxes. Meals were half-eaten, a radio was still playing and a leathe jacket hung from a tree. A worker with the Islamic charity El Hilal said: "The soldiers just stormed the camp. Children were screaming. Some refugees tried to escape and troops fired over the heads and hauled them back with their rifles. We were not allowed to help them."

He said that Serb troops hi ing in an abandoned fronti village became embroiled and grabbed some of the refugees back on to their side of a border marked by the railway line that was used 11 days ago to expel these refugees.

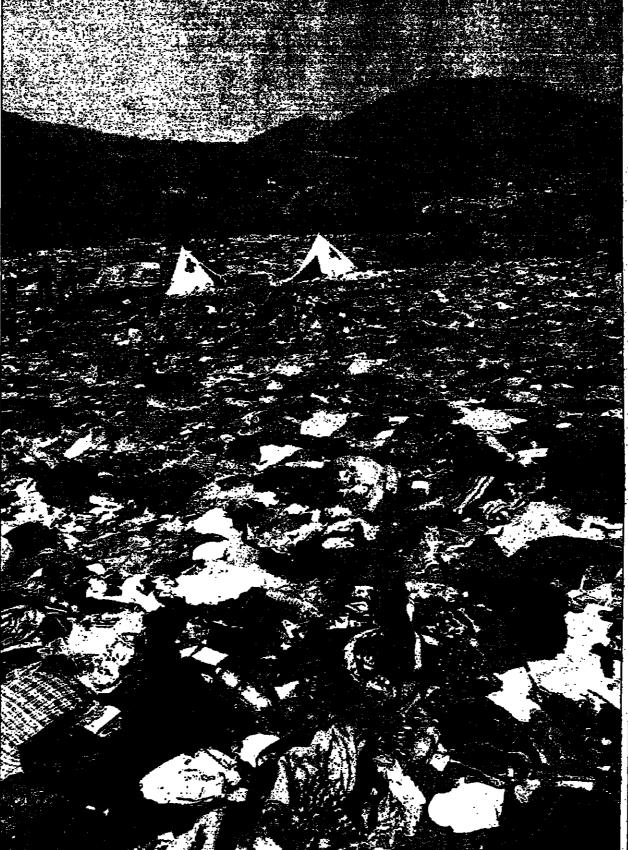

The eviction was over within seven hours. Christopher Thomas of the American Red Cross said: "The Macedonian soldiers worked even faster than the Serbs to get these people out of their country.'

But senior Macedonian Govemment officials accused Nato countries of hypocrisy, saying: "You complained when we didn't move the refugees quickly enough and now you criticise us when we do empty that camp."

The Macedonian President, Kiro Gligorov, was also unre-pentant, saying: "This was the right thing to do. Albania is their native land, and it should accept the refugees and the international community should help to get them there."

Standing on the edge of the deserted camp yesterday, Major-General John Drewienkiewicz, acting head of the Org-Continued on page 7, col 3

David Hart, page 22 Leading article and Deserted village: belongings salvaged by refugees as they fled Kosovo lie abandoned after their second eviction from Blace

TV & RADIO ......50, 51 CROSSWORDS .....26, 52 OBITUARIES .....25 ANATOLE KALETSKY.22

CHESS & BRIDGE -.47 COURT & SOCIAL ....24 BOOKS .....

WEATHER ....

LETTERS ....

BODY & MIND.....20 BUSINESS...

Buying The Tunes overseas Austria Sch 50, Belgium B Fre 110: Canada S150: Catastes Pts 400; Cyprus Ctl 20: Den-mark Dlor 22:00: Franker Brit 30:50: France FR 17:00: Germany DM 5:50: Gilvalter 40p. Green: Dr 700: Netherlands Ff 6:50: Ildiy L S000: Livermburg: Li Hth, Madeira Esc 250: Make 100: Merouro Dir 30:00: Norway Kr 35:00: Portugal Esc 250: Sport Fre 400: Swe-den Sar 25:00: Switzerland S Fre 6:00: Tuni-sa Din 3:200: USA 33:50 Frekulien! Presture Plad at Rain- av Ni Postvia Din AARL UNA $350 Ferbelical: Postage Paul at Rahra ay Nj Post-more: Send address corrections to The #### Government U-turn on Pill warning

By HELEN RUMBELOW

THE Government has made a U-turn on its advice on contraceptive pills, four years after health warnings caused panic and led to an estimated 30,000

Jeremy Metters, the Deputy Chief Medical Officer, said yes-terday the abortions were "regretted". The Government reing the 1995 safety alert when it warned women and GPs that the leading "third generation" brand of pills were so risky they should not be taken unless absolutely necessary.

The alarm affected about two million women, half of all British women taking oral contraceptives. Twelve per cent immediately stopped taking the Pill and abortions, which had been on the decline, rose by 9 per cent that year and are continuing to rise.

Medical experts and manufacturers blamed the Government for the sensational health scare which was based on evidence that had yet to be published. The research had found that women taking third generation pills, which contain the progestogens culled desogestel or gestodene. were about twice as likely as those on other pills to have blood clots in their legs, but the risk was still very small -25 women in 100,000.

into doubt and after appeals from the drug manufacturers the Committee of Safety on Medicines (CSM) reconsidered. Dr Metters said that the risks remained the same as in 1995 but they were very small and as long as women were informed of them they could be prescribed the third generation pills as their first choice.

"Of course I regret unnecessary abortions. But the CSM gave the advice they thought was right at the time. It was important that women should be told exactly what the risks were. If we had sat on the data there would have been a na-

"It's like spot-the-ball but harder"

Police tackle runaways

Twelve players from Ivory Coast's under-19 rugby team have gone on the run apparently in the hope of staying in Britain. Police in South Wales say they are hopeful of finding them because they have only a smattering of English, and are believed to be wearing their navy blue team trackspits.

Man of 61 admits Mardi bombings

A MAN aged 61 admitted yes-terday that he was the Mardi Gra bomber who waged a 315 -year campaign across London and the Home Counties. Edgar Pearce, a former advertising employee from Chis-wick. West London, tried to ex-tort millions of pounds from Barclays Bank and Sainsbury's as he planted 36 devices, the Old Bailey was told. The bombs contained pins and ball bearings. By the time his campaign was brought to an end, six people were in-jured and only luck stopped anyone from being killed. The cost to Sainsbury's is estimated at £640,000 in lost trade. Barclays spent £140,000 on extra security.

The bombs became more sophisticated as Pearce's campaign developed, and police regarded him to be as dangerous as the IRA. The devices were first delivered to bank branches from December 1994 and later left outside Sainsbury's supermarkets. Pearce's demands were open-ended with no time limit set on how long the blackmail would continue. He boped to use cashpoint machines to receive up to £10,000 each day. In the end, he had withdrawn £700 when he was trapped. He will be sentenced in a few days.

Detective Chief Superintendent Jeffrey Rees, from the Organised Crime Group, said: This was a callous, calculating individual who was wholly indifferent to the possibility that the devices might cause death or serious injuries."

Pearce admitted 20 charges, involving blackmail attempts, the possession of explosives and wounding. Charges against his brother Ronald, 67. were dropped. Ronald admitted possessing a stun gun but the prosecution accepted he played no part in the extormonths but released because of time he has spent in prison.

WE TRUE SIL ESSANCE

FROM MICHAEL THEODOULOU IN NICOSI

THE three American soldiers captured by Serb forces and being held as PoWs could be freed today after a surprise intercession by a veteran Cypriot politician. Spyros Kyprian-ou, the parliamentary president, expects to fly to Belgrade this morning after declaring that he was confident he could secure their release.

He has been in close contact with the Serbian leadership and, if successful hopes to re-num with them to Cyprus.

"I believe, I hope my mission will succeed," he as he left for Athens where Greece has ovided a plane for Belgrade. His original schedule called for him to fly Belgrade last ment was told by Washington that it was impossible for any commercial planes to enter Yugoslavian airspace because of Nato's bombardment.

The gesture by the Yugoslav president. Slobodan Milese vic came a day anter Nato brushed aside his offer of a ceasefire for the Orthodox Easter this weekend. Freeing the Americans would remove the huge public outcry in the United States.

The three, which Nato says were non-combat troops, were put them on trial as spies but later said it would free then

WHERE TO SEND YOUR MONEY

E5 million was donated in the first 24 hours of an appeal by 12 British aid charities who have united under the auspices of the Disasters Emergency Committee to help the Kosovan pounds. All are seeking money rather than goods.

Disasters Emergency Committee: Phone lines: 0870 6060900 and 0990 222233.

Cheques: Kosovo Crisis Appeal, PO Box 999, London EC4A

Refaid:

Phone line 01732 520111. Cheques: RefAid-Kosovo Appeal, UK for UNHCR, 21st floor, Millbank Tower, 21-24 Millbank, London SWI 4QP. Action Against Hunger:

Phone line: 0171-242 5665 Postal address: Action Against Hunger UK, I Catton Street. London WCTR 4AR Donations may also be made at banks and post offices.

your life. Whether it be golf, scuba diving or watersports.

The best choice of up to eight superb restaurants. The finest accommodation, with a range of suites. All sporting activities from windsurling to scuba diving (with free tuition), or relax at one of our spas. At Sandals Ultra All-Inclusive resorts for complex only, we provide the very best all included in the price of your holiday. One more reason why we have been voted The World's Best by travel agents worldwide for

The calling card Pearce left on his first six bombs

- Only he knew store cards were cash cards
- He told police to give them away in magazine
- He knew the Pin codes

Cash machine ploy gave police the upper hand

EDGAR PEARCE, the Mardi Gra bomber, was defeated by a high-technology police operation involving the kind of manpower formerly reserved for dealing with the IRA.

Pearce, 61, believed he had developed a foolproof plan to extort money from Barclays Bank, and then the Sainsbury's supermarket chain, after making their branches the target of a succession of homemade bomb attacks. He hit upon the idea of extorting monev using the national network of automatic cash dispensers.

Pearce insisted that promotional plastic cards be placed inside a national magazine. Only he knew that the cards could be used in a cashpoint machine, and the personal identification number. On December 27, 1997, police placed a brief entry in the personal column of The Daily Telegraph reading: "M. Work will be completed and ready London circulation on Thursday 26th March 1998. This is the earliest possible date. Hope it meets your sched-

It was the breakthrough the police had been waiting for. They set up electronic monitoring of hundreds of cash machines across London in the hope that the bomber would pay one of them a visit. The HOW THE BOMBER WAS CAUGHT

Stewart Tendler, Richard Duce and Adam Fresco on the Chiswick.

quently jailed.

not be seen.

The car was stopped and found to be carrying El million of cannabis res-

in. Two men, one of them a retired RAF officer, were subse-

On March 17, another bomb exploded in Eltham, southeast

London, soon after two mothers had walked past pushing their babies in prams. Pearce was captured on camera, only for the second time in the three-year bombing campaign, but again his face could co-operation of Sainsbury's, set their trap with a further announcement in The Daily Telegraph, stating simply: "Every-

Sainsbury's printed 50,000

special reward cards that were inserted into a promotion in the southeast edition of Ex-thing on schedule."

bombings, however, did not stop and in January and February there were further attacks on Sainsbury's stores in West and South London. Deputy Assistant Commissioner John Grieve, head of the Anti-Terrorist Branch and a veteran of IRA bombing inquiries, later admitted he was so worried that the bomber would eventually kill someone that he would lie awake in a cold sweat.

As the cat and mouse game with Pearce continued, police began to set in train the plan, Operation Heath, that would lead to his capture and conviction at the Old Bailey.

Sainsbury's had improved its closed-circuit television cameras and increased uniformed and undercover patrols. However, Pearce had always eluded them by making sure that his face was never captured on camera.

Surveillance was so intense that police broke a drugs smuggling operation when withdrawn each day. At the same time the police electronically linked hundreds of cash machines to a special centre at Scotland Yard, codenamed Central 500, from which many of the big anti-IRA operations were normally run. Closed-cirproblems faced by investigators cuit television cameras were they saw two men unloading also rigged up. boxes from a van into a a car in Sainsbury's car park at Under Operation Heath. the Yard planned to deploy more than 400 officers to keep watch across West and South London each day. Officers were brought in from the specialist squads and help was sought in every part of the capiwhich thousands could be be

As soon as a card was used, Central 500 would get the address and alert the nearest team. Every officer was shown the closed-circuit television film of Pearce planting the bomb so that they knew his approximate build and height.

The cards could be used for On April 17, police, with the seven days only. For four days nothing happened, and the Operation Heath team began to despair. Then, on day five, April 28, there were two withdrawals. Police rushed to the addresses in West London, but he had gone.

A few hours later the alarm in the control room went off change & Mart. They paid E20.000 into an account from again. Cash was being withdrawn from a machine at Whitton, near Twickenham, an area targeted twice by the bomber in 1995.

Officers seconded from National Crime Squad surveillance teams moved in and halted a car pulling away. Inside were the Pearce brothers. wearing false beards, dark glasses and hats. Ronald was also wearing a wig. The brothers were carrying £700 they had just withdrawn; Edgar Pearce had ten of the Sainsbury's cards. Inside his home in Chiswick, police found his bomb factory and a loaded revolver with a silencer. Two bombs were primed and ready to be used: police believe he was planning to move on to a more sophisticated bombing phase.

Officers also found a crossbow inside a holed Sainsbury's bag. The trigger was hooked up to a length of fishing line. With it Pearce could have fired the bolt unobserved into a crowd. There were lengths of copper piping for bomb-making. 272 12-gauge shotgun cartridges and a further quantity of 410 cartridges to be used in a specially adapted revolver.

After the Mardi Gra bomber's capture, Mr Grieve said: "He had a really good plan,

GUCCI

33 old band street, 18 slaane street, harrads

At the moment of his arrest in southwest London, police lift the Mardi Gra bomber's wig before he is led away

Pensioner who picked up bomb in bag 'died of shock'

THE Mardi Gra campaign of extortion terrorised and injured six people. A pensioner who mistakenly picked up a Sainsbury's bag containing one of the devices was so shocked, even though it did not go off, that her family claim it eventually killed her. Curlis Dennis, a promising athlete, was injured in his thigh and despite successful surgery has been unable to resume his athletic career.

Relatives of Mrs Joan Kane, 74, a widow, said that she was haunted by the thought that she had carried the explosive device on two buses on her way home.

She would sit all day alone in her lounge, staring at the television even though it was switched off, according to her daughter. Mo March said that her mother suffered flashbacks, sank into a decline and finally died. Mrs Kane had carried the bag home to Hanwell, West London, from a trip to her local Sainsbury's in December 1997. It is thought she picked up the bag when she was gathering up her shopping. She only realised what she had previous health troubles - always. But on that day, her fighting spirit was taken away." Less than three months after taking the bomb home Mrs Kane died of a virulent form of leukaemia. "The general opinion is that it triggered the illness," said Mrs garden centre Less than half of the devices that were dumped, posted or delivered failed to go off. On one occasion an explosive device was planted at a busy bus stop where people were walking by. It went off when the immediate area was, unusual-

THE VICTIMS

March, a plant manager at a ly, clear of people. Dr Chris Side almost lost an eye to a piece of shrapnel when he opened an explosive device at his home in Berkhamsted, Hertfordshire. in July 1995.

The worst injury was suf-fered by Curtis Dennis when device exploded near a Sainsbury's in Forest Hill. southeast London. His thigh was punctured by shrapnel and the wounds required surgery and skin grafts. Alwhen she was unpacking. though he was left with no per-Her next-door neighbour manent injury he has not recame in, recognised the device, and called police. Mrs March, 5l, said: "It was just sumed his athletic career. In April. 1996, a double-bar relled shotgun device hidden sheer shock. She never ever in flower beds outside a bank came to terms with it. She in Ealing, West London, ex-ploded hitting Tang Di. a custried to go back to West Ealing a couple of times and had to be brought back. She tomer; with pellets. He was had always battled through not seriously hurt. المكنافة الاجل

Twisted mind of invisible man

THE BOMBER

Reports by Stewart Tendler, Richard Duce and Adam Fresco

AS THE Mardi Gra bomber spread fear and alarm across London during his three-year terror campaign detectives were advised to look for a single man or woman, no more than 40 years old, who could even be a renegade police officer.

Sitting in his West London terraced house with its neatly tended garden. 61-year-old unemployed Edgar Eugene Pearce probably allowed himself a smug smile of satisfaction as he realised police were no nearer to ending his homemade bombing exploits.

The son of a former East End tailor far from fitted the criminal profile offered by experts but with the benefit of hindsight there were alarming signs of a twisted mind at

<sup>6</sup> He was weird. He wouldn't speak to anyone

at all?

work. The few people who knew Pearce regarded him as an obsessive perfectionist who had slipped into eccentic behavjour which included getting up at fam every day to cook himself a roast meal for breakfast. At his three-storey coundi house in a Chis-

wick cul-de-sac

Pearce had a well equipped workshop where he would while away the time by working on clocks and electronic gadgetry. It was here that he was eventually to piece together the simple bombs he made from a video box, spring and shotgun carridge.

Edgar Pearce and his brother Ronald, 67, grew up in the East End of London where they went to local schools. Edgar decided on a career in advertising and, after attending college, worked for several London firms before moving to South Africa in 1971. He stayed there for the next five years and, along the way, aquired a working knowledge of firearms. By the time he returned to Britain he had married his wife Maureen and the ness in Hayling Island, near Portsmouth, known as Jeanne's Cuisine.

The business seems to have been a success although Pearce's wife fell ill around the time of dealings with Barclays Bank which left him with his grudge against the bank. When Pearce was deciding on his first target for an extortion plan it was Barclays that came to mind.

The couple sold up in 1982 and moved to Chiswick with their daughter Nicola before they eventually separated in 1987, although they remained on close terms.

Pearce would carry out DIY work on his former wife's home in Eltham, South-East London.

Pearce replaced his family by taking in lodgers at the house and neighbours re member him as an elusive outsider He was distincly unpopular with the children, threatening them and telling them that he would poison their dogs, when he saw them playing in the street close to his front garden and his precious plants.

There was a closedcircuit camera over the front door - he told children playing nearby it was to ensure that they did not go near his flowerbeds. He spent most of his time with his brother Ronald, a former Savile Row tailor, who lived less than a mile away in West London. They drank at the Crown and Anchor public house on Chiswick High Road, only a few doors from the home Ronald Pearce shared with partner Sonia Bickham. In June 1995, after being barred from the pub, apparently for rowdy behaviour, Edgar Pearce sent one of his devices to Andy Bennett, the landlord — he was the eighth target. Mr Bennett said later: "I thought someone had a vendetta

Edgar Pearce: an obsessive perfectionist who had slipped into eccentic behaviour against me but I racked my brains and couldn't think

Pearce was known to be intelligent and knowledgeable about current affairs; but his neighbour Breda Williams said that he would ignore everyone else in the street. "He was weird. He wouldn't speak to anyone at all." Other neighbours thought of him as the "invisible man because he was so rarely seen in the reading until the small hours. Professor David Canter, director of the centre of investigative psychology at Liverpool University, said that Edgar Pearce was on a "search for some sort of feelings of achievement and self-worth rather than escape".

At night, Pearce, who was a heavy drinker, would sit by the side of his garden pond

Ronald Pearce tries to shield his face after being freed at the Old Bailey yesterday

Girlfriend consoles ex-Savile Row tailor

THE brother of the Mardi Gra bomber was "drawn into something he knew nothing about", his girlfriend said as he was freed from prison.

Ronald Pearce, a former Savile Row tailor, was sentenced to a year in jail for possessing the stun gun that was found when he was arrested with his brother Edgar as he withdrew money from cash machines. He was freed yesterday because of the time he has spent in jail awaiting trial.

Ronald Pearce, bespectacled and wearing a grey sweat-shirt, celebrated his freedom with Sonia Bickham at a restaurant in Chiswick. West London, with a cup of hot chocolate and a salad.

The couple sat holding hands as they chatted, catching up on lost time. Miss Bickham, who has known Ronald

THE BROTHER brating his release in private, and that they had no plans to for 35 years, denied that the brothers were as close as was believed. The shop assistant, who has stood by her man throughout, said: They have not really been close at all. They have never been close, but they are brothers.

"Ronald was drawn into something he knew nothing about." Miss Bickham added that she was "clated" by the news that her boyfriend had walked free from court "Nobody knew what was going to happen. I spoke to him last night and he said, 'Cross your fingers [1] be home."

"His solicitor phoned me this morning with the good news. The last year has been a living nightmare but I always thought it would come to a good end." Miss Bickham said that they would be celemarry. "He wants to get back to reality. He'll get through this. I don't know if he'll forgive it. He does feel bitter."

She described Ronald as "artistic in every way", adding: "He's a master of whatever he does."

A few hours earlier Ronald Pearce had listened intently in court as the Recorder of London told him: "You have not offered any explanation for your possession of this weapon. But the prosecution cannot say that you intended to use it in any way in the cam-paign conducted by your Pearce left court yesterday afternoon refusing to speak to waiting reporters.

Daytime television gave inspiration for blackmail and bombs

A DAYTIME television repeat captured the imagination of Edgar Pearce. The programme focused on Rodney Witchelo, a former detective who tried to extort almost £4 million from firms after he contaminated baby food.

Witchelo was jailed for 17 years. Pearce. jobless and with time on his hands after a car accident which he says rendered him incapable of working, was riveted by the programme and believed he could go one better and evade capture. His first job was to establish a target and he hit on Barelays Bank, remembering ten-year-old disagreement which he blamed for his wife falling ill when they ran a business together.

Then came the technological know-how on bomb building, which he pieced together from a television programme depicting spring-loaded car-ladge devices. Over three years, the devices became more and more sophisticated as he grew in confidence. Aware of the dangers of buying suspicious components close to home, he toured car

THE PLOT

France, he stocked up on shotgun cartridges which he brought back in cases of wine. He always wore gloves when carrying a bomb to its intended site and always wore the same jacket, which he never wore at home. When he made Sainsbury's his target. Pearce often placed devices inside the store's branded bags, cutting out serial numbers which linked bags to stores. Pearce spoke French and decided to call himself the Mardi Gra bomber with his campaign starting on a Tuesday. He deliberately left the "S" from the end so that police would know that the bombs were his work. His first six bombs were sent to branches of Barclays which had been picked at random from Yellow Pages. He labelled them with a cutting from a home entertainment magazine which read: 'Welcome to the Mardi

Gra Experience." Pearce switched from targeting Barclays when the bank's chairman expressed concern and walk off without looking about the bomber and Pearce believed that he would use the attacks as an excuse to close branches. He targeted Sainsbury's because he thought that it might be vulnerable to extortion as it fell behind Tesco in the supermarket war.

He sent secretly snatched pictures of Sainsbury shoppers to the Daily Mail, hoping to generate publicity for his cause and to pressurise the supermarket to pay up. When the newspaper did not pub-lish the photographs, he decided to use more dangerous devices to get publicity. Hearing that the IRA was using gas cylinders to achieve bigger explosions, he incorporated a wide range of devices in his campaign. These included a timed device which would fire shrapnel or cartridges from a length of tubing in a black bin liner.

It was only when he was caught on a police video cam-era in March 1998 in Eltham that officers knew for certain that they were hunting for a man. Black and white pictures showed him walk across the road, dump a black sack containing a shotgun device

A DEGREE

EDGAR PEARCE had studied and learnt from the crimes of Theodore Kaczynski, the American known as the Unabomber.

Pearce shared the American terrorist's careful preparation and planming his ability to avoid detection for long peri-ods, and an obsessive joy in outloxing his pursuers. Kaczynski, who was a professor at the Universi-ty of California at Berkeley in the 1960s, chuded American investigators for 18 years while carrying out a string of terrorist attacks. By the time he was jailed for life in May tast year, he had killed three people and injured 28 with home-made bombs containing razor blades and nails.

His motives were never elear. Kaczynski had sent newspapers a rambling 62-page manuscript in which he demanded a return to "wild nature" and railed against technology. the US Government, and major corporations, and was feted in some quar-ters as a radical environ-

Kaczynski, then 55, was last year sentenced to three life terms for his terrorist crimes, and to another 30 years for killing three men and maiming was spotted in time by a refuse collector, would have Another device adopted by Pearce was a "shotgun bomb" which involved placing a length of copper piping on a concrete base which.

with the use of a timing device, would fire a cartridge.

Other adaptations of the shotgun bomb involved the tubing being packed with panel pins or ball bearings.

created a lethal fireball.

More for your money at Sainsbury's.

Sainsbury's

Lethal devices made in garden to ignite the escaping gas. Po-lice believe the device, which

THE ARSENAL

By Adam Fresco AND RICHARD DUCE

potentially icthal ombs designed by Edgar Pearce in the garden workhop of his council house tome became increasingly sophisticated as his terror cam-Paign developed.

His first simple but effeclive device was built around an empty video box. Inside lhere was a shotgun bridge and a simple doorboit which acted as the firing mechamism. When the box was pened, a spring-loaded deex shot the bolt into the 12 ore elaborate devices involved a butane gas cylinder connected to an electric circuit, timer and gas lighter which was then placed inside bore cartridge. One of the a plastic bin liner. It was planted on February 1996 outside Bardays bank in Eltham High Street and Pearce partially opened the gas valve, allowing the plastic bag to inflate. The timer set off the lighter which he had planned

A gun and bullets recovered from Pearce's home

Pearce had converted his greenhouse into a workshop for his bombmaking activities. When police finally raided the property they found six gas cylinders and a dozen 12 volt batteries, further devices and two crossbows.

Airborne cameras stalk death columns Bombers queue in the air ready to act on instant information from sophisticated surveillance, reports

Michael Evans, Defence Editor

YUGOSLAV troops and paramilitaries engaged in "ethnic cleansing" in Kosovo are being monitored by an array of Western surveillance technology in the sky.

When they dare to venture into the open, it is just a question of time before Nato bombers arrive armed with anti-personnel cluster bombs or antitank projectiles to attack. President Milosevic's men are facing a period of high risk.

At this stage in the air campaign. Nato's advanced tech-nology should change the odds. Yugoslav forces must act discreetly to hide from the airborne cameras and reconnaissance systems — the easiest way to outsmart the smartest of high-tech equipment.

The organisation has in place a network of surveil-lance systems linked to ground stations or to airborne command aircraft which can provide immediate information to waiting bombers about the location of Yugoslav armoured columns on the move. With the emphasis turning increasingly to attacks on ground forces, the urgent need is for instant-response aircraft missions. If bombers wait on Italian airbase runways for information to be data-linked back to ground stations, then analysed, it could still be two hours before they are over targets. This is why, according to Paul Beaver of Jane's Information Group. Nato is expected to operate a "cab rank" approach, with aircraft queuing in air space, ready to react the make an appearance - a strategy used in the Gulf War.

To facilitate the instant response, the Americans have "airborne battlefield and control centre" Hercules aircraft, called EC130E (ABCCC). which have extensive communications antennae. Just as the Awacs provide air-battle management for all Nato aircraft operating over Yugoslavia, the modified Hercules supervise tank-killing operations.

Two US airborne surveillance systems and a German unmanned air vehicle (drone). as well as a range of reconnais-sance aircraft, are operating all hours to catch Yugoslav troops in the open. A principal watcher locating, classifying and tracking ground targets in all weathers is the American Joint Surveillance Target At-tack Radar System, called JSTARS or Joint Stars, which was first used in the 1991 Gulf War. The joint US Army/US Air Force aircraft can look "sideways" into Kosovo from more than 150 miles away. The Joint Stars is a modified Boeing 707 with a phased array radar antenna that can provide targeting and battle management data to operators in the aircraft and to ground stations. The radar can detect slow-moving vehicles and, helped by advanced signal processing, can tell the difference between wheeled and tracked vehicles.

When focusing on a smaller area of terrain, the radar image can be enhanced to provide a higher-resolution pic-

The information built up by satellites, U2s. JSTARs and Satellite and U2 spy planes look for signs of ground troop activity: drones is passed to Hercules aircraft specially converted into airborne battlefield command mastermind Nato's tank-killing operation in Kosovo Using information from the spy Predator drone can peek at the 'enemy', providing close-up pictures that are relaid via planes and satellites. ISTARs can detect and track Yugoslav armour on the move in Kosovo. Their satellite to ground stations and to the JSTARs. Drone can stay sideways-looking radar has a range of more than 150miles. They on station for 24 hours sending back detailed pictures from up femand more detailed images advanced synthetic aperture radar produces a photographic map of selected geographic areas, pinpointing precise loca-

such as bridges, airports or parked vehicles. The radar is reputed to be able to cover nearly 400,000

pentium•//

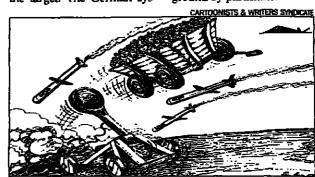

single eight-hour sortie. The Joint Stars is aided by two unmanned drones that provide even more precise tactical intelmoment armoured columns ture; and the Joint Stars' tions of non-moving targets square miles of territory in a ligence. These systems are the lp to control activi

Nato aircraft, such as RAF Harrier GR7s with cluster

American Predator, used over Bosnia-Herzegovina since October 1995, and the German from a maximum altitude of tem consists 25,000ft, can produce pictures so clear that it is as if the camdrones that grammed missions, sending back pictures. They return to era is perched a few feet above the target. The German sysground by parachute.

'Human shields' limit Harriers' choice of targets

FROM JOHN PHILLIPS IN GIOIA DEL COLLE

RAF Harrier jet pilots resumed hazardous daylight raids on Kosovo yesterday but were being impeded by Serb military commanders using ethnic Albanian villagers as human shields, the RAF said. "Cluster-bomb units have been dropped today but there were fewer targets available than before," said Group Captain Ian Travers Smith, an RAF spokesman at the Gioia del Colle base in southeastern Italy.

Asked what the problems facing the flyers were, he said: "There have been targets identified that were deemed unattackable." Group Captain Travers Smith said that it was up to the pilots to make a final judgment over whether their bombs might cause unacceptable collateral damage or civilian casual-"They have the pickle button," he said. "They are directed toward a target, if in their opinion the target is attackable it is their final decision." Questioned whether Serb military convoys threatened by the Harriers

DELL DIMENSION" XPS T450 MULTIMEDIA

• Intel® Pentisun® III Processor 45014017

 9.1GB* ATA-33 Turbo (7200 rpm) Hard Disk 15" SVGA monitor (13.6" Viewable Area, 0.28 dot pitch)

 Microsoft<sup>o</sup> Windows<sup>a</sup> 98 Mini Tower Chassis

• 3 Year Comprehensive Service: Year 1

DVD Entertainment System Harmon Kardon 195 Speakers

digital quality movies on your PC

High speed internet at your fingertips US Robotics 56Kb/s V90 Fax Modem

High-quality Printer

BUSINESS

photos and presentations to life

13 Fantastic Software Titles

Microsoft Works Suite 99 comprising.

MS Word 97, MS Works 4.5, MS Works Calendar, MS Money 93, • McAfee Ami-Virus Software

FREE 8T 30 day Internet Connection software (excl. phone charges)

• HP DeskJet 420c Colour Printer - bring your drawings,

RREE Dell GAMER ELITE Software Pack comprising.
 RAGE Incoming, Microproce Civilization II, EIDOS Flight, Unimited II, ELECTRONIC ARTS Need for Speed II Special Edition.

FREE PENTRUM AL PROCESSOR ENABLED POWERGAMES PACK

£1,099

www.dell.co.uk

On site, Years 2 and 3 Collect and Return

 Turde Beach Montego II 320 Voice Sound Card Diamond nVidia TNT 16MB AGP Video Card 4.8x Toshiba DVD ROM & Software Decoding -

had been moving into inhabited vil-lages to avoid being bombed this week, Group Captain Travers Smith said: "Well what would you do? If somebody called you on a mobile phone and said that there were planes approaching you from 20 miles away, wouldn't you go and hide in a village?"

The latest daylight attacks by the Harriers were mounted just hours after a night raid launched on ammunitions store where the RAF acknowledged it achieved only "limited success" because of heavy anti-aircraft fire. The raid was also hampered by smoke and haze and a possible technical problem in one aircraft, but all the pilots brought their GR7 fighterbombers back safely.

CALL SWIFTCALL FREE 0800 769 0022 OPEN AN ACCOUNT WITH SWIFTCALL

START SAVING WITH SWIFT CALL

COST PER MINUTE	BT.	SWIFTCALL	SAVING
USA	19p	9p	53%
JAPAN	49p	16p	67%
INDIA	89p	50p	44%
AUSTRALIA	35p	16p	54%
SOUTH AFRICA	61p	36p	41%

COST PER MINUTE BT* - SWIFTCALL SAVING GERMANY 33% 14p FRANCE 14p 33% IRELAND 16p 10p 38% TAIWAN 86p 42p 51% CANADA 19p I2p

Signifies [1] weekend and Francis & Fanals rate

Open a Swiftcall account today and make immediate savings on calls to anywhere in the world.

All praces are per minute, include VAV and are correct as of 20-199,

No need to change your existing number or phone line.

No hidden charges. • Quality Customer Service and clear lines. Open an account for as little as £25,

TO OPEN YOUR SWIFTCALL ACCOUNT:

CALL FREE 0800 769 0022

LOW COST INTERNATIONAL CALLS

The Dell* Dimension<sup>ra</sup> T450 multimedia PC, running on the new superfast Intel® Pennum" III Processor. Plus powerful 16MB graphics capability to really get the most out of the Internet and games.

And there's more a high quality colour printer, 13 great software titles, including FREE Pentium 111 processor enabled PowerGames pack and total DVD Entertainment system.

All in all, a brilliant value package. Only available from Dell, the world's largest direct PC manufacturer. So call NOW for yours.

EASY WAY TO PAY

Enjoy the benefits of owning your Dell Dimension PC by paying in easy monthly instalments. For example; 36 manthly payments for this system priced at £1,099 (£1,338.33 inc. delivery and VAI) is as follows:

Loan Period	Monthly Repayment
36 months	£41.11
Deposit	Total Amount Repayable
£133.83	£1,479.96
Loan Amount £1,204.50	APR 14.9%

0870 1524613

9AM TO 6PM SAT, 10AM TO 5PM SUN

(£1,338.33 = ) BETWEEN SAM & SPM WEEKDAYS.

BE DIRECT

TONY BLAIR yesterday made the defeat of Serbia's ethnic charsing policy the "absolute percondition" of Nato calling of its assault against Presi-

He joined President Clinton 10 warn the Yugoslav President that there could be no compromise over Kosovo and that the bombing would conrinue unabated.

There would be "no halfmeasures, no compromise". Mr. Blair said in a hardline message that was also designed to prepare the coun-ry for further attempts by Mr Milosevic to divide the Nato

With the West claiming that Mr Milosevic's ceaselire offer in Kosovo had been spurred by weakness, Mr Blair raised the stakes.

He said on Sky News that, for Nato's bombing to stop, the policy of ethnic cleansing "has to be reversed and be seen to be defeated. That is the absolute precondition of Nato ceasing its action".

Then, on ITN, he added: "Milosevic must withdraw his forces from Kosovo, he must cease the policy of ethnic cleansing, and he must allow an international force in to allow people to return to their homes and villages.

"That must be the only set of terms on which Nato must setthe this matter. Nothing less will do, no half-measures, no compromise."

In the interviews Mr Blair hinted that Kosovo refugees allowed into Britain were likely to be the elderly, sick and Downing Street sources said that the refugees coming to Britain would be granted 'exceptional leave to remain". They would be housed in such places as old schools, hospitals ind military establishments. on their stays there would be

The Prime Minister's com-ments came as a new strategy y Mr Milosevic to force eth-

Blair says ethnic cleansing must had been torched since April 3. Jamie Shea, the Nato spokes-man, said that the alliance was deeply preoccupied by the stories of war crimes and violations of international humani-

He said: "Every day brings in more evidence and Nato governments will be bui'ding a case in these next few days and weeks against those who are responsible." He said three mass graves had been identified from refugees' re-ports in the towns of Drenica, Malisevo and in the Pagarusa

Mr Cook said that there was evidence of killings in the past 24 hours, including reports of a mass execution carried out at Pastric, in southwest Kosovo, and the murder of 35 civilians at Sopi, northwest of Valley in Kosovo.

tarian law in Kosovo.

end, write Philip Webster and Michael Evans

nic Albanian refugees back into Kosovo was causing widespread concern within Nato and the United Nations.

Throughout the day there was confusion over the whereabouts of thousands of refugees who had been queuing up at the borders with Albania and the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia.

Meanwhile, Robin Cook, the Foreign Secretary, said that Nato was "ramping up" attacks on Yugoslavia.

More than 100 Nato aircraft were being sent on bombing missions throughout yester-day, including American B52 and BIB long-range bombers based at RAF Fairford in Gloucestershire.

Asked about reports that Nato aircraft had hit targets in Montenegro, despite an alliance policy to exclude the Yugoslav republic from further bombing, a Nato official said there had been no "preplanned targets". If confirmed, it would be the first attacks on Montenegro for a

Mr Cook said: "If Milosevic wants out, he is going to have to try a lot harder [with peace terms]. The bottom line for us and all Nato is that President Milosevic must reverse the ethnic cleansing of Kosovo by allowing its people to return under international protec-

Nato is examining 49 alleged Yugoslav atrocities in Kosovo, and nine Yugoslav colonels have been named as potential war criminals. But there was no evidence, a Nato

Missile kills at

FROM TOM WALKER IN BELGRADE

FATE media in Serbia report-Emore civilian casualties of to bombing raids yesterday er a missile went through a tina block of flats.

A Belgrade television stao guoting a journalist with state Tanjug news agency Kosovo, claimed that at ast nine people had died and ghis others were seriously pred. Dozens more could If be missing in the rubble.

mjug said. Earlier in the day several evision channels carried pices of Zoran Andjelkovic. ad of the emergency Kosovo vernment, picking through ruins. The images were not dated through the day, a in that state television's abilto transmit has been ham-red by bomb damage to ay stations. lanjug said that a Turkish nily of five named Gashi re killed in the blast, includthildren aged nine, seven six. An Albanian also d. along with a Serbian stal worker. Another body ald be seen trapped beneath en masonry, and a ninth I not been identified. ocal rescue workers said

t their clearing-up operation was being hampered by unexploded ordnance. Selected international television crews were taken to the scene yesterday by the Yugoslav

Army.
The Third Corps of the Yugoslav Army confirmed that it had halted operations in the province after the declaration of a unilateral ceasefire by President Milosevic of Yugoslavia. Sources would not confirm reports that Nato had hit a military convoy in Kosovo for the first time; they did say. however, that army barracks in the western city of Pec had suffered overnight damage.

BK television in Belgrade reported that at least ten missiles hit central Pristina and the city's airport. The other main damage reported from Tuesday night's strikes was in Novi Sad, where an oil refinery was blown up. Interviews with two night watchmen who survived were played on all media channels throughout the day. Although Nato dismissed Mr Milosevic's ceasefire as a negotiating bluff, the Yugoslav President appeared deter-mined to push his own solution to the crisis.

The Abbey National Postal Account.

A high return on savings plus unlimited postal access. Apply post haste. 0800 174 635

SAMMOS CONTRACTOR

ABBEY NATIONAL' Because lile's complicated enough.

num opening balance is £10,000. 5.65% gross p.a./AFR is payable on tes of £100,000 and above, interest on £10,000 is £.20% gross p.a./AER. are open Monday to Friday Sam to 9pm and Salve year of 4pm. AEP stands are open Monday to Friday Sam to 9pm and Salve year to 4pm. AEP stands into a few open Monday to Friday Sam to 9pm and salve year to 4pm. AEP stands are open Monday to Friday Salve what the interest sale would be if not Equivalent Rate and Illustrates what the interest sale would be if was paid and added each year to assist us in improving our service. By retord or montay talendone calls, this account is only available to UK lay record or monitor telephone calls. This account is only available to UK ints. You may be able to register with us to receive interest gross; otherwise be pard net al income Lax at the prescribed rate. Bates may vary. Abbey National fla Couple symbol and Because into complicated enough are registered s of Abbey National ptc, Abbey House, Baker Street, London NW1 6XL

Robin Cook with Bili Djonballaj, an interpreter for the now closed British Embassy in Belgrade, and, left. Baton Haxhiu, a former editor in exile, during his announcement yesterday to fund a news network for Kosovans

Cook attacks Milosevic's greed

By MICHAEL EVANS

ROBIN COOK, the Foreign Secretary, taunted President Milosevic yesterday, challenging him to come clean about his secret bank accounts, his villas on Greek islands and challenge to Mr Milosevic, he said: "Your people have seen the economy of Serbia more than halved during your time in power. Tell the people of Serbia how much wealth you have the same years that they have been impoverished. Show your people the photographs of the villas you and your familv own in Athens, Corfu and Crete. Let them see the luxury yacht you keep in Greece while they struggle to make sucked out of Serbia during

He added: "And come dean with the reservists who are being called up, whether it is true that your son and his family are sitting out the war at their villa in Greece."

Brussels unveils £175m aid package

THE European Union yester-day unveiled a £175 million package of aid to Macedonia and Albania, the two states bearing the brunt of the exodus from Kosovo, and raised the prospect of long-term economic favours as a reward for coping with the crisis and aiding the Western alliance.

At the same time, EU interior ministers thrashed out a politically sensitive plan to share out the burden of housing refugees evacuated from Kosovo and to divide the costs.

Top Russian officials also held talks at Nato's headquarters as Germany and France pressed to bring Moscow into planning for a peace deal.

The EU aid package, expected to be approved by foreign ministers today, is part of an ef-fort to finance the humanitarian relief operation and also to shore up the fragile governments of Macedonia and Albania, which stand to receive some £70 million in compensation payments.

REDUCED CHOLESTEROL DIET.

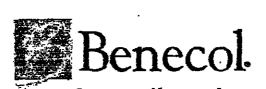

As part of a healthy diet.

Benecol margarine spread and Light spread change the rules on reducing cholesterol.

That's because only Benecol is made with a plant extract that blocks the absorption of LDL (bad) cholesterol and carries it away-reducing it by an average of 14%? -

Simply eat three servings a day from the range of Benecol foods as part of your healthy diet. Benecol margarine spread not only livens up a baked potato, but is great for spreading and cooking.

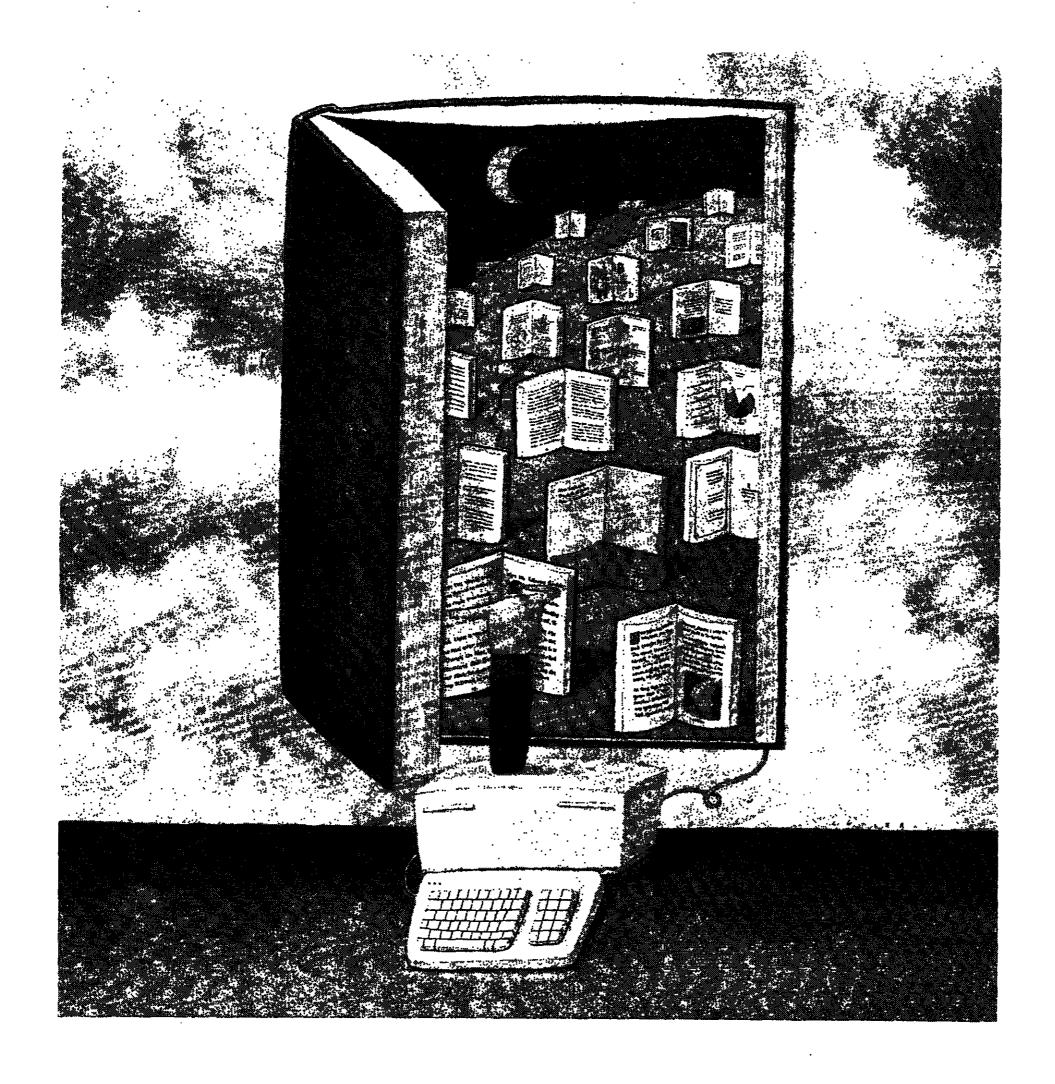

With one serving of Benecol margarine spread. As part of a healthy diet.

> There's also a Benecol Cream Cheese Style spread, which is delicious in a sandwich, spread on bagels or as a tasty dip. At any meal, Benecol makes reducing your cholesterol easy and enjoyable.

> > To receive a Benecol information pack, please complete the application form below, using block capitals. Send it to: Benecol Information Service, Freepost, SEA 6937. Croydon CR9 4WZ or phone us on 0845 1000 008. Title: Mr. ... Mrs. ... Ms. ... Other

> > Initials:____ Surname: _ _ .....____

Visit the new British bookshop on the Internet.

It's easy to reach. Simply use your mouse to transport you to www.bol.com where you'll find discounts of up to 40%.

At BOL you have access to a global selection of 4 million British and international titles.

BOL has been created by book lovers who have been at the heart of the book world for a long, long time.

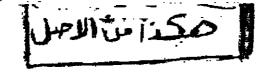

Be sure to visit this exciting new chapter in book shopping now.

www.bol.com

The new British bookshop on the Internet marcis de la cer

Serbs shut off Albania escape route

Thousands have been ordered to turn back from the Albanian border to be used as human shields, writes Sam Kiley from Morine CONSISTENTLY wrong-footing his Nato enemies. President Milosevic yesterday came up with a horrific new tactic, keeping Kosovo's remaining ethnic Albanians as human shields against Nato airstrikes on his armour and infantry rather than expelling them.

Mr Milosevic suddenly closed all border crossings into Albania at 3am yesterday and ordered his special police and border guards to force a U-turn in a 20-mile queue of terrified civilians waiting to escape to Albania.

Estimated to number between 80,000 and 100,000, the refueces were seen ordered out of their cars and tractors as they waited outside the Morine border post, and returning "home" to villages burnt and blown up during a formight of "ethnic cleansing" by Serb forces during Nato airstrikes. The offers of a ceasefire [by the Serbs and the order to return to homes that have already been destroyed, you can bet your bottom dollar, are not hecause Milosevic is going to take care of Kosovo's Albanians," said Doran Vienneau, an observer at Morine with the Organisation of Security and Co-operation in Europe.

pels everyone, then he won't have any hostages and will leave Nato a clear field of fire. He's going to herd these people into holding areas, or chain them to tanks. He is capable of anything.

This is close to the end game for the Kosovo Albanians and now Nato have to figure out how they re going to attack armoured divisions surrounded by civilians," Mr Vienneau added

As he spoke, the sonic boom from Nato jets high above the valley of Morine was matched with the closer sounds of continued Serb bombardments of Kosovo's villages. Just across the border, the Serbs burnt a town after they ordered the huge line of refugees to return deep into Kosovo.

The confidence of the Serbs in Kosovo flew in the face of Nato statements boasting of

"We have evidence of units that had to go into holding op-erations or holding patterns because of shortages of, specifically, gas and ammo, said Rear-Admiral Thomas Wilson, director of intelligence for the American Joint Chiefs of Staff. However, he acknowledged that few troops or tanks cause they are hiding in moun-

A Kosovan refugee at a camp in Macedonia yesterday before Serb troops forced ethnic Albanians at the border to return to Kosovo to be used a human shields against airstrikes tainous terrain or are too close to refugees.

Kenneth Bacon, the Pentagon spokesman, said that the sign that he [Mr Milosevic] is rattled". But Nato planners and their political masters will now have to grapple with the million human shields in Kosovo. Kosovo's ethnic Albanians have pinned great hopes on the expected arrival of 24 ghastly puzzle of up to half a Apache attack helicopters in Albania with orders to strike at the infantry and armour which has been turned on the region's civilians. Using the heavily armed Apaches in Kosovo could bring a new dimension to the conflict and provide the vanguard for a troop deployment on the ground. But intelligence sources and Nato more than two weeks into the air campaign, most of Yugoslavia's air defence systems

Guards close exiles' road to Macedonia

SERB soldiers yesterday ordered thousands of Kosovo refugees back to their homes as they sealed their escape route into the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia.

Senior Nato officers, who used spy planes to monitor the forced return, believe that the Serbs intend to use these families as human shields against the intensifying bombardment of Pristina, the province's capital.

Nato sources last night said this is the first evidence of President Milosevic trying ıll some of his troops out of Kosovo to protect them from further airstrikes. The sound of bombing could clearly be heard coming from Pristina, even as the Serbs began to turn back the refugees in the darkness.

Witnesses told how Serb police started moving along the column of vehicles that has been stranded at the border checkpoints with Macedonia for ten days. One aid The same tactics by the Serbs are witnessed by worker who was caught up in the 12-mile jam said men in the same uniforms as those who had warned her never to return to Kosovo safe to go home.

Danny McGrory at Blace

Colleagues she spoke to in Skopje yesterday said: "Families were asking the police how can it be safe when we hear bombs falling.

"The police offered some at the back of this line food and hot drinks. They brought petrol for those whose vehicles had run out. When it was clear to the Serbs that many were too scared to turn back to homes that were probably burnt out anyway, she said that the police told them at gunpoint to start their cars." An aid official said: "The families did not know where they were going. They had to follow Serb police cars. Oth-ers were told to walk back the way they had come. This is a very sinister move."

To make sure there was no alternative for these dazed and confused families, the Serbs suddenly closed their road crossings at Blace and Jazince early yesterday.

At Blace, o preoccupied with watching Macedonain troops evict an estimated 30,000 refugees from their side of the border that no one noticed Serb border police begin to push families away from their checkpoint near a cement factory. Where 24 hours previously there had stood a solid mass of people and a stationary line of cars, now there was an empty road.

(The Link)

EXCLUSIVE ELLNET OFFER

numbers until 31st December 1999*

NOKIA DIGITAL MOBILE PHONE

 Change your phone to suit your mood with different coloured fascias - over 10 in store 30 different ring tones

 Built-in calculator, alarm, clock and currency converter Model: 5110

THE LINK

BRITAIN'S BIGGEST CHOICE

IMPARTIAL EXPERT ADVICE

PRICES

UNBEATABLE

lable on Pay as you Go. Here calls to 2 special UK in Truck Connection to works phones in continue to address to the

OVER 170 STORES NATIONWIDE

Over 50 mobiles

Was £29.99*

THE EASY ROUTE TO THE RIGHT MOBILE

Tragedy in the Balkans A massive humanitarian crisis is unfolding in Europe. Hundreds of thousands of people are in urgent need of help - your help. Those fleeing Kosovo have nothing and local people trying to help in neighbouring regions are overwhelmed. They and those left behind are in

Your gift will provide the food, clothing, shelter, water, and health care they need to survive the terrible weeks of uncertainty ahead.

We, the DEC aid agencies, are already doing everything in our power to help these people. But our emergency supplies are running out. We need funds. Now. Please give what you can. Call the Kosovo Crisis credit card donation line, or send off the coupon.

0990 22 22 33

DISASTERS EMERGENCY COMMITTEE British Red Cross - Cafod - Care International UK -Children's Aid Direct - Christian Aid - Concern Worldwide Help the Aged - Merlin - Oxfam - Save The Children -Tearfund - World Vision

I want to give £15 ☐ £25 ☐ £50 ☐ £100" ☐ Other £_ °on a gift of £100 we can rectain the income tax you have already paid increasing your donation by a third, at no extra cost to you. l'enclose a cheque made payable to the DEC Kosovo Crisis appeal OR Please debá my Access/Visa/Swrich/Detta/CAF

Charity Card/late Signature
Tatle	Intrals	Surname
Address
		O-contracte

Complete coupon and return to: Kosovo Crisis Appeal, PO Box 989, London EC4A 9AA

DEC, 52 Gt Pontland Street, London W1N 5AH

Eviction

Continued from page 1

anisation for Security and Cooperation in Europe mission. said: "We have to find out urgently what has happened to these people. I'm glad they areaway from this cesspit, but now we have to make sure they are treated well and families are not split up."
Aid officials noted that there was room in the camps being hurriedly constructed by Nato troops all along the frontier, but British troops from the Brazde camp six miles away could only watch helplessly as they discreetly followed the procession of 350 buses heading southwest towards the Albanian border. The Nato commander Lieutenant-General Sir Michael Jackson said: "We have no authority to intervene, but we had made it clear we could take more refugees. We would like some explanation where they are."

By first light bulldozers were ready to obliterate what had become one of the most offensive symbols of how Kosovo's refugees were received by its southern neighbour. There was no attempt to retrieve any personal belongings or documents. Blace camp was being erased.

Aid groups are now switching their attention to the border at Jazince where the Macedonians were allowing only a trickle of refugees to cross.

At the times the only way across the 200 yards of no man's land was on a stretcher. Steve Gordon of the International Medical Corps said: "Thousands have been left in the open, just like Blace, with similarly no sanitation, shelter and food and no one has got to them."

Their ordeal worsened overnight as the Serbs closed the border on their side. All you could hear across the empty tarmac that marked the frontier crossing was the sound of children crying.

Albright made US scapegoat

The Secretary of State is being accused of misreading Milosevic, Ben Macintyre reports from Washington adeleine bright. hawlish Secretary fire in America for misreading President Milosevic and plunging America into a war in the Balkans without a clear idea of how to get out. As the Nato bombardment continues, the US media have turned on Ms Albright as the principal American architect of that policy, accusing her of following an agenda based more on wishful thinking and personal inclination than diplomatic and military realities.

The wave of recrimination has raised the issue of whether Ms Albright can long retain her office if Mr Milosevic cannot be removed from

"Albright misjudged Milosevic on Kosovo," declared an untypically stark headline in The Washington Fost yesterday, in which the Secretary of State was accused of hasing US policy on the mistaken belief that the Serb leader would back down cither before, or very soon after. Nato resorted to force.

"These miscalculations about the efficacy of the threat... have led the United States and its allies into an air war in Europe that has produced some of the same negative consequences they said they were trying to head off," the newspaper stated.

Forced on to the defensive. the combative Ms Albright has refused to acknowledge that US policymakers have been wrong-footed by the level of Serbian defiance or the scale of "ethnic cleansing" in Kosovo. Indeed, she has declined to discuss the steps that led to the bombardment.

"We will have plenty of time to go back and look at what we did or did not do . . . I am completely focused on what we are doing now." she said on Tuesday.

Ms Albright's critics say she played the leading role in rejecting the warnings of senior intelligence and military advisers and persuading President Clinton of the need to use force. She was also the most vigorous proponent of the view that air power alone would suffice, predicting that Mr Milosevic, "a playground bully", would back off after one sharp punch on the nose. despite evidence to the contrary shown by another "bully" in Iraq. That Mr Milosevic might hunker down through the air attacks while accelerating his onslaught in Kosovo was considered by Ms Albright and her advisers to be the least likely of scenarios.

One official has described the Yugoslav conflict as "Albright's war", and critics have argued that her enthusiasm for military action against Serbia is a reflection not only of her own history. as a wartime refugee from Czechoslovakia, but also of her personal ambition.

Desperate for a foreign policy success to compare with that of Richard Holbrooke. with whom she has often jostled over US policy in the Balkans, Ms Albright intended the peace talks at Rambouillet in France to be her own version of the Dayton accords and the apogee of her diplomatic career.

Everyone in Albright's circle is very conscious of how anxious she is to have a victory to call her own. Instead, she now has a calamity of her own," wrote the columnist Arianna Huffington.

If the costly air bombardment continues without a definite result or, worse, evolves into a protracted ground war, then US public opinion is certain to be rather more than mildly irritated and there may be no one, least of all Bill Clinton, who will step in to save Ms Albright.

An F117A Nighthawk Stealth fighter en route from its base in Oklahoma to join the campaign against Yugoslavia

Nato is on target in ideological battle

Since Mr Milosevic has inherited Stalin's legacy, it is absolutely right that Nato should also be clear that Nato's operation is not simply the United States and Britain acting as Europe's policemen. This is a war on behalf of Europe, being waged by Europe.

The pictures we see on our television screens concentrate on the skill and bravery of RAF crews, and the significant contribution of the United States. This is entirely natural.

But Kosovo is not a re-run of the Gulf War. Thirteen Nato allies are taking part in this operation: a Dutch Fl6 has shot down a Serbian MiG29 and German Tornados are playing key roles in suppressing Serb me, some of the newspaper articles in recent days by former serving officers, many of whom are old friends and former colleagues, have revealed a worrying tack of understanding about the alliance.

There is real debate to be had about Nato's long-term role and how Kosovo will affect that. But from a military point of view, the crisis in the Balkans has shown Nato in a more positive light than its critics would have us believe.

Too many of these critics appear stuck in a Cold War mindset, and a Cold War that has been conveniently reassessed to fit their arguments. They portray Nato simply as a military counterweight to Russia, but it was more than that.

The North Atlantic Treaty opens with a commitment to saleguard the "freedom, common heritage and civilisation" of the member states. Nato was an ideological organisation when it was established in 1949 and it is an ideological organisation today. What has changed fundamentally is the context for this ideology. Nato was founded to protect West- act against him. We should ern Europe against the bullying and repression of Soviet communism which made life miserable for so many of our fellow Europeans for most of the second half of this century.

Russia has renounced totalitarianism and the methods of inflicting it on its people against which Nato protected us. But the Soviet Union's Stalinist mantle has been assumed by President Milosevic. He is inflicting on Kosovo precisely the pain and suffering that Nato was conceived to guard against.

The architects of Nato were determined that Stalin's totali-air defences. And the allies are doing so on the basis of political consensus. All Nato decisions are taken jointly by all allies. Nato is therefore dealing with Mr Milosevic in the same way that it has deterred Soviet aggression, as a truly multinational alliance. tarianism should be resisted.

Of course, in today's vastly different world, the strategy and tactics of the Cold War will no longer do. This is not a war for our national survival but a campaign to prevent a humanitarian disaster on our continent. The ends are different and so must be the means.

I have no doubt that the Nato air offensive will achieve its aim of degrading Mr Milosevic's ability to wage war on the people of Kosovo. But 1 also know that this too will take time. Quick fixes such as the Gulf War are the exception to the rule, and any professional critic who says otherwise is doing us all a disservice. □Sir Jeremy Mackenzie was Deputy Supreme Allied Commander Europe for Nato between 1994 and 1998

How well was Blair briefed?

Did the men of Whitehall make Downing St fully aware of the risks involved in Nato's strategy? Sue Cameron asks ow strongly did Britain's top civil servants warm Tony Blair about the risks of his Balkan adventure? As it becomes clear that Nato has failed in its declared aim of protecting the Kosovan Albanians and the threat of a murderous ground war comes a little closer, civil service insiders are wondering if this war will go down as one of White-hall's greatest failures.

CAROL COLE : 4P

"Did Whitehall bog it up? asked one former top civil servant this week. "Or did the Prime Minister overrule civil servants when they laid out all the arguments against bombing Serbia? He has every right to do so, of course, but I am quite cer-tain there will have been rumblings round the table of Committee Room C."

The large and elegant Committee Room C is in the Cabinet Office. It is where the permanent secretaries the top civil servants in each government department meet every Wednesday. It is chaired by the most senior mandarin of them all. Sir Richard Wilson, the Cabinet Secretary and confidant of Mr Blair. It is his success in forging a strong relationship with the Prime Minister that is raising eyebrows now. Few in Whitehall doubt that Sir Richard will have put all the possibilities to Mr Blair. What some are wondering is whether he gave strong enough warnings about the worst-case scenarios. For rumblings at those top-level meetings in Committee Room C will all centre on the same things: how it was that the consequences of bombing were not thought through more thoroughly. "Richard won't have wanted to jeopardise his relationship with Blair by going against a policy the Prime Minister wanted," said one man who has worked with the top civil servant. "Sir Ri chard is very courageous and he has a brilliant mind another former colleague said. "But he is . . . well, a bit of a courrier."

Sir Richard will not have been the only mandarin intimately involved in advising ministers on the crisis. Sit John Kerr, head of the Foreign Office, will also have played a key role, as with Kevin Tebbii. senior official at the Ministry of Defence.

Sir John has spent much of his career in Europe, but his last post before taking over at the Foreign Office was as Ambassador in Washington and he is an Atlanticist. A former permanent secretary believes he may have been worried about the recent glitches in Britain's relationship with the US.

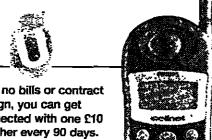

Some on the diplomatic or cuit lear that Mr Blair's willingness to fall in behind the US bodes ill for the future of the "special relationship", As one former ambassador remarked: 'We could be in for a period of poodledom."

Misgivings among diplomats are as nothing compared with the concern inside the Ministry of Defence.

The MoD must always be prepared for war. "It's what we keep them for and the military don't like to say no," one former permanent secretary said. However, the military has had its doubts from the start about the objectives of the Nato attack and whether Mr Milosevic could be bombed into submission.

In the Falklands conflict there was a clear, limited military objective - to oust the Argentine invaders, and only Britain and Argentina were involved. If Mr Blair hopes that this war will do for him what the Falkands did for Margaret Thatcher. he should think again. ☐ Sue Cameron is a writer and broadcaster on White-

Choose a Cellnet mobile phone to suit you at The BT shop.

With no bills or contract to sign, you can get connected with one £10 voucher every 90 days.

people. It's your call.

Perfect for younger

£69.99

and 85 hours standby time

· Displays remaining call credit

 99 name and number memory Allows you to send and receive

Now £89.99

Was £99.99

easylife

Keep in touch for as an easylife pre-pay phone.

little as £20 a year with

It's perfect for infrequent users and emergencies.

New inclusive 12 month package

Cellnet Line Advance digital mobile phone package £119.99·

Simply purchase an Ericsson GA628 (£4.99) or Nokia 5110 (£19.99) and take advantage of the Celinet Line Advance package.

12 months line rental Connection to

INCLUDES:

FREE up to £32.50 of calls 5 in first month then £2.50 for Celinet Occasional Caller Plus

FREE unlimited off-peak calls to your two favourite fixed-line numbers · · ·

TheBTshop

No.1 for satisfaction.

BBC 2 for evidence.

مكنا من الاصل

Yugoslavia stamps its defiance

Nato stamp yesterday in a mark of protest at the allied ainstrikes against its towns

The stamp depicts a bull's eye - the logo of Serb demonstrators. Beneath it is written "target", a capital "A" to denote the first in the series, and yugoslavia" in Cyrillic.

We have had a huge number delivered and we are expecting more designs," said a cashier in Belgrade's main post office in Takosvska Street last night. She said the stamps had no recent precedent, but philatelists in the city recalled the issue of a special series during the Second World War, when Belgrade was last

The stamp does not denote a denomination because of the plummeting value of the dinar. It can be used only domestically since all international mail deliveries have ceased. At yesterday's value, 50 stamps were selling for 102 dinars, or roughly £3.50.
The second issue in the series will feature an F117 Smalth bomber, the only US plane downed so far in the air war. The Stealth motif has already featured on a postcard from Budianovci, where it came down. On the reverse side a message reads: "If undelivered, please return to the White House". The bull's eye motif adorns T-shirts, baseball caps and badges. The more chic Belgraders also attach it to their pets as they take them for walks in the shopping district.

Belgrade mocks Nato with a postal flourish. Tom Walker in Belgrade writes when tens of thousands demonstrated against the regime of President Milosevic, adversily seems to have brought out the city's creative best. Television stations have shown an array of anti-Nato carnoons and sequences likening the Western alliance to Nazi Germany. BK television, run by Bogoljub Karic, the most powerful businessman in Serbia and a close friend of the Milosevics, has an especially creative graphics department. Yesterday the channel showed Nato aircraft flying in a swastika formation, followed by the simple caption:

The first postage stamp in the anti-Nato series

The issue of the stamps came after a bleak day for the Yugoslav postal system: earlier, state television showed pictures from Pristina, the capital of Kosovo, where the main post office had apparently been destroyed by a rogue Nato missile.

The country's telephone system is just coping, although the small mobile network service in Kosovo has ground to a halt after Nato destroyed a vital transmitter. Landlines are coming under increasing strain, and connections to friendly countries like Greece, Russia and Ukraine tend to be better and easier. All links with Britain went down for 24 hours two days ago.

The bombing of bridges in the northern city of Novi Sad has also severed some communications networks, and there are fears that Yugoslavia's few Internet service providers might soon fold. With the postal system almost non-existent, bills cannot be posted.

The television network is similarly threatened, and the state-run Radio Television Serbis now relies on the frequencies of other stations in towns and cities to broadcast its message. In many rural areas. there is no longer any telerision service.

Sources in Radio Television Serbia say they fear that the station's headquarters in central Belgrade could be target-ted by Nato missiles, although the building is located in a more built-up area than the Interior Ministry, which was destroyed by a twin batch of

Yugoslavs protesting at Nato raids display the bull's eye logo which they have adopted as their anti-war symbol

A cheap weapon in time of war

BY CHRISTINE MIDDAP

POSTAGE stamps are a relatively cheap propaganda tool

David Beech, the head of the philatelic collection at the British Library, said that while stamps were often issued to commemorate a victory, it was not uncommon for them to be used for propaganda purpose:

Essentially, the more need for propaganda the more extreme the stamps. They are common when a country needs to demonstrate what is happening for propaganda purposes," he said. An example of this was a series of stamps issued by Russia in 1940 called "Occupation of Eastern Poland". The stamps depicted Poles welcoming Soviet troops and waving to columns of tanks. Another scene showed soldiers distributing newspapers to the people.

Hider's head appeared on stamps in Germany from the 1930s. These survived the end of the Second World War. when the Allied occupation forces continued to use the stamps with the offending face masked by stars. More recently. Hanoi issued stamps during the Viet-nam War depicting victorious Victoong fighters on captured American tanks.

Nationalist demagogue thrives on catastrophe

NATO'S rejection of Yugoslavia's ceasefire offer in Kosovo is likely to fuel a vicious battle now under way in Belgrade one which pits Serb against Serb.

For the alliance bombing is helping to bolster the power of a former paramilitary leader said to be mentally scarred after being tortured and allegedly raped by Muslim prisoners when he served a jail sentence in his native Sarajevo.

Vojislav Seselj, the Serbian Deputy Prime Minister who counts among his friends Vladimir Zhirinovsky, the Russian nationalist extremist, and Jean-Marie Le Pen, the French lar-right leader, is determined to "cleanse" Serbia of the moderates and democrats he denounces as traitors and fifth estimmists.

Masked men in the pay of Mr Seseli and his Radical Pary are believed to be behind a ampaign of beatings and inimidation aimed at ridding he country of human rights Power struggle pits Serb against Serb, writes Eve-Ann Prentice

activists and champions of democracy. The victims include lawyers, journalists and intellectuals, many of whom have fled to Hungary.

Mr Seselj fosters that the Nato bombings are largely the fault of moderates and his power base is spreading at the expense of politicians such as Vuk Draskovic. his counterpart in the federal Yugoslav Government, It was Mr Draskovic who on Tuesday announced the Kosovo ceasefire offer and even Downing Street recognises that his star is waning, saying that he

One aspect of Mr Seselj's campaign has been the closure of several leading independent Serbian newspapers and the respected B92 radio station. He is also believed to be behind the orders to instruct guards to keep foreign journalists out of the country by refusing to acknowledge visas is-sued by Mr Draskovic's ally, the Yugoslav Information Minister, Milan Komnenic. In the Byzantine world of Balkan politics, Mr Seseli has a complex relationship with President Milosevic and his wife, Mira Markovic. Political analysts in Belgrade believe that the ex-paramilitary chief has been used by Mr Milosevic to garner support among the less well-educated. But now some fear that his frenzied anti-Western rhetoric may be striking a chord with more moderate Serbs who are united against the Nato bombings. Although Mr Seselj has in the past denounced Mrs Markovic, he and his party are closely allied to her United Yugoslav Left movement

A skilful manipulator of his audiences, Mr Seselj employs the same tactics as Mr Zhirinovsky, making promises of money to those who have been hardest hit by sanctions - the mass of Serbian workers and

Born in Sarajevo in 1950, Mr Seselj was reported to be the brightest student of political science of his generation at Sarajevo University. Howev-er, he seems to have undergone a personality change after being jailed for 22 months in 1984, after the discovery of a "counter-revolutionary" docu-ment written by him. The manuscript, which was never published, advocated a multi-party system and the ending of republic status for Bosnia and Montenegro. Bosnia was too Muslim, he wrote in his treatise, while Montenegro was so full of Serbs that it should just be a natural part of Serbia. It was while serving his sentence that he was certainly tortured and aliegedly raped by fellow prisoners. During the wars in Croatia and Bosnia, Mr Seselj led one of the two most feared paramilitary groups, the other being headed by Arkan. Now Mr Milosevic faces a crucial choice - whether to throw in his lot with Mr Seseli. or to shore up the flagging support for Mr Draskovic. Clearly there is no longer room for both men in Serbia's corridors of power.

Seselj: experience in jail

*INTEREST FREE OPTION Account is sterest line if repaid in full before (of with) the Shi, Shi or 125
ON ALL PRODUCTS
monthly payment according to the Option Period indicated on the relevant product, Thricin, Economic: Cash Price (649.98, 10% depost of 665.00,

DIXONS ON-LINE: www.dbrots.co.uk

DDXON'S DIRECT 08000 68 28 68

画 27.7%

Make bathing a pleasure not a chore, with Dolphin Easy Access

Whatever your needs in the bathroom, Dolphin has omething truly special for you. Our range of walk-in show and powerbaths, including the deep soak 'Tranquillity' rath, makes bathing easier, safer, and more comfortable.

- The Tranquillity bath features an integral door for easy step-in, step-out access and comes with a matching canopy for use with the shower of your choice.
- $\mathbb{R}$  Easy access showers are ideal for wheelchairs and walk-in users.  $\overline{\mathbb{R}}$  Shower sears allow six down showering, without fear of slipping. 3 Powerbaths gently lift you in and out of the water.
- $\tilde{\mathbb{S}}$  Dolphin take care of everything including planning, delivery and professional installation.

5 Free home advice service and full guarantee.

OVER 150 HIGH STREET SHOWROOMS NATIONWIDE For more information and details of your nearest showroom call Flease send me my free brochure and private further information about Dolphin Special Needs Bathrooms. TIS 08/04 ra fice io - Emiphia Special See 15 Halling and Fice part Manathester M10 MH1

Dolphin

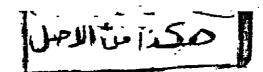

www.pcworld.co.uk

lable at a lower pince in any other local resul

THE COMPUTER SUPERSTORE

*On all PCs and printers over £250. Credit Protection insurance (CPI) is optional and will protect your payments in case of accident, intemployment or times. CPI is not included in the monthly repayments unless otherwise stated. TYPICAL ExalaPLE: (Without CPI) Cash Price (699. No Deposit and 48 monthly payments at £20.66 - total amount payable 1991 68. Minimum purchase £250. Subject to status. Whitein quotaborus avarlable from Dept Minimum, Payments at £20.66 - total amount logic, Pentium. Celeron and MMX are Registered Trademarks of the Intel Corporation. *Shared with main visitem memory. *Vask in-store for details. Thased on current selling prices of actual or equivalent titles (excluding disks and manuals for pre-loaded software). *Factusive to DSG Retail Ltd. Toy voucher redemption. Suppling end handling charged at £1.99 #CODZILLA* and the character designs are the trademarks of TOHO. LTDs. 1998 ToHO CO., LTD. 1998 Tostar Pictures Inc. All Rights Reserved. C RETA

Comment of the state of the sta

min direct next NEW Mail Andria

:57 :0

NEW

EVER PRICE

Teenage girl dies in new danger sport

ded in Australia while "canyening", an adventure sport that involves swimming through fast-flowing river girges. Siobhan Halls, 17, drowned in the Blue Mountains area, about 50 miles west of Sydney. where she was on holiday. She s believed to have hit her head on a rock. Her father, Richard, said yesterday that she was ot wearing a safety helmet. The relatively new activity has claimed several lives. It is recognised as one of the most dangerous of the "white-knuckle" activities, which include bunger jumping and white-water raiting. Canyoning in-volves following the path of a river by swimming, scram-bling over rocks and abseiling down waterfalls.

A BRITISH schoolgirl has keen horserider who was aware of the dangers of head injuries. "She would never ride without a helmet - that is what surprises me."

Miss Halls, from Steppingley in Bedfordshire, was with two male friends when the accident happened in the Mount Wilson area, near the town of Katoomba, where a network of creeks have cut deep, narrow gorges into the rock

Her companions, both Australians, told police that they were swept away during the expedition along the Wollangambe River on Monday. They managed to drag themselves out of the swirling water but became separated from the schoolgirl.

Because the rugged mountain area is so remote, it took them five hours to raise the Mr Halls, who runs a sta-bles, said his daughter was a recovered next day by New South Wales police: It was wedged underwater by rocks.

Officers said yesterday that heavy rain had transformed the river into a fast-flowing flood, making conditions more risky then usual.

Mr Halls said his daughter, a lower sixth form pupil at Redborne Upper School in Ampthill. Bedfordshire, was not a strong swimmer but was taking lessons.

Apart from a sailing course, she had not taken part in adventure activities before. A member of the Pony Chub, she had ridden for Bedfordshire and had five horses.

She had travelled to Sydney with her mother, Jean, for a five-week holiday and was staying with an aunt. The two young men involved were friends of the family.

Bryant's Eye, page 49

Siobhan Halls, a keen horse-rider, was said by her father not to be a strong swimmer

Canyons give thrill-seekers ultimate high

By Adrian Lee

CANYONING evolved from potholing and abseiling as lovers of "extreme sports" continued their search for the ultimate outdoor thrill.

It is believed that the sport. which is sometimes known as "canyoneering", was invented by potholers looking for undiscovered caves in France or New Zealand. A combination of walking, swimming, jumping and climbing, it attracts only the most daring adventur-

Activity and outdoor centres across the world include it in their programmes, alongside established "white-knuckle" pursuits, such as white-water rafting. In Scotland, one company asks would-be canyoneers to sign disclaimers stating that they feel confident with their heads under water in confined spaces. A session costs E32.

Hard-core enthusiasts take to rivers at night, sometimes throwing themselves 100ft into deep pools. Although Miss Halls was not wearing a helmet, most centres insist on one, as well as elbow pads. ropes, a wetsuit and buoyancy aids. Instructors with mountaineering qualifications are always present.

The sport has claimed at least one other British life. In 1996, a 43-year-old Ayrshire man died when he was sucked into a whirlpool while canyoning in the French Alps.
"Of course all these sports have an element of risk," said a spokeswoman for one British company. "Canyoning is about pushing yourself to the

In the Blue Mountains, a vast area of creeks and rivers, at least four companies offer one-day canyoning expeditions, and injuries are not uncommon. A worker at one adba said: "Canyoning is more dangerous than abseiling or climbing. You are often walking on slippery rocks and can fall. But if you go with a reputable company, the accident rate

Twin drowned after coastguard dinghy warning

GIRL who drowned when er inflatable toy dinghy was wept out to sea died only lours after a warning by coastguards of the danger.

Hayley Butler, 12, is beleved to have jumped out hen the dinghy was about 0 metres from the shore in attempt to swim to safety eainst the tide. Her twin sister Hannah nd a cousin, also 12, got back the beach at the small Linolnshire resort of Huttoft. gar Mablethorpe. But, as her thrents watched helplessly, layley sank within five mintes while clutching a plastic

After an incident involving 15 in Mablethorpe since movwo people in a dinghy the ing from Derby eight years ay before, coastguards had ago iven warnings on local radio nd in regional newspapers bo flimsy and unstable to be aken into the sea. The dead girl's mother Tria. 44. said: "Hayley was just jolly kid. She was very good o the elderly neighbours near as. She was a very popular nember of her class at school. Ve were just having a family infermoon on the beach with he kids when this happened." The girl, whose father died several years ago, had lived with her mother, stepfather, twin sister and brother Dean.

Hayley Butler: her twin sister made it ashore

By last night her body had still not been found but the utes after the incident, four miles off shore

John Harrison, the Lincolnshire sector manager for HM Coastguard, said: "It's foolhardy using an inflatable dinghy at sea. During the summer we go along the beaches pleading with people not to go out in inflatables but they ignore us and some of them end up

ADVERTISEMENT

Digital micro-chip enhances hearing aid to one million moves a second

ing aid is the smallest in the square that can deal with world and the most popular sounds at more than a million amongst those who are m- moves a second.

itional Danish master of hear- it deftly manages feedback ing aids, brought out the whistling. Senso CIC there was quite a tampede to get one. Widex have the reputation offthe latest technology, com-pete reliability and achieving the best possible hearing for Never before has such to y hearing aid. if there were a competition unobtrusively in the ear.

for hearing aids a Widex In fact, with the new S

godel would win hands down CIC no-one need know you The researchers at Widex have a hearing loss. ave already made the giant For more information: eap to digital sound processing which greatly improves Ring Freephone

London, W1E 5DP.

Now they have refined yet 0800 731 4285 again improving the CD Ounte ref. DITT 4018 sound quality of the CIC.

Please post me full details of SENSO CIC without any obligation: Tick if pensioner.

Phone or send coupon today (No state required) to:

Or call FREEPHONE 0800 731 4285

Digital Heaving Ltd. Personal callers such welcome at our London agents at 71 Duke St. Maylair. London WIM (off Oxfied St. Opp Selfridges) Ref. DTT 74018 Digital Hearing Ltd. Preepost 34 LON8670.

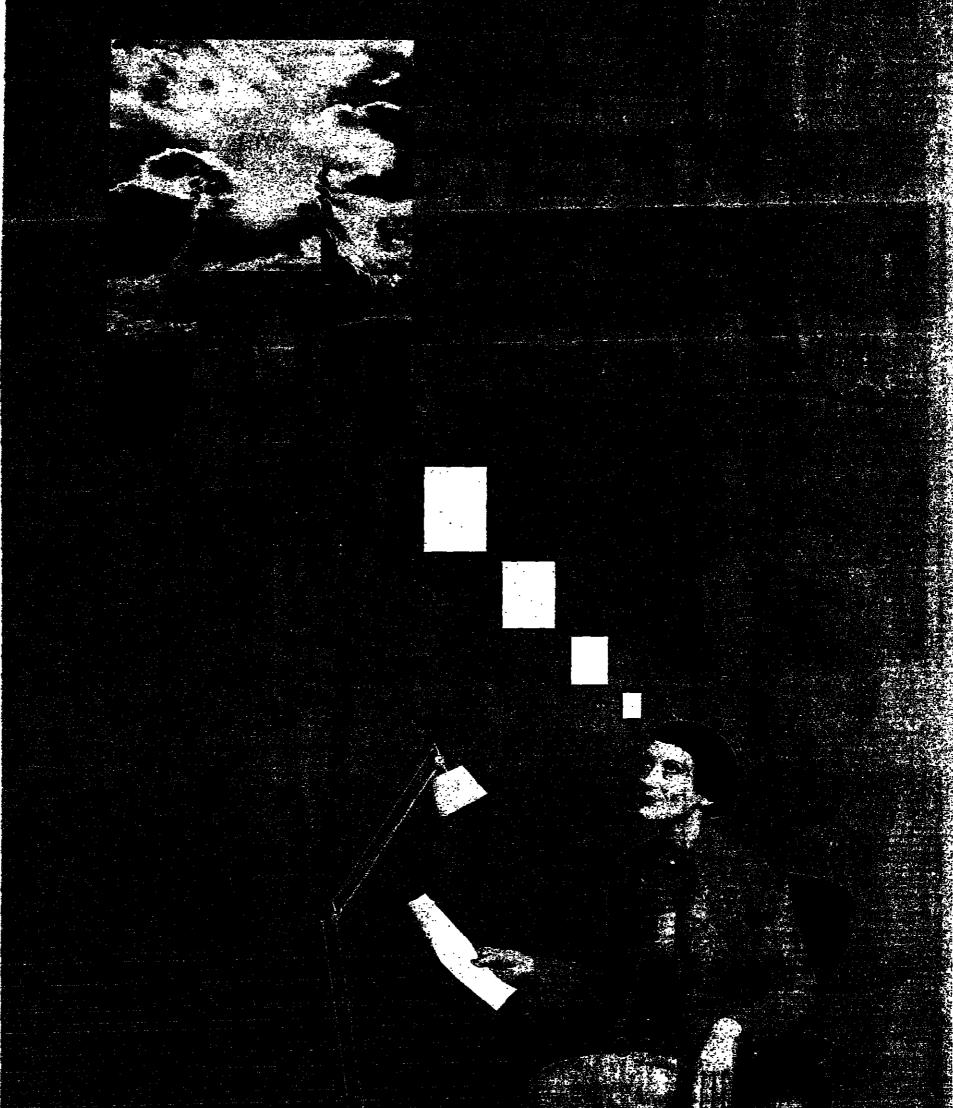

reliability, having the reputa-tion of never letting you down wherever you are, that vital committee meeting, that spe-Never before has such technology been developed to fit

In fact, with the new SENSO

Now you can print extraordinary images on ordinary paper.

Think of a stunning image. Think of it as a photograph. Think of our unique P-POP* technology enabling it to look amazing on plain paper. Think of the vibrancy seven colours could give you and how realistic it could look. Think of printing it on anything from wood to fabric.

Think of the printer being networkable. Think of Canon. The new BJC 7100, our most advanced printer, is available from just £269met (with free MGI Photosuite II manipulation software). So, if you'd like to stretch your imagination, think of freephone number 0500 987 000 and call us for your nearest supplier or for a brochure. If you can think it, we can print it.

Viscal in inclusional not to scale. "Plain Paper Optimised Printing." Union correct at Gree of going to print.

Mobile phones 'quicken the brain'

OFFICIAL: MOBILE PHONES SCRAMBLE YOUR BRAINS Radation zaps your e new Government study

Critics have blamed mobile phones for stress and cancer

Scientists allay memory loss fears but want more research on brain 'hot spot', reports Nigel Hawkes

MOBILE telephones do not damage memory, although they do have one unexpected effect: quicker reaction times This could be caused by localised heating in one part of the brain and needs further investigation, according to a study ordered by the Government in response to fears about the safety of mobile phones. If the heating is caused by microwave emissions, the study team at Bristol University said, it could have long-term health effects. This is because the body produces heat-shock proteins as a normal response to heating, and the long-term effect of such proteins in the brain is not known.

Contrary to earlier press reports, the study, published in the International Journal of Radiation Biology, found no effect on short-term memory in 36 volunteers subjected to half-hour bursts of microwave radiation mimicking mobile telephones

The volunteers had devices simulating the microwave output of mobile telephones clamped on their left ears, placing them close to the areas of the brain that control language. They were shown words and pictures on a computer screen and tested for how well they recalled them. The results show that recall was not affected by whether or not the device was turned on. Nor were any changes found in tests for spatial awareness or attention.

The experiments did show a small improvement in reaction times. The words "yes" and "no" were flashed on to the screen and the volunteers had to react by pressing a matching button. When the headset was switched on and mimicking an analogue telephone, reaction times improved by 4 per cent.

Although this change is small, it occurred in two groups of volunteers and is unlikely to be a chance finding. A similar trend was observed with digital signals but was not statistically significant.

Alan Preece, the project leader, said that the suspect heating was "mild" but said that further tests were required. His team has already begun testing to see if the microwave transmissions can effect blood flow and to learn more about the cause of the heating. His suggestion of a heating effect is controversial as telephone firms say that there is insufficient microwave power from mobile telephones to produce such an effect. They say that if there is any heating, some other mechanism must be at work.

The study was funded by the Department of Health and by trustees of the United Bristol Healthcare NHS Trust. It was carried out amid fears that mobile telephones may cause stress, memory loss or The volunteers did not know if the telephones were switched or or off. or if they were emitting analogue or digital signals. Dr Preece and colleagues theless, power-dependent," the speculate that the signals may team concludes. The effect of be having an effect on the anthe microwaves seems to be to gular gyrus, a ridge-shaped speed the flow of electrical part of the cerebral cortex of signals through the angular the brain which acts as an ingyrus but it remains unclear terface between the visual and why this should happen. speech centres and which lies Although the effect is not under and on the same side as damaging, opponents of mobile telephones are likely to use it as evidence that the phones affect the brain. If an apparently beneficial effect can exist, then a damaging ☐ Devices sold to protect mobile telephone users

some benefits but at the cost of worse reception, tests commissioned from the National Physical Laboratory by New Scien-

The laboratory tested the Microshield and Oyster Radia-tion Eliminator. They used two mobile telephones: a Nokia

2110 and Motorola MR30.

Field strength was tested inside a head made of a human down, the Microshield cut the field strength inside the head by 34 per cent for the MR30.

and 17 per cent for the Nokia.

while the Oyster cut the field by 48 per cent with the Nokia.

and 16 per cent with the MR30. With the antennae up.

both devices were less effective

The best way to limit the brain's exposure, the magazine concludes, is to use a "hands-free" set which enables the telephone to be worn on a belt. This cuts exposure to the brain by 94 per cent with no loss of reception, but other parts of the body are exposed to microwaves.

and made reception worse.

skull covered in mock flesh. When the telephones were used with their antennae microwaves offer

one is equally possible.

against tist have shown.

"Such an effect could be consistent with mild, localised a mobile telephone.

A plastic head is used to show the effect of a mobile telephone on human brain tissue. The government-backed study found localised heating but the cause was not clear heating or possibly a non-ther-SYMPTOMS AND RESEARCH mal response which is, never-

Cancer

In 1997 researchers at the Royal Adelaide Hospital in Australia spent-18 months exposing mice to microwave radiation at the intensity and frequency emitted by digital mobile phones. Twice as many mice developed lymphomas, a cancer of the lymph system, as those not exposed. But three other teams have tried and failed to replicate the result. In the latest study, scientists at Brooks Air Force Base in Texasexposed mice genetically engineered to be susceptible to breast turnours to microwaves for 20 hours a day for 18 months, but saw no increase in cancer rates. Michael Repacholi, who is co-ordinating research for the World Health Organisation into the health effects of electromagnetic radiation, told New Scientist that he is reserving judgment on his study until it can be replicated. "If they don't come up with the same result, that will be a happy outcome," he said.

Heating the brain

Claims that mobile phones can heat the brain have been treated sceptically until now. Even if true, the degree of heating would be much less than that achieved by mild exercise, and unlikely to have long-term effects. More worrying would be evidence that microwaves have a subtle and previously unknown effect on cells. Today's evidence from Bristol University hints at such an effect. Research at Nottingham University, led by David de Pomerai, has shown that exposing nematode worms to microwaves produces heat-shock proteins. These are produced by cells in response to many kinds of stress in addition to heat. These experiments could not have generated sufficient heat to produce the heat-shock proteins, so Dr de Pomerai believes there may be a separate mechanism at work.

DNA damage

Henry Lai, of the University of Washington in Seattle, claimed in 1995 that rats exposed to microwaves showed breaks in their DNA of the kind caused by carcinogenic chemicals or X-rays. If so, one would expect ves to cause cancer if exposure lasted long enough. But two teams - in St Louis, Missouri, and Belgium - have since failed to replicate the result. The World Health Organisation is now spending $6 million, partly funded by mobile phone firms, on an epidemiological study that will compare 3,000 brain tumour patients with 3,000 controls to see if there is any difference in their mobile phone use.

Headaches and tiredness

A study from Sweden last year showed that people who made frequent mobile phone calls were more likely to complain of headaches and tiredness. But people's expectations can colour such studies. Users in Norway, where mobile phone fears had been publicised, were twice as likely to complain than those in Sweden, where fewer such stories appeared

DXONS New cordless phone with separate 'out-of-sight' base

New from BT - the first cordless phone to have a base unit you can hide out of sight behind furniture, with all functions accessible through the handset. The phone and charger is available in metallic grey, and you can add up to 3 additional handsets throughout your home.

ADDITIONAL Handsets only £39.99

Cordless Phone

- 8 hours talktime/72 hours standby time.
- Up to 250 metre range outdoors.
- 20 alphanumeric directory. 3 last number redial.
- 2 line liquid crystal display. MODEL: QUARTET 2010.

Cordless Phone with Digital Answering Machine

All the features of the Quartet 2010 PLUS 16 minutes digital recording time.

- Voice prompts guide you through operation.
- Time/day announcement. Call screening and intercept facility.
- Private message playback via handset. • 2 pre-recorded outgoing messages.

MODEL: QUARTET 2015.

Every week we compare prices in the national press so you KNOW you can't buy better! If you find the same ofter cheaper at a local store and notify us within 7 days of purchase, we guarantee to refund the difference.

CLUDES HANDSET

PRICE - WE CAN'T BE BEATEN†

FIRST FOR NEW TECHNOLOGY

DDXDNS DIRECT 08000 68 28 68 These Pare Clear - I you had the same at a local state of made as made it can it produce we quantize to relate the product must be to a complete and made made about the same at the complete and made made about the contract which is a contract of the contract of the contract made about the contract of the contract of the contract made about the contract of the cont

'Corrie' makes US debut 38 years on

By CAROL MIDGLEY

CORONATION STREET is finally to be shown in America 38 years after the first episode was broadcast.

Television executives are confident that the regulars of the Rover's Return, who say "by 'eck", eat hotpot and drink pints of Newton and Ridley bitter, will conquer an American audience raised on more glamorous epics such as Dallas and Dynasty.

A deal was announced yes-terday between Granada Media International, part of Granada Television which makes and produces Coronation Street, and Trio, the drama, documentaries and film, channel in the United States which is broadcast nationally on satellite and cable.

American viewers will join the show during its 1994 episodes when Tania, a barmaid at the Rover's, embarks on a torrid affair with the local romeo. Des Barnes (now deceased in the soap), behind his girlfriend's back. Executives decided they could not risk going further back than this because fashions and hairstyles would have been too outdated for 1999.

A spokeswoman for Granada Media International said: We had to find a suitable point to start where the storyline was dramatic enough to hook a new audience but where people's clothes wouldn't look too odd."

The soap, which has been running in Britain for 38 years, has been sold to more than 35 countries

Our Business Extra package is available to new business start-ups with an anticipated turnover of under £1 million. Full details are in our Starter Pack. Some calls may be recorded and monitored. Lloyds Bank Pic, 71 Lombard Street, London EC3P 3BS.

www.lloydsbank.co.uk

uke Bettelley with his parents. Jill and David. The boy was given two days to live

Mother makes history to save her son from death

By NIGEL HAWKES, SCIENCE EDITOR

A BC whose life was saved by the donation of part of his motif's liver - a transplant that ade British medical history was doing well in hospital yterday. Luke Bettelley. 18 maths old, was "laughing and hilling and throwing his toysgound", his father. Dav-

Afonth earlier, Luke had beefgiven less than two days to li His mother, Jill, from Wosing in West Sussex, im-medicly volunteered to give parbf her own liver even thoth it put her at risk. "I coulhave died on the operating ble, but that didn't even cost into it," she said. "My only concern was for Luke and what I could do for him." Unlike other organs, the liver can regenerate, so it is possible to remove part of the donor's liver and give it to the patient. But in past such operations in Britain, the patient has always suffered from chronic, rather than acute, liver failure. In Luke's case, he was already showing the first College Hospital. Mrs Bettelley, 32, pleaded to be allowed to be the donor. On March 5 surgeons spent signs of headaches and delirium from acute liver failure when he was taken to King's of her liver, and another six hours transplanting it into

"This is a big operation and not without risk for the parent who becomes a donor," Nigel Heaton, the transplant surgeon, said. "It also puts the other parent under the most enormous stress."

Mohammed Rela, the consultant surgeon who carried out the operation, said: "In the absence of a suitable donor. Luke would certainly have died. Jill and David have both been marvellous throughout and were very brave and positive, which belped us do our job well."

four hours removing a third ransplant boom raises prospect of divorce haggling

GAN donation between siuses will soon become part officerce settlements, accordif the surgeon who per-fanel Britain's first liver, pan-cas and intestine transplants. SirRoy Calne predicted that shinds and wives who dierce will put a price on the a ar act of loving sacrifice. Turty per cent of marriage

e end in divorce and if a souse has given a kidney, you hveto expect that divorce setements will start to question bwituch a kidney is worth." b sait. "A wife who has donat-d anorgan may say, what I ave o my husband repreents certain per cent of his Thebig increase in organs onad from living people is reatile "one of the unique ethcal oficerns that have never ieen aced in medicine be-

Caine asked how much a kidney is worth fore". As an example, Sir Roy suggested the moral confusion that might arise if the practice extended to estranged couples.

"If a wife is willing to donate an organ to her husband as part of a divorce settlement, is that acceptable as an emotionally concerned patient, or unacceptable as a compensated pa-

IN: DE SECTION Z Til Severin on En Newby's classic vonge, right s rebuilt from ble. Erica Wagner relevis Philip O'Casey's aphorical novel

PASHMINA & CASHMERE

STOCK CLEARANCE SALE We have an extensive range of Pashmina Shawls Mens & Ladies Cashmere Knitwear accessories all made from the finest quality Pashmina & Cashmere. FROM £39.-

Chelsea Town Hall Kings Road, London, SW3 5EE Friday 9th April 11am to 6pm Saturday 10th April 10am to 5pm Catalogue requests Tel: 01525 280 888 ain had tripled recently as a result of the shortage of organs made available from people who die. The United Kingdom Transplant Support Service Authority recorded 89 live do-nor kidney transplants in 1991; by 1998 that figure had risen to an estimated 246.

Transplant surgery has become much more common since the introduction of more successful immune-suppression drugs in 1982. In 1975 there were ten liver transplants in Europe; 20 years later there were 3,266. Sir Roy said, however, that transplant surgery had been a victim of its own success: there were now 6,000 people in Britain on the waiting list for organs. He was uncomfortable with the trend for live transplants because of the moral issues that might not be immediately obvious. The best kind of transplant donor was the patient's brother or sister but "enormous pressure" might be put upon them behind the scenes, he told the Association of the British Pharmaceutical Industry in London. "It is not reasonable to regard it as a right to have a transplant; it isn't, it is a privilege. It may not be fair. when we know that brothers and sisters don't always love each other." Sir Roy. Professor of Surry Emeritus at Cambridge University, said that litigation was already beginning in America. The case of one engaged couple was still awaiting settlement. Richard McNutt had told his fiancée that he had to delay their wedding plans until he re-ceived a kidney transplant. His intended, Dorothy Zauhar, persuaded her brother to donate one of his kidneys. After the operation was successfully carried out in 1997, Mr McNutt married a nurse in the dialysis unit and Ms Zauhar sued her former fiance, accusing him of "theft by swindie of body organ".

formance System 450 PIII

INTEL PENTIUM III PROCESSOR 450MHz ALL INSTRUCTOR OUE AWAZING PRICE

SPECIAL OFFER

PRICES EXCLUDE DELIVERY

VISIT YOUR LOCAL TINY SHOWROOM OR CALL FREEPHONE FOR MORE INFORMATION

731 9372

PICK UP YOUR FREE TINY ONLINE CD AT ANY TINY SHOWROOM NOW!

think big about your PC...think Ciny

All trademants acknowledged. All prices and manufacturers specifications are subject to change without notice. Prease check availability before ordering. Goods are offered for sale subject to standard conditions of sale available on request. E&DE, Intel Inside Logic and Pentium are registered trademarks, of the Intel Corporation, Tiny Computers Limited is part of the OT group. Offers subject to availability. "May not read CDRs.

UNTIL APRIL 2000 On All Systems

97 SHOWROOMS

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK* BEDFORD & AYLESBURY NOW OPEN

LONDON W1

LONDON EC2-

MANCHESTER

MEADOWHALL

SHEFFIELD

MIDDLESBROUGH

MILION KEYNES

NEWCASTLE

NORTHAM

NOTTINGH

PLYMOUTH

PRESTON

READING

ROMFORD

SOLIHULL

SOUTHEND

STEVENAGE

STOKE-ON-TRENT

SOUTHAMPTO

PORTSMOUTH

COFORD

PERTH

PETER

BEDFORD BEXLEYHEATI BOLTON BROMLEY

CAMBRIDGE CHELTENHAM CRAWLEY CROYDON

EAST KILBRIDE ENFIELD EXETER GLASGOW GLOUCESTER GUILDFORD

HOUNSLOW HUDDERSFIELD ILFORD IPSWICH KINGSTON LAKESIÕE LANCASTER

LEXCESTER

SUNDERLAND SUTTON SWANSEA SWINDON TAUNTON TUNEREDGE WELLS WALTHAMSTOW WATFORD WYGAN

WOOD GREEN WORCESTER

' dear

Lawrence plea fails to keep suspects off TV

By Carol Midgley MEDIA CORRESPONDENT

THE first interviews with the five men suspected of killing Stephen Lawrence will be broadcast tonight despite pro-test from the black teenager's

The men will break their silence on Tonight, a new ITV current affairs programme, in a series of "rigorous interrogations" by the journalist Martin Bashir, Last night Granada TV executives were in discussions with the Lawrence family's lawyer. Imran Khan, over allowing the boy's parents. Doreen and Neville, to see the interviews prior to broadcast.

Jeff Anderson, the Editor of Tonight, insisted that the programme did not provide the men - Jamie and Neil Acourt, Gary Dobson. Luke Knight and David Norris - with a platform to protest their innocence. He said: "The programme includes significant

BY RUSSELL JENKINS

A MAN celebrating a friend's stag night was stabbed almost to death by a member of a group that was being

The court was told that Paul Massey.

Manchester Crown Court was told

39, the alleged assailant, and three friends were under the influence of the film makers when they attacked the party's minibus outside a nightelub. Peter Wright, for the drink and excited by the attentions of videotaped by a film crew, yesterday.

POLICE TO PAY £1m PROTECTION BILL

The Home Secretary faced new protests over the Stephen Lawrence report yesterday after it emerged that the Metropolitan Police is footing an extra El million bill arising from its bungled publication (Philip Webster writes). An appendix to the report inadvertently included the names and addresses of witnesses to the teenager's mur-der. It was hastily withdrawn and a witness protection and relocation scheme put in place. The responsibility for the oversight was admitted by the inquiry team, although the Home Office faced strong criticism for not spotting the blunder. Sir Norman Fowler, the Shadow Home. Secretary, told Jack Straw last night that a great deal of the responsibility rested with him and his ministers.

new material that may open new avenues of inquiry for the police. However, we are confident that it will not prejudice any possible future prosecution. The programme is a rigorous and detailed interrogation of the five men and in no way provides them with a platform. No areas of questioning were off limits and no payment was asked for or made."

save his life.

prosecution, said that Massey, of of the vehicle's windows, chased it then stabbed 29-year-old Wayne

Wisdom so badly that he needed

Massey, Gregory Hayes, 30 of Withington, Manchester, Mark Boomer, 34. of Blackley, Manchester, and Paul Flannery, 39.

deny conspiracy to commit violent disorder in Manchester last July.

Massey pleaded not guilty to eight litres of blood and plasma to Salford, Manchester, smashed one through the Manchester city centre.

backfire by drawing more attention to it. Much is expected of the ed by Trevor McDonald, which is modelled on American television's 60 Minutes. It was central to the network's argument that it would maintain its commitment to serious news and current affairs programming despite scrapping News at Ten. Mr Bashir, who conducted the Panorama interview with Diana, Princess of Wales, and was accused of being overly sympathetic to the British au pair Louise Woodward when he interviewed her, is said to be "tough to the point of hostile" with the men. He insisted on interviewing them separately at a neutral location and the men were not allow to confer with each other about questions they had been asked.

The Metropolitan Police has started legal proceedings under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act to gain access to all the tapes, which amount to several hours, whether or not they are used in the final wounding Mr Wisdom with intent to Boomer denies assaulting a police independent film crew had been following the four accused as they

They used two cameras to film the disorderly fashion. Mr Wright said group as they travelled around high-spirited and increasingly nightclubs behaving in a drove round Manchester in an Audi do grievous bodily harm and officer with the intention of preventing Massey's arrest.

The jury was told that an

and a BMW.

faced a full trial for the race murder. A private prosecution begun by the Lawrence family in 1995, after the Crown Prosecution Service had decided not to proceed, ended with three being acquitted at the Old Bailey after evidence was ruled inadmissible. Charges against the two others had been dropped.

Ros Howells, a friend of Mr and Mrs Lawrence, said: "These five men have had ample opportunity to say what they want to say at the inquest and at the judicial inquiry. At both they were told they were free to speak and they avoided answering the questions."

Last month, the men's mothers gave an interview to John Humphrys, of Radio 4's Today programme, in which they protested their sons' innocence and vowed to campaign to clear their names.

TV listings, page 51

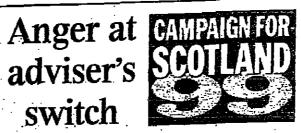

Mr and Mrs Lawrence have declared themselves "disgusted" by ITV's decision to give the men a voice. They considered organising a campaign to boycon the programme but are understood to have decided that such a strategy could hour-long Tonight show, host-

Stabbing accused 'played up to camera' that they were "playing up to the camera" and " a disaster waiting to

> Mr Wisdom was one of a party of more than 30 people from Leeds who had travelled to Manchester for the night. After the car chase, the court was told, Mr Wisdom was seen to headbutt Massey, and Massey was then seen to lunge towards Mr Wisdom with a knife in his hand. Mr Wright said that the jury would see film footage taken by the crew during the evening. The trial continues.

switch

The Scottish National Party accused Labour of "blurring the lines between government and party" yesterday following the appointment of a former Treasury civil servant to the Holyrood election campaign. Mike Russell, the SNP's chief executive, has demanded to know why Ed Milliband, who resigued his post as an adviser to the Chancellor. Gordon Brown, last week, is now working on Labour's Scottish campaign. Mr Russell added: "If Ed Milliband did resign last week, has he been guaranteed his old job back? It appears to be a matter of convenience." A Labour spokesman said that Mr. Milliband resigned so that he could work in Scotland during the campaign and would not be paid from public funds or have any involvement in Treasury business while undertaking party work. "This is entirely consistent with Cabinet Office procedures." the spokesman added.

A question of address

Lord Steel of Aikwood took time out from his party's manifesto launch to praise the ingenuity of postal staff in the Scottish Borders who had delivered a mysteriously addressed letter to his home in Selkirk. The former Liberal leader awoke yesterday to find the missive from a woman in Warwickshire on his doormat addressed to "Mr David Steel, The Labour Party, Scotland". Someone in the postal serting office had recognised the recipient and had scribbled Lord Steel's postcode on the envelope.

Greens slip on banana public services would thave business away and cost jobs.

The Scottish Green Party issued its first press release of the fall Less money would be wall. election campaign, condemning American intransigence in able for public services" he the banana war and calling for consumers to boycott said. The result would be to bananas grown by the large commercial producers until leave many people who work the U.S. agrees to withdraw high tariffs on imports such as hard day in and day ou still Scottish cashmere. Less than an hour later, the trade war struggling to make ends meet ended in an agreement. We weren't aware that it was about while they pay more in tains. to end," a party spokesman said. "However, it is good news."

'May sanity prevail'

Candidates for the Scottish parliament were urged not to follow Tony Blair's example and call each other "lunatics", "nutters" or "crazy". Karen Prentice, of the Scottish Mental Health Association, said: "It is unacceptable for Tony Blair to talk of headbangers in the Shadow Cabinet, men in white coats, and Innatics taking over the asylum. Our language is still riddled with derogatory terms. Perhaps devolution will pave the way for a more polite and enlightened parliament."

Quote of the day

Jim Wallace, the leader of the Scottish Liberal Democrats, launching his party's election manifesto:

Education is the key to Scotland's future. Without high quality education Scotland will not be able to compete in a world economy. The Scottish Liberal Democrats commitment to Scotland's education system will restore us to world class levels 7

AGENDA

Today: The Prime Minister, on a two-day visit to Scotland, is travelling to Lossiemouth on board Labour's battlebus. Paddy Ashdown is attending a press conference in Edinburgh before going to St Andrew's with the leader of the Scottish Liberal Democrats, Jim Wallace. The SNP launches its manifesto in Edinburgh and the Conservatives open their election campaign in Edinburgh.

Brown brand SNP al high 'high tar'

> BY JASON ALLARDYCE AND GILLIAN HARRIS

GORDON BROWN steppe up Labour's Scouish election campaign yesterday by daning that "dangerous" and "ti" caring nationalists work make poor Scots poorer.

The Chancellor said that f choice facing voters in the Sco. tish parliamentary election was between Labour's focus of enterprise and fairness and the Scottish National Party's high tax and incompetence.

Mr Brown, speaking in Glass gow, delivered one of his hardest-hitting attacks on the SNP so far. He said that its commitment to lorego his jenny income tax cut to invest in

Tax revenues would then

Mr. Brown also attacked the SNP's refusal to support international action in Kosovoahd said that the party "would yen take Scotland out of Nato Earlier, Donald Dewar the Scottish Secretary, unveile de tails of Labour's pledge and which includes:

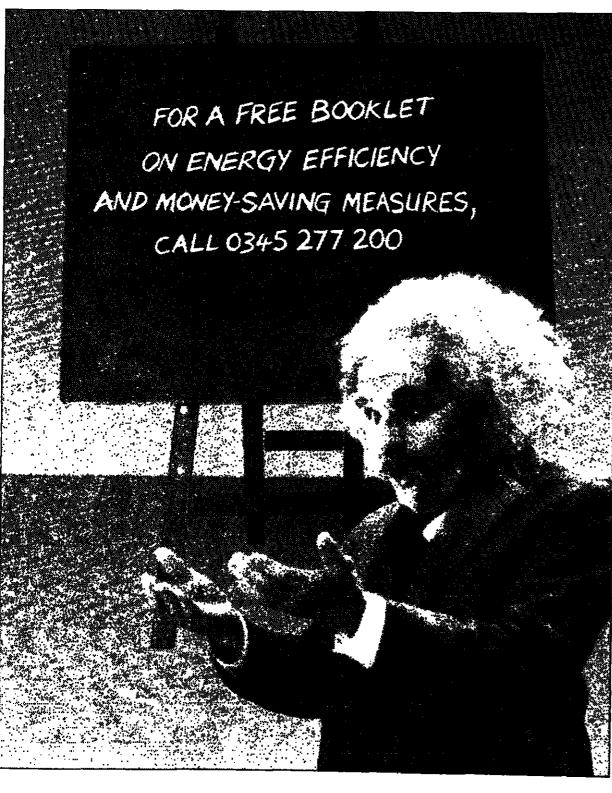

☐ A Scottish drugs enonement agency, which would the the assets of suspected deters without waiting for criminal convictions. ☐ No income tax rises duing

the first term of parliamen. ☐ Twenty thousand molem apprenticeships apprenucesnips.

At least four modern commit-ers for every Scottish cass ☐ New hospital developments and a 24-hour NHS directate.

phone helpline. The Liberal Democrats' name festo published yesterday printised 2,000 more teachers and an end to university mittion fee for Scottish students. Jim Waltee, the party's Scottish leader ........ that the penny tax cut would foregone only if savings could not be made from the existing Scottish Office budget.

Give Albert a good thriller, and he's a happy man. And this little booklet is choc-a-bloc with thrills. How to save, for instance, up to one third on your fuel bills. Simple ways to keep heat from escaping. And as for the bit on loft insulation...well, we don't want to give too much away.

An Energy Saving Trust initiative backed by the Government. http://www.est.org.uk

For your free Energy Efficiency booklet, call now.

IN anyone's Language. one.tel Low 24 HOURS A DAY,

7 DAYS A WEEK

One.Tel offers low cost international calls from your home or business phone, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. There is no pre-payment required and you don't even have to change telephone companies. Call us now to register on 0800 092 8988 between 7am-11pm, Mon. to Fri. or 9.30am-5.30pm Sat. and 9am-5pm Sun. Once you are registered simply dial 1878 from your touch tone phone in front of the national or international number you wish to call. It couldn't be easier.

INTERNATIONAL RATES

Destination FLAT RATE Belgium ..... 10p China......37p Сургия......20р Denmark .....9p Hong Kong ..... 15p Ireland .....9p Singapore.....21p South Africa....30p

PRE-PAYMENT

JUST DIAL 1878 FIRST

SCO TISH ASSURTINE

NOT N

ا حكدا من الاصل

husbands, are emerging to run ventures in their own right. Perween Warsi, the founder of SA Foods, the chilled and frozen food company, is the highest-placed woman in the list. Mrs Warsi, 42, who has an estimated net wealth of £35 million, is joint 29th. Her husband, Talib, a doctor, gave up his practice to work for her business, which employs 600 people. Mrs Warsi takes a matter-of-fact view of her success. "I wasn't satisfied with the Indian food on the market. It occurred to me that I could do better," she said. Most successful Asian-British businesswomen work in the food sector and remain business partners with their husbands. Meena Pathak is valued at £30 million together with her husband, Kirit, with whom she built up Patak Spices. A former model in India, she is credited with adding the creativity to her husband's fi-

Tej : and Bobby Dhillon, brother and sister, have built

Wives emerging from husbands'

Women make their mark in shadow now feature in top 200, reports

Adam Sherwin

up a £30 million hotel chain and are expecting to acquire more properties this year. The marketplace can still be an uncomfortable place for Asian businesswomen. Zeenat Harnel became a director of the food producers Noon Products, a company she helped to found with her father. But Mrs Harnel discovered that her father, who does not have a son, had sold the business without informing her. "It was a shock," she admitted.

Namita Panjabi, co-owner of the Chutney Mary restaurant group, who entered the top 200 for the first time with earnings of £5 million, said that British-Asian businesswomen are 50 years behind their counterparts in India.

There are a lot of businesswomen in India who are doing very well, but it has not yet happened in this country. The immigrant families here are very conservative and they are holding on to their traditions. It still seems like the 1950s."

The Hinduja brothers, global traders, are named as the richest British-Asians, with wealth totalling £1.3 billion. Food retailing and fashion are the highest-earning sectors in

There are 43 individuals involved in food, with a combined worth of £853.5 million, and 39 individuals and companies in fashion, with a com-bined worth of £775 million. The latter sector includes such high street names as Joe Bloggs and New Look.

The highest new entry is Iqbal Ahmed, of Seafood Marketing International in Manchester, at number 21, with a net worth of £60 million. The biggest climber is James Caan, who founded the executive recruitment consultancy, Alexander Mann, in 1985: he rose from 153 last year to 20.

About 50 Asian businessmen are expected to make it into the next Sunday Times Rich List, which will be published on Sunday.

The Hinduja brothers and the steel magnate Lakshmi Mittal, who came second in the Asian list with wealth of £1.2 billion, are both likely to feature in the top ten.

Success in a man's world: Namita Panjabi, co-owner of Chutney Mary, with Avtar Lit of Sunrise Radio. Both feature in the richest Asian 200

Food and fashion moguls earn a place on rich list

erum to the top for global trading oil and team to the bot for global trading oil and banking family. Sessed in London but with a strong frices in India. Offered to under with Spirit Zine in the fallentium Dome caused positical commercers? In 2 Dominated Lotshur, Steel back, slice from the top and a shapp in strare price of his isput, laterpational company. Even in famustead but highlight of year was four day welding of son in Calcula. In 2450pt. Chindra Subhash, Indiantellession Tragnates who, made, forme in mading. change. Birth of earn could be threat.

• £200m; Singh, Issunder and family.

Their Edwardan group one of biggest UK independent hoteliers.

• £200m; Singh, Torn, Started New Look admensives retailer in 1969 with cash borrowed from payents. Floated for £330m last summer.

• £150m; Madhleini, Manubhar and family. Bullad from Ugandan in 1972 balls up singar browing and tee planta-lion copigographs 9 £120m; Zeiteni, Guitz, Last Malagra as guident to set up.

5m Lord Paul. Steel trader-curried to peer, Investment of ESOC (OOP) in Local, Stock and Two Smoking Ba

5 £300m; Grovit, Felix, Low-key owner of Chemiepoint chain of bureaux de Change, Birth of edito could be threat

tion conflorterate 9 1120m Tavani, Galu Laft Kafacif as student to set up club, Link between Labour and Asian community ...

$\text{\texi{\text{\texi}\text{\text{\texi{\text{\texi}\text{\text{\text{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\tex{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\texi{\tex Built Bestwey cash-and carry $1 11137; Peter, Brildin & Vijey. Phar-macy chain

- at conglow 12-£100m, Belvar, Re no Session diejo 16 £90m; Jatania, Mike. Lomamead 25 £50m; Rumar, Rajan, Fashion labels. hair and skin care 17 £85m; Puri, Nat. Engine

21 £60m; Ahmed lobal. Shripp 21 £60m; Ahmed, Sharri, Joe Blogg

214 260m; Chima, Guithert. Bon Warthe fashion chair

26 £40m; Noon, Gularn. Food production

26 £40m; Noon, Gulam. Food production 26= £40m; Patel, Neresh and Mehesh. Europa food retailers 28 £35m; Matto, John, Textiles 29 £35m; Matto, John, Textiles 29 £35m; Mushy, Nissim. Textiles 29= £35m; Roia; Anil. Textiles 29= £35m; Roia; Anil. Textiles 29= £35m; Sandhu, Analil. Textiles

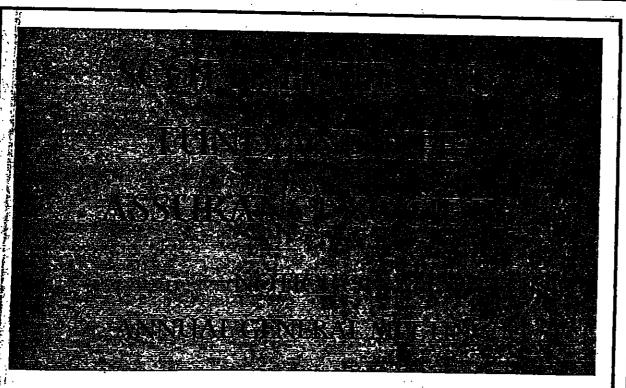

26 £30m; Rasul, Mag. Retailing

= £28m; Rana, Dlift. Property and ho-15 £26m; Bhatti, Abdul. Food distribu-1 = £26m; Chaudhary, Adalat. Food dis-45 £26m; Sheikh, Mohammed. Food distribution distribution 48 £25m; Chandaria, Dinesh. Paper 48 £25m; Shah, Anam & Vipin. Banking

35 £30m; Sachdev, Ramesh. Health-

35= £30m: Sahni, Jatti & Avneet. Com-35= £30m; Sethia, Nirmal. Property 35= £30m; Varma, Mosi. Rice produc-

43 £28m; Alimehomed, Abdul. Packag

Notice is hereby given that the 185th Annual General Meeting of the members of the Society will be held within The Fintry Auditorium, Edinburgh International Conference Centre, The Exchange, Edinburgh, EH3 8EE on Tuesday 4 May 1999 at 11.30am for the following purposes:

- To consider the Accounts and Balance Sheets for the year ended 31 December 1998 and the Reports of the Directors and Auditors.
- To elect or re-elect Directors. To fix the remuneration of Directors.
- To re-appoint PricewaterhouseCoopers as Auditors.
- To authorise the Directors to fix the remuneration of the Auditors for the
- To transact any other ordinary business proper to an Annual General Meeting.

A member is entitled to appoint a proxy to attend and vote instead of him or her. A proxy need not also be a member of the Society. Proxy forms can be obtained by application to the Company Secretary. To be effective, proxies (and the power of attorney or other authority, if any, under which it is signed, or a notarially certified copy of that power of authority) must reach the Society's principal office not less than two clear working days before the time for holding the Meeting. Members or proxies who intend to be present at the Meeting should bring with them details of their policy numbers or in the case of proxies the policy numbers in respect of which they have been appointed proxy, and in all cases some means of identification. Registration will commence at 11.00am. Copies of the Society's Report and Accounts for 1998 may be obtained in advance by written application to the Company Secretary.

SCOTTISH WIDOWS

Lalo A Reid LLB CA Company Secretary 15 Dalkeith Road, Edinburgh EH16 5BU

8 April 1999

Issued by Scottish Widows' Fund and Life Assurance Society. Regulated by the Personal Investment Authority.

The more efficient your boiler, the lower your central heating bills. Right now, we'll give you a £200 grant towards the most efficient type of boiler available." At the same time, if you upgrade your heating controls and hot water tank, these combined measures could cut your fuel bills by up to 40%.

Take a tip from Einstein: a genius and his money are seldom parted. For more details and the names of qualified local installers, call now.

COUNCIL

Little wonder is a big shock for auctioneers

A SMALL painting that Christie's labelled as the work of a minor 19th-century artist, worth no more than £800, has been identified as a previously unknown landscape by Thomas Gainsborough worth at least £80,000. least £80,000.

The 18th-century work was spotted by Angus Neill, director of Felder Fine Art in London, who said: "I knew it was the best picture I'd ever seen in my life. I'm astounded that a picture of this quality should have been overlooked."

He acted on his instincts and bought the painting at auction, when rivalry from four other bidders took the price to E30,000. His find, which measures about 22.8cm by 19cm. has now been acclaimed by Gainsborough experts although there is disagreement on how high its value may go. Mr Neill claims that it could ultimately fetch £500,000. He believes that it is among works mentioned in the will of Gainsborough's wife and left to her daughter, Margaret. Two of them, the same size as this example, are in the Tate Gallery. "It's a very beautiful.

ATTRIBUTED TO THOMAS CHURCHYARD (1798-1965) A Country House in a wooded Landscape indistinctly inscribed (on the stretchet) oil on paper baid down our canyas

Christie's listing: wrong price, wrong artist, wrong century

'Minor' painting

valued at £800 was unknown

Gainsborough gem, reports

Dalya Alberge

simple composition of a wooded landscape with country house and two figures," Mr Neill said. "It was a highly personal and intimate picture painted for the family. They must be the tiniest figures he ever painted, just a few milli-metres tall." Rica Jones, conservator of paintings at the Tate, described it as "a ravish-ingly beautiful painting". Mr Neill's research showed that the painting had surfaced in 1856 in the collection of Wynn Ellis, who left several works to the National Gallery: "He didn't know it was Gainsborough and consigned it to Christie's in 1856. It was then miscatalogued as a James what they go for: people are not after names but quality. This painting has never been published. It is completely

Coming to Christie's de-fence, Dr Hayes said that so many paintings came "hurtling" through the firm's salerooms that "it is easy to overlook these things". A spokeswoman for Christie's South Kensington said: "We cannot comment this far after the sale."

he said, it was with auctioneers in Newbury and classed as 19th-century. Continental School. "It was bought by a dealer for £200 who then consigned it to Christie's South Kensington," Mr Neill said.

He bought it last July. "Their catalogue said it was by Thomas Churchyard, estimated at Hugh Belsey, curator of Gainsborough's House in Sud-bury, Suffolk, described it as "a very attractive little picture" which he would like to add to the museum, where the two

John Hayes, former Direc-tor of the National Portrait

Gallery and a Gainsborough scholar, described the painting as "a beautiful little work a perfectly genuine early work". He thought its value was closer to £80,000.

Mr Neill pointed out that a small 18th-century painting by Alexander Cozens, "with a similar gem-like quality", came up for sale at Sotheby's last year. It was estimated at £50,000 to £70,000 and fetched more than £400,000. "That's

Tate pictures are on loan.

£600 to £800.~

Angus Neill with his find: "I knew it was the best picture I had seen in my life"

NEWS IN BRIEF

New lawyers ordered formatique Balons

Roof chalber killed

Timely hoon. Male police or church marka ekam

Trust has finally caught on with a church that is so get a clock 124 years late. Church in Cackendanth Combines, was bluff in 1986 with a clock tower, somewhich in and support in a medialniam. But from years left, without a clock they and support in a medialniam. But from years left, without a clock. Two parishioners, David side and cony water base they without a clock. Two parishioners, David side and Cony Waterbe, those new officient to pay for the dimenses. The periode

Rower takes on Pacific

Donkovales at 5

Husband who exposed drugs ring is found dead

By Russell, Jenkins

A LORRY driver who was praised for his role in smashing a drugs smuggling ring has apparently killed himself after fearing that his wife had left him to take up drugs an informant because his 34-year-old wife, a mother of five, was a here ers dead on his bed last week. There oin addict and he had seen at first hand the effects of hard drugs on family life. With a £10,000 price on his head, he was helped to assume a new life in a safe house but he soon returned home to Hurstead, near were no suspicious circumstances. A letter sent to The Rochdale Observer before his body was found made clear that he wanted to kill himself because his wife had left him. He claimed that she had returned to a dife of drugs".

was offered £20,000 to ferry beroin, cocaine and amphetamines worth E2 million from Belgium for sale in Manchester's nightclubs. He telephoned an information bottine saving: "I don't care about the money. I just hate drugs and I want to stand up to those who profit from them."

an industrial estate near Rochdale, where they moved in. After the arrests Mr Brooker went into hiding with his wife, under a new identity, and lived in fear of revenge. His evidence to Minshull Street Crown Court, Manchester, in December beined to send the five man gang to that Mr Brooker was found by offic- tipped off the authorities when he tracked the drugs across Europe to will be held into Mr Brooker's death.

Important new technology news for the smaller office

never run out of stamps again

when you buy postage by phone

Now your office postage can be purchased over the phone.

The days of running out of stamps or running out for stamps are gone forever thanks to PersonalPost*. it's also thanks to Postage-by-Phone® - the fastest, most convenient method of buying postage for your business. And it's exclusive to Pitney Bowes.

in approximately 90 seconds - with the help of PersonalPost's internal modem - your business can purchase all the postage it needs over the phone." Your business can then use it when it needs to, 24 hours a day.

Postage by phone - what will Pitney Bowes think of next? For more information, or to place an 0800 636 434

Pitney Bowes

"Postage-by-Phone can be purcha between 7am - 8pm Mon. to Sat. Keeping small offices posted www.pitneybowes.com/uk

PRESS ▶ £ ▶ 90 SECONDS ▶ STAMPS ▶ EASY

"I want free internet access that will do the business."

FREE MODEM AND INTERNET ACCESS WITH OUR GP6-400 PC AND SOLO 3100SE PORTABLE

Either way, you'll get a free modern and ses and 15MB of free webspace. Whatever you that's ready to go straight out of the box. And, of course, it comes with the full backing of our award-winning service nd support network. Free internet access with your siness computers? Call Gateway naw and have it your way.

YOUR GP6-400 PC PACKAGE 512KB L2 Coche
 Intel® 440BX ACPset
 64MB 100MHz SDRAM

4.3C8 9.5ms Ultry ATA Hord Dri

£799 (£979.95 inc. VAT and delt siness Lease £6.43 weekly'

YOUR SOLO 3100SE PACKAGE = 12.1" SVGA TFT Colour Display OX mm/20X mess built-in CD-ROM integrated 128K L2 Cache = 64MB SDRAM 4 3GB BDE Hard Drive • 3 Cell 40Whr Lightum-Ion Bottery

• Only 2.3kg — 285 x 215 x 31 mm £1399 (£1666.15 inc. VAT and delivery) Business Lease £11.25 weekly*

Freephone 0800 97 3133

Have it your way DIRECT FROM wary Storum: Cropsion The Whitgift Centre Kingston The Bentall Centre Count Garde Loads 95 The Hendrow Kent The Bluewater Centre Sales Phone Lines Open Mo

CALL ME.

rdered 3ritons

ish Mushing a mush have a mush the count character than the processes of the processes of their character that they will be a mush to refused to that they will be a mush to refused to the arms of th

illed

enter America drainpipeole es Sanders & sing in his bid sineering Air sinster Comm

polic a' clai

in detective a cimed reach inounded on shire Constant in East la arctime An Laura Bank in the Ster day in the

Pacifi

of row acres of Blooms i hopes to a rpireps to carends say accepter. He recrainment

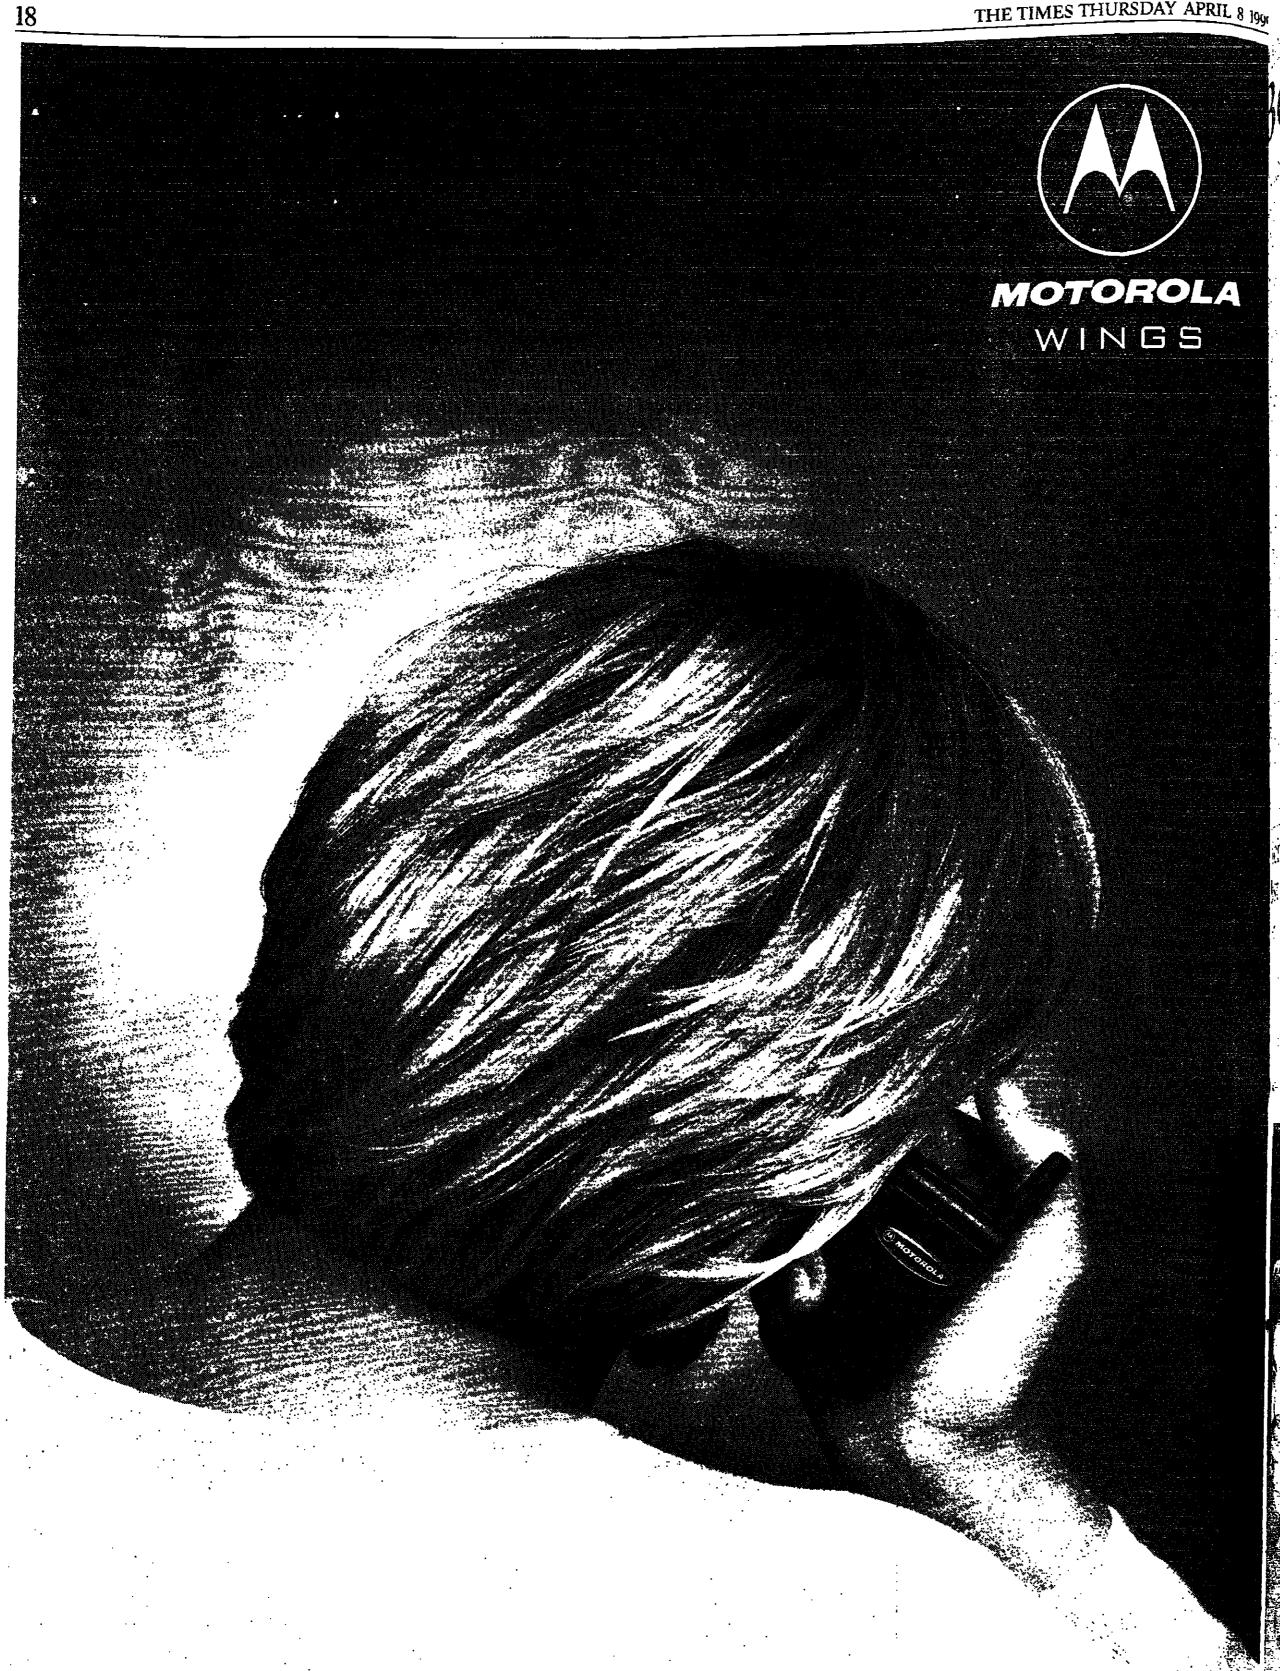

55

- daia - daia - daia

100 mm. 100 mm. 100 mm.

þ

ė .

Motorola introduces the smallest, lightest dual-band GSM phone in the world. The new v3688 phone with long battery life. It's never been easier to take your world with you.

Beijing smiles amid spy row

FROM BEN MACINTYRE IN WASHINGTON

A CHARM offensive in the US by Zhu Rongji, the Chinese Prime Mininster, hit its first serious obstacke yesterday, de-spite a vaunted breakthrough on trade, when the Energy Department abruptly announced it was stopping scientific work on computers at three nuclear weapons laboratories after allegations that China has stolen secret nuclear technology.

The espionage row is only one of several tense issues hanging over the nine-day visit by Mr Zhu, the first by a Chinese Prime Minister in 15 years. Since President Clinton's breakthrough trip to China last summer, relations have steadily deteriorated, with disputes over human rights, China's vast trade deficit and most recently the bom-bardment of Yugoslavia.

Following Mr Zhu's arrival in Washington yesterday, Mr Clinton delivered a conciliatory address in which he said that bringing China into the World Trade Organisation (WTO) was firmly in the interests of the US.

Mr Zhu also tried to start his tour in Los Angeles on a jocular and positive note, an-nouncing the lifting of a ban on some US agricultural products as a "breakthough" in negotiations for Beijing to join the WTO and joking about the spying charges. The 70-year-old Chinese Prime Minister, who will visit six American cities, told a California audience of China's plans to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the People's Republic next October with a display of the latest military technology, and drew astonished gasps by adding: "These weapons were developed by China itself, not stolen from the US." Mr Zhu's wit appeared somewhat misplaced, however, when The New York Times reported the suspension of scientific work on computers at nuclear weapons laboratories in Los Alamos, Sandia and

A Chinese interpreter joins the laughter at a joke by Zhu Rongji, the Chinese Prime Minister, during a welcoming reception in Los Angeles

Lawrence-Livermore. Thousands of scientists reliant on the computers containing the most secret files would cease normal work and instead attend training courses on computer security, officials said. Last March Wen Ho Lee. a Taiwanese-born scientist at Los Alamos, was fired for allegedly breaching security at the laboratory after a threeyear investigation by the FBI. At a banquet, Mr Zhu dis-missed the growing crop of disputes as "nothing more than a small episode in the long history of friendly relations between China and the US". To begin his tour in the right vein,

Mr Zhu announced a lifting of the ban on wheat imports from seven US states and citrus fruits from four states.

This agreement is the most important part of China's bid to enter the WTO," Mr Zhu said, adding that he was confident that other areas of disagreement would be ironed out to allow China into the body regulating international trade. China has been seeking admission to the WTO for 13 years, and Mr Clinton struck a similar note of optimism about the chances of reaching an agreement, although the White House said "substantial" gaps remained.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Three Rwandan ex-ministers held

Arusha: Three former Rwandan government ministers implicated in the 1994 genocide of 800,000 people have been arrested exactly five years after the slaughter began, officials at the United Nations tribunal sitting in Tanzania said. The three were arrested in Cameroon. They include Jerome Bicamumpaka, the former Foreign Minister who justified the murders at the UN, and Justin Mugenzi, the former Commerce Minister, who allegedly urged Hunts in a series of radio broadcasts to "kill all the Tussis". The third suspect is Prosper Mugiraneza, who ran Tutsis". The third suspect is Prosper Mugiraneza, who ran Rwanda's civil service in the interim government set up in the first days of the genocide. (Reuters)

Delayed homecoming

Seon!: A South Korean soldier listed as killed in action during the Korean War has returned home after fleeing the North, the South's National Intelligence Agency said. Sohn Jae Sool. 67, who said he was captured by Chinese troops in 1950, escaped from the North last October and arrived here with his wife, daughter and two North Korean defectors through an unidentified third country. (AFP)

Borneo mob fired on

Jakarta: Thousands of Malay and Dayak villagers, demanding the release of those jailed after earlier violence against Madurese migrants, rioted when outnumbered Indonesian forces fired on them. More than a dozen people were killed in Singkawang in Indonesian Borneo. Witnesses said troops fired warning shots but the mob surged forward. In Maluko, eastern Indonesia, religious rioting flared between Christians and Muslims. (AP)

Bullets overcome sword

New York: Commuters dived for cover as police shot and wounded a man waving a samurai sword at a crowded railway station (James Bone writes). Charles Stevens, 55, who had stopped taking his medication for schizophrenia, ended a stand-off with police on the Long Island Railroad by lunging at them with a 3tt sword. Police responded by opening fire, hitting Stevens eight times. Five passengers received minor injuries in the incident.

Blast at Franco's tomb

Madrid: An explosion has damaged Franco's tomb in Spain's Valley of the Fallen, a huge mausoleum carved out of a hillside near here, a fire brigade official said. No one was hurt in the blast, which damaged the area around the altar. The Marxist guerrilla group, October First Anti-Fascist Resistance Group (Grapo), claimed responsibility for the attack. (Reuters)

Hun Sen backs down

Phnom Penh: Hun Sen, the Cambodian Prime Minister, said the country would allow foreign judges and prosecutors to take part in the trial of the Khmer Rouge leader, Ta Mok, to ensure the process meets international standards. The new policy reverses his earlier stand that a trial must be under Cambodian law even though the judicial system is not up to the task. (Reuters)

Police aim to please

New York: The Big Apple's gun-toting police will in future be yelling: "Freeze, please" (James Bone writes). Amid growing protests about police brutality, the New York Police Department has launched a politeness drive and ordered officers to carry a card reminding them to call members of the public "Mr" or "Ma am".

Scholars pinpoint lost Galilee village

Jerusalem: As up to four million pilgrims prepare for a millennium visit to the Holy Land, a site has been identified close to the Sea of Galilee that will enable them to transport themselves back to the time of Jesus (Christopher Walker writes). The Jerusalem Post reported that a mound 11/2 miles north of the sea has been accepted by a growing scholarly consensus" as the site of the st village of Bethsa

· = \.-. -- \.

Abraham Rabinovich, an archaelogy expert, wrote: "The village was home to at least three of the 12 apostles."

Bethsaida is associated in the Gospels with Christ's healing of a blind man and the miracle of the "feeding of the multitudes". Many regard it as a more authentic site for pilgrims than the gimmicky proposal to allow them to "walk on the water" on a pier just below the surface of the Sea of

Fugitive Russian tycoon 'to return'

FROM ANNA BLUNDY IN MOSCOW

BORIS BEREZOVSKY, the fugitive Russian billionaire and former Kremlin power-broker, said yesterday that he would return to Moscow next week to see prosecutors and did not fear being detained despite an arrest warrant against him.

Mr Berezovsky, who is wanted on corruption charges, told a news conference at a Paris hotel that he blamed a warrant issued for his arrest on Yevgeni Primakov, the Russian Prime Minister.

He said he had no quarrel with President Yeltsin, but feared that Mr Primakov to influence Mr Yeltsin, the media and the Russian secret services.

Yuri Skuratov, the Prosecutor-General who was suspended by Mr Yeltsin last week, confirmed that warrants had been issued for Mr Berezovsky's arrest.

The billionaire was dismissed as executive secretary of the Commonwealth of Independent States last week. He said the authorities stopped his private plane from entering Russian air space, preventing him from attending the meeting.

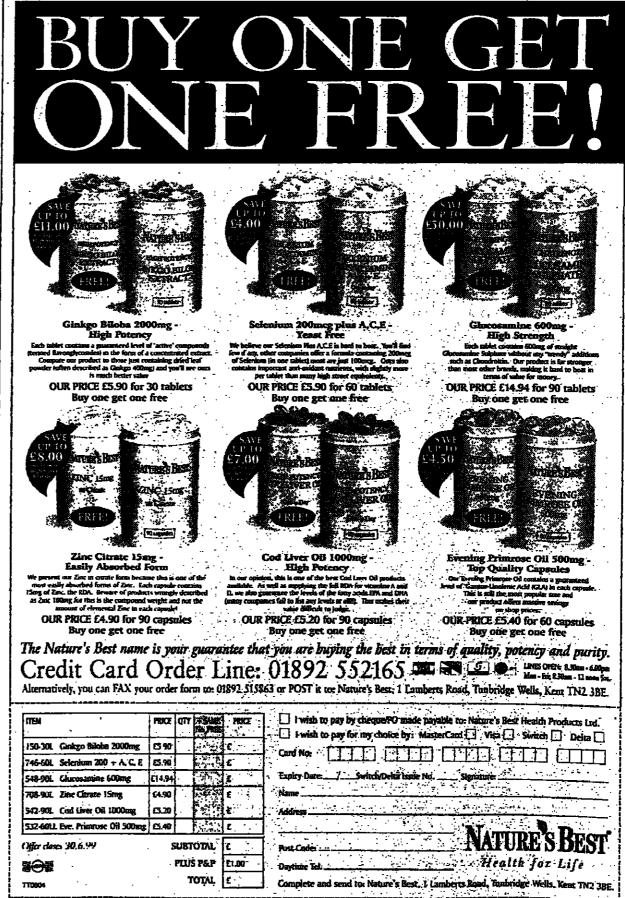

It is widely assumed that the warrant for Mr Berezovsky's arrest, and that of Aleksandr Smolensky, creator of the bank. SBS-Agro, also announced this week, isGovernment and Mr Skuratov. Mr Smolensky is in Austria.

One of the main charges against Mr Berezovsky concerns his dealings with Aeroflot. Millions of pounds of the airline's profits are said to have been hidden in a Swiss bank account under the name of a company called Andava.

Valeri Okulov, the Director of Aeroflot and Mr Yeltsin's son-in-law, has so far cooperated with investigations into the case but it will be difficult for him to claim that he was ignorant of the disappearance of such vast sums. If Mr Okulov is implicated, the scandal will directly involve the Yeltsin family and is likely to destabilise

THE SUNDAY TIMES IS THE SUNDAY PAPERS

Dr Thomas Stuttaford reports on new treatment for scarring; why the solar eclipse in August is worrying ophthalmologists; Bruce Chatwin and the truth about his fungal disease; the benefits of eating tomatoes; and research that links long-term oesophagitis and cancer

Healing the scars of war

he recent Times headline
"Air raids scar city of culture on the Danube" applies not only to the damaged bridges of Novi Sad but also to the human casualties. It is easier to restore the burnt bridges and houses that have been burnt than it is to recreate the various layers - the epidermis and dermis that form human skin.

Regrettably, many of those burnt or wounded will be scarred for life but war casualties of the future may fare better thanks to research being conducted in Britain. An application for a patent for burns treatment being processed in London The most may ultimately benefit through restoration common of their appearance those who suffer burns during wartime.

cause of research team directed by Dr Claire serious Linge, working for the charity RAFT (Restoration of Appearance and Function Trust) at scarring is Mount Vernon Hospital surgery in Middlesex, has applied for a patent for a secret remedy for hypertrophic (overgrown) scarring - the type of scarring that affects 30 per cent of adult burns victims and between 40 and 60 per cent of children who suffer similar injuries. Scarring, though, is not confined to accidents, surgery and even skin diseases, including acne. Nearly three million people in the UK have a facial scar, and a similar number have one more than six inches long. More than two million have scars that upset them.

Once the British team has obtained the patent rights, it hopes to start on further experimental work. Within two or three years this should lead to clinical trials and, later, the introduction of moditims who would otherwise have had red, raised, itchy, painful and disfiguring scars less unsightly flat

The most common cause of serious scarring is surgery; it gives rise to 37 per cent of all significant scars, with the most prevalent site being the abdomen. Most people can remember inspecting the scars of schoolmates who had returned from hospital, but the surgeon is interested, too, and is apt to exhibit his handiwork to those prepared to pause by the bedside.

The best surgeons leave the neatest scars but they may be defeated by a patient's skin type. If a patient has a tendency to have a hypertrophic scar - red and raised rather than flat and white - not much can be done about it. The injection of a corticosteroid, triamcinolone acetonide, may flat-ten some, while various forms of Silastic gel sheeting may make them less prominent.

A small percentage of patients have been helped by more exotic treatments. Recently a doctor in India tried injecting papaya juice into these scars. It was a small, uncontrolled trial but the juice seemed to be effective in reducing the scar

The long-term effect is unknown. There seems to be no definable genetic reason why some people develop hypertrophic scars and others do not, and in some patients only part of the scar may be hypertrophic; in a long scar there may be a comparatively scarless break in its continuity.

There is, however, another form of unattractive scarring, keloid scarring, which is genetic and affects certain races. In some races, more

Proper eye protection is essential for anyone watching the total eclipse in August. The naked eye can suffer serious damage from looking directly at the Sun

Protect your eyes to view eclipse

THIS year August II has a greater significance than simply being my grandson's birthday, It is the day when a full solar eclipse may be viewed in Cornwall, the first time in the UK for more than 70 years, and the last time for another 91 years.

The total eclipse will last only two minutes but the period just before and after total eclipse is already causing alarm among ophthalmologists. The Institute of Ophthalmology linked to Moor-fields Eye Hospital, the Royal form keloid (from the Greek meaning "tumour-like") scars. This is a

The keloid scar is red and raised, shiny and hard, and it grows and grows, extending beyond the origi-nal cut or puncture wound. Dr

Linge knew of one case in which a and ended up with a lump of scar tissue the size of a tennis ball. She secure funding for this research.

• RAFT, Mount Vernon Hospital,

Northwood, Middlesex, HA6 2RN.

Telephone: 01923 835815, Scar Information Service. PO Box 2003.

Hull, HU3 4DJ. Telephone: 0845

hypertrophic scar gone mad.

National Institute for the Blind, the Royal College of Ophthalmology, the Royal Greenwich Observory, the Department of Health and a host of other organisations are doing their best to reduce the incidence of eye damage, which seems as inevitable as burns on Guy Fawkes night. The organisation Fight for Sight, which was launched at the Institute of Ophthalmology. is flying over an American schoolboy worried about eye injury, wanted as a terrible example of how sight can be lost by not taking precautions. He used a viewing device, previously recommended, to see a partial eclipse of the Sun last year in North Carolina. It gave inadequate protection and he now has a sight-destroying black scar on the retina of his left eye.

to demonstrate, when we last had a partial eclipse in the UK, the damage which could be done to a sheep's eye. It was considered too gruesome to broadcast.

A BBC weather forecaster, also

Over-exposure to the Sun's rays causes two types of damage: pho-tochemical, also known as phototoxicity, and photothermal retinal injury. Phototoxicity is the result of exposure to excessive ultra-violet light: it can be temporary. Photothermal retinal injury is the result of infra-red damage in which photo-coagulation destroys the rods and cones of the retina. leaving permanent scarring.

At the moment there is no accepted treatment. If the viewer looks straight at the Sun, damage is done to the fovea, the part of the eye that we use when recognising people, watching their lips as they talk, or when reading or driving.

than 70 per cent of those injured hopes that the new Mount Vernon treatment might be extended to help keloid sufferers and wants to

Aids victim: writer Bruce Chatwin

THE recent biography and reveal-ing TV film of the writer Bruce Chatwin explored his approach to HIV and Aids, and his refusal for a long while to admit to suffering from anything worse than a myste rious Chinese fungal disease. In fact Chatwin was not lying: he did suffer from a fungus, Penicilthe time he caught it. It was associated with South-East Asia and was only occasionally seen in Europe. Chatwin wrote about his experiences in a British clinic and there was apparently amazement when the fungus was first isolated from his skin lesions. The microbiologists, used to identifying common fungi from between cracked toes, thrush, or occasional Aspergillus from a case of farmer's lung. were astounded by what they saw beneath their microscope. To the have been haymaking in South China recently?" the very English patient of a very English clinic replied: "I was there only last week."

Rare fungus that caught up with Chatwin

Like any fungal infection. Penicil-lium marneffei in an immunocompromised patient can spread from the skin. On TV an infected patch was obvious on Chatwin's face, but this can give rise to a deep systemic infection, almost impossihle to eradicate in the immuno-compromised — as in his case. As with any opportunistic fungal infection, it may penetrate the blood and be carried to other sites. The patient is likely to suffer from pneumonia, urinary tract infections and diarrhoea from gut complications. The skin lesions are white and raised, they may be papillomatous or may resemble the blistery spots of Moldisease that may be spread sexually and flourishes on thin, sensitive skin, or the fine skin of children.

Penicillium marneffei has spread rapidly among HIV sufferers in South-East Asia and is commonly seen in dermatological and genito-urinary clinics, for instance, as an opportunistic infection in those patients whose resistance. and white blood count, is lowered. It has travelled a long way from South China.

NATIONAL RATES 50 No Gimmicks, No Games, AUSTRIA 10p Just simple CHINA 35p номе коме 12р savings INDIA 48p on your ISRAEL 15p JAPAN 16p phone bill. MALAYSIA 20D MAURITIUS 40p Pay monthly by Direct nz/ oz 13p Debit or Pre-Pay RUSSIA 30p No need to change your SINGAPORE 18p phone or phone number SOUTH AFRICA 31p THAILAND 40p What would you expect from the fastest UAE 38p growing telecoms carrier in the world? munications Week International PRIMUS

All prices shown are inclusive of VAT, are in pence per minuto, and have been rounded to the nearest penny. Calls are charged for the list twelve seconds; there after in sixty second increments. Calls from payphones and mobile phones may be subject to a surcharge. Paying by Direct Debit is subject to status.

Call free on 0800 036 0007

GLOBAL network GLOBAL savings GLOBAL sense

It's true, tomatoes really do you good

imultaneous, contradictory views concerning tomatoes, one piece writ-ten in this column, and one elsewhere by a nutritionist, generated a surprising amount of correspondence from confused readers.

Rest assured, there is sound scientific evidence to support the nutritional value of tomatoes and their constituent lycopene, an antioxidant that is present in abundance. This should certainly prevent tomatoes being condemned along with caffeine and tobacco.

Lycopene is a powerful antioxidant. Oxidisation can be de-structive, for instance when, in the form of rust, it destroys elegant, unprotected wroughtiron gates that have stood for centuries. People are not al-ways aware that oxidative damage can occur in the fragile, vulnerable cells of the human body as a result of the action of the oxygen in free radicals. Free radicals are highly active atoms, or groups of at-oms, capable of damaging

THE gardener who has indigestion when he stoops to weed the border, or the older overweight patient who suffers from heartburn, with reflux of stomach acid into his throat when lying flat after a meal, should take these minor

Recently the New England

Journal of Medicine and the British journal Pulse have reported on Swedish research which showed that a person who has gastro-oesophageal likely to develop a cancer of afflictions more seriously.

DNA in cells and even the fat of the cell membranes.

The role of antioxidants in foods, such as those found in vitamins C and E, and polyphenols, flavonoids like lycopene and some minerals including selenium and zinc. is to counteract free radicals. Antioxidants therefore contribute to a longer, better quality of life by inhibiting the production of atheroma, the fatty substance within arteries that clog the channels, and by reducing malignancies.

Lycopene gives the colour to tomatoes, pink grapefruit, watermelon and guava. It is more readily available to the body once tomatoes have been cooked or processed. If it is true that Harold Wilson, the former Prime Minister, really did love ketchup, he certainly didn't deserve to develop cancer because, weight for weight, tomato ketchup is second only to pasta sauce as the richest source of lycopene. A glass of tomato juice contains more lycopene than a whole bowlful of ages the absorption of some flavonoids and so it is possible that a Bloody Mary may be more nutritious than neat tomato juice. Many antioxidants are found in fruit and vegetables and the general rule is that the brighter the colour, whether rich green, deep orange or dark red, the better they are likely to be in their cardioprotective and anti-cancer role. Research has shown that people with high levels of lycopene were only half as likely to have a coronary thrombosis as those with low levels.

Recent research in the United States shows that ten large servings a week of tomato sauce halves the incidence of cancer of the prostate. A new study financed by Heinz, which is understandably delighted by the effect of tomato sauce on the heart and prostate, is investigating the potential role of tomatoes in preventing cancers of the digestive tract and breast.

Regular helpings of tomatoes help to protect fragile cells

Indigestion and the link to cancer

control group matched for age and other variables. If this wasn't alarming enough for those who have to be wary of eating large meals late at night or of being too vigorous after a meal, the rereflux and heartburn once a scarch uncovered a more disweek was seven times more turbing result. Patients with "longstanding, severe symp-toms" of oesophagitis were 43 the oesophagus (gullet) than a times more likely to suffer from cancer of the oesophagus. Before indigestion sufferers rush to demand examinations, they should realise that the study involved only a small group of patients.

Even so, the journal suggests that those with recurrent severe symptoms deserve investigation with endoscopy and biopsy. Treatment of GORD. gastro-oesophageal reflux disease, persisting despite weight loss and other conservative measures, has been immeasurably improved

- Mesh Hemia Repair
- Safe Effective Technique
- Specialist Hemia Surgeon
- Day Case or Overnight Stay
- Rapid Return to Normal
- Health Authority Registered For more information contact

LONDON HERNIA CENTRE

Every nerve in me screams 'it hurts'

In the final extract from his book, Chris Moon describes learning to use his new arm and leg and how he overcame pain and exhaustion to complete the London Marathon game where pria big Perspex cylthem with a little grab crane? Using the hook is just like that. The false arm fits over the stump. It's a nice fleshy colour with a steel ratchet end litting where the hook clips in. The hook is held on by straps and works like a lever, with a cubie linked to a band around my left shoulder. The jaws open when I stretch out my arm and thick rubber hands force them dosed when my body relaxes, taking tension off the cable.

LAST NIGHT the nurse picked out the stitches from the large scabby scar below my knee. Next week the physio thinks they'll be able to take a cast and make my new leg.

The occupational therapist asks: "Would you like to make something with the Meccano? It's a good way to practise us-ing the hook." I spend the next hour constructing a lurry.
The next day is Sunday.

Most of the others have gone home for the weekend. After breakfast I turn on the TV to watch the London Marathon, see the magic moments of people of all ages doing their best. Some are in tears as they finish. As I watch them pound the streets I know that next year I must do the marathon. At 3.30 I prepare to go out alone for the first time. I push myself over the ramp and through the gate. It's round on my own. I roll down the drive and along the pavement; as I reach the kerb something happens that I hadn't anticinated — Um terrified. it's a drop of only a few inches but I havent done anything like this before. Perhaps I should get somebody to help me. The street is empty. If I do fall out, I think I'll be able to get back in on my own but don't want anybody to see. I stick my leg down and let the wheelchair drop. I make it and get up the other side by turning the wheels backwards. When I get back to the hospital I go to bed carly.

I'M HAVING the first leg fitting! I slip a sock over the stump and put it into the moulded white foam socket. Then I push it into the false leg and do up the leather strap above the knee. John, the prosthetist, makes a mark on the top of the false leg and asks: "How does it feel?"

"Fine. Can I try it?" I stand up. John checks the leg. My heart tells me to try to run. My head tells me to take it easy. I take slow, small steps and grip the bar with my left hand. I step forward carefully. When I put the false leg down the pressure feels uncomfortable. I gradually gain confidence and improve slightly. I soon graduate to using the two sticks and get out of the bars.

I walk a little farther each day and practise my gait. I still have a limp. They say it will take months to get it right. If the consultant thinks the scar has healed sufficiently and the leg fits. I can go home soon. "What about running?" I ask.

"In some cases it's possible, but it will take time. Without a lower leg, you require 30 per cent more energy to walk. When it comes to running, the stress and pressure through the stump are enormous."

At last my discharge day arrives: April 28, I've done it. I'm out in less than two months.

THE sound of splashing echoes around the vast concrete building. I walk cautiously along the tiles by the side of the pool. By the deep end are some benches. That would be the best place to take my leg off. I should be able to hop to the side from there. On my right is As I go past she holds the girl's hand and says "Sshh . . . "

I reach the bench and sit down awkwardly. I put the towel down. Now they can all see I haven't got a hand either. I pull the leg off. I don't want to risk standing up. I try crawling but the tiles are too hard on the stumps. I edge back to the bench and push myself up with my left hand, driving my left leg up. I jump up the last bit and wobble like a flamingo in a force ten gale.

I turn the wobble into forward motion and shuffle across the tiles. It takes all my concentration. When I near the edge my foot slips slightly. I crawl the last metre. I never knew it was possible to feel more naked than naked. I get to the edge of the pool and sit with my left leg in the water. It will be over my head. But I want to go in at the deep end.

I look up and realise the whole place is silent. Two ladies are swimming towards me, their eyes locked on to my stumps. The other swimmers paddle and watch. I try to throw myself into the water. Instead I slip in and sink: it's deeper than I thought.

I kick and paddle to the surface and take a deep breath. I try treading water. It feels strange but it's not difficult. Now I'll try breaststroke. Problem is, I tend to go round in circles. I adapt my stroke and head down the pool towards the two dragons. As I pass them I say: "Good morning, la-dies." They smile, "Well done!

ne day I get up just after seven. I'm going to try a long walk with a short

You're doing tremendously."

run. I'm going to do two miles.

I walk through the village to the track that leads to the Downs. When I reach the wood I focus on the gate. I promised myself I'd run to it. I move my legs up and down. When I put the false leg down

I get no response; I keep trying, the snimp feels sore and gets sorer. It's not easy, takes everything I've got. I stop at the gate. That was harder than

I'M GOING to run again!

Twice a week to begin with, I'll fast walk and then jog one length of the football pitch alternately for 15 minutes and then try to jog all around the outside to finish. It's sensible to start gently: all my muscles and prepare to burst into action; a leopard poised to race across the veld. The reality.

sadly, is closer to a three-legged dog trying to make it to the nearest lamppost. Disappointment engulfs me. Every nerve screams "it hurts": instinct tells me to lie on the grass and cry my eyes out. How will I do have another go. I'm 25 seconds faster than last time! As I head for home the leg slips and

I rest for a few days, then

I walk to the edge of the field have wasted.

a marathon?

an eight-mile hill run.

ken, the leg has shot into the road. A bus is speeding towards me, near the kerb. I wave, "Please God, don't let it run over my leg."

It works, I pick it up, hop to a wall and examine the lanyard fitting. I can't fix it so I put my stump back in the sock-et and hold it on with my good hand as I walk slowly home.

I fail. The lanyard cord has bro-

I'M NOT sorry I have to go to London to get the leg repaired. It gives me a chance to see Alison. She understands my attitude to life and never tells me I can't do things.

On Sundays we usually go for a walk. Today we're driving to woodland to see the autumn leaves. As we walk be-tween the beech trees I think how good it is to be alive. We hold hands and I struggle to keep up but she knows I don't want her to slow down. As we turn a corner she smiles at the chocolate box view of a village. As I look into her eyes I think, I'd like to grow old with her.

We emerge near a tea shop. As we wait for our tea I rest my false arm on the table. It's held on partly by suction and as I move it makes a sound like a loud fart. The place goes quiet. The woman at the next table whispers to her husband

"Disgusting" "I'm sorry." I tell Alison. " It does that all the time."

The man at the next table spits out his tea and giggles uncontrol-lably. I feel a need to explain further so I pull the arm off slightly and press it on the chair hard: the noise is even louder. The bloke spits out another mouthful of tea and starts everyone laughing. Alison is laugh-ing, too. She's definitely the girl for me.

From late January I run with Alison every Sunday. She slows down so I can keep up. When I get back from a run l'm too exhausted to do anything but sleep. By late March the farthest I've run is seven miles. Will I manage 26.2?

ALISON leans over the barrier, kisses me Marathon Moon: Chris finished in 5hr, 39min and says "Good luck". kiss her back. "Thanks. I'd better get going." I move into the crowd before she sees my fear. Nobody else could notice but she might.

Around me is a wall of run-ners, nearly 40,000. Way ahead the starting gun booms and a cheer ripples back through the runners. We walk forward and gradually accelerate to a jog. Even by my standards this is slow. As we leave Greenwich the road slopes downhill. I make use of the incline to increase my pace. People along the pavement shout encouragement. I'm covered in sweat and I've only done five miles. All my energy goes into putting one foot in front of the other. I feel sick.

One foot in front of the other; ignore the discomfort. This is the fastest I've ever done nine miles. I'm flying. A sign up ahead says ten miles. The pain has started. I try to ignore it. I can't feel the stump. I must check it. I lean against a lamppost and undo the strap holding on the leg. I take it out of the socket and massage the stump. After a few seconds the pain subsides.

I see the Thames. Tower Bridge must be close. Up until now I've enjoyed the run. Now I'm knackered. I'm not giving up. As I cross Tower Bridge I hear Alison: 'Go on Chris. Go for it!" All I want to do is lie down and sleep. I move as if I'm running through treacle.

We're nearly there. I can push with everything I've got now. I'll soon be able to stop. I force my tired legs onwards. I take deep breaths. We turn into The Mall, where there is a sea of people. I try to encourage the other runners:

Chris Moon feeding his son, Gordon: making things with Meccano proved a good way of practising to use the hook

The UK's Biggest PC Retailer

EASTER

PAY UNTIL MARCH 20

Our Family PC+ package includes this high performance 400-3D DVD PC system complete with printer, scanner, office suite and much more for a new lower price of just £948 +VAT.

"Go for it, we're nearly there!" People are cheering. For a moment the pain vanishes. I make a dash for the finish.

Five hours, 39 minutes. People cheer. I see Alison. She kisses me and says: "Well done.

That's one of this year's goals

I lean on her, glad to take some of the weight off my false leg. "How about getting married in August?"

She smiles and says "Yes".

Extracted from One Step Beyond by Chris Moon, published by Macmillan, £16.99.

Times readers can buy it for £14.99 by calling The Times Bookshop, 0990-134 459 achieved. What's next?"

Buy now and pay nothing until March 2000, on our No Deposit, Interest Free option

400-3D DVD

Family PC+ Exec PC

400MHz AMD K6-2 3D

 10.1 Gb Hard disk • 64Mb SDRAM

 8Mb ATI 3D AGPx2 Graphics • 3D NOW! technology for SAVE £480 & NOTHING TO advanced graphics

periormance SoundBlaster 64v 3D PCI Wavetable sound

 4x DVD-ROM Drive 15" digital colour screen

• 512K cache 56K PCI modem All standard features inc.: Windows 98,

Keyboard, Mouse, 3.5" floopy drive, Video trainer, Recovery disk & AntiVirus All software Backup CDs included Fully Win98 & Year 2000 compliant.

450-3D Model as above but with taster 450MHz processor. Only £50+VAT = £58.75 extra. Product codes 400+ East 319; 450+ East 345

Printer, Epson Stylus 300 colour inkjet printer (RRP £119). Choice of printer cab

Scanner Advanced A4 colour scanner also works as a photocopier and tax

9 Extra Items Modern Internet Pack • IBM Speech Pack with Microphone • Educational Software • 5 Top Games • Home & Business machine (RRP £119).

12 Months interest Free Pay Nothing Until March 2000

Pack • Family+ Pack • PC Gameped • PC Joystick

No Deposit Date Total No Interest repairmen 12 months No Payments was new 2000

Direct order line Freephone

Open: Mon-Fri 8.30gm-7pm, Sat 9am-5pm

Sun & Bank Holidays 10am-4pm

Typical Finance Scample. No deposit. Alter 12 months either pay cash price of $1000 APR OS or 36 mornins et 94888.

Vindery Victory Apply SOUTH AND S. EAST Besnystein Strepasi Brysten

we're on your side

Our promise

for salespeople who take the time to understand your needs for clear explanations in plain English - not jargon to cut out the middleman and cut the cost of computers to visit us - we probably have a Time store with easy parking, within 15 minutes drive of > the right PC, call into your local ime store, speak to our advisors your home

The award winning PC manufacturer that's the UK's largest PC retailer NOW OPEN IN BLUEWATER & BYFLEET

'Over 120 stores nationwide Open late everyday a Nantary Shanasy Saladon Informacy Cales Retained Saladon Informacy Cales Retained Saladon Informacy Cales Saladon Informacy Cales Saladon Informacy Cales Saladon Informacy Saladon Informacy Saladon Informacy Saladon Informacy Saladon Informacy Saladon Informacy Caleston Informacy Saladon Informacy Saladon Informacy Saladon Informacy Caleston Informacy Saladon Informac

For details of your nearest store Freephone

Gordon's Man Friday goes north

English spies will find little to intrigue in the Scots elections rather fancy Charlie Whe-lan as the Daniel Defoe of his day. Gordon Brown's sometime press adviser has come to Scotland to cover the elections as a journalist and commentator. Most people suspect he may still be acting as the Chancellor's eyes and ears — a gatherer of intelligence about the state of the nation as well as a discreet propagandist for his former

In much the same way did Defoe travel north in 1706, a year before the Act of Union, following a Whelan-style fall from grace. The author of Moll Flanders and Robinson Crusoe had begun his career as a sort of 18th-century spin-doctor, a familiar figure in the corridors of power who incurred the displeasure of the Government by publishing a scurrilous pamphlet that leaked hostile information about establishment figures.

Defoe paid a rather stiffer price for his indiscretions than Whelan did for dishing the dirt on Peter Mandelson and Geoffrey Robinson: he was sentenced to stand in the pillory, pay a fine, and be detained at Her Majesty's pleasure in Newgate Prison. He eventually negotiated his release by eleverly suggesting a new role for himself passing clandestine information on the forthcoming Union between England and Scotland to Robert Harley, later Earl of Oxford and the leading states

I doubt if Mr Whelan will have as exciting a time as his predecessor. Within days of arriving, Defoe was watching the mobs storm through the streets of Edinburgh, protesting against constitutional change. "A terri-ble multitude came up the High Street man of his time.

. shouting and swearing and crying out all Scotland would stand together. No Union, No Union, English dogs and the like," he wrote. He added that he was risking his life by being there and that "a Scots rabble is the worst of its kind". Defoe, it seemed, favoured the tabloid approach to journalism.

Linklater

Mr Whelan's approach is likely to be a little more restrained. For one thing, he will see no violent protests on the streets: indeed he will be lucky to find the mob stirred to any greater action than switching channels on its TV sets when it comes around to news time. The various campaigns launched this week seem likely to revolve around issues so well-rehearsed that they have long since ironed out any lingering ability to surprise or alarm. When, during yesterday's press conference, the leader of the Scottish Liberal Democrats, Jim Wallace, announced that one of his party's distinctive policies would be to improve disabled access, he conceded that this might not mean "storming the barricades". A sudden image surfaced, then sadly receded, of massed wheelchairs surging through the capital.

The fact is that these Scottish elections, despite reinstating a parliament in Edinburgh and ushering in the greatest constitutional reform of the century, have not yet broken the traditional pattern of a Westminster campaign. The Scottish National Party has staked its claim to the left-wing vote by announcing its intention to raise a penny more in tax, spending it on health. education and hous-ing. Its leader. Alex Salmond. has predicted that "Scotland's penny" would raily support from disillusioned Labour supporters, and has issued a postcard with ten promises similar to Tony Blair's election credit card, which carried five. There is little here to inject real drama: it runs from spending more on schoolbooks to abolishing the tolls on the Skyc Bridge. It downgrades the party's single most distinctive policy — independence — to tenth place, a sign, perhaps, of Mr Salmond's anxiety not to frighten the electorate with anything too radical. Labour, operating a Millbank-style campaign from its Glasgow headquarters, is also anxious not to rock the boat. Its poll rating has recovered significantly in the past few weeks, and it seems likely to rely more on warning Scots about the dangers of nationalism than making extravagant promises about the powers of a new parliament. Yesterday's main revelation was that the party intends to seize the assets of drug barons, hardly the most challenging of ideas.

Only the Tories, revelling in the freedom that stems from a total power vacuum, can af-

L the remit of a Scottish partiament is unlikely to run, to inject any real life into this lacklustre affair. A radio debate between the four leaders on Tuesday turned venomous

when Mr Salmond proposed pulling Nato out of the Kosovo conflict and imposing an oil embargo. Donald Dewar, for Labour, accused him of advocating policies that would lead to the extermination of the Albanians in Kosovo. Listeners polled by the radio station expressed more passion about the refugees than they did

These are, of course, early days, and Mr Whelan may have more to report as the battle buses parade their election messages about the country. But he is unlikely to reach any more startling conclusion than the one that Defoe reported back to Harley 293 years ago: a United Kingdom which preserved the separate identities of the Scots and the English while drawing them closer together would, he said, preserve not destroy; secure not endanger; confirm not undermine". It was no more thrilling to read then than it is today. But it made just as much sense.

comment@the-times.co.uk

about any Scottish issue.

ford to be adventurous. They have come up with the most radical proposal so far - a commitment to remove control of schools from local authority, education departments and devolve their management to school boards. Their chances of school implementing it.

These critics' motives cannot be however, despite certain, and may be as stated, but it the opportunities offered by proportional represenis hard not to believe that some of tation, remain minimal. them may be uneasy at the prospect of centre-left politicians like Bill Clinton and Tony Blair achieving a Balkans, an area where military success.

alliance.

If Nato does fail, the future of the alliance will be in doubt. But so will the system of moral values that the Western world upholds. Then these critics will say that they have been vindicated. They will not have been. Instead, they will have become the servants of a re-emergence of barbarism in Europe.

thoroughly dangerous line of argument is beginning to emerge from the fog of the Balkans war. Some, mainly conservative, commenta-tors, both here and in the United States, are arguing, directly or by implication, that Nato should not be acting against President Milosevic.

Some simply support the Serbs and think that they should be allowed to bring stability to the region, however brutally. These commentators have been less active since the pictures of the hopeless refugees have been filling our television screens. Others argue that Nato will fail in its attempt to coerce Mr Milosevic and that the West's actions will lead to the demise of the world's most successful military

There is no difference, except of scale, between the Nazi extermination of Jews and the ethnic cleansing of the Kosovo Albanians by Mr Milosevic and his colleagues. Let the critics differentiate, if they can. between the horror people felt in 1945 as the true scale and depravity of the Holocaust became clear and the horror we feel today. We witness on our screens the dead bodies of unarmed men, not members of the Kosovan Liberation Army, who have been systematically taken out of their homes and herded into fields and shot, often after their families have given money for their lives to be spared. There is absolutely no difference in moral degradation between the actions of the murder squads organised by Mr Milosevic and those led by? Sawoniouk and all the other Nazis and Nazi sympathisers in the Second World War. Both sought material gain from their actions, looting and stealing the property of Jews and Albanians. Both murdered unarmed civilians because of their race. Both display a kind of moral sickness that is Target Milosevic Nato leaders deserve better from their critics. But the West must treats the Kosovo

Milosevic

Albanians

like Hitler

Jews

"THESE MEDIA INSULTS PLAY RIGHT INTO MILOSEVIC'S HANDS...

escalate the war, says David Hart irredeemable. If Chamberlain and Daladier had had the courage to act against Hitler, say after Kristalnacht in 1938, many millions of Jews would have survived to live normal lives. It is wholly right that Nato's political leaders, including the Americans and Canadians, have decided at last that barbarity will not be tolerated in Europe.

As soon as the first Nato bombs fell, Mr Milosevic was bound to react Perhaps the speed and brutality of the ethnic cleansing in Kosovo took some Nato leaders by surprise. But carping about being unprepared to succour the refugees, or about changes in Nato objectives, is very far off the mark. Mr Milosevic m have made a significant if appalling move in Kosovo, but on the chessboard of conflict it is not the first but the last significant move that

It is clear that Mr Milosevic's actions in Kosovo have changed the strategic environment so that Nato has no option now but to create a protectorate in part, or all, of Kosovo to which the displaced Albanians vexed question of the use of Nato ground troops. Nato leaders are agreed that ground troops will be needed to police any settlement that is made with the Serb Government. Nato is ready with a well-prepared plan and some forces are in the area. An opposed Nato incursion into Kosovo is an entirely different matter. It would require something like 200,000 troops and involve significant casualties.

It is understandable that the Americans do not want to commit eround troops to a European war. It took Churchill almost two years and significant help from the Japanese to persuade them to join us in the war against the Nazis. The American public does not yet have the will for a fight far away from home to save people they do not know and who speak a different language. But, if Mr Milosevic cannot be stopped by air power. Nato will either have to face defeat or ground troops will have to be deployed. We are entering the most danger ous moments of this conflict so far. In the ensuing days the will and courage of Nato's political leaders will be tested, as it has never been tested before. Mr Milosevic has already offered a tactical "ceasefire" this week and he will go on making offers designed to split the alliance. He may well even offer to accept Nato demands. But his record as a keeper of promises is not good. Even so, there will be intense pressure on Nato leaders to agree to settlement, even if it is an unsatisfactory one. Mr Milosevic is steeped in blood that a negotiated settlement is now no longer tenable, unless he surrenders himself and his henchmen as part of the deal. That is a most unlikely outcome. Any conclusion to hostilities that leaves Mr Milosevic where he and his murder treated the squads in tact, will come to be seen by the Western press and all sensible people as a defeat for Nato. The West has no can, and will, return. That raises the option. It must escalate the conflict well beyond Mr Milosevic's expectations and calculations. He knows that Western leaders are civilised and do not like conflict. He has been banking on just that. It must be a fundamental figure in his calculations. The destruction of the Milosevic leadership must now become the principle objective of Nato military action. Nato must attack Mr Milosevic's political infrastructure, his colleagues and the man himself. It is too late for threats of improbable arrests, lengthy arguments in The Hague at war-crimes trials and life imprisonment. Civilised and satisfying though that would be, and despite the Lockerbie suspects' incarceration, it will not happen to Mr

Milosevic. No more midnight attacks by cruise missiles against Defence and Interior Ministry facilities. The attacks should be timed to coincide with the maximum occupation of such buildings. The thugs who have organised the ethnic cleansing must be targets, not just their buildings.

There are those who argue that air power alone cannot force Mr Milosevic to comply with Nato. Certainly, there are not many precedents to gainsay them. Air power is crucially dependent on what or who is targeted, and how effectively. Colonel Muammar Gadaffi of Lybia shut down his state-sponsored terrorism after the Americans almost managed to kill him by aerial bombardment. Technology has advanced greatly since then. Even in the past five years there have been spectacular advances in accuracy and capability. It would be unwise for Mr Milosevic to think that Nato does not have the means to destroy him. even if it is reasonable for him to have supposed that it does not have the will. Killing innocent and unarmed Albanians in cold blood is cowardly. nose who do such things are cowards. If Mr Milosevic and his murderous colleagues see the cruise missiles and the smart bombs getting rapidly closer to their own offices, their own homes and their own persons. I would be surprised if they do not sue for peace. If they do not, the Jugoslav National Army leadership may well take over and do it for them. There are senior officers in the Jugoslav army with a sense of honour proper to military men. They cannot be comfortable with the actions of their political leadership or with the daily sight of their men, equipment and military facilities being destroyed by a largely untouchable enemy.

here are no easy choices in war and no easy ways to stop evil men from committing acts of barbarity. However distasteful it may be for civilised Western leaders to contemplate, the destruction of Mr Milosevic and his murderous colleagues would bring the conflict to a speedy end and would avoid the uncertain ties and far greater bloodshed of an inevitable and protracted conflict in the Balkans. It would also put other leaders on notice that the West will not tolerate barbarity in its midst.

The author was Independent Adviser to the Secretary of State for Anatole Kaletsky's column appears

comment@the-times.co.uk

Paine's gain?

LORD ATTENBOROUGH'S IN publican campaign has received a sympathetic ear at No 10. The film director dined discreetly with Jonathan Powell, Tony Blair's chief of staff, last Friday to discuss whether the PM would be prepared to lend indirect support to the anti-monarchy movement by un-veiling a statue of Thomas Paine. Attenborough, who plans to make a film of the 18th-century revolutionary's life featuring Daniel Day-Lewis, is the highest profile supporter of the Common Sense group. It is campaigning to have Paine's seminal role in the American and French Revolutions recognised in Britain by unveiling the statue on the day the last hereditary peer leaves the House of Lords.

IF BETTE DAVIS had been a little more pleasant in 1955 on the set of The Virgin Queen, Joan Collins (left) might have become a very different actress. "I was 19, working with Bette (right)." says the star of The Bitch. She was so horrible that I said to myself, if ever I get to be a star, I am going to be as supportive as possible to

■ KEN LIVINGSTONE owes his. life to Dr Strangelove. The Labour MP, who as the former GLC leaderdeclared London a nuclear-freezone, has disclosed that a doctor on a French nuclear test site in Africa

While on holiday from his day job as a lab technician, Livingstone stumbled into the weapons facility while travelling across the Sahara in 1966. "I had terrible dysentery. had lost the use of both my legs and: was clearly dying," he recalls.

"The nearest town was more than-500 miles away. In the middle of the desert, there was a barbed wire we rang. A Jeep drove over, a. French doctor was summoned and my life was saved."

THAT pretty, albeit politically aware, boy of Britpop, Damon Albarn, wants to become Björk's soulmate. The lead singer of Blur, who owns a Reykjavik pad, has applied for Icelandic citizenship: 'I feel uncomfortable in England. Iceland is a place I feel a kindred spirit with, and it's a way to stick two fingers up at the English Establishment."

WHEN I knock into Benny Andersson and Björn Ulvaeus, the crooners who formed the middle letters of Abba, at the Mamma Mia! premiere party, they tell me a comeback is unlikely: "Look at us. We are too old to play the part."! demur from repeating their comments about how time has treated Frida and Agnetha.

TELLOW IND B

VICTORIA WOOD is to bail out David Blunkett. She expects to raise £15,000 in one night by performing a rare double act with Geoffrey Durham, her magician husband, for her child's school.

DOMINICK DUNNE, the American man of letters, claims be could have stymied the Lewinsky, palaver if only he had believed the affair was possible. In the forthooming Vanity Fair, he says he kept abreast of Linda Tripp's taping through a literary agent friend. Before the messy business blew up. Dunne bumped into Vernon: Jordan, President Clinton's golf, buddy and legal minder, in a New York restaurant in 1997: "I decided to warn him that an intern of the President's was being taped.

But the story suddenly seemed absurd. I thought that no one could be such a goddamned fool as 10. have an affair with a twentysomething in the Oval Office. So I simply mumbled 'Give my best to the

EDWARD WELSH

'The West has consistently seen air power as a kind of geopolitical one-night stand, offering gratification without commitment'

¬ ver sinœ President Milosevic started his crack-down on the Kosovo Liberation Army 13 months ago, Western threats have been undermined by one refrain. "We will not send in ground troops until a settlement is agreed," chorused the foreign ministries. The tragic consequence of this policy is that ground troops will now have to be sent in, but at a time, and in circumstances, of Mr Milosevic's choosing. Nato has, this week, at last allowed that ground forces may be committed. But only if they can be guaranteed "unopposed entry". Air power alone, it is argued, will create a "permissive environment in Kosovo which allows Nato to police a de facto settlement.

But the proliferation of euphemisms cannot disguise the essential fallacy on which Nato policy still rests. You cannot police a settlement unless you show the resolution necessary to enforce one. The West's readiness to use air power was supposed to show its resolve. But the West has consistently seen air power as a kind of geopolitical one-night stand, offering gratification without commitment.

The Western horror of openended military commitment inhibits Nato's capacity to use its military superiority to achieve its goals. Nato's principal military powers are still haunted by two previous interventions. In Somalia and Bosnia, troops committed before a deal was reached apparently had to choose between the irrelevance of waiting for the combatants to settle, or embroilment in a protracted conflict. Reason suggested that the best way to avoid another Srebrenica or Mogadishu was to refuse to commit troops until there was a settlement to police - no matter

Dominick Donald

how much any of the belligerents might beg for help. This would provide a clear mission, simple objectives and a swift withdrawal. And if the parties were reluctant to put down their arms. air power could push them to the negotiating table. Washington's foreign policy establishment, with its gift for the revealing euphemism. coined a new phrase for this application of force from the skies which avoids any American casualties. It's called "immaculate coercion". But, like immaculate conception, this wonderful idea works only as myth. The failure of the West to bring Serbia to heel during the Rambouillet negotiations revealed the fundamental flaw in "immaculate coercion". The Milosevics of believe you mean what you say. Yet deadlines were postponed and ultimatums ignored. Power is as much about political will as military means, and political will is best reflected by how much one is ready to risk: yet our leaders declared we would commit ground troops only if Mr Milosevic rolled over. By telling the Yugoslav leader we would not risk anything substantial we showed him our will was weak.

To talk now of "unopposed entry" only invites President Milosevic to finish his programme of ethnic cleansing, secure in the knowledge that the West will not risk lives to save lives.

The current failure of Nato policy on Kosovo stems in large this world will buckle only if they part from the Western political

'no-casualty" intervention is a lethal fantasy. The best way to minimise risk is to maintain the initiative. But the Western refusal to deploy a ground force before a settlement handed that initiative to Mr Milosevic. It left the principal issue at stake - the Kosovan Albanians - in his unmerciful hands. And despite the disclaimers of the last week, it has long been clear that Mr Milosevic might drive them out: his ruthless conduct in Vukovar in 1991 showed what he would do when unrestrained. Now Nato will have to deploy a ground force. But the deployment will be on Mr Milosevic's terms. Who else but he will do the permitting reluctance to understand that in the "permissive environment" of which strategists dream? A ground deployment was on the cards the moment "immaculate coercion" was launched. If Tony Blair and Bill Clinton had thought this through, they would have set about building the political consensus for an early deployment. Then they would have been better placed to persuade Mr Milosevic to conform, and to ensure that the inevitable assault was mounted on our terms and thus with fewer casualties. Instead they indulged in the fantasy that the refusal to take risks shows strength of will. It does not. It simply increases the dangers. A ground intervention before the enemy is ready to settle can demonstrate will and shape a resolution, rather than simply execute it. Sometimes the best way to avoid danger is to

The author, a former soldier, is an academic in the Department of War Studies at King's College

comment@the-times.co.uk

ا حكداً مث الاصل

11 L & 1995

Carlo dig.

TO WILL THE END

Nato politicians must will the means for victory

Two weeks into the air war, Slobodan Milosevic at last begins to look like the loser that he must, at whatever mst. be eventually proved to be. The Serbian leader cannot have expected Nato m do other than kick away his unilateral "ceasefire" - a temporary and tactical ceasefire that has stopped neither attacks on Nato aircraft nor fresh atrocities against Kosovans. Its main purpose was probably to provide political carnouflage for standing down his armour in Kosovo before Nato destroys it, as it has finally begun to do. He may even extend the tactic, since Nato assaults on his ground forces in Kosovo will be more devastating once the American Apache attack helicopters and multiple launch rocket systems are deployed. Whether or not he does so, this supposed ceasefire is an irrelevance.

Kosovo's Albanians continue to endure a living hell; but a massive allied relief operation is beginning to improve condi-tions for the hundreds of thousands of deportees forced into Montenegro, Albania and Macedonia. That operation must include proper coverage of the administrative, social and logistical costs incurred by these governments and their people; and broad economic support for them and for other countries in the region, such as Bulgaria, which face extensive economic damage as a result of a conflict that is not of their making.

The agony of the Kosovans has appalled Western public opinion, hardening their support for Nato. It has begun to convince even the most pacific and the most sceptical that this evil. unparalleled in postwar Europe, cannot stand - and that unstintingly generous humanitarian relief, while essential and urgent, is a palliative rather than the solution that must be pursued.

That solution is their return, in safety, to rebuild their shattered lives; anything else would be a defeat for Nato and for humanity. There can be no peace that accepts the "facts on the ground" that Mr Milosevic has, in a calculated challenge. created. And there would in fact be no peace on those abject terms; for if the neighbouring countries had permanently to absorb most of the Kosovan refugees, Mr Milosevic would then have succeeded in destabilising the entire region.

ard evidence accumulates that the atrocities in Kosovo are premeditated war crimes, that the methodical elimination of the Kosovan Albanians has been in preparation for months. The CIA was aware as early as last autumn of a plan, codenamed Operation Horseshoe, to kill or drive them out over several months. A village a day was the rate that Mr Milosevic calculated the West would wring its hands over without acting. In Pristina, public records have been combed to identify precisely which homes, shops and businesses were Albanian-owned; Serb police and paramilitaries have emptied towns and villages neighbourhood by neighbourhood in a pattern that has has been as unvaried as it has been ruthless.

The packed trains, the snipers picking off those who strayed out of line on the forced marches to the borders: every detail points to the existence of a detailed blueprint, without which so many could not have been murdered or driven into exile within a fortnight. In this context, yesterday's reported sealing of the frontiers by Serb forces is a sinister development; there is no such thing as safety in Kosovo for a people marked for destruction solely because of their racial identity.

This, then, is a war that must be won and must be seen to be won. Convinced of this. Western publics await, with mounting impatience, a clearer articulation of what "winning" would look like, and how Nato proposes to get there.

On "winning", Nato's reiterated insistence that Mr Milsoevic must accept "a political settlement based on the Rambouillet peace agreement" rings hollow. Even with extensive self-government, it left Belgrade in ultimate authority over Kosovo and gave it two years to withdraw its troops and paramilitary forces. Rambouillet is dead. That leaves only partition, or an international protectorate which Nato would have to police for years to come.

Partition may be Mr Milosevic's planned fallback. But it cannot be remotely on his terms. The only partition that could, after such brutality, be contemplated would create small enclaves around particularly "historic" Serb sites, with the rest of the province under the full control of the Kosovan Albanian majority. Even then, whatever moral sense such a settlement might make, it would most likely just set the stage for the next conflict.

A protectorate makes more sense. It would ultimately lead either to a Yugoslav confederation under a new constitutional settlement, or to independence. The choice would be Serbia's: if the Milosevic police state stays in power, independence would be the consequence. If his regime were replaced by a democratic Government committed, like that of the republic of Montenegro, to intercommunal tolerance, a confederation could just conceivably be accepted by the traumatised Kosovans; that would create the best conditions for durable political stability and the massive reconstruction that will be required.

ut first Mr Milosevic must be defeated. Nato leaders still insist that this can be achieved by air power alone. They are not believed, either by their own publics or by Belgrade. It is time that they answered the question: what happens after the bombing? For now, the Alliance's priority is to hammer Yugoslavia's military infrastructure and the fighting strength and morale of its forces in Kosovo. But sooner rather than later, airstrikes will have achieved all that they can, short of destroying what is left of the modern Yugoslav state. These airstrikes may or may not succeed in creating the "permissive environment" which would enable people to start returning home under Nato protection. Even under the best scenario, Nato troops will require much heavier armoury than was envisaged at the time of Rambouillet. It is more likely that they will have to contend with armed Serb resistance, organised or "freelance".

There is no predicting if, or when, Mr Milosevic will admit defeat. There must be no question of a gap of weeks or months before Nato is ready to move in its troops. Nato started this campaign on the wrong foot; it must be adequately prepared for the finish, and be seen to be so.

Public support for committing troops, to a ground war if need be, is growing, with a majority now in favour even in the United States. The barbarity in Kosovo has seen to that. Troops can be swiftly deployed; but their equipment needs to be seaborne in the very near future. The Pentagon's announcement that 2,600 troops, equipped with main battle tanks and armoured vehicles, will move to Albania as "force protection" for the Apache helicopters, could be the preliminary moves in the direction to which the logic of this war inexorably points. There is no gain in politicians continuing to pretend that they are the only people who have neither given, nor are prepared to give, the proper thought to the Nato endgame.

YELLOW AND BENT

The EU's contorted banana regime must now be abandoned

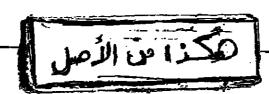

For the fifth time in a mere six years an international trade panel has investigated the methods by which the European Union regulates the imports of bananas and found them wanting. On every previous occasion the EU has fiddled at the edges of its rules and avoided the substantive issue. As a result the EU and an increasingly frustrated United States have found themselves on the brink of a serious trade conflict. The decision announced by the World Trade Organisation (WTO) yesterday represents the EU's last chance to reach an amicable settlement. If it does not, then nearly £120 million of retaliatory American sanctions will be imposed shortly, with a devastating impact on the Scottish cashmere industry among others. The WTO arbitrators were required to pronounce on whether the EU banana regime applies quotas and tariffs to certain countries in a discriminatory fashion. It is not difficult to sympathise with the logic that led them to conclude that the present banana system is indefensible. The EU divides banana producers into three different sections: those within the EU itself; those from 12 specific African. Caribbean and Pacific nations: and others from those regions plus the so-called "dollar banana" suppliers from Latin America. The first two quotas are based on the highest previous levels of sales and are thus very charitable. The final quota is set deliberately low and, once exceeded, invokes unterly punitive additional tariffs. Nor can this be defended as a necessary means of preserving plucky, poor, former colonies from heartless American-owned multinational corporations. The primary cost of the current banana rules falls upon the hapless EU consumer. A modest £100 million is returned to a favoured few developing countries. Among those Latin American states hit hard by the EU's regulations are Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua: these are impoverished nations at the best of times and in dire straits after the damage inflicted by Hurricane Mitch six months ago. The complicated EU rules for allocating quotas within quotas has also tended to favour the relatively rich over their often poorer neighbours.

The broader macroeconomic effect is even more undesirable. The EU manages to distort the world banana trade in a manner that leaves producer nations at no net financial advantage. The consequence of deliberate delay in Brussels over the past six years is that a start has scarcely been made in encouraging those changes among the banana exporters of the West Indies - such as the consolidation of small plantations - that would reduce their costs and enhance their competitive position. The essential task of encouraging muchneeded economic diversification in these countries has been similarly neglected. The EU should introduce a non-discriminatory quota and tariff system or, better still, abolish quotas and tariffs completely. Sir Leon Brittan, the acting EU Commissioner concerned, promised yesterday to abide by the WTO decision but did not rule our continuing this battle. That decision will be delegated to EU members. They would be extremely unwise to persist in a struggle that is not in the interests of their consumers, or of international commerce. or even of the banana growers themselves.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I Pennington Street, London El 9XN Telephone 0171-782 5000

Milosevic in pursuit of his 'final solution' in Kosovo

From Sir Reginald Hibbert

Sir, The idea of driving all the Albanians out of Kosovo has been canvassed sporadically in Serb nationalist theorisings ever since the province was allocated to Serbia by the then great powers in 1912-13.

Governments in Belgrade have tried fairly consistently to make Albanians leave. They have had some success; but the Albanian population has multiplied and the Serb population declined as Serb families preferred not to stay in that relatively neglected, underdeveloped and overwhelmingly Albanian region.

President Milosevic and his Government are the first to try to put the theoretical final solution into practice. It is a final solution without gas chambers. There is plenty of killing, but perhaps not enough as yet to earn the name of holocaust in public estimation.

The cause of this final solution is not the bombing but the assessment made in Belgrade that the Contact Group plan put forward at Rambouillet implied that Kosovo would slip out of Serbian control in the next few years and that the ruin of the Greater Serbia project would be complete. The only way to prevent Kosovo becoming autonomous was to drive out the population which would exercise autonomy.

Those who flinch from Nato's action, or speculate about a negotiated endgame, or weigh up the possibility of dividing Kosovo should perhaps reflect on the shame and confusion which will overtake Europe if we fail for a second time to check and reverse the carrying-out of a final solution in this century. And the Russians, with their experience of pogroms and massacres, would be wise to recognise that a truly massive pogrom is occurring in Kosovo and avoid lending support to its perpetrators.

Yours faithfully, REGINALD HIBBERT, Y Frondeg, Pennal, Machynlleth. Powys SY20 9JX.

From Dr Raphael Papadopoulos Sir, The most serious and lasting damage by the bombs and rockets is being inflicted on the international community and its collective institutions. Nato's action constitutes a clear violation of the rules of the international community and its own charter. Why will a Nato-imposed selectivity in the use of military force be better for the peace of the world than the more balanced and consensual selectivity implicit in the UN rules?

Milosevic's behaviour in Kosovo, abhorrent as it is, is not unique. "Successful" examples of ethnic cleansing in Palestine, Croatia and northern Cyprus, to name the three nearest, suggest that ethnic cleansers consider war of any kind as a golden opportunity for a rapid acceleration of the process.

What seems to be different this time is the determined effort of some Nato politicians to channel the public debate by flourishing new rules of engagement for Nato and a selective view of history.

Yours sincerely. R. PAPADOPOULOS. 52 Asmuns Place, NWII 7XE.

From Dr Martin Eyans

Sir. I totally support the principle of Nato military intervention to stop this abhorrent "ethnic cleansing", but, as our wiser retired generals have re-peatedly reminded us, it will take a land army to do it. If we did not think we could win even with a ground force we should never have started

Nato's faith in bombs as a means of persuasion is alarming for its naivety and our Government's intellectual dishonesty in pretending that we can successfully prosecute this war from a safe distance insults the intelligence and courage of the British people.

Yours faithfully, MARTIN EVÁNS. 35 Cavendish Avenue, Cambridge CBI 7UR. April 6.

From Mr Ansel Harris

Sir, Almost daily, Tom Walker has reported conditions and attitudes in Belgrade under Nato's bombing. But there are no reports of protests in Belgrade against the ethnic cleansing of Kosovo. Nor, for that matter, were there during the earlier atrocities in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

I do not believe, as was suggested in the BBC news this evening, that Serbians are ignorant of these crimes.

Daniel Goldhagen's monumental study Hitler's Willing Executioners

(Little, Brown & Co. 1996) showed how widespread within Germany was the knowledge of Hitler's genocidal policies which, in today's terminology, would be described as ethnic cleansing.

It would appear that, like the Germans, the people of Serbia are disclaiming knowledge of the crimes being committed in their name.

Yours faithfully. ANSEL HARRIS, 35 The Pryors, NW3 IBP. leans@msn.com

From Mr Patrick Howarth

Sir, Slobodan Milosevic, who might otherwise have been adjudged a rather third-rate and readily forgettable political figure, seems likely to have been transformed by recent events into a national hero, whom Serbs will revere through centuries to come.

Indeed it may not be long before some enterprising Serbian impresario commissions an opera, of which Milosevic will be the hero.

Yours faithfully, PATRICK HOWARTH. 2 Pencarrow, The Avenue, Sherbourne, Dorset DT9 3AJ.

From Mr Leon Gamsa

Sir, For the cost of a single cruise missile, how many leaflets could be dropped over Belgrade to make its citizens aware of the genocide perpetrated in their name?

Yours faithfully, LEON GAMSA, 45 Brampion Grove, NW4 4AH. April 7.

From Mr J. C. Griffiths

Sir. As always, the Ancients have a saying for it: "When they make a desert they call it peace" (Tacitus, Agri-

It looks as though the efforts of both sides to this conflict will leave Kosovo a region of abandoned villages and a ruined infrastructure.

JOHN C. GRIFFITHS, 5 The Courtyard, Waltham-on-the-Wolds, Melton Mowbray, LE14 4RE.

War crimes

From Mrs Irene Rosenberg Sir, Mr Barry Baines comments (let-been convicted of crimes committed in 1942 and suggests that "the door be shut on the past".

Unfortunately, the past is so tightly packed with the corpses of millions of innocent men, women and children, and of many, many frail old people, that the doors just cannot be closed.

Yours faithfully. IRENE ROSENBERG. 17 Fernhall Drive, Redbridge, Ilford, Essex IG4 5BN.

Fires in tunnels

From Mr Alan Smith

Sir. It is hard for me to understand why the tragic fire in the Mont Blanc tunnel (report, March 27), or that in the Channel Tunnel in 1996, should have taken several hours to subdue. A simple plug of fresh-air detergent foam, generated upwind of the seat of the fire, will rapidly extinguish it. while permitting refugees and fire-fighters to breathe. The fiercer the fire, the more rapidly such a plug will take effect, provided it is formed by spraying a light mesh screen, which can be rapidly erected to cover the cross-section of the tunnel.

This foam plug technique was deve-loped at the Safety in Mines Research Establishment in the 1950s, and widely publicised in the mining industry at the time.

Yours faithfully, ALAN SMITH (Chartered mining engineer). 63 Abbey House, la Abbey Road, NW8 9BX. March 27.

Pupil selection

From Mr Donald S. Akroyd

Sir. Mr Edward Norman (letter, March 29) is so right in believing that selection will be distressing to the least gifted in the class who cannot become the "new elite".

It will be distressing for those in comprehensive schools to see a classmate with four A levels proceed to Oxbridge; for those in the village team to see any friend playing in the Premier League, for a junior clerk to see a colleague rise to board level; or even for the parish priest to see a neighbouring priest elevated to a bishopric.

But then life is distressing, some are more equal than others and education must encourage the bright pupils and recognise that there will always be "aiso-rans".

Yours. DONALD S. AKROYD. The Stone Cottage, Barnwell, Peterborough PE8 5PF. March 29.

Business letters, page 31

Judges' ruling on asylum-seekers and leave it to the jurisdiction of

From Mr J. B. McGuinness

Sir, The Geneva Convention rightly lays down ground rules for the protection of asylum-seekers. However, the construction placed on the convention by the law lords by extending the concept of a "social group" to include women if their country of origin is perceived as having "institutionalised discrimination against women" (Law Report, March 26) is unwarranted and challenges the conventions regarding the relationship between the judiciary and the legislature.

Lord Hoffmann makes it clear that the delegates to the convention in 1951 were not contemplating as their inten-tion that women should form a specified group entitling them to protec-tion. Yet the law lords feel free to repair this omission from no other source than historical analogies and their own conscience, admirable though that is.

In extremis, judges may construct a meaning to a statute or treaty if this can be seen as demonstrating the intention of the legislating body. If the search for the purpose of the legislation could cause them to overstep their constitutional limits they step back

Sir. There is no harm in publishing the locations of speed traps (report, March 24; letters, March 31 and April

The cameras' objective is to reduce accident rates, not to increase penal-

1993-94, on behalf of the Home Office, revealed two key facts. First, the poli-was a proven accident rate, not necessarily where speeds were highest.

Second, some police forces had co-operated with the creation of "speed-trap maps": when one such city map was being made, the relevant police force alerted the map-maker to cameras he had missed - with the goal of reducing accidents at those locations, either by slowing or diverting the ties to motorists.

Yours faithfully

Hyde House.

Longworth,

April 7.

adam ogilvie-smith,

Oxfordshire OX13 5HH.

Wedding gifts

Yours faithfully,

Square Fold,

CYNTHIA KNOWLES,

From Mrs Cynthia Knowles

Sir, At their request we have given our daughter, and new son-in-law of ten days, a tandem (letters, April 2 and 5).

26 White Lion Road, Amersham,

Buckinghamshire HP7 9JD.

Parliament.

In this case the law lords have stepped over the mark. As the final court of appeal on this matter they have created law. The only choice for the Home Secretary and Parliament is to bring in legislation reversing the judgment, which is unlikely.

Given that the Human Rights Act is currently on the statute book we face a situation of major constitutional significance. The judiciary is clearly feeling in a reforming mood and may challenge any legislation that it feels contravenes some universal human right. Parliament won the battle in the last century as to the right of judges to challenge statutes. In the next century the judiciary is clearly going to have a more powerful role.

The independence of the judiciary must be examined. The selection process will have to become more transparent and accountable. Parliament must recognise that it will have to forgo its present absolute sovereignty.

J. B. McGUINNESS, 22 Oswald Road, Chorlton, Manchester M21 9LP. April 3.

Marbles in the gutter Speed-traps

From Mr Murray Freedman From Mr Adam Ogilvie-Smith

Sir. Mr Edward Wilcock's letter (March 27) about children playing tors" (marbles) in the streets of Leeds, following your photograph (March 19), brought back many happy personal memories. One dialect word he My review of the Traffic Police in mentioned that has persisted is "ginnel" for alleyway, and "foreigners" to Yorkshire happily acquire its use cy was to site cameras where there when they settle amongst us Leoden-

What I particularly remember as a Jewish child in the Thirties was playing "nuts" less than a mile away from where the photograph was taken at this time of the year - Passover.

Hazelnuts were used in a variety of games, the origins of which I do not know. In one, empty matzo boxes had holes of various sizes cut in them and one had to roll the nuts through the holes to gain more nuts as prizes. In another game the holes and dips between the street cobbles were utilised. Winners over the season ended up with a great stock of hazelnuts.

Alas, along with the demise of the cobbles went the games - of which the present generation of Jewish children has probably never heard.

Yours faithfully, M. P. FREEDMAN. 29 Sandhill Crescent, Leeds LSI7 8DY. mpfreed@infinnet.co.uk March 28.

Letters should carry a daytime telephone number. They may be faxed to 0171-782 5046. e-mail (0: letters@the-times.co.uk

Medical efficacy of green tea

From Dr Anne M. Birrell

Sir, May I add a footnote to your entertaining editorial on the efficacy of drinking green tea ("Hot, wet and healthy", April 1).

The anecdote about the discovery of tea as a drink by the "servant of the Chinese Emperor Shen Nung" is triply apocryphal. Shen Nung was not an historical emperor and the dates given are a traditional invention.

Shen Nung was a god whose name translates as God the Farmer. Besides being the god of agriculture, he was also the god and divine originator of medicine. His name was attached to the traditional pharmacopoeia, generally entitled the Pen ts'ao, or herbal.

Far from being discovered and enjoyed in the 3rd millennium BC. Thea viridis, the tea shrub, was originally not indigenous to China but imported from India in the 6th century AD. Its link with God the Farmer, patron of medicine, is its medical efficacy, allegedly aiding drinkers as a diuretic, laxative, stimulant and cooling infusion, besides its use as an eyewash and lotion for sores. Its seeds allegedly cured coughs and tinnitus. The Tang writer Lu Yu promoted its benefits in his book, The Tea Classic of AD 804, using the word ch'a for tea, whence cuppa char in pidgin English.

Yours sincerely, ANNE M. BIRRELL (Author, Chinese Mythology - An Introduction, The Johns Hopkins University Press, 1993), Clare Hall, Herschel Road, Cambridge CB3 9AL.

From Dr L. Fisch

Sir. Your leading article concerning the benefits of drinking tea mentioned William Gladstone: "If you are depressed it will cheer you; if you are excited, it will calm you." A reason for the paradoxical effect of so-called psychostimulants was suggested by Dr J. Wilder in the American Journal of Psychotherapy (72,199, 1958) and other journals. He named this phenomenon 'The law of initial values", according to which a change in any function caused by stimulation depends upon the pre-stimulus level of that function. A commonly used stimulant, such as tea for example, has precisely the effect mentioned by Gladstone. A habitual smoker may light a cigarette to calm down, but when he or she is feeling low and depressed it may stimulate activity. Doctors and others are puzzled by the paradoxical effect of psychostimulants (especially Ritalin, used to calm hyperactive children but which is also accepted as a stimulant). Nevertheless, Dr Wilder's important revelations seem to have disappeared into the dustbin of history.

Yours truly. L. FISCH. 46 The Drive Harrow, Middlesex HA2 7EJ. April 2

Fired-up for speed

From Mr John Disley

Sir, Mr John Hunter, the winner of the World Coal Carrying Championships (photograph and caption, April 6) should be immediately signed up for the British Olympic team. His time of 4 minutes 27 seconds for the mile is astounding. It would mean that if he started at the front of next week's London Marathon he would be 200 metres ahead of the field at the mile post, with his 110lb bag of coal.

Of course, it could be that the Yorkshire timekeepers used a cuckoo-clock or that the course was measured by a car's mileometer, both notoriously

Yours faithfully, JOHN DISLEÝ The London Marathon Limited, PO Box 1234, London SEI 8RZ. April 6.

All you need to know? From Mr Frank Horisk

Sir, In the TV listings of my local daily newspaper there appears this outline of the programme Animal Hospital on BBCl on Easter Tuesday: "A kitten whose leg became trapped in its collar returns for a check-up and the vets perform an operation on a pet lizard with a swollen foot."

Does this show that John Birt's mission to explain has now been fully FRANK HORISK, 47 Church Street, Irvinestown. Co Fermanagh BT94 1EJ. April 6.

You have been warned

From Mr Michael Blakey

Sir, AA signs on a number of our local roads read: "April 10. Campaign for a Living Wage. Severe Delays Expect-

Yours faithfully, MICHAEL BLAKEY. Castle Farm Mews. Castle Farm Road, Jesmond, Newcastle upon Tyne NE2 3RG.

COURT CIRCULAR

CLARENCE HOUSE April 6: The Hon Mrs Rhodes has succeeded Dame Frances Campbell-Preston as Lady-in-Waiting to Queen Elizabeth The Queen Mother.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE April 7: The Duke of York today launched the Royal News Review on the Internet at the Costa Cafe, Buckingham Palace Road, London

THATCHED HOUSE LODGE

April 7: Princess Alexandra this afternoon opened Alexandra House, which is the home of Age Concern Hounslow and the Brentford Community Resource Centre, in Albany Road, Brentford, Middlesex. Her Royal Highness, President, subsequently visited the Imperial Cancer Research Shop at 123a King Street. Hammersmith, London.

Today's royal engagements

The Prince of Wales will visit the Taigh Chearsabhaigh Arts Centre at Lichmaddy, North Uist at 11.20; will visit Lochmaddy Surgery, at 11.55; will visit the Iron Age Settlement at Bernera, 1ste of Lewis, at 12.55; and will join members of the Berneray Community for a reception at the Commuty Centre and then present the Lord of the Isles Trophy to the winning team of the Shinty Mini Festival, at 1.50. The Duke of Kent vice-chairman.

British Overseas Trade Board, will visit Rolls-Royce, Filton, at 10.40; and will visit Hewlett-Packard, Bristol, at 12.30. Princess Alexandra, patron, will attend a reception and luncheon to mark the 20th anniversary of the foundation of the Alzheimer's Disease Society, at the Café Royal. Regent Street. London W1, at 12.30.

Mr Peregrine Fellowes A memorial service for Mr Peregrine Fellowes, will be held at the Brompton Oratory, on Thursday, May 6, 1999, at 11.00am.

Mrs Santa Peake (von Henikstein)

A mass in thanksgiving for the life of Mrs Santa Maria Peake, will be held in the Chapel of The Hope Nursing Home. Brooklands Avenue, Cambridge, on Wednesday, April 14, 1999, at 11,00am.

School news

Queen Margaret's School, York Queen Margaret's School, York announces the awards of the following Scholarships for September 1999:

Acadessic

II+: Anna Dawson (Kruytos Primary School, Thirsk), Sheredan Ford (Badger Hill Primary School, York).

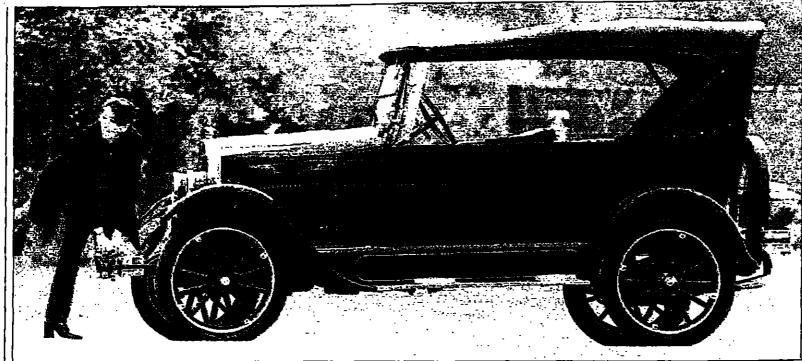

I2+: Caroline Gore-Booth (Polarn Holl School, Darlington), Elizabeth Hodgkinson (Queen Mary's School, Thirsk).

I3+: Mary Gore-Booth (Polarn Hall School, Darlington), Meeka Harrison-Topham (Queen Mary's School, Thirsk).

Sigth Perm internal awards: Vectoria Angyle, Rachel O'Brien, Noelle Sugiyama.

Appointments

Mr lain Kelly has been appointed Ambassador to Belarus in succession to Miss Jessica Pearce, and Mr John Grant has been appoint ed Ambassador to Sweden from August in succession to Mr Roger Bone. Miss Pearce and Mr Bone will be transferring to new Diplomatic Service appointments.

This sparkling 1924 Star cabriolet, made by the Durant Motor Company of Michigan as an up-to-date rival of the Model T Ford, is expected to make £8,000 to £10,000 at an auction of vintage cars, motorcycles and motoring paraphernalia at Sotheby's Billingshurst saleroom tomorrow

Birthdays today

Mr Kofi Annan, Secretary-General, United Nations, 61; Professor Sir John Arbuthnott, Principal. Strathclyde University. 60; Mr Tony Banks, MP, Minister for Sport, 56; Mr Hywel Bennett. actor. 55: Mr Mark Blundell racing driver, 33; Sir Andrew Bowden, former MP, 69: Sir Graham Burton, diplomat, 58: General Sir Anthony Farrar-Hockley. 75: Lord Grantchester, 48: Air Commandant Dame Alice Lowrey. Commandation Dame Africe Dowley.

Former matron-in-chief, PMRAFNS. 94: Mrs Mary Moore, former Principal, St Hilda's College, Oxford, 69; Mr W. Garth Morrison. former Chief Scout, 50: Mr Peter Rogers, chief executive, ITC, 58: Mr Ian Smith, former Prime Minister of Rhudesia, 80: Mr Alec Stewart, cricketer, 36; Sir Thomas Thomson, former chairman, Great er Glasgow Health Board, 76: Miss Dorothy Tutin. actress. 68: Miss Vivienne Westwood, fashion designer, 58; Baroness Young of Old Scone, 51.

Service luncheon

Somerset Light Infantry Colonel J.L. Waddy presided at a luncheon of the Somerset Light Infantry (Prince Albert's) held yesterday at the Mount Somerset Hotel, Taunton.

Meeting Royal Institute of International

Affairs Sir Charles Powell was the speaker at a meeting of the Royal Institute of International Affairs held vesterday at Chatham House. Lord Jenkin of Roding presided.

Anniversaries

BIRTHS: John Loudon, horticulturist, Cambuslang, Strathchyde, 1783: Sir Arthur Streeton, Australian painter, Victoria, 1867: Albert I. King of the Belgians 1909-34. Brussels, 1875: Sir Adrian Boult, conductor, Chester, 1989; Mary Pickford, silent film star, Toronto. 1893: Sonia Henie, world skating champion and film actress. Oslo, 1912

DEATHS: El Greco, painter, Toledo, 1614; Karl von Humboldt, philosopher and educator, Tegel, Germany, 1835; Elisha Otis, pioneer of the safety lift. Yonkers, New York, 1861; Vaslav Nijinsky, ballet dancer. London, 1950; Pabío Picasso, painter, Mougins, France, 1973; Omar Nelson Bradley, American army general, New York. 1981. sambard Kingdom Brunel's steamship Great Western sailed from Bristol on her maiden voyage across the Atlantic to New York,

King Zog of Albania abdicated. The League of Nations held its final meeting, 1946. In Kenya, Jomo Kenyatta was convicted for his involvement with the Mau-Mau, 1953.

Winston Churchill Fellowships

The following have been awarded Winston Churchill Memorial Trust Travelling Fellowships for 1999 (the list gives name, home town, age, occupation, place of travel and purpose):

Mrs Loraine Ashton, Southsea, So, pro-gramme manager, Health Education Authority. US and Australia, Health promotion strategies for the over Sts. Mr Timothy Austin, Lee on Solent, So, managing director, US, Improving inte-grated business support for newly created businesses.

grand business support for newly created businesses.

Mrs. Islay. Auty. Hallow. 47. riding instructor. Germany and Sweden. The training and development of jurior dressage riders.

Dr. Charles Batteson. Kendal, 44. principal tecturer in education. US. Recruiting and retaining schoolneachers in inner city/multi cultural areas.

Mr. Andrew Beard. Sheffield. 50. City. Archiacct. Sheffield. County. Countil US and Japan. City. centre regeneration through quality urban design.

Mr. Phillip Benzie. Ormskirk. 36, transport engineer. Blackpool Borough Council. Austria. Switzerland. Germany, Denmark, Sweden and Finland. Design criteria for railway passenger/freight facilities.

Mrs. Valerie Besag, Newcastle upon Tyne.

facilities. Mrs Valerie Besag, Newcastle upon Tyne, St. teacher and educational psychologist, Canada, US and Australia. A transitional canada, US and Australia. A transmonal approach to student peer support systems. Ms Christine Beveridge, London, 43, project officer/freelance trainer. Australia, Establishing hepatidis C support groups in the community. Dr Richard Bradshaw, Cambridge 33, research scientist, Cambridge University, US. The public understanding of animal welfare science.

wellare science.

Mr Mark Brundrett. Britworth. 40. university lecturer in education management. US. Headteacher training and ment. US. Headleacher training and assessment.

Miss Jessica Bryne-Dariel, Golcar, 35, landscape architect. Japan and US, Urban design: people and spaces.

Mrs Edna Cameron. Eigin, 49, college lecturer. Canada and US, Educational and training opportunities for women in rural areas.

Mr Peter Campbell. Lerwick, 48, head teacher. Norway and Finland, Teaching a second language to young children.

Ms Patricia Carroll, Remford, 44, deputy headteacher. Australia and US. Reading programmes in schools.

Mr Daniel Chadwick. Bolton, 24, MA. research student/assistant butor, China. The urban morphological process in relation to highways.

Mrs Nathleen Cherry, Kelso. 49, HMI of relation to highways.
Mrs Kathleen Cherry, Kelso. 49, HM1 of schools, Scottish Office, Norway/Sweden.

Australia, Eucario aschol education.
The Rev Arthur Creber, Newcastle under Lyme, 53, clergyman, Canada and US, The Church's response to an ageing propulation.

Miss Sophia Cunningham, Denbigh, 25, freelance journalist, Central Asia and China. The Silk Road expedition.

Mr John Darthyshire, Lanark, 36, country-side ranger, Poland and Russia. Badger welfare and lepislation.

Dr Karen Darke, Banchory, 27, geologist.
Nepal and Tibet, First hand cycle traverse of the Priendshin Highway.

of the Friendship Highway. Mr Mathew Dart, Londort, 4l, woodwind instrument maker. Germany. Austria. Belgium and Holland. 18th-century has-segment and rotatale istructurity tesscons.

Mr Kim Dent-Brown. Hessle, 40, drama therapist, Israel. Storymaking - a therapeutic tool in mental health.

Mr Michael Denton, Barnsley. 27, research student. US. Investigations and modelling of near-earth space weather.

Mr Stewart Dickson. Carrickfergus, 47, senior industrial relations officer. US.
Best practice in enterprises development.

Ms Kika Diaon. London. 25, student/enerprise co-ordinator. Nepal and Bolivia.

Evaluation of social enterprises.

Mr Par Donnelly, Belfast, 45, chief executive, Proteus. US and Australia, An

Ms Milly Doregos Manchester. 45. counsellor/crisis worker. US. Forensic medical examination: a nurse's perspecmation & training officer, US. The education and training of head injury rehabilitation workers.

Ms Flora Formula Ms Fiona Ferguson, Exeter. 49, mental Health self-advocacy worker. US, Tele-mental health services in rural communi-

Mr William Fernie, Wick, 49. volunteer bureau development, Highland volunteer development, Agency, US, Opportunities for the disadvantaged in small business for the disadvantaged in small business creation.

Ms Susan Fletcher, Deganwy, 24, leisure support officer, Belgium, Austria, France and Spain, European development funding for local communities.

Ms Heather Floyd, Belfast, 36, education, manager, France, Switzerland and Italy, Community lestivals, fetes, feille and festivals: a contribution.

Mr William Forbes, Perth, 57, publications marrager, Scottish Natural Heritage, lecland and Faroe Islands, Defining local distinctiveness in town and country.

Mr Philip Friend, Haffield, 43, disability consultant, US, The impact of disability legislation on small businesses.

Mr Stephen Friend, Haffield, 43, disability consultant, US, The impact of disability legislation on small businesses.

Mr Stephen Friend, Vork, 51, university lecturer, Canada and US, Martime missions: Contemporary developments; archival preservation and accessibility.

Miss Sara Gadd, Brighton, 27, lecturer in photography, Western Samoa, A historical photography, Western Samoa, A historical photography project.

cal photographic project. Mr Michael Gardner, cal photographic project.

Mr Michael Gardner, Crediton, 30, woodland skills training Coordinator, US and Canada, Sustainable forest products from isoland rural communities.

Mr Jonathan Gillespie-Payne, Farnham Mr Jonathan Gillespie-Payne, Farnham And MacKennessed execution measure and All Johannan Chiesperayne, Parthuant, M. self-employed expedition manager and leadership trainer. Chile and Peru, In the footseps of the historic ship Yavari. Mrs. Mary. Gleeson. Lauroeston, 53. business advisor, Australia and New Zealand. Rural area job/wealth creation through IT.

Durings Aural area job/wealth creation through IT.

Dr Gillian Glegg, near hybridge, 36, university lecturer, Netherlands, Purtugal and US, Waste water pollution control.

Dr Alan Goodali, Galagow, 59, director of audio visual media services. US and Australia. Creating virtual environments for education and training.

Mr Bryn Green, Ashford, 57, emeritus professor. New Zealand and Australia. Alternative approaches to promoting countryside management in farming.

Mrs Simone Griffin, Telford, 36, none-disabled (rheumatoid arthritis). Italy, Creating a rewarding future as a disabled role model.

role model. Mr Dida Halake, London, 42, teacher/ler-Mr Dida Hatake, London, 42, teacher/se-turer, Kenya, Society, education and inner city minorities. Mr Nigel Harfring, Penrith, 29, police officer, Spitchergen, Canoeing expedition: "30 degrees north". Ms Wendy Hitchmough, Lewes, 39, architectural historian, Furland, Sweden, Germany, France, Belgium and US, Artists Houses c. 1900. Ms Sarah Hocombe, London, 35, self-em-

Ms Sarah Hocombe, London, 35, self-em-ployed artist, Italy, The research and velopment of contemporary fresco tech-Mr John Hopkins, London, 44. landscape

Mr John Hopkins, London, 44 landscape architect/urban designer. US. Urban space: form, funding and function. Mr Mark Howard. Bicester. 30, self-employed farmer, Belgium. Germany and US. Defining the function of farming in rural continunities.
Mr Geoffrey Hughes, Usk, 48, prisons inspector. Finland. Sweden and Denmark. Prison inspections.
Mr Christopher Hughes. London. 24. PhD student. Germany. Development of immunotherapy for the treatment of leukaemia.
Mr Laurence Hunt. Exeter. 35, school

leutaemia.

Mr Laurence Hunt, Exeter. 35, school teacher, US. Sharing the best aspects of inner city regeneration.

Mr Igubal Hyare, Coventry, 41, co-ordinator of research & development: ethnicity & culture, India and Pakistan, Community based addiction services in multi-racial societies. Ms E Menna Jones. Coernarion, 37. chief executive of a charity, US, Welsh and American communities re-discover John Evans exploration (1795-97). Mr Gary Kass, Woking, 34, advisor -environment and energy parliamentary office, US and Denmark, Issues in science and technology - informing partiamentari-

Ms Jennifer Kavanagh, London, 51, community worker, Bangladesh, Poland and France, The practical application of micro-credit and France. The practical application of micro-credit.

Ms Dalhinder Kuiar, Sheffield, 30. Child Protection Social Worker, US and India, Developing multi-cultural approaches to adventure education.

Mr Kenneth Laidlaw. Bonnyrigg, 36. chartered clinical, psychologist/lecturer, US, Skills enhancemens in psychological treatments for older adults.

Dr Philip Lee, Llangennech, 29, research officer, US, Sustainable mountain bike brails.

trails.

Mr David Lindsay, Wallasey, 46. BT Ist line manager, Netherlands. The world transplant games.

Mr Keith Long, Oxford, 44, university technician, US. The teaching of practical physics skills to undergraduates.

Ms Catherine Lucktaylor, Brighton, 30, freelance community artist, Mail. Nigeria, Ghara and Brazil, The evolution of displaced African culture.

Mr Steven Macdonald, Worcester, 26, regional manager (for charity), Australia.

Mr Serven Macdonald, Worcester, Zicregional manager (for charity), Australia, Hot footing to the Müllennium, Adelaide to Darwin: in the footsteps of Capt Charles Sturt.

Dr Dawn Male, London, 45, university lecturer, US, The inclusion of pupils with profound learning difficulties.

Miss Jill Metheringha, St Albans, 28, technical officer, China, US and Israel, Disposal of day-old chicks - the way forward.

Mr David Millar, Belfast, 44, chief executive Canada and US. The impact on

Mr David Mular, Benas, 44, chie executive, Canada and Us. The impact on small business growth of community economic development. Mrs Carol Milton, Dundee, 44, customer assistant, New Zealand, The age issue burden or challenge for disabled older records. burden or challenge for disabled older people.

Mr S G Pete Moore. Hull, 27, youth justice Officer. New Zealand, Adventurous training for young offenders. Mrs Julie Newman. London, 36, support teacher and course organiser. Canada, Early assessment and intervention — a comparative autism study.

Mr Graham Noble. Kings Lynn. 47, engineering services manager. US and Canada, Improving conditions for poultry during transportation.

Mrs Georgina Norman, Steaford. 75.regional co-ordinator. US, Patient care services for the elderly.

Ms Jane Owers, Birmingham, 39, Europe-

Professor John Ramsslen, London, 59, university teacher, New Zealand, The post war reputation of Sir Winston Churchill. Ms Elsa Redwood, London, 54, project manager, North London Business Development Agency, US, Expanded vistas making an early retirement fulfilling. Mrs Pat Robinson, Ripley, 42, clinical psychologist, US, Ways forward: challenging behaviour and learning disabilities. Mr Richard Rowland, South Molton, 48, settringery, surrecon, Australia, Welfron mention systems officer. Singapore. Universal internet access.

Ms Vivian Tozer. St Davids. 45. organic cheese maker. Holland, Denmark and Sweden. Organic farming.

Miss Emma Tregear. Walberson, 24. administrative assistant. Canada or Australia, Care of repitles.

Mr Barrie Trevena, Helston, 42. environmental health officer. Canada and US. Investigating associations between Ecoli OIST infection and animal contact.

Mr Andrew Trotter, Castle Douglas. 27. chief inspector at an Outstoor Centre, US. Residential centres for drug/akchlol depotations. residents contested of origination dependents.

Mr Gordon Wallace, Linlithgow, St, Urrector - training and enterprise. US. Social inclusion through growth of entrepreneurial small businesses. services for the elderly.

Ms Jane Owens, Birmingham, 39, European resource centre for schools and colleges manager. France. Finland and Ireland, Educational project the Euro.

Dr. Chaire Paisley, Penarch, 33, senior research officer. Canada. Community health development and evaluation.

Mr. Stephen Payne, Chelmsford, 46, advanced products Manager, Japan, US, Switzerfand and Germany, Benefunark study of high resolution printed wiring technology.

Mr. Chris Pound, Bath, 53, architect/town planner, Europe, Urban design and presentation of heritage cities.

Mr. Carl Preson, near Rochdale, 42, breeman driller, Australia, The enhancement of British drilling technology.

Mr. Graham Probert, Region, 31, self-employed farmer, US and France, Rural business enterprises.

Professor John Ramssten, London, 50, university teacher. New Zealand, The post was negative and conserving and conserving of Sir Wirston Charchill. es. Miss Anna Wells, Kingston. 16, 6th form student, Canada, New perspectives on BSE.

Dr Deborah Wells. Beifast. 27, post doctoral research fellow. US. The welfare of rescue-sheltered dogs.

Mr Keith Wells. Magnull. 51. deputy headtracher. US. Improving self esteem and personal effectiveness in the young. Ms Sue Wild. Cateshead. 38. trainer and adventure instructor. Nepal. Adventure for disadvantaged young women.

Mrs Maria Williams. Caerphilly. 25. saftware engineer: programmer. US. mus mana Williams, Coerphilly, 25, software engineer: programmer. US, Climbing of "El Capitan": Ist British woman woman.

Miss Catherine Winkler, Cardiff, 34.
printary schools programme manager, Australia, Science Centres as a resource for primary schools.

Mr Alan Wolinski, Leeds, 45. regional manager, US. The link between animal cruelty and human violence.
His Honour John Herbert Wroath.
Cross. 66. pretined indexe Australia. The His Honour Joan Herrert wroam. Cowes 66, retired judge, Australia, The transportation of child criminals. Ms Barbara Ynes, Carlisle, 48, health and fitness development officer, US, Physical activity challenges for the older

Forthcoming marriages

Mr R.W.G. Chiesman

and Miss V.J.L. Shaw

Mr C.J. Dutton and Miss A.J. Musson

Mr M.C.L. Parkinson

and Miss C.V. McKeown

Canada.

The engagement is amounted between Richard, son of Mr and Mrs David Chiesman of Blackheath, and Victoria (Victoria

daughter of Mr and Mrs Andrew Shaw, of Edgware, Middleser

The engagement is announced

between Christopher John, eder, son of Mr and Mrs Robert Duton, of Maidstone, Kent, and Annabe

Jane, daughter of Mr and Mrs

Andrew Musson of Tomato

The engagement is announced between Michael only son of Wing Commander and Mrs Richard Parkinson, of Felixstowe, Sulfolk and Clare, second daughter of-Brigadier and Mrs John McKeown

The engagement is announced

between Andrew, son of Colone and Mrs Hugh Sandars, of Micheldever. Hampshire, and Victoria, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs David Nelson, of Old

Gledstone near Skipton North

Mrs Timothy Simon, and Emma, younger daughter of Mrs Susan

The forthcoming marriage is announced and will take place on June 12 1999, at St Stephen's

Sparsholt, Winchester, between

William Stenning and Denise

The engagement is announced between Robert, youngest son of the late Major Tom Woods and of Mrs Patricia Woods, of Poyntington, Dorset, and Lorna, only daughter of the Hon Simon and Mrs.

Maxwell, of Westcote, Oxfordshire of Cawood. North Yorkshire.

Mr A.G. Sandars

Yorkshire.

Cravson.

Lloyd.

Church news

Mr M.M. Simon

Mr W.N. Stenning

Mr R.G.S. Woods

and Miss LS.K. Maxwell

and Miss D.R. Lloyd

and Miss E.S. Crayson The engagement is announced between Mathew, son of Mr and

and Miss V.J. Nelson

Mr P. Baillic and Miss V.J. Hornby

The engagement is announced between Paul, son of the late Mr Patrick Baillie and of Mrs Baillie. of Henfield, West Sussex, and Ginny, daughter of Mr and Mrs Peter Hornby, of Minety, Wiltshire.

Mr A.J.R. Berens and Miss E.L.E. Holland

The engagement is announced between Archie, elder son of Mr and Mrs Henry Berens, of Bentworth, Hampshire, and Emma only daughter of Mr and Mrs John Holland, of Cardiff. South Glamorgan.

Mr R.O. Brown and Dr F.L.M. Haworth

The engagement is announced between Rupert, younger son of Mr and Mrs Peter Brown, of Hellingly, East Sussex, and Fiona. younger daughter of Mr and Mrs Nigel Haworth, of Waddington. Lancashire. The wedding will take place in August.

beneits of toot rot eraducation in steep. Mr Robin Ruddock, Porrusth, 42, assistant warden, Argentina, Coustal kayaking and the environment. Ms Jay Rutovia: Todmorden, 43, energy and conservation coordinator. Holland, Switzerland, Sweden and Canada. Zero energy and low energy communities and buildings. Ms Arma Sansom. Edunburgh. 25. re-search occupational therapist. Australia. Hospital discharge planning for people Hospital discharge pianning an peopularith strokes.

Mr Athelston Sealey, Birmingham, 41, self-employed entrepreneur, US, Strategies for developing sustainable minority-owned enterprises.

Miss Linzi Selwwright, Cupar, 25, senior ranger. New Testand, Anisnal welfare implications of national park development.

ment.

MS Deborah Shaw, Horley, 42 research scientist, Medical Toxicology Unit. Australia. Chinese herbal medicine - efficacy and safety in practice.

Mr Sandy Stater. Fort William, 44, management consultant. Norway and Ireland, Best practice support for small businesses in rural areas.

businesses in rural areas.

The Rev Willy Slavin, Glasgow, St. hospital chaplain. Chartered Psychologist, US and Canada, Care of immune system in lates users.

gist, US and Canada, Care of immune system in later years. Miss Sarah Smith, London, 37. schools library services ibrarian, US. Schools library services. Mrs Jean Stogdon, London, 70. guardian ad linem punel, US, Grandparents - their value to children, lamilies and communi-

Mr. Halvor Tasker, Ossett, 65. wood finisher, France, Wood finishing and restorative techniques.

Ms Lesley Thomson, Glasgow, 30. educational psychologist. Germany, Early literacy skills teaching.

Mrs Selina Tipping, Blackpool, 43, information systems officer, Singapore, Universal internet access.

Mr D.W. Browne and Miss E.C. Storey The engagement is announced between Darran, son of Mr and Mrs Stuart Browne, of Wolston. Warwickshire, and Eleanor, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Tom Storey, of Lower Beeding, West Sussex.

Mr F.W.H. Ghali and Miss L.G. Buchanan

The engagement is announced between Farid, only son of Mr and Mrs W.H.R. Ghali, of Charlotte, North Carolina, and Lorna, younge daughter of the late Mr T.O. Buchanan, and of Mrs P.M. Buchanan, of Rhu, Argyll and

Mr T.E.H. James and Miss C.D.P.G. Agnew The engagement is announced between Tim, elder son of Mr and Mrs Nicholas James, of West Linton, Peebles-shire, and Charlotte, daughter of Mr Rudolph Agnew, of Kington Langley, Wiltshire, and The Hon Mrs Clare Agnew, of Fulham, London.

> Charge, Horsley St Clement (Derby): to be Vicar, Heckmondwike, (Wakefield).

Gravesend Holy Family w Ifield (Rochester): to be Priest-in-Change Eastington and Frocester, and Standish w Haresfield and Moreton Valence w Whitminster The Rev Martin Burnell, Curate, Canterbury St Mary Bredin (Canterbury): to be Vicar, Cranbrook (same diocese). The Rev Judith Carpenter, Curate,

The Rev Richard Amys, Rector.

Appointments

Warmley, Syston and Bitton (Bristol): to be Vicar, Withywood (same The Rev Stuart Dvas Vicar.

Nottingham St Jude (Southwell): to be Vicar, Long Eaton St John (Derby). The Rev David Eady, NSM, Stratton, North Cerney, Bauntor and Bagendon with special responsibility for North Cerney and Bagendon (Gloucester): to be NSM Priest-in-Charge, Swindon w Uckington and Elmstone Hardwicke (House for duty) (same diocese). Canon James Harkins SSC, Chaplain, Venice St George, Italy (Europe): to be Priest-in-Charge Menton St John, France (same

The Rev Bruce Harrison, Vicar, Glaisdale (York): has been appointed Rector, Brotton Parva (same diocese). The Rev David Horton, Vicar, Joydens Wood St Barnabas (Ro-chester): to be Priest-in-Charge, The Rev Victor Howlett, Curate, Greater Corsham (Bristol ): to be Vicar, Wick w Doynton and Dyrham (same diocese). The Rev Peter Swales, Priest-ip-

The Rev Justyn Terry, Curate, Paddington St John the Evangelist v St Michael (London): to be Vicar. Kensington St Helen w Holy Trinity (same diocese). The Rev Andrew Tyler, Priest-in-Charge, Norwich St Giles (Nor-: wich): to be Priest-in-Charge, Norwich Over-the-Water St Mary Magdalene (same diocese). The Rev Peter Watkins, Vicar." Wolston and Church Lawford, and Rural Dean of Rughy (Coventry): has been appointed Vicar, Finham: ( St Martin in the Fields (same

The Rev Brian Williams, part-time and temporary Assistant chaplain. Sandwell Healthcare NHS Trust. and NSM, Lichfield St Chad to continue as NSM, Lichfield St. ... Chad (same diocese). The Rev Richard Williams, Vicar, Alverston (Coventry): to be Rural Dean of Fosse (same diocese). The Rev Dave Wills, Assistant Curate. Chadwell St Marv (Chelmsford): has been appointed Priest-in-Charge, Darlaston Single Lawrence, and Curate, Darlaston All Saints (Lichfield). Retirements and resignations

The Rev David Hewitt. Homerton

St Luke (London) to retire July 9. The Rev Gerry Stevenson, Assistant Chaptain, HMP Wormwood Scrubs (London) retired January I. 17. The Rev Alan Torry, Vicar, Guival and Marazion (Truro) retired Janu-The Rev Michael Waters, NSM

Priest-in-Charge, Etton w Dalton Holme (York) retired March 14.

BMDS: 0171 680 6880 PRIVATE: 0171 481 4000

PERSONAL COLUMN

TRADE; 0171 481 1982 FAX: 0171 481 9313.

The crowds asked John, What should we do? John told them, "If you have two coats, give one to someone who doesn't have any. If you have food, share it with some-one else. Luke 3.10-11 (CEV).

BIRTHS

BOND - On 2nd April 1999 in Oxford, to Sarah (nee Collyer) and Kingsmill, splendid son, Oscar La

COVELL - On 31st March 1999, to Camills (née Alison) and Andrew, a daughter, Imogen Cicely. s sister for Olivia.

CURTIS - On April 3rd at The Portland Hospital, to Caroline ther Farrant) and Simon, a son, Sebastian, a brother for Humphrey.

31st at The Royal Free Hospital, to Sarah and Jonathan, a daughter, Rosamund Ysolda, a sister KERNER - On 27th March at Gloneagles Hospital in Singapore, to Sarah inéo Lolahman) and Clive, a daughter, Cordelia Frederick and Emily.

KING - On March 20th 1999 to Caroline (nee Searle) nd Cilos, a daughte sebe Rose, a sister for Ben and Lucy.

McCORMICK - On April 2nd 1999, to Mikala (née Molbech) and Michael, a daughter, Molly Katherine, sister to

BIRTHS MEUER - On 3rd April 1999 Wouter, a son, Thomas Peter.

reter. SIMPSON - On March 30th 1999, to Clare thee Harland) and lan, a daughter, Annabel Marina a sister for George. SOUTH - On 29th March 1999, to Nicola (née Ellis) and Jeremy, a son. Oliver TARRANT - On 18th March 1999 at King's College Hospital, to Adele Louise Inée Robertson; and Stephen Lloyd, a son, Joshua Lloyd,

DIAMOND ANNIVERSARIES

Guthrie and Dorothy, now resident in Cornwall, celebrate 60 years of marriage today Congratulations from all friends and family. Priests and taminy.
PAGE-SWAN - John and Cynthia at St George's Church Baghdad on 8th April 1939. Now at The Cottago. Hockenhull Lane.
Tarvin, Chester CH3 8LB.

DEATHS

ANGLIN - Eric, retired Diplomat and Compa Diplomat and Company Director of Aberdeen Sea Products, died of cancer Easter Sunday 4th April 1999.

To place death notices, acknowledgements or notices please call

0171 680 6880

DEATHS

BARCLAY - Ivor of Ovingdean. On April 1st. 1999, passed away peacefully in hospital, aged 76 years. Very much loved husband of Elisabeth dearly loved father of Christopher and Flona, and dear grandad of Oliver and Robert, Funeral Service at St Wulfran's Church. Grostways, Ovingdean, or Wulfran's Church, Greenways, Ovingdean, on Monday April 12th, at 3.30pm. Family Rowers only please, If desired, donations for The Martlets Hospico may be sent to Christopher Stringer Funeral Services, 67, High Street Rettingdens, Foot Street, Rottingdean, East Sussex, BN2 7HE, Tel: 01273-306000.

BIRCHENOUGH - On 4th April, peacefully in the Conquest Hospital, Hastings, Humphrey Peter, agod 82. Dear father of Jane and the late Charles and stepfather to Jeremy and a dearly loved grandfather. Funeral service at St Mary's Church, Northlam, nr. Rye on Friday, 16th April at 2.45 pm. Family flowers only. Donations, if wished, payable to Cencer Research c/o J Perigoe & Son. Bank Street. Cranbrook, Kent. TN17 3EF. Tel: 01580 713836.

BOURKE BORROWES -Elisabeth Betty' (née Burgess and formerly married to R.N. Burton), died aged 93 on March 30th. Much loved by her sons Richard and Kildare and her five grandchildren. Funeral at Mortiake Crematorium, Friday 9th April at 1.30. Family and close friends

BOYD - John Malcolm on April 2nd aged 84, much loved husband of Clé and father of Nicholas. Matthew and Simon. Private funeral to be followed by a memorial service on Thursday April 15th at 2.30 pm at St Peter's Church, Draycott, near Cheddar, Somerset.

BRAIN - Lt-Col. Ronald Thompson. MC. Royal Engineers, peacefully on 5th April 1999, in his 90th year, For over 60 years devoted husband of the late Christabel (Wheatley)
Funeral Service at St
John's, Ladbroke Grove,
London WII. on Tuesday 13th April at 1 pm, followed by cramation.
Flowers to H.J. Beat, 343
Ladbroke Grove, W10 6HA; or donations, if desired, to King Edward desired, to King Edward 6HA; or donations, if desired, to king Edward VII Hospital for Officers, 1 Bentinck Street, London

UNCH - Katherine Louise Staunton on Easter Sunday 4th April after a brief tilness aged 93, of Sherborne, Dorset, Dearly loved sunt, great-aunt and good friend. Services Castleton Church, Sherborne, Friday April 9th at 2.30 pm. Flowers or donations if desired for Y.W.C.A. c/o Easons
Eugent Director Staumton on East

CROSSLEY - Anna Audrey peacefully at Lymington Hospital on April 2nd aged 96. Memorial Service at All Saints Church. Dibden at 10.30 am Monday 19th April. Flowers or if wished donations to the R.N.L.I. Funeral Director. R. Hallam, Holbury. Southampton SO45 2PA.

DAY - R. Anne (née Arnold) peacefully on Easter Sunday April 4th 1999 aged 88 at Little Court Nursing Home, Spekthurat, Beloved wife

Nursing more.

Speldhurst, Beloved wife of the late Geoffrey M.
Day of Maidstone, Sutton Valence and Lenham, Kent and adored mother of Felleity, Peter, Susan and Timothy and devoted grandmother, Funeral grandmother. Funeral Service at Charing Crematorium Tuesday 13th April at 2 pm. Family flowers only please. Donations if desired to Imperial Cancer Resea Fund via Hickmott & S 41 Grove Hill Road, Tunbridge Wells TN1 1SD.

DOREY - Sheila Margaret Inde Rounthwalte, dearly loved wife of Michael and mother of Helen and Hugh and a much loved granny, died peacefully at home on 5th April after a long illness borne with great atta April atter 3 long illness borne with great courage. Funeral at All Hallows' Church. Henhat on Monday 12th April at 10.30 am. followed by private cremation. Family Ilowers only. Donations 10 Leukaemia Research.

EVANS - On 4th April at Haslemere John Winston, husband of the late Ingeborg. Formerly of F.A.O. Rome, No flowers please. Enquiries to G.M. Luff & Partners Ltd. - 01428 543524. RENFELL - Vladimir died 8th April 1999, aged 79, after a long illness. Husband of Rachel, father of Ana and David, Funera

ROWERS - Michael Henry. lover of life and challenge, on April 3rd, aged 67, peacefully at home after an illness fought with characteristic courage and determination. Beloved husband of Jean and adored father of Louise and Mima and dearly loved grandpa of Barley. A Service of Thankegiving will be held at St Mary Magdalene Church, Stoke Bishop, at 12 noon on Wednesday, 14th April followed by private Bishop, at 12 noon on Wednesday, 14th April followed by private cremation. Family flowers only, but any donations in his memory, may be sent to Macanillan Nurses c/o Co-operative Funeral Services, 20 High Street, Westbury on Trym.

HAWKINS - Sir Howard Caesar, Bt. Peacefully in hospital in Cape Town on 2nd April, aged 42 years.
A much loved son, brother and uncle who will be dearly missed by his loving lamily and all who knew him. A Memorial Service will be held at The Church of the Immaculate of the Immaculate

To place death notices, acknowledgements or notices please call 0171 680 6880

OHNSTONE - Major Hube Ian Noel Hope on March 31st, peacefully in

Ian Noel Hope on March 31st, peacefully in hospital, aged 84. Much loved father of Robin and Rosanna and grandfather of Clars and Oliver.
Belowed husband of Elizabeth Family only cremation. Thanksgiving Service will be held on 29th April at St lohn the Evangelist, Sutton Veny, Warminster. Wiltshire at 4 pm. No flowers please.
Donations if desired, to Ex-Services Mental Welfare Society,
Broadway, London SW19
1RL.

KELSALI - Colonei John Michael trend) late R.C.T. on Monday 28th March 1899 after a long illness.
Much loved husband and very special friend of Jean, brother of Barbara.
Funeral Service on Monday 12th April at Holy Trinity Church. Greys Hill, Henley-on-Thames at 2pm. Family flowers only, donations if desired to The Renal Fund, Royal Berkshire Hospital, c/o
Tomalin & Son: Tel
01491-573370.

(ENAD.RAN - Arto passed away peacefully shortly before his 89th birthday before his 39th birthday.
The funeral service will take place on Thursday 15th April at Ivy Cottage Church, Didsbury at 1.30pm, fellowed by interment at Southern Cometery. Any donations to the Crusaders Union, 3 Roundard Hill St. Album
Roundard Hill St. Album Roundend Hill, St Albans AL3 4ET. All enquiries to William Peacock tol: 445 3397.

LACY - Margaret Agnes.
Died peacefully at Guildford Hospital on March 29th aged 88. Wife of the late William Lacy.
Will be always remembered for her laughter and cheerfulness and kindness to those in need. Will be greatly missed by her son Steriling and the rest of her family.
During her ille time she gave very generously to charities, friends and relations. Funeral Service at Guildford Crematorium on Tuesday 13th April 12 midday. Family flowers only please. Donstions to Help the Aged c/o Mullard Funerals. 12! High Street,
Godelming, GU7 1AQ.

McCAFRY - Joseph Noel Pitxpatrick. Died peacefully on April 6th aged 56. Service and Interment at St Joseph's
R.C. Church, Bishop
Thorston, Harrogate, North Yorkshire on Tuesday April 13th at 11am. Family flowers only please, donations if dealred to the Macmillan Harrogate & District desired to the Macmilian Harrogate & District Appeal, Harrogate District Hospital, Lancaster Park Road, Harrogate HG2 7SX. No letters please.

NEVE - Lorna Margaret.
Died peacefully in her sleep on 5th April 1999, agod 95, Much loved Annt of Nicholas and Patricia Neve, Great-Aunt of James, Simon and Christopher, and revered and amusing Irlend to many generations. A "short' service will be held at Hareford Crematorium at 2 pm on Thursday April 15th. Details of a service of thanksgiving, to be held at Benendon, Kent, in June, will be announced later.

PECK - Bob died after a long iliness on April 4th aged 53. He will be sadly missed by his wife Jill and children Hannah, George children Hannah, George and Milly, The funeral sorvice will take place at St John's Church, Spencer Hill, Wimbledon on Wednesday 14th April at 11 am, followed by private cremation. No flowers but donations if desired to Magic Bullet Fund c/o F. W. Paine. 29 Coombe Road, Norbiton, Kingstonupon-Thames, Surrey K72 7AY, tel: (0181) 548-4813.

PIERCE - Col. Thomas A.

(R.W.F.), of Lon-y-Lian, Valley, Anglesey, beloved husband of the late Enid, died on April 6th after a short illness, stoically borne. His love, iriendship, integrity and humour will be greatly missed by all his family and his many friends but most especially by his sons, Howard and lanto, their wives Gillian and Reiden, his grandchildren Huw, Tristan, Ingrid and Ewan, his sisters Jessie and Efrys, his brother William, his sister-in-law Mons and brother-in-law David and his many nices and brother-in-law David and his many nieces and nephews. The funeral service will be held at St bithangal yn Nhowyn (The Church at R.A.F. Valley) on Monday 12th April at 12 mid-day followed by a private cremation. Donations in lieu of flowers gratefully received towards the fund for the maintenance of St Mary's Churchyard at maintenance of St Mary Churchyard at Llanfairneubwil per Griffith Roberts & Son, Preswylfa, Valley, Anglescy, LL65 3E A.

REX - Beryl, peacefully at home in Winchester on 2nd April 1999. Formerly of Halsey Street, Chelaes and Tangier. Beloved wife of the late Leon Rex. Funeral Service at 5° ot the tate Leon Rex. Funeral Service at St Mary's Chapel, Chesil House, Winchester on Tuesday 13th April at 2.30pm. Enquiries to Juc. Steel & Son, tel: (01962) 844044.

RICHARDS - Marjorie Josephine (née Enthoven) aged 82 on April 4th in the Cheises and Westminster Hospital. Much loved mother of Mary, Francher and Hugh, srandmother of and Hugh, grandmother of four. Requiem Mass at St Francis of Assist, Pottery Lane, Will on Friday Apr Lane, Wil on Friday Apri 9th at 11 am. Flowers welcome or donations if preferred to CAFOD. Funeral Directors John Nodes, 181 Ladbroke Grove, W10, tel: (0181) 969–1819.

SANDERS - James Alexand (Jim) in a tragic accident on Easter Monday 5th April 1999, Much loved son, brother and friend Funeral at 12 noon on Tuesday 13th April at the Holy Redeemer, Cheyne Row, London SW3 Flowers to Chel Funeral Directors, 260b Fulham Road, London SW 10 (0171-352 0008) burial at Bromotou

SCADDAN - Jean (née Duff) died suddenly on Easter Sunday aged 79. Sadly missed by all her loving family. Funegal 14th April at 11.15 am Sunbury Methodist Church.
Donations if desired to British Heart Foundation
c/o Lodge Bros., Sunbury Cross, Middlesex.

----

-462 to page 12

ا حكدا من الاجل

PERSON VI

-7

TIC

14 1 Le 143

1 " I. gr

ونوشر الأوا

- 7 2 3

-- --

**`§

Bob Peck, actor. died of cancer on April 4 aged 53. He was born on August 23, 1945.

highly adaptable and accomplished actor Bob Peck was well known to audiences at both the Ruyal Shakespeare Company and the National Theatre, and had appeared in many films and television dramas, often of a socially committed kind. As he said when he played Tom Paine at the Donmar Warehouse in 1989: "Ir's nice to be able to sympathise with what you're having to say."

He had acted in Pinter, Avckbourn and Chekhov, played lago at Stratford, and appeared in more than 20 television parts, and in 1993 he came to international attention when he appeared in the dinosaur movie Jurassic Park Particularly after his success in the television drama Edge of Parkness, he tended to be cast in cour, introspecive parts, but he also enjoyed comedy when the chance arose.

The son of a Yorkshire insurance man and the second of three brothers. Bob Peck did a diploma at Leeds College of Art and was a keen amateur actor, but not initially sure what exceer to follow. He had been with the National Youth Theatre in London as a teenager, but loathed it. He was painting scenery when he was offered his first acting jobby Alan Ayckbourn in Scarborouth: Mr Whatnot in Mr Whatnot.

Several years of touring in rep followed, unil he finally audinoned for a David Storey play at the Royal Court. After that, he did a short stint in Birmingham before joining the RSC in 1975

There he began by playing Malvolio on regional tour; he would eventually go on to play Macbeth, Caliban and Edward Bond's Lear in a single season. "By the time I got to Enobarbus," he recalled, "I was so tired I kept falling asleep during the rehearsals." Along the way he had a part in the RSC's enormously successful Nicholas Nickleby and in the subsequent film. Rather reticent and more shy about his feelings than many in his profession, he was occasionally known as "Pause Peck" because of his Yorkshire silences. He was respected as a good company actor, however, and was given parts by most of the RSC directors, including Ronald Eyre, Howard Davies, Barry Kyle, John Caird, Adrian Noble and Bill Alexander.

Peck's time at the RSC coincided with the best years of Trevor Nunn's regime, and the two men enjoyed a productive relationship, but working for the company meant that Peck never came home before 11.30 at night, and with young children he was ready for a change by the time he left in 1984.

He did not have to wait long for a major television success. In the 1985 thriller series Edge of Darkness, about the threat of nuclear pollution. Peck played a detective who penetrates a secret underground reactor while searching for the true cause of his daughter's death. Tall and good looking, with a certain quizzical seriousness, Peck was well suited to play the part of the family man caught up in a plot or a BOB PECK

Peck in 1985, the year that Edge of Darkness made him a television star - of a rather forbidding kind disaster, and the makers of such grim dramas were to turn to him again and again.

Much of the action of the series, which boasted music by Eric Clapton, was filmed in a cavernous disused mine in Wales which had been used to store works of art during the war. "We spent three weeks in the depths of the earth without seeing any daylight," Peck said. The conditions were far from ideal for filming - with rats running around, water dripping down the walls and fears that the shoot-out scenes might bring down the roof — but Peck came away with a great regard for the miners who had hewn eerie caverns the size of St Paul's by brute force.

At the Bafta awards, Edge of Darkness was voted Best Drama Serial of the Year, with Peck as Best Actor, and after the Chernobyl disaster, it was shown in Greece, Sweden and Denmark. Convinced of the dangers that the series had highlighted. Peck subsequently became involved in anti-nuclear pressure groups.

There were occasional gaps in his schedule — at one time he was recording voiceovers for BP, British Gas, British Steel and the Coal Board - but generally he was able to choose the kind of cerebral, challenging work he enjoyed. This included a television drama about the first days of the Falklands conflict, An Ungentlemanly Act. which was largely filmed on the islands, and Who Bombed Birmingham?, about the Birmingham Six. Other work included The Taming of the Shrew for Radio 3.

By 1987 he was as busy as any actor could wish, and appearing in a host of different media. That year he appeared on television in Simon Gray's black comedy After Pilkington, in the film of Bruce Chatwin's On the Black Hill, in Alan Ayckbourn's National Theatre hit A Chorus of Disapproval, and in his first commercial West End production. Ronald Harwood's J. J. Farr at the Phoenix Theatre with Albert Finney.

During the making of On the Black Hill, Peck had to learn various pastoral tasks, such as ploughing, and was also required to throw himself in front of a wild horse to be kicked to death - but the animal would not co-operate, and eventually Peck had to be disposed of by other means. "I've worked with them all," he said, "dogs, sheep, horses, amateurs, first-time directors . . .

Directors liked him, not least for his patience when a scene had to be shot repeatedly. Robert Young, for instance, paid tribute to his "amazing ability to reproduce what appear to be spontaneous moments again and again without effort".

ln 1989 Peck played in Arthur Miller's short new theatre piece Two-Wav Mirror at the Young Vic. where David Thacker had so impressed the American playwright, and the following year he was there again as Walter in Miller's The Price (1968).

Also at the end of the 1980s he was to be seen in the BBC's One Way Out, playing an architect whose ex-wife is attacked in front of their children, moving him to vengeance. Shortly beforehand, Peck's own wife, Jill Baker, had starred in a drama about mistreatment of children, and the couple were characteristically affected by the parts they played.

Further television work followed, including the psychological thriller Children Crossing and a play about the Romanian Revolution. with Bernard Hill. In 1992 Peck played an advertising executive trying to find the killer of his former girlfriend in David Pirie's three-part thriller Natural Lies, a controversial and polemical piece about the danger of BSE spreading to human beings.

In 1995 Peck's performance as Rutherford in Githa Sowerby's Rutherford and Son at the Nation-Theatre was nominated for a Laurence Olivier Award. Last year he had a part in a radio play by Howard Brenton about Suez, with Alec McCowen and Trevor Peacock, and was seen on television in the unpleasant tale of rural perversion The Scold's Bridle.

Bob Peck's cancer was diagnosed several years ago, just before he was due to fly to Australia to act the part of a cancer specialist in Children of the Dragon. He had surgery and did not work for several months. He is survived by his wife and by their son and two

WILLIAM PLEETH

William Pleth, cellist, died on April 6 aged 83. He was born on lanuary 12, 1916.

WILLIAM PLEETH was one of Britain's finest cellists. whose rerown as a teacher was spread even wider through his most celebrated pupil, Jacqueline du Pré. She was sent to study with him when the was ten, and her progress was such that she won the Suggia Gift in the next year and a year later still, at Pleah's recommendation. male her first public appearance with a brilliant performusce of Lab's Cello Concerto i the Guildhall School of Ausic under Norman Del

Some film from later in her areer shows teacher and upil in duets, with Pleeth cappily setting and following xample, the music passing etween them as a creative onversation. She liked to efer to him as her "cello laddy". He was much less uppy when it was falsely lileged that he had coached he actress for the recent film illary and Jackie, from which he sharply dissociated

Pleeth was a major artist in is own right, whose career aight have gone turther and igher with a greater drive of ploistic ambition As it was. -e becarne best known as a hamber musician. Born in ondon, he studied from the ge of seven at the London cademy and London Cello chool. He then went to eipzig to Julius Elengel, a dry nist but a skilled and responve teacher whose pupils had included Suggia, Feuermann Blech Quartet, remaining with his debut there with the Gewandhaus Orchestra in 1932 in Haydn's concerto, then his British debut at the Grotrian Hall in London in the following year.

William Pleeth with his pupil Jacqueline du Pré

His vigorous and impassioned musicianship (well matched to the strong, warm tone he drew from his 1732 Stradivarius) quickly brought him to public attention, both as a soloist for whom various composers were happy to write works and as a sonata player. He toured internationally and his recordings include much admired performances of sonatas by Brahms, Mendelssohn and Grieg.

cellist of the Allegri Quartet from its foundation in 1953 until 1967. Members of both quartets considered him the finest chamber music cellist they had worked with, one who did not say much in rehearsal but who contributed immensely to their perform-

He was also in demand by other quartets for works requiring an extra cello. With the Amadeus Quartet he frequently played Schubert's C major Quintet, in whose sublime Adagio the extra cello becomes something of a soloist in his own right, duetting with the first violin. Pleeth's artistry In 1936 Pleeth joined the with the Amadeus leader, Norbert Brainin, can be appreciated on their famous record of the work. It was their performance in a concert that inspired Jacqueline du Pré's mother to seek him out as a teacher for her daughter.

In 1948 Pleeth's qualities brought him as Professor of Cello and Chamber Music to the Guildhall School, where he remained for thirty years. His kindness to students was legendary, though this never meant any relaxing of standards, whether over matters of interpretation or with the subtle and selfless skills involved in chamber music. He was also expert as a director of masterclasses, in which his exuberant personality worked upon students by different means. Every student was to him an individual, with particular gifts to be brought out.

Pleeth's achievements were publicly recognised by his appointment as OBE in 1989. e regard in which he was held by his colleagues and by students of several generations was shown when a large gathering assembled at the Wigmore Hall in April 1996 for his 80th birthday. The concert included works by Mozart and Haydn, as well as Schubert's C major Quintet, in which the extra cellist was his son Anthony. It was a characteristic gesture that he should have donated proceeds from the concert to the Jacqueline du Pré memorial research fund for multiple sclerosis.

His is survived by his wife Margaret Good, with whom he often performed, and by a daughter and a son, the cellist Anthony Pleeth.

RED NORVO

Red Norvo, jazz musician, died on April 6 aged 91. He was born on March 31, 1908.

RED NORVO'S efforts established the xylophone - which had been regarded as little more than a vaudeville novelty instrument — as a distinc-tive voice in jazz. Along with Lionel Hampton, he also pioneered the more mellow tones of the vibraphone. A man of impeccable fastes, he won the respect of musicians as distinctive as Charles Mingus and Frank Sinatra.

Norvo's nickname derived from the bright red hair that he inherited from his Scottish ancestors. Born Kenneth Nor-ville, he gained his new surname by mistake early in his career when a reviewer repeated a master of ceremonies' error of pronunciation. Grateful for publicity of any kind, Norvo decided not to bother seeking a correction. The son of a railway di er, he grew up in Beardstown on the Illinois River, and as a boy was captivated by the riverboat entertainers and dance bands that passed through. One formative experience was hearing the legendary cornet player Bix Beiderbecke with the saxophonist Frankie Trumbauer, Later, Norvo was to make a startling version of Beiderbecke's impressionistic piano study In a Mist.

Norvo also claimed to have heard Louis Armstrong for the first time on a riverboat. In his early teens he fell under the spell of the marimba, which he had heard being played in a theatre pit band. He took a labouring job on the railway to save up money to buy a xylophone, and taught himself the rudiments.

Vaudeville beckoned, but Norvo was eager to move on and took up a job with NBC in Chicago in 1929. It was while playing alongside the popular concert orchestra of Paul Whiteman — the self-styled "King of Jazz" -- that Norvo met his future wife, the singer Mildred Bailey. They married in 1930.

By this stage Norvo was also playing the new-fangled vibraphone (or vibraharp, as he preferred to call it), a variant on the xylophone with aluminium keys set above fan-driven resonating tubes to create a fuller vibrato.

He prided himself on not relying on mechanical enconcentrating rather on weaving attractive

Red Norvo turned the vibraphone into a serious voice in the jazz firmament melodic lines and forceful Dizzy Gillespie. Tracks such

Despite resembling a seaside postcard image of enormous wife and thin husband, Bailey and Norvo developed a profound musical understanding, and in the 1930s they were dubbed "Mr and Mrs Swing". Norvo's compact band was lead-ing one of the most intelligent groups in the jazz world, providing a congenial home for the arranger Eddie Sauter, who went on to great success with Benny Goodman and Stan Getz. Overshadowed by the raucous playing of bands such as Goodman's, however, Norvo failed to make a strong impression with the dance-crazy public. Bailey's worsening diabetes was another blow, curtailing her touring schedule. Her temperamental make-up increasingly strained the marriage, and they divorced in 1943 though they remained friends until Bailey's prema-ture death in 1951. Unable to sustain his own band in a hostile economic environment, Norvo joined Benny Goodman's immaculate sextet in 1944, by which time he had switched almost entirely to the vibraphone. Unlike Goodman and most swing players, he was sympathetic to the angular new sounds of bebop fermenting in New York's clubs.

In 1945 he organised a ground-breaking recording session for the Comet label, bringing together old-school musicians such as the pianist Teddy Wilson and the Young Turks Charlie Parker and striking blend of styles old and new. "Bird and Diz were dirty words for musicians of my generation," Norvo later explained. "But jazz had always gone through changes, and in 1945 we were in the middle of another one. Bird and Diz were saying new things in an exciting way. I had a free hand, so I gambled." In the postwar years Norvo settled in California. His taste for challenges had drawn him to a subtle trio format, creating ethereal "chamber jazz". without drums or piano. The guitarist Tal Farlow played a key role in a group of three equals, and Norvo's talentspotting instincts were underlined when he recruited a young bassist, Charles Mingus, who went on to establish himself as arguably the most significant bandleader of the modern era. Even Mingus was intimidated by the brisk tempos that Norvo laid down for his sidemen. The more reflective side of Norvo's music received ample exposure on a 1957 date, Just a Mood, with the tenor saxophonist Ben Wehster and the trumpeter Harry Edison. The tracks were later reissued on an elegant RCA Bluebird disc, which also featured collaborations with reeds player Jimmy Giuffre and trumpeter Shorty Rogers.

Norvo's relationship with Rogers extended beyond the recording studio; in 1946 he had married Rogers's sister, Eve.

In 1939 Norvo had been one ciate the artistry of the young Frank Sinatra. He was in fact so impressed that he offered him a job. Sinatra, however, was already committed to a contract with the bandleader Harry James.

Sinatra remained an admirer of Norvo's style nevertheless. It was no coincidence that one of the best of the singer's early Capitol albums. Swing Easy, features a vibraphonebased backing group - or that Norvo's early sideman Bill Miller went on to serve as Sinatra's accompanist for some 40 years. In the 1950s Sinatra helped to find work for Norvo in Las Vegas and hired him for a sequence in the film Kings Go Forth.

The relationship came to fruition in a series of concerts in 1959. A recording of one performance, in Melbourne, Australia, was finally given an official release on a Blue Note disc in 1997. Despite the less than perfect sound quality, it fully justified claims that Norvo's immaculate quintet prompted some of the most relaxed and effervescent sing-ing Sinatra ever put on record.

Hopes of a reunion were dashed by scheduling problems. Norvo, though, remained active far into old age, venturing forth from his Santa Monica home for dates with Tal Farlow and other peers until a stroke ended his career. Eve Rogers died in 1992. Norvo is survived by his

PERSONAL COLUMN

PEATHS TOTT - Joseph Frederick, passed away peacefully at passed away peacefully at home in Hove on April 5th aged 90. Dearly loved by his wife Julie and children his wife Julie and children and step-children Pat, Jenaifer, Susan, Paul and Michael, Chris and Suzanne, and by many prandchildren, and by his late wife Anne. Service at Woodwale Brighton Crematorium (North Chapel) on Monday April 12th at 1.30 pan. Enquirles and flowers please to Bungard & Sons Ltd., Funeral Directors Funeral Directors 01273-820018.

> HURSTON - Minnie Audres - On 5th April 1999, in Reigate. Aged 98 years. Widow of Maurice J. Thurston, Much loved aunt and friend. Funeral service on Thursday 15th April 11.30 am at Buckland Church followe by cremation at Surrey 4d Sussex Cremato Panily flowers only.
>
> denations if desired to > P.D.S.A. or Age Concern c/o Stoneman Funeral Service, Doran Court, Reigate Road, Redhill, RHI 6AZ.

"G-IT-BOYCOTT -Alexander Hubert Peter of Newnham, Northants., died at home on 2nd April The funeral service will lake place on Tuesday 13t Agril at the Counties Crematerium. Milton Malsor, Northempton at 19th. Family flowers only by request. Any enquiries to John Ward & Son Funeral Pictors and Fineral Directors, tel: 013271 300033.

WATSON - A R C "Raiph" died peacefuily on Easter Sunday aged 88 years. The dearly loved husband of Daphne and of the late Joy Saxton. Wonderful father of Anni, David and Terence and loved and respected step-father of Peter, Marion. Susan and Richard Griffiths. Dear brother of Milly Jagues Richard Griffiths. Dear brother of Milly Jaques and the late Jimmy Watson. Grandfather to 18 and great-grandfather of 5. Ralph was a master at Papplewick School. Ascot from 1960-1978. The Service of Thanksgiving will be at St. John's Church, Windlesham on Monday 12th April at Monday 12th April at noon. Please wear bright colours. No flowers but lonations to the donations to the MacMillan Nurses Fund c/o Funeral Directors. Ford Mears, 26 Frimley High Street, Frimley.

YATES - Frances Elizabeth White passed away peacefully on Tuesday morning. Beloved mother and grandmother. There will be a funeral service at
c. Pater's I unabmers at St Peter's Lynchmere at 2.30 pm on Saturday 17th IN MEMORIAM -

PRIVATE BARKLEY - 8th April 1995. From those who will always remember - a time we will never forget. Paul and Margaret.

SERVICES

WANTED MAK CDATS, for coats purchase Best price puid. Please san enquires à derails to box 5787 TICKETS FOR SALE

ull AVAIL Springereen, Jamist qual REM, All Pop, Theater Engley & Sport 0171 536 0781 Chicago, Salgna. All pep & spo We deliver. 0271 930 5636

FIRST CLASS ENTEKTAINMENT RUGBY WALES ENGLAND HOSPITALITY PACKAGES TEL: 0181 970 2600 TEL: 0181 970 2610

ALL TICKETS 5 NATIONS ENG v SWEDEN BRITISH GRAND PRO ROYAL ASCOT BROCE SPRINGSTEEN 0171 283 4040 CREDIT CARD HOTLINE

CORPORATE HOSPITALITY ALL TICKETS 5 NATIONS WORLD CUP RUGBY
GRAND PRUX
FOOTBALL, ASCOT
CRICKET, ETC
TEI 01675 448949

TEL 01875 44

FLATSHARE TICKETS FOR SALE

quiet ground floor garden (21). Non amoker, £364 pcm. Tab 0171 381 5032 10am-10pm. TWE HAYDON Champ. VA Co Semia, Engly World Cup. Eng Sweden Cickes WiCup. Ascr Linch McCartney Caprity, Ascr Linch McCartney Caprity, A Grand Prix. Lion King, Wrensh don Deb Major sport, Wester thantre 0171, 394 8283 CC* HARE-A-FLAT Ltd. For a fast, con-venient, professional flat shar-ing service (0171) 464 4133 FLIGHTS

FOR SALE SMITHDATE Newspaper Oxigi 0800 906609.

CLASSIC Poeress' Gas Oven. Unique smrly 1970's design. Col-lectors. Heat. Excellent Condi-tion. Any offers considered. Please Call Tel 0271 680 632 (9 - 6) or 0171 207 2260 (eyes). THE TIMES - 1791 - 1999 other t ties swallable. Ready for presen-tation - also Sundays'. Remem-ber When, 0181 763 6362 or Call Free 0600 520000 ORK, PERMANT, siets, He terrecorta fingatomos 2 floor tiles. Cobble setts, stone troughs, masunkry service. Not & internet dei. Holley Bextall 01380 850039 (Wiles)

Legel, Public, Company & Parliamentary Notices To piace notices to bese 10 paica nonces un mese sections piesas Telephone 0171 (80 6576) Fax 0171 792 7930 Or Exeti Liegiumes@newsint.co.uk Or Email tri Jestures@newsint.co.ui Notees are subject to confirmation and should be received by 2.30pm two days prior to insertion.

DIRECTORY

EUROPE Worldwide how cost flights for ATOL ASTA Tel: 01626 333300

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COURT & SOCIAL FORTHCOMING MARRIAGES AND MARRIAGES are send Court page announcements by post/fax to: J Neema, Court & Social Advertising, The Times, PO Box 495, Virginis Street, London, E1 925. Tel: 0171 782 7347 Fax: 0171-782 7725 Please include in all correspondence: mature of either one of the parties concerned or a ent, a daytime and home telephone mumber and Advertisements for the Court page must be received two working days prior to publication and are accepted subject to confirmation.

Advertising Rate is £17.84 per line inc VAT.

LONDON PARKING: AN APPROVED LIST

IT IS a frequent complaint of motorists who desire to park their cars in the centre of London either that they are unaware of the parking places approved by the police or that these parking places are altered without the general public being informed of the fact. The matter has been raised in the House of Commons by Captain Arthur Evans, MP, who was informed that the Commissioner's practice has been to notify the allocation of parking places to the Royal Automobile Club. the Automobile Association, and the principal business houses and clubs in the vicinity. Any withdrawal from the list is notified in the samé way. An example of the difficulty of the motorist was given in a further answer by Mr. Godfrey Locker-Lampson, the Under-Secretary for Home Affairs, who stated that 32 persons had been summoned for leaving cars in Sackville Street and Albemarle Street after those places had been withdrawn from the Commission er's list of parking places. He added that notice of withdrawal had been given in the manner explained, and, for a period, a constable was posted there to warn persons against leaving their cars.

ON THIS DAY

April 8, 1925 坐身的心神

In 1925 a motorist in London could still legitimately park his car without any restriction in certain parts of Piccadilly, zent Street, Pall Mall or Berkeley Square. The list given here is not comprehensive.

In view of the difficulty experienced by motorists visiting London who do not know where they may safely park their cars, a list of approved parking stations has now been drawn up. The arrangements made for the most important West London thoroughfares most important West Lordon thoroughtanes are shown in the following list: PICCADILLY (between Berkeley Street and Hamilton Placet — On the south side of Piccadilly by the Park railings at the following places: From the post indicating the 10 miles speed limit opposite Hamilton Place to the lamp standard opposite No. 137, Piccadilly. Opposite the site for the Park Lane Hotel, keeping clear of the omnibus stopping place. From opposite the east end of No.105. Piccadilly, to a point opposite the west end of White Horse daughter, Portia.

Street. From the sand-bin opposue White Horse Street to a point opposite No.93 Piczachily. By the use of the north side of Sr. James's Square. PALL MALL — By the use of Waterloo Place and part of St.

PALL MALL—By the use of Waterloo Prace and part of St James's Square.

REGENT STREET (between Orderd Circus and Regent Circus) — At Golden Square, around the enclosure.

WARWICK STREET — At top leastern end) of Regent Place, by the church and extending in front of the Tolles'. CONDUIT STREET — The cab rank in the centre of the roadway may be used by "short-period" waiting vehicles, when the space is unoccupied or only sparsely used by rabs.

when the space is unoccupient or only sparsery uses by casts.

SAVILE ROW — On the castern side of the roadway, the front of Messrx. Proole's premises to be kept free. To be fed either through Vigo Street or New Bartington Street.

HANOVER SQUARE — Eastern portion of the square enclosure to be utilised as far as it is not occupied by the cab rank. The western portion of the square not appropristed and used as a cab standing.

BERKELEY SQUARE — On the east and west sides thereof need the railings of the garden enclosure.

BRUTON STREET — In the centre of roadway from the west side of South Bruton Mews, extending towards Berkeley Square.

GROSVENOR STREET — Beginning west of Avery Street, extending towards street, and all crustings.

BROOK STREET — In the centre of roadway from New Bond Street, extending westward as far as necessary, keeping clear of all crustings.

BROCK STREET — In the centre of roadway from New Bond Street, extending Westward as far as necessary, teeping clear of all crowveys.

NOETHUMBERLAND AVENUE — In the centre of the roadway in front of the Hotel Metropole, beginning cast of the relage opposite Great Sculand Yard and extending eastward to within ten yards of the hotel entrance. WHITEHALL COURT — In the centre of roadway, beginning ten yards west of the entrance to the National Liberal Club and extending as far as the building line of the War Office.

HORSE GUARDS AVENUE — Alongside the rathings on the north and south of Horse Guards Avenue, but not to extend to the premises of the Junior Army and Navy Club.

THE TIMES TODAY

BALKANS WAR

Macedonia evicts 30,000 refugees

■ The United Nations led the condemnation yesterday of a midnight raid by Macedonian troops to evict 30,000 refugees from their makeshift camp on the border. There was further alarm as the Serbs suddenly closed their borders at Blace and Jazince, ordering thousands of ethnic Albanians back to their homes in Kosovo. Nato officers fear they will be now used as human shields against allied attacks...... Reports. pages 1, 49

Cameras stalk Serbs

Yugoslav troops and paramilitaries are being monitored by an array of Western surveillance technology in the sky. When they dare to venture out, it is just a question of time before Nato bombers arrive...... .... Page 4

Human shields used

Consistently wrong-footing his Nato enemies. President Milosevic came up with a horrific new tactic: keeping Kosovo's remaining ethnic Albanians as human shields against Nato airstrikes on his armour and infantry rather than expelling them...... Page 7

Albright under fire

Madeleine Albright, the hawkish US Secretary of State, has come under heavy fire in the media for misreading President Milosevic and plunging America into a war in the Balkans without a clear idea of how to get out ...... Page 8

Protest stamp issued

Yugoslavia has issued an anti-Nato stamp in a mark of protest at the Allied airstrikes against its towns and cities. The issue depicts a bull's eye which has become the logo of Serb demonstrators. Beneath it is written "target" and "Yugoslavia"......

NEWS

Mardi Gra bomber faces long jail term

A 61-year-old man who waged a three-and-a-half-year campaign of terror across London and the Home Counties vesterday admitted he was the Mardi Gra bomber. Edgar Pearce faces a lengthy jail term after admitting that he tried to extort millions of pounds from Barclays Bank and Sainsbury's. Pearce, unemployed, planted a total of 36 explosive devices, the Old Bailey was told.

Contraception U-turn

The government has reversed policy on its advice on contraceptive pills, four years after its health warnings caused widespread panic among women and led to an estimated 30,000 abortions. The government said it "regretted" the abortions... Page 1

British tourist dies

A British schoolgirl has died in Australia while taking part in the increasingly popular adventure sport of canyoning, which involves hurtling along narrow river gorges and abseiling down ...Page 11

Mum donates liver

A 18-month-old baby saved by the donation of part of his mother's liver was doing well in hospital after a transplant that made British medical history. Luke Bettelley "is laughing and smiling and throwing his toys around," said his father David.

Women moving up

Women are gradually breaking into the male-dominated world of Asian business. There are now 16 women in the list of Britain's 200 richest Asians, according to an annual survey by Eastern Eye .. Page 15

'Minor' painting is a Gainsborough

A small painting that Christie's labelled as the work of a minor 19th-century artist, worth no more than £800, has been identified as a previously unknown landscape by Thomas Gainsborough worth at least £80,000. The 18th-century work was spotted by Angus Neill, of Felder Fine Art in London, who said: "I knew it was the best picture I'd ever seen in my life"... Page 16

Baby fennec foxes get a feel for their keeper at Sydney Zoo. The world's smallest fox has distinctive ears and is native to North Africa

BUSINESS

Trade war: British exporters were left in a state of confusion after the European Commission failed to admit defeat in its long-running banana war with the US ...... Page 27 BT move: British Telecom increased its presence in the Asia-Pacific region with the £240 million purchase of a 20 per cent share in SmarTone, a Hong Kong mobile telephone operator ...... Page 27 Raw energy: The Government mounted a U-turn in its energy policy by clearing the way for a £300 million gas-fired power station at Baglan Bay in Wales...... Page 27 Markets: The FTSE 100 index rose 57.9 points to 6473.2. The pound rose 0.58 cents to $1.5956 and 0.03p against the euro to 67.66p. The sterling index rose to 101.9..... Page 30

SPORT -Rugby union: Nineteen-year-old Steve Hanley, from Sale, has been chosen to play on the wing for England in the Five Nations Championship grand-slam match against Wales.... ..... Page 52 Football: Arsenal's defence remains on course for a record-breaking season, but they will be without Martin Keown for two of their final Premiership matches......Page 52 Cricket: Pakistan's batsmen, notably Ijaz Ahmed who scored a century, battered England's bowlers in the opening match of the Coca-Cola Cup in Sharjah.....Page 48 Bryant's Eye: Any sport that plays with danger will always have an image problem. Whenever things go wrong there is clamour to get it ...Page 49 banned.

ARTS

New movies: John Travolta stars as a yuppie lawyer with troubles of his own in writer-director Steve Zaillian's true-life courtroom drama A Civil Action, while The Faculty is a sci-fi chiller with a lot of entertainment value..... Star turn: John Hegley's comic poems are the hit of the evening as the Spring Loaded dance festival unveils the innovative cabaret Elbow Room... ...... Page 36

Birthday boy: Richard Morrison meets the conductor Sir Neville Marriner on the eve of his 75th birthday celebration - a gala at the Festival Hall..... ..... Page 37 Classical CDs: Alfred Brendel's latest recordings of Beethoven Piano Concertos are a three-CD set

TOMORROW

IN THE TIMES

EDUCATION

have become an

The story behind the BBC videotape

Girls are so far ahead

in the academic battle of the sexes that boys educational underclass

smuggled out of Kosovo

FEATURES

Dr Thomas Stuttaford: New treatment for scarring; why the solar eclipse in August is worrying ophthalmologists; Bruce Chatwin's fungal disease; tomatoes......Page 20 Marathon man: Chris Moon describes learning to use his new arm and leg and how he finished the London Marathon - the final extract from his book...

BOOKS

Reviews: Erica Wagner finds that in Philip Casey's second novel the scarring runs deeper than the flattened London landscape. Plus, Lisa Jardine on Walter Mosley's venture into science fiction ..... Pages 38, 39 star London hotel and seats to Mamma Mia: special offers on holidays in Greece's quieter resorts; Bangkok; Pattaya. ..Page 40

Whether Jakarta or Mr Gusmao is telling the truth about who is responsible for the violence in East Timor, the situation is clearly deteriorating. At the very least, this suggests the existing Indonesian military command in East Timor is ineffective and must be replaced. Such a move would go a long way to shoring up international confidence. A willingness by Jakarta to accept UN civilian human rights monitors would go much further.

TRAYEL

Best buys: A weekend at a four-

The Sydney Morning Herald

RADIO & TV

Preview: Simon's Journey (BBCh' follows the Falklands war veteran Simon Weston on his fundraising activities. Review: Joe Joseph witnesses DIY as marriage counsel. . Pages 50. 51

OPENION

To will the end

This is a war that must be won and must be seen to be won Convinced of this. Western publics await, with mounting imparience, a clearer articulation of what "winning" would look like, and how Nato proposes to get there. There is no gain in politicians continuing to pretend that they are the only people who have neither given, nor are prepared to give, thought to the Nato endgame...

Yellow and bent

The European Union would be extremely unwiseto persist in a strug gle that is not in the interests of their consumers or of international commerce or of the banana grow. ers themselves...1 Page 23

COLUMNS

DAVID HART

A dangerous line of rgument is beginning to emerge from the fog of the Balkans war. Some, mainly conservative commentators ... are arguing, directly or by implication, that Nato should not be acting agains President Milosevic........Page 27 | 8 3

MAGNUS LINKLATER

I rather fancy Charlie Whelan as the Daniel Defoe of he day. Gordon Brown's sometimepress adviser has come to Scotlandto cover the elections as a journalit and commentator. Most people suspect he may still be acting as the Chancel lor's eyes and ears — a gatherer of intelligence about the state of the nation as well as a discrete propagandist for his old master ... ... Page 22

DOMINICK DONALD

The West's readiness touseair power was supposed to show resolve. But the West has consistently seen air nower as a kind of geopolitical one-night stand — gratification without commitment ...... Page 22

OHIVANIES

Bob Peck, actor, Red Norvo, vibra phone player; William Pleeth œllist..

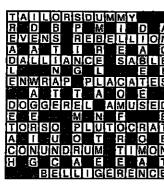

Y' LETTERS Milosevic's "final solution" in Kosovo: medical uses of green tea; power of the judiciary; fires in tunnels, speed-traps; playing marbles in the gutter.....

THE TIMES CROSSWORD NO 21,072

- I In many ways, it can help to reduce minor accidents (5.5.4). 9 Like individual 1 detained for
- slander (9). 10 Was a jumper extremely loose fitting? (5).
- 11 A peg before opening time (5).
- 12 First-rate opportunity to get place in college (9). 13 Nick drink and get arrested (3.5).
- 15 One chap joining another back in the doghouse (o). 17 Drop line to university, having been rejected the month before
- 19 Report indicating gun was loaded? (S).
- 22 Leader can take it, ideal or otherwise (9).

Solution to Puzzle No 21-071

- 23 Tory member's rise to the top (5). 24 In self-examination, about to reveal inner personality (5). 25 Painter with a fantastic talent is
- in business (9). 26 Call for Jacks in every round of cards possible with pack (3.5.2.4).
- I Remarkable formation of Ulster was a US agency involved with it?
- 2 Profit from an adventure (7). 3 Brass or steel (5). 4 One who trains regularly should
- consider this a good deal (4.4). 5 Two sorts of evil character in Arabian Nights (6).

6 Weapons found in far from friend-

- ly nick, we hear (4.5). 7 Force Spitfire to move in a circle 8 Falling over book left in buffet or
- bar, causing difficulty (9.5). 14 In love with way one offers unconventional treatment (9).
- 16 Striking strings to make rough notes, perhaps (8). 18 Old battleaxe making short work of silly man? (7).
- 20 Plant providing most of the fibre 21 It holds food that's originally
- from South America (3.3). 23 Boy has a pound in cash (5).

Times Two Crossword, page 52 HMES NEWSPAPERS LIMITED, 1991 Published and printed and licensed for distribution in electronic and all other derivative forms by Times New papers Ltd. PO Bus 40% Virginia Street. London E1 9AN, relephone 0171-782 5000 and also printed at Fatling Road. Pressot, Merseyside, L54 9HN, telephone 0181-586 3000. Thursday, April S. 1999, Registered as a new paper at the Past Office.

AA IMFORMATION 0336 449 10 0336 401 410 0336 401 744 0336 401 747 0336 401 748 0316 401 710 0336 401 188

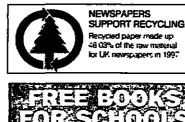

The Mes. Office there from your fice stand 416 341 on 416 342

416 377

D)36 41 1216 0336 416333

HOURS OF DARKNESS

Last quarter temorrow London 7.44 pm to 6.19 am Bristol 7.54 pm to 6.29 am Edinburgh 8.04 pm to 6.24 a Manchester 7.56 pm to 6.24

FORECAST

■ MEDIA

☐ Today: east and South-East England will start dry with some hazy sunshine, but it will become noreasingly cloudy with a growing threat of rain this afternoon. Wales and western England will be overcast with patchy light rain and some hill and coastal must. The Midlands and North-East England will also hom cloudy with outhreaks of will also hom cloudy with outhreaks of will also turn cloudy with outbreaks of drizzle. Scotland and Northern Ireland will be breezy with a lot of cloud and outbreaks of heavier rain, although Northern Ireland should become drier this afternoon.

☐ Tonight: most parts of the country will remain cloudy and western coasts and hills will see some mst and driczle but any heaver rain will become confined to the east and south-east and should ease off totally by morning.

☐ London, SE England, E Anglia, E England: early mist and log clearing to leave some sunstaine but clouding over, bringing a threat of rain in the afternoon. A light north-westerly wind. Max temp 17C (63F). ☐ Central S England, Midlands, Channel Islands: starting dry and bright but cloud building and bringing patchy light ram. A light west to north-westerly wind. Max temp 16C (61F)

SW England, Wales, NW England, Lake District, Isle of Man: overcast with light rain. Turning misty on coasts and hills. A light wast to north-westerly wind Max temp 16C (61F).

☐ Central N, NE England: starting dry with some early suriny spells but soon clouding over with light rain breaking out. A light westerly wind. Max temp 15C (59F). ☐ Borders, Edinburgh & Dundee, Aber deen, Moray Firth, NE Scotland, Orloney, Shedand: breezy and cloudy with rain, most of a light. A freshering south-westerly wind. Max temp 14C (57F)

Swall was termined to the control of ☐ Central Highlands: overcast with out-breaks of rain, some of them heavy. Foggy over the hills. A strong south-westerly wind. Max temp 11C (52F).

CI Northern Ireland: cloudy and breezy with rain but becoming dier in the afternoon. A moderate south-westerly wind. Mex temp 15C (59F).

CI Republic of Ireland: cloudy, misty start with rain in places, becoming drier with bright intervals. Wind moderate, westerly or southwesterly. Max temp 16C (61F). ☐ Outlook: southern parts will be mostly dry and warm lomorrow although the west of England and Wales will be cloudy with coastal log, and rain will break out in Scot-land and Northern Ireland On Saturday, the rain will spread southwards, leaving Scot-land and Northern Ireland with sunshine

AROUND BRITAIN YESTERDAY

Ram 0 01 0.04 0 11 0 02 0 06 0 02 Ram an 0.01 0.06 000 001 001 001 001 001 005 001 005 005 0.09 0.02 0.07 0.01 0.01 0.09 0.01

ABROAD

Cphagn Cortu Dublin Dubrovn Faro Florence Frankfur Strasbing Sydney Tanger Tel Aviv Tonerite Tokyo Toronto Turks Valencia Vancver Venkoe Venkoe

A CONTROL TODAY 15

Changes to the chart below from noon. Low C moves NE and fills. Low Y and High J remain stationary with little change in central pressure

HIGH TIDES TODAY PM 18:21 23:14 16:00 23:04 22:14 15:17 16:45 16:45 16:45 16:25 22:57 22:57 22:58 19:38 AM 3:10 6:03 4:09 10:18 9:15 9:39 8:41 10:33 3:15 2:57 3:03 10:31 8:12 3:45 11:00 3:21 10:46 9:51 2:48 4:07 9:22 4:32 3:48 2:26 10:23 7:05 Awarmouth
Belfast
Cardiff
Downport
Dower
Dower
Dowlin
Fallmouth
Groenock
Narwich
Howhead Hull (Albert
Illracombe Margate
Margate
Margate
Margate
Margate
Margate
Newquay
Oban
Penzance
Portland
Portsmouti
Shoreham
Southamp

All times GMT Hargids in matrics.

HIGHEST & LOWEST Yesterday: highest day temp: Boulmer , Northumberland, 15C (59F), lowest day misc Bost Derbyshire, 9C (48F), highest raintalit Loch Glassamoch, Highland, 0 33ln; highest sunshin Jersey, Channel (slands, and Newcastle upon Tyne, 9 thirs

صكدا من الاصل

Exporters baffled by banana war ruling

वेदि bent

Barshefsky: trade test for Brussels

BY CARL MORTISHED AND SHIRLEY ENGLISH

WORRIED British exporters to America were left in a state of confusion yesterday after the European Commission failed to admit defeat in its long-running banana war with the United States.

Sir Leon Brittan, vice-president of the European Commission, said that Europe reserved its right to appeal, while at the same time insisting that it would abide by World Trade Organisation rules. He said: The uni-lateral US retaliation currently in place against EU exports has been and remains the banana war over trade restrictions between the two continents, poured scorn on the apparent Brussels prevarication yester-day. Peter Scher, a US trade official, said: The arbitrator's decision is final and the EU does not have the right to appeal."

A WTO arbitrator yesterday awarded $191 million in damages to the US, and a WTO panel ruled that aspects of the EU's preferential import regime for Caribbean bananas EU lawyers in Brussels were last night

poring over the 160-page report from the WTO panel in Geneva. The report is not being released to the public, and delay will fuel

Washington, which is claiming victory in further anxiety among embattled cashmere knitwear firms in the Scottish Borders Mills around Hawick used a visit by Peter Chase, economic adviser to the US Embassy in London, to call on America to remove cashmere from the potential sanctions list and so safeguard 1,000 jobs. The Borders has been hardest hit by the banana war as almost half of all European and 90 per cent of British cashmere comes from the region.

The US has seen its original target list of exports worth $520 million cut to $191 million. A spokesman for the US Trade Representative said a revised list of import products would be issued in a couple of days but the UK is likely to figure large as a key supporter of Caribbean banana growers. The UK Department of Trade & Industry was unable yesterday to offer any reassurance to British exporters. The confusion is in part caused by the lack of any precedent. A WTO trade expert explained: "No previous dispute has ever reached this stage before of arbitration and implementation.

Led by Ambassador Charlene Barshefsky, Washington has been using the banana dispute to test Brussels' commitment to the WTO rules. Beyond the banana row, another dispute is brewing over the EU ban on imports of US hormone-treated beef.

Leading article, page 23

Graham

The two faces of capitalism in Sunderland

STOCK MARKET FTSE 100_ ..... 6473.2 (+57.9) ield...... TSE Ali Share..... n/a 16554.50 (+74.79) conceded.

STERLING

Business Today

Put off by a bruised Reed 29 Stock Market:

Searjeant

... 9975.70 (+12.21)* ... 1316.89 (-1.00)*

117.99 (117.95

ううう! DOLLAR SSSS DOLLAR

$280.05 ($279.05)

NORTH SEA OIL Brent15-day(Jun).. $14.75 ($14.93) COLD

* denotes midday trading prices

Rate hopes drive FTSE to fresh high By Alasdair Murray, economics correspondent HOPES that the Bank of Engclose at $1.5956. It also regained some of the overnight losses suf-

land will again cut interest rates pushed the stock market to a second consecutive record high yesterday, despite fresh evidence that the British economy appears to be heading for a "soft landing".

Services companies reported their strongest growth levels since last September while the pace of decline in the manufacturing sector also continued

Analysts, however, insisted that the Bank of England was more likely to be swayed by earlier data showing a sharp downwards revision to fourthquarter GDP and subdued earnings growth. The continued strength of the pound is also considered likely to persuade the Bank to reduce rates by a quarter point to 5.25 per cent at the conclusion of the helped by improved utilities Monetary Policy Committe meeting today. Optimism that the Bank would cut rates was reflected in the markets. The FTSE 100 index of leading shares closed up 57.9 at 6.473.2, having earlier peaked at an all-time trading high of 6,496.1. The pound, however, took heart from the stronger than expected new data to recover some of the ground lost on Tuesday, when it fell to an 18-month low against the dollar. Sterling climbed more than half a cent against the dollar to fered against the euro, although the single currency later held firm to close at 67.66p.

European markets also enjoyed a robust start to trading, buoyed by hopes that the European Central Bank will cut European rates after its policy meeting today. Paris stocks pushed to a year high at 4.318.04 but a mixed performance on Wall Street later took a toll on some markets with shares in Frankfurt closing virtually flat.

British manufacturing outout fell by 0.1 per cent between January and February leaving the annual rate of decline at 1.4 per cent compared with 0.9 per cent in the previous month. However, overall industrial production rose by 0.1 per cent over the month and mining output.

The modest improvement in the manufacturing sector's performance was also supported by a separate report from the Engineering Employers' Federation, which confirmed the pace of decline was easing. However, Alan Armitage, EEF chief economist, predicted that engineers would shed about 10 per cent of their workforce this year even if the pound began to weaken. Employment rates in the service sector, however, have begun to grow again with the make enough use of powers services index climbing above the break-even level for the first time in five months. Analysts cautioned, however, that some of the sharp rise may reflect a seasonal increase in optimism and could be partially reversed in the coming months. The return to growth has also come too late to improve overall economic performance in the first quarter of the year, according to the National Institute of Economic and Social Research, which estimates first-quarter GDP growth at just 0.1 per cent. Meanwhile, the World Bank yesterday cut its forecast for global growth to 1.8 per cent this year and gave warning that emerging markets were likely to suffer the brunt of the slowdown.

The Bank said in its Global Development Finance report that developing country growth would slip to just 1.5 per cent this year, compared with a previous forecast of 2.5 per cent, and was unlikely to return to trend until 2001.

The Bank added that with about half of all global growth during the past 18 months deriving from the US, world economic growth was at risk from a sharp correction on Wall Street.

LINKS

WEESTIE: www.bankofengland.co.uk

The site of the proposed Baglan Bay energy park, which Labour says is not "a ruse on the eve of the Welsh elections"

Byers approves gas station

By Christine Buckley and James Landale

THE Government yesterday Amoco would bring exception-did a U-turn on its energy pol-al economic benefits and re-ments by Callum McCarthy £300 million new gas-fired power station in Wales, just weeks before elections for the Weish Assembly.

Stephen Byers, the Trade and Industry Secretary, said that the station at Baglan Bay would not be blocked by the current "stricter consents policy" on new gas-fired stations. The de facto moratorium was announced last October in order to create a more balanced energy market amid a crisis in the coal industry and a rush to Mr Byers said the plans by General Electric and BP been claimed that up to 6.000 jobs will be created by the establishment of an energy park around the station with companies moving in to take cheap power.

John Redwood, the Shadow Trade and Industry Secretary, said: This is rank electioneering Labour clearly believes the Welsh elections are worth a few closed pits in England. How many jobs will go as a re-sult of this electoral gesture?"

CoalPro. the coal industry trade association, is to write to Mr Byers to urge him to keep the moratorium in place. It is icy by clearing the way for a generation prospects. It has and Mr Byers could result in an early end to the ban and lead to fresh uncertainty for coal producers. The new gas station will push out about one million tonnes of coal as the market for the fuel is already sharply declining. The current coal burn in electricity generation is only about 40 million tonnes.

Peter Hain, the Welsh Office Minister, said: "This shows that the Labour Goverament is delivering for the people of Wales. But it is not a device or a ruse on the eve of the Welsh elections."

The Baglan Bay project, which still needs planning 1,000 acres of industrial land. It is being backed by the Welsh Development Agency.

The power station is by far the largest to escape the moratorium. Smaller schemes with a large amount of environmentally friendly combined heat and power (CHP) have bypassed the ban. Baglan Bay's CHP element is speculative, the Government has

Other power companies are now expected to press for gasstation consents.

Commentary, page 29

Winsor calls for tougher powers

By ARTHUR LEATHLEY, TRANSPORT CORRESPONDENT

JOHN PRESCOTT came under pressure from his newly appointed Rail Regulator vesrerday to introduce tougher regulatory powers into forth-coming legislation. While the Deputy Prime Minister insisted that existing powers for regulators were tough enough to bring improvements on the railways. Tom Winsor, the new regulafor, made it clear that he want-

Making his first comments since his appointment last month, Mr Winsor, the City lawyer who takes up his role in June, admitted that he had more powers than most regula-

THE directors of Reed Elsevier, the international publishing and information group, are to go back to their original shortlist in the continuing eight-months search for a new chief executive (Raymond Snoddy writes).

that its chosen candidate had turned them down. The embarrassing failure to find a chief executive led to a 14p fall in the shares yesterday to 533p. A boardroom row over the issue led to the

Commentary, page 29 Publishing division, page 31

BT takes stake in SmarTone

BY RAYMOND SNODDY, MEDIA EDITOR

day increased its presence in the Asia-Pacific region with the £240 million purchase of a 20 per cent stake in SmarTone, Hong Kong's third-largest mobile telephone operator.

greater China marketplace". The SmarTone purchase partners and looking at ways of increasing its stake in Ja-pan, the world's second-largest telecoms market.

Hong Kong with an 18 per cent market share and more than half a million customers. cent to 60 per cent by 2001.

billion (£80 million).

Reed price dented by board strife

powers are lacking in some other respects in terms of enforcement of franchise obligations and legislation is required to improve those pow-Mr Winsor has, in the past, frequently criticised his predecessor for failing to Late on Tuesday the Anglo-Dutch group admitted available under existing legis-Mr Prescott has as yet been unable to find Parliamentary time for legislation to give statutory backing to the new regime governing the industry. immediate resignations of directors Pierre Vinken, a Yesterday he said that under the present regime the former co-chairman, and

Loek van Vollenhoven. rules could be tightened on train companies seeking to ex-

BRITISH TELECOM yester- was talking to a number of Alfred Mockett, president and chief executive of BT Worldwide, said the deal was an avenue to expansion in the takes BT's investments in minority stakes in the region to nearly [] billion. As Asia-Pacific is seen as the engine of growth in telecoms markets BT's investments there could easily match its £3.5 billion expansion in Europe, Mr Mockett said. BT also said that it

SmarTone is third in a market of six mobile operators in

BT believes that mobile pene-tration in Kong Kong will grow from its present 40 per In the year to June 1998 SmarTone a Hong Kong-listed company in which the Kwok family holds a 26 per cent stake, had profits of HK$1

However, he added: "The tend their franchises. Bluewater washes over Lakeside

Bluewater: excellent trading

BLUEWATER, the massive shopping centre that opened in Kent last month, has already proved to be a huge success - but at the apparent expense of nearby Lakeside and even London's West End (Sarah Cunningham writes).

Rowland Gee, managing director of the Moss Bros men's clothing group. said yesterday that its branches of Blazer. Cecil Gee and Savoy Taylor's Guild in Bluewater have traded very well while the equivalent three stores across the Thames in the Lakeside centre in south Essex have gone quiet. "I was in Bluewater on Good Friday and it was heaving," he said. "I then went to Lakeside and I could have fired a cannon down the central aisle and not hit anybody." Michael Bennett, the chairman of Oasis, the women's wear retail group, said that he already wished that his three outlets at Bluewater were larger: "Trading there is excellent." A spokesman for Lakeside, which is ten minutes drive from Bluewater, however, countered: "We have seen no dis-cernible effect in footfall which can be attributable to Bluewater.' Mr Gee also said that Oxford Street rents had started to fall in response to the success of Bluewater. Chris Phillips of Healey & Baker, the property agents, agreed that rents had started to ease, but added: "It's probably too early to tell what effect Bluewater will

Lakeside: quiet by comparison

BEEN TURNED DOWN FOR A MORTGAGE? Had CCJ's, mortgage arrears, or been made bankrupt? mortgages available at:

Investors support Olivetti

Olivetti's shareholders yes-terday agreed to a 5 trillion lira (£1.7 billion) capital increase to help to finance its £41 billion takeover bid for Telecom Italia. Roberto Colaninno, Olivetti chief executive, warned shareholders in Telecom Italia not to approve its defence strategy, which includes a proposal to convert non-voting savings shares into ordinary shares, threatening a competition war if the takeover defences are approved.

Olivetti has indicated that it will scrap its bid if Telecom Italia investors back the defence strategy of Franco Bernabe, chief executive of the former state telephone monopoly. Mr Colaninno said that Olivetti would accept a smaller stake in Telecom Italia than its maximum 67 per cent bid if it could secure control. The smallest stake it will accept is 35 per cent.

Nomura in talks over 274 pubs

Nomura International is in talks to sell 274 pubs from its Inntrepreneur estate. A price is not being disclosed, but industry sources sug-gest a sum of less than £50 million. It is understood that the buyer is the property investment group that ac-quired 120 pubs from Nomura's Phoenix linns arm in November. The group's identity is not known, but its pubs are managed by Pennant Inns. based in London. Frazer Shee, a Pennant director, declined to comment on terms of the latest deal, but admitted: "It's certainly one we're interested in."

Russian paper

The Financial Times, The Wall Street Journal and the Dutch publisher Independent Media are to start a Russian-language business daily newspaper in August. The alliance is the first venture between the Financial Times, owned by Pearson, and Dow Jones's Wall Street Journal, strong rivals in the US and Western Europe. The new paper, to circulate initially in Moscow and St Peters-burg, will be owned equally by Pearson. Dow Jones and Independent Media.

Rowland Gee, left, chief executive at Moss Bros, and Terry Donovan, finance director, recorded a decline in profits

Spring's mixed bag for clothes retailers

By Sarah Cunningham, retail correspondent owns another big British mail turned into one of the longest-order operator, Grattan. After running sagas in British CLOTHING retailers, emerg-ing from an uncomfortable winter of trading, reported yes-terday that the spring had brought mixed fortunes.

Oasis, the women's wear retailer, said that underlying sales in the first eight weeks of the current year were up 6 per cent. This follows a jump in pre-tax profit to £13 million from £10.4 million in the year to January 30.

By contrast. Moss Bros, the menswear group behind Savoy Taylors Guild, Blazer. Cecil Gee and The Suit Compa- Australia. Two more branches

FREEMANS, one of the largest mail order businesses in Britain, has been sold by the new owners of Sears to Germany's Otto Versand (Sarah believed to have paid about £150 million to Philip Green and the Barclay brothers, who

Hamburg-based Versand is Cunningham writes).

ny as well as the Moss Bros suit hire business, has seen its like-for-like sales dip 2 per cent in the first nine weeks of the current financial year.

Oasis has increased its total number of outlets by ten to 137 last year and has added a further three so far this year. Five new stores and four relocations are planned. The first Japanese branch is due to open in Tokyo this year. Michael Bennett, chairman. said that he is hoping to find a local partner to open stores in its acquisition of Freemans.

Versand buys Freemans

Versand will control a total of 15 per cent of the UK market.

behind Littlewoods (16 per cent) and Great Universal

The attempts by the former management of Sears to sell '

Stores (24 per cent).

aimed at a slightly older and more affluent customer, are due to open this year. On earnings per share of 17.7p (13.1p) Oasis is paying a of Coast, Oasis's new brand

final dividend of 5.6p (5.1p), giving a total for the year to 8.25p (7.5p). The shares closed last night up 114p at 18614p.

Pre-tax profits at Moss Bros in the year to Janauary 30 fell from £19.6 million to £16.1 million as, despite turnover increasing from £147.7 million to £153.7 million, the company running sagas in British retailing.

Littlewoods twice tried to buy Freemans. The transaction was eventually blocked by the Monopolies and Mergers Commission. N Brown, which is believed to have tried to buy the business from its

Earnings per share fell from 14.9p to 12.2p but Moss Bros is paying a final dividend of 4.2p (4p), giving a full-year total of 6.3p (6p). Moss Bros shares rose 3p yesterday to 186%p. ☐ James Beattie, the department stores group, is to create 600 jobs over the next two years. investing £12 million to increase retail space by 30 per cent.

Extensions are planned for four of its stores in the Midlands. The company's tenth store, at the Huddersfield Kingsgate Centre, is due to open in spring 2001. The company is also investigating opportunities to acquire existing department stores.

Yesterday it reported pre-tax profits up 9 per cent at £10.1 million for the year ended January 31, despite what the company called a challenging year. Turnover was little changed at EIO4.6 million, from EIO3.6 million. Earnings per share were up 10 per cent at 16.8p and the final dividend of 7.75p (7.25p) brings the total dividend for the year to 10.75p (9.75p).

Tempus, page 30 MPs.

Hit squad to tackle Siemens computer chaos

By Jason Nissé

PROBLEMS caused by the introduction by Siemens of a new £100 million computer system at the Immigration and Nationality Directorate (IND) have become so severe that senior executives have been given "carte blanche" to do whatever is needed to sort out the mess.

The roll out of the German electronic giant's system is run-ning 18 months behind schedule and latest figures show that, at the end of February, a record 71,295 asylum applications were waiting to be processed. This compares with 50,950 a year ago, before the Siemens system started being introduced

The backlog of records mounting up could be exacerbated by reports that rats have gnawed away at the stores of asylum applications at the IND's offices in Croydon, Sur-

The IND was able to process only 1.275 applications in February. Although this was up from just 995 in January it is below the target of 2,375 a month. At current rates it would take more than fourand-a-half years to clear the backlog. It is expected that the IND will be swamped with further asylum applications in the next few weeks when the airlift of Kosovo refugees starts.

Last month Stephen Boys Smith, director-general of the IND, launched a progress chasing group to try to sort out the problem. In a memo to that group - leaked to the trade magazine, Computer Weekly - Boys Smith says that executives from Siemens and the IND "will be empowered by both me and the managing director of Siemens Business Systems to take any action that is required as soon as they can."

The memo adds: They will not be constrained by commercial and contractual issues." The Home Office said that this is to ensure that any solution is not held up by talks about who would pay for

The problems at the IND have been criticised by both the National Audit Offices and BUSINESS ROUNDUP

Electra scheme hits Revenue snag

ELECTRA INVESTMENT TRUST'S £544 million offer for 40 per cent of its own equity — to rebuff a £1.25 billion hostile takeover offer from 3i, the venture capitalist — has hit problems with the Inland Revenue, Electra has admitted. Investors earning more than £28,000 and trustees claiming schedtors earning more than the control of the place of the pl rather than capital on the sale shares. Electra's legal team has previously argued that this would not be so. People who fall into these two categories are being allowed to revoke offers to sell stock.

Electra will appeal against the Revenue ruling and is confident of success. Its tender offer is part of a plan to realise greater value from the fund, which has been trading at a large discount to its net asset value. Electra reiterated yesterday that its plans equate to 786p a share, compared with 3is 725p offer in cash and shares.

Cornwell Parker boost

SHARES in Cornwell Parker, the Parker Knoll furniture company, rose nearly 14 per cent after the company admitted that it has received further bid approaches which may lead to a takeover offer for the company. The shares lifted 12p to 98 pp despite the company reporting a fall in profits in the first half of its financial year and a warning that difficult market condi-tions will continue in 1999. Pre-tax profits came in at £2.1 mil-lion (£3.3 million). The interim dividend is rising 0.2p to 1.5p.

BNP keeps up bid

BNP, the French bank bidding for Société Générale and Paribas, said yesterday that it plans to continue with its offer, despite its renewed rejection by SocGen and Paribas. BNP said that the stance adopted by SocGen and Paribas was unreasonable, and not in the best interests of their shareholders. The two banks were not being transparent with their shareholders, it added. The rejection by SocGen and Paribas means that any merger may not be sorted out until June at the earliest.

Integrated phone plan

ATLANTIC TELECOM, the fledgeling Scottish telephone company that aims to expand into England, yesterday said it would become one of the first operators in Britain to launch an integrated fixed-line and mobile phone service. The service, using radio technology, is expected to allow the company's 21,700 customers to pay one rental fee and receive one bill for both their residential and mobile phone services.

Glaxo presses on

GLAXO WELLCOME still hopes to press ahead with the US launch of its new flu treatment by the end of the year, despite the recent opposition of advisers to the US Food and Drug Administration. The FDA has agreed to extend its consideration of Relenza for three months beyond the original April 21 deadline. An advisory committee voted 13-4 against approving Relenza because of unconvincing results in the US trial.

Clinton at the double

CLINTON CARDS, the greetings card retailer, more than doubled profits last year after its £28.7 million acquisition of The Greetings Store Group in October. Pre-tax profits were Ei5.8 million in the year to January 31. Clinton said its new year has started well. Turnover was £208.5 million last year. up from £152.8 million. Basic earnings per share were 17.54p (9.32p). A 3.6p final dividend makes 4.6p, up 53 per cent.

bought Sears at the beginning Freemans, which had turnnew owners, also made a bid, of this year. Versand already over of £562 million last year, but failed to agree a price. EXCLUSIVE READER OFFER THE An online Feng Shui

Increase life energy through design. Enhance your home or office

oday, The Times offers readers a FREE online Feng Shui consultation to give a room in your home a new look. You will be given a complete Feng Shui report helping you to make the best use of your space to improve relationships, health, finances, family and career. If you re-arrange your environment according to Feng Shui principles, fans of Feng Shui claim, your life is enhanced. The offer applies to a dining room, study or bathroom.

Times readers can also have interior design advice online for other rooms in their home for £5.50 per room, half the usual price of £11. When you go online you will be asked to use a compass to check the direction and position of the door and create the layout of your room. Describe what you can see out of each window and submit the room to an online Feng Shui expert for analysis. The analysis will highlight the negative and positive areas of your room and make recommendations for you to put your furniture and fittings in places where they will not create

THE 遙遠 TIMES TOKEN 5

HOW TO APPLY

Collect four of the seven tokens published in The Times this week. On each token there is a twoletter code. You need four, two-letter codes to access the free consultation on the Feng Shui website: www.online-fengshui.com

When you have any four of the seven sets of two-letter codes, key them into your computer when asked and follow the instructions carefully. You will need a web browser Netscape 3 or above. Explorer 3 or above, or their equivalent. Full instructions are on the site. If you have difficulty downloading, please check you are following the instructions. If you are at work, make sure there is no firewall. Try again or contact your Internet service provider.

www.online-fengshui.com

Terms and Conditions: Only one free room consultation per household. Consultations for other rooms are available at half price, just £5.50 per room. Instructions for how to do this will be on the website. Offer closes at midnight Wednesday April 28, 1999.

CHANGING TIMES

Fewer travel first class

BY PAUL ARMSTRONG

BRITISH Airways has reported a rise in non-premium traffic of 11.35 per cent for March. Premium traffic fell by 0.2 per cent. It said that growth of 9.6 per cent was recorded in scheduled revenue passenger kilometres for the month. Interconcent. outstripping the 6.9 per cent growth in UK-Europe traffic. BA said overall premium performance was affected by the pre-Easter holiday week. which reduced traffic in that category in the last four days of the month. The load factor for mainline scheduled servictinental traffic was up 10.1 per es fell by 2.7 percentage points

PUBLIC NOTICES

LEGAL & P

	- 10 0017 pc; call	Naty Uta		se of trading yesterday.
>	UBLIC NOTI	CES		0171-782 7344
				01/1-/02 /544
•
=	LEGAL NOTICES
•	ROSSFISH LIMITED (IN ADMINISTRATIVE	THE DRIVING TEAM (SCOTLAND)	TEM INSOLVENCY RULES 1986 BULE 4.182 (A)	ALCATEL RETWORK STATEMS
	ARCEIVERSHIP) THE DEGLARICY	NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN PRINTED	LONDON CHRISTIAN HOUSING	OPERATIONS (UK) LIMITED (IN MEMBERS WILINTARY LIQUIDATION)
•	MOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN PRINT- ant to Section 98 of the Insolvency Act 1986 that a meeting of Cradi-	Act 1986, that a meeting of the creditors of the above named com- pany will be held at the offices of	LIQUIDATION NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that G	CUMPANT NUMBER 3122878 NOTICE TO CHEDITORS On 31 March 1999 the above company
•	Act 1986 that a meeting of Credi- tors of the above named Company will be held at The Law Society,		R Gladeby and J B Stephenson, both Licensed Innolvency Practitioners of Masses Neville Russell, 24 Beyls	was placed into Members' Volus- tary Liquidation and Martin Pish-
9 8 5	will be held at The Lew Society, 113 Chancery Lene, Lendon WC2 1PL on 20 April 1999 at 12 moon for the purposes mentioned in Sec-	W1B BLE, on 15 April 1999 at 12.00 for the purposes provided in Section 98 or seq. It is not intend-	Marks, London EC3A 7NE, were ap-	man of Arthur Anderson, PO Box 65, 1 Survey Street, London WC22 2NT, was appointed Liquidator by
-	tions 99 to 101 of the said Act	ed to propose any resolutions at	pointer joint inquidators of the above named company following an Extraordinary General Mosting of the Company haid on 29 March	2NT, was appointed Liquidator by the Members. The Liquidator gives notice person
ř	together with a full statement of their dobt to the offices of Buchler	tors resumeration, however the meeting may receive information about, or be called upon to ap-	1999. The joint Liquidators give notice, pursuant to Eule 4.182(A) of the	cy Rules 1986 that the creditors of
į	Phillips, 84 Grossmar Street, Lon- don WII 9DF not later than 12	prove, the costs of propering the statement of affairs and conven-	insolvency Roles 1986, that the creditors of the Company must send details in writing of any chain aminus to be consulted in the company must be consulted in the consulted in t	the company must send details, in writing, of any claim against the company to Marrin Pishman of Ar-
	noon on the husiness day proced- ing the Meeting For the purposes of voting, a se-	ing the meeting. A list of names and addresses of the above compa- ny's creditors can be inspected at.	send details in writing of any claim against the company to the joint Liquidators at the above ad-	thur Anderson, PO Box 55, 1 Super Street, London WC2R 26T by 28
-	rue can purposes of voting a se- tured creditor is required (unless be sustanders his security) to ladge before the meeting, a state-	the officer of Leonard Curtis, One	Green by 30 April 1999. The Joint	May 1999. The Liquidator also gives notice totaler the represent of Rule
•	ment giving particulars of his se- curity, the date when it was given	10.00am to 4.00pm on the two	the provisions of Rule 4.182(A)(5) and (6) that they intend to make a final distribution to confi	under the purvision of liple 4.182A(6) that on 30 june 1999 he intends to make a final return to and the value at which it is as- sessed.	B GRANT - Director	1999. The distribution will be	creditors who have submitted claims by 28 May 1999 and that there will be no further distribu-
	Notice is further given that a list of the ammes and addresses of the Company's Creditors may be in-	DATED TRIS 31st Narch 1999	nucle without regard to the claims of any person in respect of a debt which has not been proved by 30 4 mail 1000	to creditors, The first setup.
	spected, free of charge, at 84 Grea- venor Street, London, between 10,00m and 4,00pm up the two business days preceding the date	ST MARYS ESTATES LIMITED	April 1999. No further public advertisement of invitation to prove debts will be	regard to the claim of any person in respect of a daht not already proved.
:	OF USE BARRIES MEANING ABOVE.	NOTICE IN HEREBY GIVEN PURSO.		The company is able to pay all of its know conditions to full.
	Resolutions to be taken at the meeting may include a resolution specifying the terms on which the	Act 1986, that a meeting of the creditors of the above maned com- pany will be held at the offices of	Dated 29 March 1999 G E Gadaty Joint Liquidator Note: This notice is purely formal.	Date ! April 1999 M PESHMAN Liquidator
į	Liquidator is to be reminerated, and the meeting may receive infor- mation about, or be called upon to	Lectured Curtis, situated at One Greet Cumberland Pince London WIH SLE, on 19th April 1999 at	All known creditors have been, or will be paid in full.
•	spreament of affairs and conver-	Sertion 98 et set, it is not intent.
i	ing the meeting. By Order of the Board Director Richard O'Keefe	the meeting concerning Liquida-		PERENCO (LONG ACRE) LIMITED AND PERENCO WYTCH FAMI FINANCE PLC about, or be called trace to re-		THE INSCRIVENCY ACT AND EDGES prove, the come of preparing the statement of affairs and conven- ing the meeting. A first of manne and addresses of the shore compa-	COMPANY NUMBER 2939845 THE PRIVATE PINANCE PANEL LIMITED	In succedance with Inia 4.106, I. Suphen Patrick, Jens Wedned of Eidens Impey, Spectrum Bouss, 20 - 26 Consiner Street, Leader
	COSHAM TRAVEL SERVICES LIMITED MOTICE IS GIVEN DECEMBER to the	and addresses of the above compa- ny's creditors can be impacted at the offices of Loomed Curtis, One	LIGHTDATION	20 - 26 Consister Street, Lordon BCIA 1HT, give notice that on 16 March 1999 I was appointed Lig-
	NOTICE IS GIVEN pursuant to the Companies Act 1985 Section 175 that by a written resolution of the	WIR St.P. between the Lordon	On 30 March 1999 the about	Notice is beselve given that the
1	shovenamed conspuny (the Com- puny) dated the 31 March 1999 a special resolution was passed:	10.00cm to 4.00pm on the two business days preceding the Meet- ing of Crediture.	named company was placed in Mombers' Voluntary Liquidation and Colin Graham Sird and Nigel	treat which is being asked the
	L Americalise a form of contract	A Hoppen - Director DATED THIS BOth March 1999	Comment of Processions	second up, are required, on or be- fore the 7 May 1999 to send in their full christian and summer.
١	providing for the purchase by the Company of 47,741 of its ordinary shares of £1 such for the appregate sum of £47,741; and		liquidators by the members.	their addresses and descriptions. full particulars of their Gabes of claims and the names and address.
	2. Authorising the payment   F47,741 of the said sum put of	NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE ESCRIVERS	the leadened Price 1984 of	Sec of chair Saliniana (14 west) to the
	expital The Statutory Declaration of the Directors of the Company and the	COMMUNICATIONS	send details, in writing of any	Undersigned Stephen Patrick Just Wadsted of Spectrum House, 20 - 26 Camitor Street, London HOLA
	Companies Act 1986 Section 1973	Registered mumber 3000035. For- mer company stane: View Corn Communications Limited Nature	London SP1 Doy In the Section	1817, the Liquidator or the sald company and, if so required by no- tice in writing from the said Liqui-
	(5) are available for inspection at the recisional office of the Common	46. Trade classifications Service.	claims. The Heartest Lot proving	Solicitors, to come in said page
	my at South Street, Gosport, Hamp- shire PO12 18P Any creditor of the Company, may	column for the state of the sta	that a creditors on the creditors and	their debts or debts at spen the
	of any time within the 5 weeks in-	person appointing the administra- tive receivers. Telia Pinnes All re	a claim by the date mentioned will	Fach notice, or in departs therein

مكذا من الاصل

The long sought after new chief executive of Reed Elsevier was, apparently, on the brink of signing his contract when he changed his mind. And who can blame him? Any reasonable chap might have had second thoughts about entering a boardroom where the atmosphere had become quite so poisonous.

The tensions were not new but had been festering for years, and they were not of the creative kind. Since Pierre Vinken and Loek van Vollenhoven have now flounced out, they have conveniently cast themselves as the villains of the piece but boards that allowed such destructive nastiness to persist must assume some joint responsibility.

It seems that the two sides of this Anglo-Dutch venture never were as one. The complicated structure of the business undoubtedly made it harder for the obstacles to harmony and international understanding to be ejected but surely the non-executive directors must have reached the pitch when they felt some action had to be taken, even if it was only their own resignation? Shareholders do not expect people such as Sir Christopher Lewinton, the TI chairman, to sit passively by while a business is inreatened by fighting factions. Yet the directors of Reed seem to have been impotent in the face

C

Put off by a bruised Reed

happily canter through it - espe-cially if elections were following not far behind. Purely by coincidence, the decision yesterday not to block the 500-megawatt station at Baglan Bay comes just days before the Government has to go into purdah over anything that might influence the Welsh and Scottish assembly elections.

The power station is by far the largest that has skipped through a non-moratorium designed to create some sort of diversity, security and sustainability in the energy market. The station's environmentally friendly credentials -

the main criterion by which the Department of Trade and Industry will entertain exceptions to the rule - are not clearly laid

Dewhirst

downbeat

on outlook

DEWHIRST, one of Marks

& Spencer's largest suppliers of clothing and toiletries, saw its profits hit last year and was downbeat about prospects for the current half (Sarah Cunningham writes).

sumer demand in the second half of the year and a cut in the group's operating margin from 8.5 per cent to 6.8 per cent meant that although sales rose from £363.6 million to £380.2 million, pre-tax profit in the year to January 15 fell from £31.4 million to £23 million.

The company was also hit by £2.2 million costs after the closure of six factories. On

The dramatic drop in con-

of an elderly, but very deter-mined Dutchman. Pierre Vinken was in his late sixties when he plonked himself in the way of the plans of the then chief executive, Peter Davis.

To hear the sighs of relief emanating from Reed yesterday, one might have thought that the board had successfully fought off some young Turk instead of finally waving off a septuagenarian. That there is still the little matter of a vacant chief executive's role to be settled was almost brushed aside amidst the welcoming of a new era at the company.

Investors will want the job filled before they can contemplate joining in the celebrations. In any other company, they might now be raising their hopes to the possibility of an opportunistic bidder pouncing while the vacuum at the top remains. But the corporate structure that has dogged the business for so long also provides a degree of protection against a bidder.

Clever investment bankers ought to be able to find a way of surmounting such obstacles. For Reed Elsevier's dismal share

COMMENTARY by our City Editor

price performance disguises a business which is full of potential for the new millennium. The company is at the heart of the information age. It has been investing heavily in electronic publishing. If the new management structure which comes into play next week enables concentration on the business instead of international hostilities, there might even be an enticing job for a brave chief executive.

Bay watchers see an energy precedent set ver since announcing in the Energy White Paper that it would be taking a strict line on agreeing to new gas-fired power stations, the Government has been at pains to say that the curb does not amount to

Now we can see that it actually amounts to very little. The "strictout. The promise that an energy park will grow up around the staer consents policy" is clearly betion and deliver up to 6,000 jobs ing applied in such a loose lashis vague, but it should sound ion that a coach and horses could good to Welsh voters. The gas station will reduce the need for about one million tonnes of coal out of an already sharply declining market. Yet the Energy White Paper's main purpose had been to level the energy market amid a dash for gas and potential crisis in the coal industry. Some said at its publication — only last October — that the paper delivered only weak proposals to bal-ance the market. The apparent moratorium on gas-fired power stations was its most powerful tool while we await a hugely complex and lengthy reformation of the electricity trading market. But if the moratorium was a mirage, the whole thing seems a waste of time. It may be claimed that the Baglan Bay proposal offers such economic benefits and promise of regeneration that it should be allowed to fly in the face of policy. But just wait for the queue of power companies outside Stephen Byers's door claiming the same attributes. This move has created a precedent.

When interest rates are immaterial

ewhirst is what now passes for a British tex-tile business: it makes men's shirts in Indonesia and children's clothes in Casablanca. On the bright side, in Wales, it has what it claims is the most modern garment laundering plant in Europe, so while there is little hope for skilled machinists, washerwomen of Britain. But Dewhirst closed six British factories last year as it took production off-shore and not even a half-point cut in interest rates today would stop this migration of manufacturing continuing. The company can only meet the de-

there may still be hope for the mands of its major customer, Marks & Spencer, by heading to the lands of cheap labour. The introduction of the minimum wage may have exacerbated the gap between the costs of having a blouse run up in Morocco or Manchester but it was already so big as to make the decision to move a no brainer.

The same reasoning will see manufacturing jobs in other sec-tors continue to flee. Yesterday. the Engineering Employers Federation conjured up a figure of 170,000 jobs which might vanish from the UK over the next couple of years. But despite timing the prediction in the hope of influencing the MPC, the EEF must know that the problem is beyond the reach of interest rates.

Green fingers

Philip Green is wasting little time in parcelling out Sears. The former owners repeatedly failed to sell the Freemans mail order business, succeeding only in pre-siding over its deterioration and shrinking worth. Mr Green had no doubt of Otto's keenness to take over the company and the price the company would pay coloured his own thinking in valuing Sears. He did not achieve the £395 million that Sir Bob Reid dreamed of but he was a happy man yesterday.

BICC's cable disposal attracts Wassall back

BY PAUL ARMSTRONG

BICC yesterday announced the sale of the last of its troublesome cable businesses, immediately triggering a new takeover offer from Wassall, the industrial conglomerate. Wassall, which already has 9.3 per cent of BICC, said last night that it was prepared to raise its offer for the company by 22 per cent, to 110p a share, but said that it would not make an official bid without the support of the BiCC board. The proposed offer values BICC at £463 million. However. Alan Jones, BICC's chief executive, rejected the revised proposal, saying that it still bined to lift BICC shares 12p to meantime, funds from the dis-106p.

The sale of BICC's energy cables division for £275 million completes a restructuring pro-gramme that BICC hopes will restore some of its former glory. The deal takes the amount raised from the company's asset disposal programme to £386 million in the past six months and leaves Balfour Beatty, the engineering and construction group, as BICC's key profit-generator. However, BICC gave warning that the latest sale would have a negative impact on earnings until administration costs were cut and the sale proosal would be used to eliminate BICC's remaining debt of almost £200 million.

The warning prompted analysts to downgrade their 1999 pre-tax profit forecasts by about 10 per cent, to between £70 million and £72 million. However, the stock market showed its faith in the longterm benefits of the restructuring plan, marking up BICC shares by 5p several hours before the Wassall announce-The process has underpinned steady recovery in BICC shares from a 12-month low of 38p in October. Howago. Since then, profits from fibre and cables have been eroded by technological developments and oversupply, and the stock has lost its place in the FTSE 100 index. Chris Miller, Wassall's chief executive, yesterday said: "We believe that without our interest the BICC share price would fall substantially below its current level".

Michael Blogg, an analyst with Charterhouse Securities. said: "BICC's prospects are pretty good. There was no strategic reason to have cables and construction together, and this sale will make the group more coherent.

Second bid for snooker group

BY DOMINIC WALSH

CUES have been drawn in the murky world of snooker halls after Waterfall Hold-ings, the UK's second-biggest cue-sports group, launched a hostile £41 million bid for European Leisure, the market

European, which is already the subject of an agreed take-over by Allied Leisure, the Burger King restaurants and ten-pin bowling operator, immediately rejected the all-paper offer and advised its shareholders to accept the Allied deal. Waterfall, in which European has a 24 per cent stake, is of-fering 203.5 of its own shares for every 100 European shares.

At Waterfall's current price of 564p, the offer values its tar-also at a premium to Allied's offer, which, at its launch a month ago, was worth 99p a share, or £35.4 million.

However, European called into question the value of Waterfall's paper, claiming that there is a bid premium from its own shareholding in the company.
It also cast doubts on Waterfall's accounts, claiming that its profits had been inflated by exceptional items.

Martin Callan, Waterfall's chief executive, said that the bid, launched after the market elegal last sight offered Even closed last night, offered European shareholders a bigger slice of the cake, as they would emerge with 70 per cent of the combined group compared with just 52 per cent in the Allied deal.

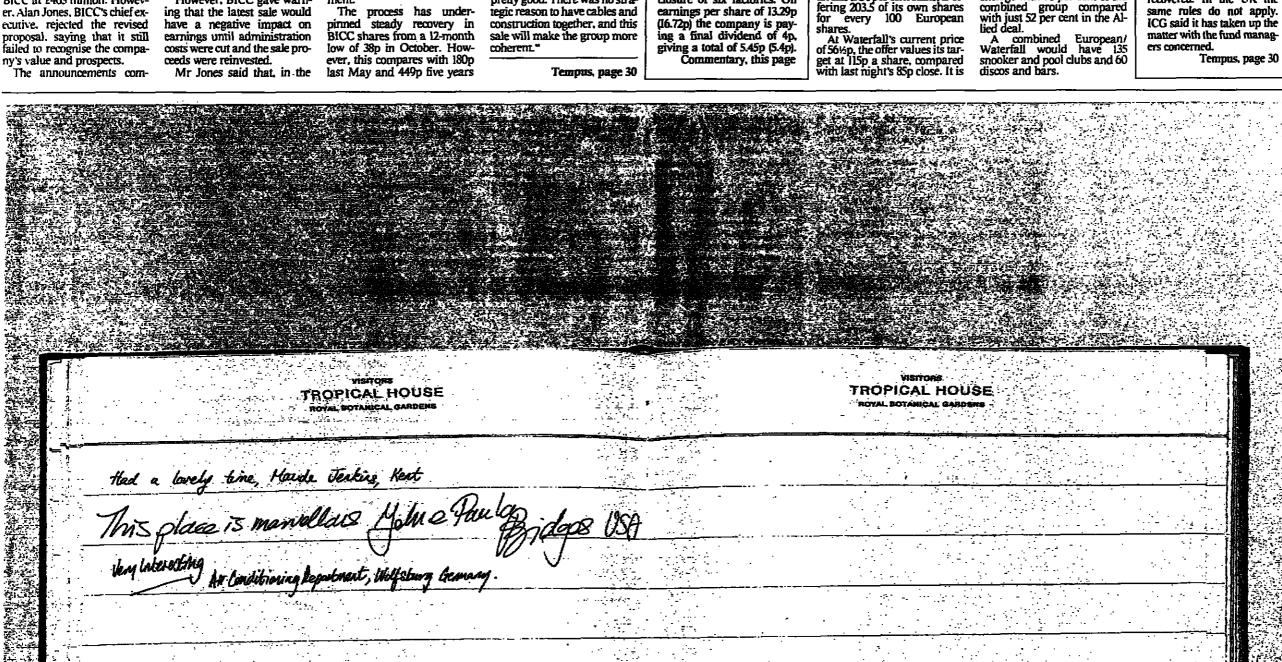

A combined European

ICG gives warning on junk bonds

INTERMEDIATE Capital Group, the specialist finance house, gave warning yesterday that the use of junk bonds in unit trusts aimed at the retail market could short change consumers (Caroline Merrell writes).

ICG, a provider of mezzanine finance for small UK business, said it is raising the concern because the structure of bonds in the UK is different to the US where the market is much more advanced.

In the event of corporate collapse in the US. holders of junk bonds had some rights to assets that could be recovered. In the UK the same rules do not apply. ICG said it has taken up the matter with the fund manag-

Standard and Aller and All

MICHAEL CLARK

Pearson stutters as Cit highlights discrepancie

THE recent high-flying per-formance of shares in Pearson, owner of the Financial Times and Penguin, appears to have stalled.

Marjorie Scardino, chief executive, no doubt looked on in horror as it featured as the worst performer among the top 100 companies with the price slumping 70p, or 5 per cent, to £12.95 on turnover of more than four million shares. It seems that brokers have discovered some disturbing discrepancies. There is a $50 million shortfall in the contribution from newly acquired education publishing business Simon & Schuster in the US. Page 80 of the accounts reveals a trading profit of £54 million. significantly below what Pearson had expected. It also compares lamentably with the £157 million the business earned in the previous year. Mike Savage at Collins Stewart, the broker, says that demand for Pearson has been fuelled by the strong growth prospects for the education division. The macro-drivers of the education business remain intact, but there is an element of doubt as to the core basis of profitability of this division."

Pearson remains comfortable with forecasts of £267 million profit from the combined education business of Adison Wesley and Simon Schuster, It is also confident of achieving $130 million of cost savings.

But Savage is taking a more cautious view of prospects. "Having been buils of Pearson since February last year, we feel obliged to move to a situation where we feel more comfortable with a take some profits recommendation".

Other brokers have been mumbling that the break-up value of Pearson is now probably worth only £11 a share. Share prices generally were kept on the boil by mounting hopes that the Monetary Policy Committee would cut interest rates again later today. Best gains were not held despite an opening rise for the Dow Jones industrial average in New York. But the FTSE 100 index closed 57.9 up at a new closing high of 6,473.2. Toshare mark, although some screens showed more than three billion shares changing hands after an erroneous turnover level in Lloyds TSB, up 22p at 999p, of 2 billion shares. Brokers reported demand

Michael Bennett, chairman, saw shares of Oasis climb lkip to 186kip on the back of a strong set of final results for equities from European investors with domestic sellers holding off in order to create shortages and drive prices

Marks & Spencer, 4p firmer at 436%p, was the heaviest traded blue chip with 26.3 million shares changing hands. WH Smith rose 71:p to 70714p, the second day of progress for the shares, encouraged by a

THERE was little Christmas cheer for Britain's furniture retailers, but hopes are high that the summer

may bring some warmth to hard-pressed shareholders.

Living in hope, there were gains for Courts (Fur-nishers), up 5p at 31744p, and DFS Furniture, 16p bet-ter at 282%p, while MFI Fur-

But the best gain was re-served for UNO, up 12½p, or 35 per cent, at 48½p.

So are there better times on the way, or is this just another false dawn?

FURNITURE AND FITTINGS

"buy" note from ABN Amro Hoare Govett, the broker, which has set a fair value of £10_37. Hoare is encouraged by the potential revenue streams from Smith's ambitions on the Internet.

News of the suspension in trading of shares of Dickson Concepts in Hong Kong pending details of a restructuring excited speculators. They say it

Gabriela Vinader, a retail analyst at Merrill Lynch.

the broker, is confident about prospects for the sector, which has been the

the potential to recover more strongly than other retail sales, which have not gone down as much," much greater.

Because of the sharp

"Furniture shares have worst hit of the retailers.

2,600

Shareholders in Kunick, the troubled amusement machines group, unchanged at 14% p, could be in line for a change of fortune. Leisure Link Group. fresh from its £28.5 million ac quisition of Stretton Leisure from Greenalls, is reported to be considering a move on Kunick, or possibly Crown Lei-sure Leisure Link, a £70 million management buyout from Bass last year, is backed by Duke Street Capital and is not short of funds. Sports Internet Group retreated 81/sp to 141/sp on learning that Goldman Sachs, the US securities house, had reduced its stake in the company by 100,000 shares to 500,000 shares, or 5.68 per cent. Sports internet was floated at 25p a share last month. ☐ GILT-EDGED: A lastminute bout of nerves ahead of on interest rates took its toll on shorter-dated issues. In the futures pit, the June series of the long gilt rose 4p to £117.99 as 23,000 contracts were completed. In longs, Treasury 8 per cent 2021 rose 55p to £148.17, while in shorts

Treasury 7 per cent 2002 was

today's decision by the MPC falls that have been wit-10p off at E106.74. ☐ NEW YORK: Earnings jitessed after a spate of profters saw Wall Street lose most scope for recovery is now of its early gains. At midday the Dow Jones industrial aver-

	Hew York (midday):
₹ ₹	Flow tones
	S&P Composite Tokyo: Nike: Average
	i e
	Hong Kong: Hang Seng Amsterdam:
s City	ARTISTER (221)
	Cudanti
	Sydney:
	Paraldinah
	DAX5052.27 (+86.98)
anne.	Singapore:
ancies	Strate 1622.32 (+16 17)
	Respecte
	BEL203333.94 (+34.88)
could be the prelude to a full	Paris-bid for Harvey Nichols by its	CAC-40 4318 04 (+13 56)
main shareholder. Claims that Dickson Concepts	Zurich:
planned to dispose of its 50.1	SM index
per cent stake were thought to	Lendon:
be unfounded. Harvey Nichs	FT 30 responded with a rise of 11p to	FTSE 100 6473.2 (+57.9) FTSE 250
188 ½ p.	FTSE 350
Oasis Stores touched 194p on	FTSE Eurotop 100
the back of a strong set of final results before seeing its lead re-	FTSF Non Roancels
duced to 1½p at 186½p. Profits	FTSE Fixed Interest were up from £10.4 million to	Bacers99243
£13 million. Michael Bennett.	SEAO Volume chairman, said the women's	From fashion group was expanding	£SDR its customer base and had	Rank on England official close (40m) made a good start to the year.  There was also heavy turno-	RP1 163 7 Feb (2 1%) Jan 1967 - 100 RPD:162.3 Feb (2 4%) Jan 1987 = 100
ver in Stanley Leisure, down	IN IV = 200 1000 100 10-49 00: 1301 - 700
9%p at 263%p, as more than 12	BETENT ISSUES
million shares were tonded	RELEASE STATES

MAJOR INDICES

ver in Stanley Leisure, down	[		- 1
9%p at 263%p, as more than 12	TO THE PARTY	W. F. C.	3 I million shares were traded.	RECENT	SOUTS	1 1
A "strong buy" recommen-	E - A		۱ ۲
dation from Morgan Stanley	Axon Group.	268' <sub>2</sub> - 2	'- Ì
	BGI Endowment III	100': +	ا ي <sup>ا</sup>
Dean Witter, the US securities	Caimoorm Euro Restruct	11412	. 1 house, saw COLT Telecom	Caimporm Restruct Wits	23 + 3	- 1
add 60p at £12.55. It has set a	Canary Wharf	3331-	1
target price of £16.40.	Enhanced Zero Trust	100 -	١ د
BPB stood out with a rise of	Gander Properties	. גי?	ĺ
124p to 2784p as the group	Gartmore High Income	108	[
bought back 650,000 of its	Gartmore Zero Div Pf	10634
	Govett Enhanced Dv Pt	10234
own shares at 266½p.	Govett Enhanced Inc		۱ د
Shareholders in Kunick, the	Jugater En Zero Dv Pl	1084	1 troubled amusement machines	Jupiler Enhanced Inc	105'2 + 1	ì group, unchanged at 14%p,	Lumirar Warrants	255	- ( could be in line for a change of	M Currie Cap Return	75'2	1
fortune. Leisure Link Group.	M Currie Portiono	79'2 + '	ا ،
fresh from its £28.5 million ac-	Mercury Assel Alincator	1051	٦ (

RIGHTS ISSUES

110

14112

Murray Global Return B Uts185

Murray Global Return Pri 10214

Murray Global Return Units 1841-

Holmes Place n/o (275) Maice Group a/o (80)

	lott rath
MAJOR CHANGES	ם rate RISES:
Stock Class Ching Ching?	ino
Tadpole Tech, 1514 + 2 + 15.0	app
Coutts Costig46 + 6 + 15.0	mer
Cornwell Pri981:> + 12 + 13.8	whe
Acom2515 + 29 + 130	Hea
BICC
Servomex117'2 + 13 + 12.4	& S
James R Knowles271: + 3 + 12.2	trol
Friendly Hotels 13812 + 15 + 12.1	suit
Clarkson (H)7212 + 712 + 11.5	toll
Goodhead30 + 3 + 10.9
ARM Holdings3185 +30212 + 10.4	P
Intereurope92'z + 8'z + 10.1	not
Leeds Group50 + 4'2 + 9.8	shar
Oxford Molecular 56'2 + 4'2 + 8.6	13.5
Courtaulids Text 16612 + 13 + 8.4
AAF Inds79'z + 6 + 8.1	The
Lambert Fen76 + 5½ + 7.8   TeleWest319¼ + 23 + 7.7	see a TeleWest319'4 + 23 + 7.7

THE BT decision to buy 20 per cent of Smarjust now, deregulating their telecoms mar-Tone, the Hong Kong mobile telephone operkets. Interesting international parmerships and networks are being created while at the ator, is obviously sensible and the £240 million purchase price counts as little more than small change in the multibillion-pound world same time avoiding frightening the sheep. BT's steady-as-she-goes policy in the region It brings the money invested by BT in the is also justifiable in light of the economic risks in which many countries in the area are still all-important Asia-Pacific region to about El submerged. Asia-Pacific offers the communibillion. There were even hints yesterday that. cations industry one of its greatest long-term all things being equal, BT would like to have a growth prospects. However, there is no need similar amount invested in the region to the for BT to overexpose itself in the rush for a £3.5 billion that has gone into stakes and partslice of the action. To make its Asia-Pacific policy credible, BT

BT's prospects are bright because of the rapid growth of its industry, if nothing else. The risk for investors is that they could overpay will have to find a way of increasing its preswhile the sector is still flavour of the month But this does not stop the stock rating as a markets that have only recently, or are only ence in Japan, the world's second-largest telecoms market after the US. On the face of it it is difficult to fault BT's policy of creeping up in an unthreatening way to long-term buy.

TEMPUS

BT's eastern connection

BICC

ALAN JONES, the chief executive of BICC. likes to promote his company's asset sales programme as evidence that he is prepared to take radical action when it is needed. Just how radical it is to break up a cables and construction group is questionable. But there can be no doubt about of international telecoms players.

nerships in continental Europe.

the necessity of the move. The crash in BICC shares from 449p five years ago to a low of 38p in October shows that Mr Jones and his team had little choice. The various cables businesses were being overrun by technology and heavy oversupply. The asset sales have raised £386 million and breathed life into the share price, which closed 12p higher yesterday at 106p. However, continued recovery depends on more cost cuts, further growth in Balfour Beatty's order book and £100 million warchest. Most of BICC's organic finding the right homes for its growth prospects rest with Balfour Beatty. The construction group increased its order book by 25 per cent last year and analysts are confident that reasonable growth will be recorded this year.

BICC's prospective price/ earnings ratio of 11.5 times leaves upside in the share price. The stock is also likely to be rerated when the company joins the construction sector. In the nearer term, a further increase in Wassall's pro-posed takeover offer of 110p a share, or even a competing bid, could fuel further gains. Despite its recent run, there is still enough upside left in the stock to make it worth buying

Moss Bros

MOSS BROS is without doubt a quality operation. It has a strong management team and, with Moss Bros itself, Blazer and Savoy Taylor's Guild, some great brands. Untunately, it also has some her poor trading figures. Despite the lower interest es and some improvement consumer sentiment, it still ears to be the case that en are reluctant spenders en it comes to clothes. avy cost-cutting by Marks Spencer, which still con-Is 15 per cent of the UK's market, has also taken its on Moss Bros margins.

romisingly though, it has hit Moss Bros's market re, which has crept up to per cent of men's suits.

But the next few months pressure, and Marks & Spencer's fightback is not to be underestimated.

COLLAR RATES

When an upturn in the retail sector finally arrives, possibly in the second half, Moss Bros should benefit. But that is already fully taken into account in the share price, which is on a healthy rating of about 15.5 times forward earnings. Existing shareholders should hold, although they will need to be patient. Those interested in buying should wait for weakness in the share price.

INTERMEDIATE Capital Group, the specialist finance house, has had a decade of steady growth. Profits and its share price have risen slowly tory, only four have failed to bear fruit. Last year's crop of ICG-backed MBOs makes interesting reading. Those be-hind the buyout of IPC, the magazine house, used £51 million of ICG's money.

ICG competes for business with the Scottish banks. which last week announced a new venture aimed at providing more finance for bigger deals. Many assume this will take some of their attention away from ICG's market.

The niche nature of ICG's business means that it must diversify away from the UK to continue its expansion. Last year, 40 per cent of its lending was in Europe. It hopes to build on this year in the coming months, as the continentals become more aware of what ICG has to offer.

Apr 7 Apr 6 collabor close

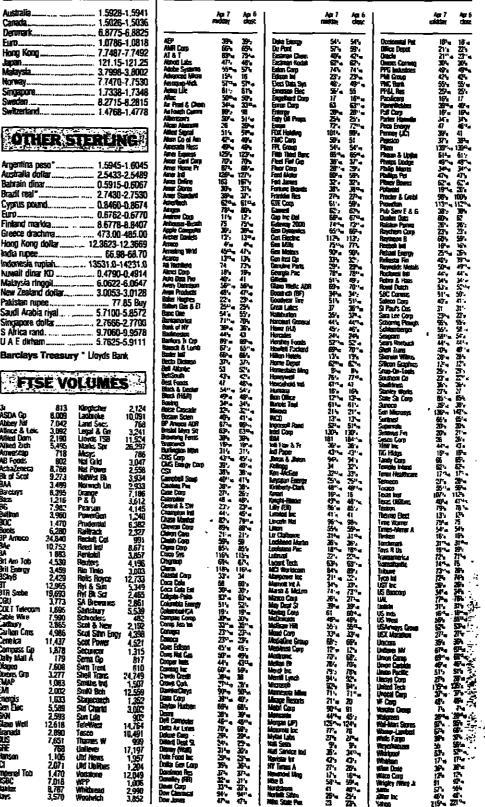

377': 344': 314 283': 253 222 197

Dec 405 445 (B4 524)

Tokyo...

A CONTROL OF THE ASSESSMENT OF THE SECOND

صكذا من الاصل

193 13-193 35

192.02-193.78

2.3519-2.3600

arring the last-minute inter-B arring the last-minute intervention of a good fairy, the vaux brewery in the centre of Sunderland will close by July 2. A brewing tradition going back to 1837, maintained ever since by the Nicholson family heirs to Cuthbert Vaux, will end in chaos and the loss of 520 jobs.

Derek Foster, a prominent Sunderland-born Labour MP and Chris Mullin, one of the town's present Labour MPs, have both damned the closure as "the unacceptable face of capitalism". Understandably so. The axe will fall, in the end, because management buyout proposals aimed at saving the brewery fell somewhere between £5 million and £20 million short of the benefits that the renamed Swallow Group reckons it can gain by selling its pubs, closing breweries and buying beer for its hotels and bars from the cheapest supplier.

The unacceptable face, though an overused phrase, still carries a wealth of meaning. It was first mined a generation ago by Sir Edward Heath, when as Prime Minister he was asked in Parliament about the affairs of Lonrho. The sin that inspired the Prime Minister's well-turned curse was an early airing of boardroom excess. Lonrho relied on the foreign responsibilities of key directors to pay them secretly in tax havens abroad and avoid punitive tax rates then levied in the UK.

Capitalism's two ambivalent faces

The late Tiny Rowland, presid-ing genius of Lonrho, had several unacceptable faces. On this occasion, capitalism and the voters eventually backed the buccaneer. After a board battle that dragged memorably through the courts and exposed a lot worse than dodgy boardroom pay, massed shareholders backed Mr Rowland. And today, neither Sir Edward nor even Messrs Foster and Mullin would support a return to 1970s tax rates.

Selling such a big chunk of man-the share price" as one critic put it, is still distasteful, even it seems to Swallow investors. The board under Sir Paul Nicholson, who had been managing director for 27 years and also chairman for 25, backed the buyout to save the brewery. But key institutional shareholders, such as Mercury and Hermes, put legitimate pressure mum value for shareholders. The result is an ugly face of capitalism. But what is the unaccepta-ble face? Is it the closure or the failures of judgment and corporate governance that led to so disorderan end?

on other directors to make sure that any deal produced the maxi-

Two key factors underlay the Vaux drama. One is the gap that has developed on the stock market international growth stocks and the smaller mature ufacturing jobs for "a few pence on groups depending on the home market. Vaux shares have lagged the FTSE 100 index by a mile over the past five years, attracting less than half the rating, in terms of price to profit, of the top 100. That has made them a lousy choice for fund managers such as Mercury and Phillips & Drew, who have chased value among solid domestic companies rather than going for growth in multinationals. Such investors have inevitably become ever more demanding of changes to drum up "shareholder value".

GRAHAM SEARJEANT

The brewing industry has also been undergoing a painful revolution that lew predicted correctly at the time of the brewing orders almost a decade ago. The pubs, once seen merely as the tied distribution monopoly of the brewery, became the focal point. Like hotels, they were properties that the City was happy to invest in. Deals proliferated. Nomura of Japan now owns a tenth of all UK pubs.

Breweries became unloved manufacturing plants. They now compete on price like any commodity supplier, unless they have managed to develop products that people want to buy for choice, rather than just finding them in the local tied outlet. Even beloved local brews can be produced by special-the City. He was seen as potentially available after losing half his empire with the sale of S&S business and educational pub-

The search is now likely to be wound backwards to the shortlist in the hope that an announcement can be made before the summer. The share price is unlikely to recover until the un-

Nigel Stapleton, Reed Elsev-ier co-chairman, has agreed to stay on until a new chief executive is in place. He and fellow co-chairman Hermann Bruggink said they had asked not to be considered for the job - though they may not have been encouraged to apply either.

Apart from the inevitable delay in choosing a chief execu-tive things actually are starting to look up for Reed Elsevier. "It's really about what is happening next week, not history,"

What happens next week, af-ter Thursday's AGM, is that one of the world's top business-men, Morris Tabaksblat, the retiring chairman of Unilever, takes over as chairman. Mr Tabaksblat will also finally take over a unitary board structure - something that was originally planned in the initial merger documents and later overturned under pressure from Vinken. In future there will three boards -- Reed, Elsethe six non-executives will be common to all and, as well as a single chairman and chief executive, there will be, in Mark Armour, a chief financial officer.

and keed Lisevier

a director said yesterday.

certainty has been resolved.

lishing interests to Pearson.

ists. Vaux failed either to turn itself into a big growth stock or to adapt to the changing beer market. Sir Paul was not idle. He built a suc-cessful diversification into Swallow hotels, which now makes three quarters of group profit, but left the old-fashioned regional brewery with tied outlets as Vaux's cultural centre. It was also the symbol of the and loyalty to all stakeholders. Sadly, the family only owned 2 per cent, roughly one fifteenth of the minimum stake needed to qualify as a family business. And shareholders did nothing to blend the twin duties of the board properly.

family tradition of public service

In 1995, a management study concluded that the future lay in Swallow hotels and that the Vaux business should go. The board, whose independent directors in-cluded a brother-in-law and former senior employee, rejected

it. This failure of corporate governance has served the people of Sunderland ill. Had the Nicholsons been obliged to see the writing on the wall, they could have split the business in two or driven the brew-ery in a different direction.

In the end, only the emergency of a takeover approach last sum-mer forced Sir Paul to appoint an outside chief executive who demanded the obvious though perishing in the process. City fund managers, who hate privileged family dynasties with a passion that would have suited Robespierre, distrusted a last-minute buyout led by Sir Paul's brother Frank, who ran the brewery. Its fate was sealed.

Had modern capitalism worked as in the textbook, the transition at Vaux should at least have been more civilised. That does not mean it would be comfortable. The cuddly face is entrepreneurs having great ideas, expanding and creating jobs. The other, ugly but just as vital face of capitalism is market forces and efficient firms putting others out of business. It will al-

Reed Elsevier seeks to put its troubles firmly in the past

Latest board split highlights

longrunning problems, says Raymond

Snoddy

ust when it seemed that things couldn't get any worse at Reed Elsevier. the international information and publishing group, they do. Two directors resign. the board is in turmoil and. most serious of all, the hunt for a new chief executive has stalled after a global search that has already lasted eight months. This comes on top of last year's scandal at Reed Travel Business, when the company had to make provisions of £200 million to compensate advertisers for inflated circulation claims for directories. The company has also been hit by the high cost of investing in the transition from paper to electronic publishing not to mention increasing competition in some of its key legal information markets in the US. It was hardly surprising that the Reed International share price fell more than 4 per cent at one stage vesterday on news of the interrupted executive search. The surprise was that it did not fall even more sharply. Cynical analysts suggested yesterday that there was a floor for the share price based on the belief that if things got too bad the value could always be extracted hy a takeover.

Some investors were even heard to mutter that if the un-history as successful business A history as successive ousliess ventures between the two nations, the best examples of which are the Royal Dutch/Shell and Unilev-er groups. Both companies have dual parents, listed in Amsterdam and London with share prices that trade independently and both have an inner circle of executive managers that runs the

However, there is no love lost between the two sides; from its inception in 1907, Shell was a product of the profound respect that stems from bitter wieldly Anglo-Dutch management structure continued to destroy value then it might be better to admit to an honest mistake and, after six years of Reed Elsevier, reverse the process and go for a demerger. Perversely a number of senfor figures close to the compan were suggesting that Tuesday's special board meeting produced some rather good news. This follows the immediate resignations of Pierre Vinken, the 71-year-old former co-chairman, and Loek van Vollenhoven, who is 68. Though the resignations were largely symbolic - the two were due to retire at next week's annual meeting - their departure is seen as not before time. Despite his undoubted brilliance, Mr Vinken, a brain surgeon turned publisher who more than anyone was responsible for creating the modern Elsevier, has been held responsible for much of the tension at the too levels of the un ted company in recent years. It is believed that it was Mr Vinken, supported by his close associate Mr Van Vollenhoven. who in 1995 moved against Sir Peter Davis, now chief executive of Prudential Corporation, because he thought the British executive was getting "too big for his boots". Sir Peter re-

Then came a falling out with Ian Irvine, the former Reed Elsevier co-chairman and nominated successor to Sir Peter. From the outside these splits have been seen as a cultural clash between the British and Dutch ways of doing business. "Pierre and Loek were increasingly out of touch with modern publishing and modern corporate governance. Pierre thought you just put up the cover price and took in the money," one executive said yesterday.

The two resigning directors were not thought to be involved in the delays over the appointIn fact in their departing state-ments they cited "differences of opinion over the management of the recruitment process".

This obtuse statement has been interpreted to mean that, while they would have supported the appointement of the cho-Jonathan Newcomb, chairman and chief executive of Simon & Schuster, when Mr Newcomb decided not to accept the offer at the last minute this brought to the surface all the festering unhappiness that the two Dutch masters had about how the process had been handled. Mr Newcomb would certain-

With the main businesses performing well despite all the disappointments, it may be seen in retrospect that the turnround at Reed Elsevier began on Thursday April 15, 1999. ly have been well regarded by

Aviation agreement must # be on basis of reciprocity

BUSINESS LETTERS

From members of the British to seize the advantages offered by genuine competition. Sir, The message to Rodney Slater, the US Secretary for Transportation, after his recent UK visit must be clear; any form of new US-UK aviation agreement must be on a basis of reciprocity. If the UK Government is to grant traffic rights to US carriers, the US Government must be prepared to grant access to the US market

This has been the stance of the UK Government since initial negotiations began on means of liberalising international aviation regulations. We must not now back away from the challenge of creating a level playing field for all oper-ators. The onus lies with the UK Government to maintain their stance, and with the US

Only through the resumption of negotiations can these issues progress and only through reciprocity can truly open skies be achieved. Yours faithfully. CHRISTOPHER FOYLE (British Cargo Airline Alliance), MIKE SPARHAM (British Airline Pilots' Association). RICHARD BRANSON (Virgin Atlantic), HOWARD DAVIES (British Air Transport Association), KEN SMITH (Air 2000). DANNY BERNSTEIN (Monarch),

Conflicting lines on tax change

From Mr M. C. Fitzpatrick Sir. You report ("IT experts fear Budget will spark brain drain". April 5) on the possible impact of the Budget changes to the use of so-called "personal service companies". You explain that these changes will force highly paid freelancers (such as IT consultants) to become staff employees of the companies that they work for, instead of charging fees through taxefficient personal service companies. You report that many IT consultants might extra tax. You further quote an Inland Revenue spokeswoman saying that the changes were intended to hit IT consultants, but to "stop companies taking away the rights of workers by paying them freelance fees when they were effectively full-time employees".

It is interesting to compare

British Cargo Airline Alliance,

100 Rochester Row, London, SWIP LIP.

this spokeswoman's statement with page 13, line 28, of the 1999 Budget Red Book, which suggests that the changes will yield £850 million for the Treasury in their first two years of operation alone. Taking the spokeswoman's statement at face value, this particular Red Book figure is presumably a misprint. C. FIIZPAIKICK (Head of Economics. Chantrey Vellacott DFK). Russell Square House, 10-12 Russell Square, London, WCIB 5LF.

Letters to the Business section may be sent by fax to 0171-782 5112 or by e-mail to: businesss@the-times.co.uk Letters should carry a daytime telephone number.

Bad blood that can flow across borders

ant who led Royal Dutch Petroleum. Thus, Royal Dutch secured a majority 60 per cent share of the oil group, a structure that remains to this day. Since the passing of the tyrannical Detharding, Shell has been run by a committee of managing directors, a consensus management system that Detharding, the ruthless Dutch account has come under enormous strain over the past five years as the company found its bureaucracy unwieldy and faction-ridden.

Curiously, both Shell and Unilever reformed their management structures three years ago, both seeking to focus on product lines, thus reducing the influence of regional structures.

A continental affection for consensus is giving way to the Anglo-American obsession with bottom-line responsibility. But, whereas Unilever's efforts to streamline the sprawling multinational have been largely successful. Shell has stumbled.

Perhaps the key difference between the two is the reluctance of Shell to appoint a chief executive with ultimate responsibility. Mark Moody Stuart, head of Shell's committee of managing directors, is primus inter pares rather than boss. At Unilever, no one doubts the authority of Niall FitzGer-ald. Reed Elsevier should take note.

CARL MORTISHED

rivalry. Marcus Samuel, the East End Jewish trader who founded Shell Transport & Trading was outfoxed by Henri New play

YOU cannot keep a good man down. The entrepreneur behind tonica, the mobile phone business that was one of the great corporate disasters of this decade, has quietly set up in business again.

Nigel Playford is operating out of a technology park next door to the old lonica headquarters in Cambridge. He has set up Albera Networks. described on its nascent website as "a telecoms consulting group specialising in wireless local loops".

This was what lonica spe-

Plans for Nigel: Playford has set up in business again

cialised in, of course, until last year when the receivers went in just 15 months after its stock market float. Playford is reckoned to have lost almost everything in that crash.

There is not much left of his creation except for the odd rusting base station in fields here and there and some unhappy investors who wish they had never heard of lonica. I ring to offer Playford my best wishes, but for some reason he is not returning calls.

I AM approached by Peter Warner, who reckons to be the, well, the cat's whiskers at drawing logos featuring cats. He has read the story in yesterday's Times about the group of banks and other financial services providers that want one such logo to show which of the new individual savings acsary Treasury criteria. al Academy and then drifted went up with every one". He is already responsible for counts, or Isas, meet the neces-

Warner is keen to offer his services. He studied at the Royinto depictions of things feline after a career drawing children's books - he produced about 50. "and my overdraft the Whiskas cat and the one on baxes of Go-Cat, this having been based on his surviving moggie Django. I wish him luck and point him in the right direction.

Handy hints CHARLES HANDY, the management guru, will address the annual Booksellers Association conference on Monday. This shows an uncommon degree of forgiveness, because last time Handy was invited to give his views, at the 1995 meeting, he was booed.

Handy is not a great fan of the business, thinking it aloof and slow to cope with change. Last time he upset delegates by telling them the end of the Net Book Agreement would be a good thing. This time, according to an interview with The Bookseller, he will be singing the praises of on-line retailers such as Amazon.com, which should go down equally well. Publishers. he says, are "even worse" than booksellers. "They haven a clue how to sell books other than through bookshops."

A RETIRED corporate solicitor has just completed a bust of Marie Curie to be installed at the Marie Curie Cancer Care head office in Belgrave Square at the end of this

Frederick Parkhouse was senior counsel for Shell for 24 years, a job whose long hours required him to abandon an earlier hobby as a sculptor. He took it up again on his retirement five years ago. The Marie Curie request came through the encouragement of his wife, Josephine, who does work for the charity. and took three or four months to complete. I ring to congratulate Parkhouse, who turns out to be celebrating his 70th birthday yesterday.

Bank on it

GOOD news for Bardays staff, some of whom, I hear, are beginning to wonder just what has happened to Michael O'Neill, the bank's new chief executive. He will definitely, no question of it, without fail, start on Monday

- two weeks late.

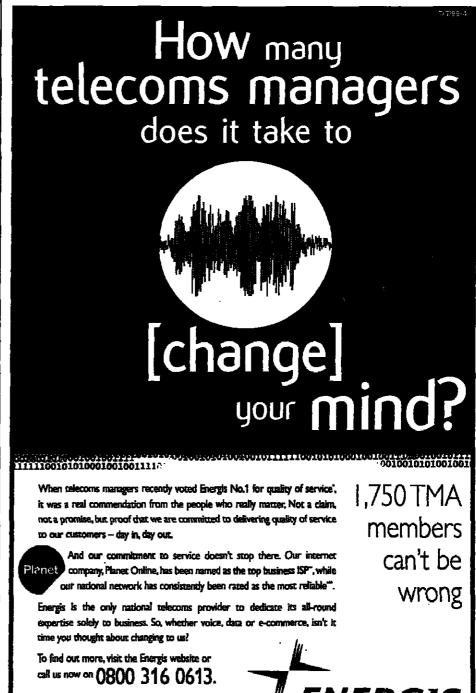

"The reason for his delay was that he had to tie some things up in the States - he hadn't finished his job there." says a Barclays source. But hang on, I thought he had flu? "Er, it's a mix of lots of different things really," Barclays

So as the saying goes, women have colds and men have flu. And high-powered American bankers have things to

MARTIN WALLER city.diary@the-times.co.uk

"Bet she couldn't find a chief executive for Reed Elsevier*

www.energis.co.uk

voice+dataforbusiness

Internet offers fast route to car sales

ost people find buying a car or searching for a new house a time-consuming and frustrating experience. The two activities also generally involve dealing with people - ie, car salesmen and estate agents - who do not seem to know or care about how technology can speed up their businesses and make life easier for everyone involved. Yet both car dealers and estate agents face a significant threat from the Internet, which is allowing a new breed of technology-savvy entrepreneurs to flourish. In the case of buying a car, the Internet is having the most profound effect where you would expect it least — in the second hand and classic car markets. Using a service such as autotrader.co. uk, an offshoot of Autotrader magazine.

consumers can gather almost perfect in formation about the market for the kind of car they are searching for. Autotrader. co.uk will also soon face competition in the form of Autobytel.com, a US company that is launching a UK service at the end of this month.

Sites of this kind allow potential buyers simply to enter the make and model of car they want (say, a BMW 5 series), how much they are willing to pay, and whether they would like to buy from a dealer or a private seller. They then enter their postcode, and tell the site how far from home they are willing to travel to buy the car.

Within seconds, the potential buyer can view an exhaustive list (including photographs) of all the BMW 5 series cars for sale within a given distance from home, including prices and de-tailed descriptions of each vehicle. This kind of information gives a car buyer an enormous advantage, and is, at the moment at least, completely free. If a buyer is aware of all the cars for sale in a local area, he or she is in a very strong bargaining position. By going back to a site such as autotrader.co.uk every day, they can also see how long a car has been on the market. A few dealers are tackling this threat by putting up their own sites showing pictures of their cars and giving detailed descriptions of them. This will inevitably reassure buyers (after all, a garage can give details of other offers, such as warranties, etc), and is far more likely to entice someone into a showroom than a small advert on Autotrader's Internet site.

The Internet is also changing the way properties for sale and rent are being offered, via sites such as loot. com - an offshoot of Loot magazine - which allow potential buyers to browse in the same way that car buyers can in autotrader.co.uk. Although Loor's online layout is a bit confusing, it is relatively easy to browse through a sub-section (for example, houses for sale in northwest England), and then refine the search even further, for example, to look for three-bedroom houses for sale in the North West.

Loot also allows users to save a specific search and every time a new advert is placed with Loot that fits those search criteria it sends out an e-mail alerting the potential buyer.

☐ Dell, the US computer manufac turer, has parted company with its advertising agency of 11 years. Moser O'Neill. The $70 million (£43 million) contract will now be put "in review".

CHRIS AYRES

Friendly Hotels books 52% rise

By DOMINIC WALSH

SHARES in Friendly Hotels,

Friendly's shares, which hit a low of 93p in February, gained 15p on the day to 138/p.

At the start of the year Friend-

Tony Potter, chief executive and acting chairman, said that, in contrast to the Gulf War, the Yugoslavian crisis was having little impact on business.

the midmarket hotelier, continued their recent rise, gaining almost 10 per cent on the back of strong 1998 results and robust current trading.

A combination of acquisitions and organic growth pushed profits before tax and exceptionals up 52 per cent to £7.4 million from turnover 28 per cent higher at £77.8 million. Headline earnings per share reached 16.4p (11.9p) and the final dividend of 4p makes a total of 6.3p (5.9p).

Like-for-like sales in the UK were up 16 per cent, with revenue per available room rising II per cent. In the first quarter of 1999 the trend continued, with room occupancy up two percentage points to just over 59 per cent and the average room rate rising II per cent.

ly acquired the European mas-ter franchise for Choice Hotels International, giving it rights to such brands as Clarion, Comfort and Quality. It also paid Choice £16.1 million for 13 owned, leased and managed hotels. taking its total to 71. of which 44 are in the UK. It also has almost 300 franchises.

BUSINESS ROUNDUP

Scottish software centre for US bank

IP MORGAN, the US investment bank, is to create 300 IT jobs in Scotland with the setting-up of a software applications development centre to design and develop systems to support the bank's European financial services operations. Although a location has yet to be found the bank wants to set up the operation - in which it is to invest £7.3 million - in the centre of Glasgow. JP Morgan will be hiring highly skilled software engineers, the bank said.

A spokesman for JP Morgan Europe said: "We have chosen to establish a technology centre of excellence in Scotland because it has a mature IT infrastructure and a rich supply of high-quality technology professionals." He added that the new centre will "combine the best of both investment banking and software house cultures". Donald Dewar, the Secretary of State for Scotland, said the decision to base the centre in Glasgow came after he met IP Morgan executives in New York. Another US investment bank, Morgan Stanley Dean Witter, will today announce a new development at Cumbernauld, Strathclyde, creating 1,000 new jobs.

Care Management

Midland's Malta deal

MIDLAND BANK, the HSBC Holdings subsidiary, plans to buy a 67 per cent stake in Mid-Med Bank, the biggest bank in Malta, from the Maltese Government. The bank had a net asset value of about $183 million (E114 million) on September 30, and 60 offices and branches and 1,800 staff. HSBC shares leapt 102p to £22.05 yesterday. The sale is part of a strategy by the Maltese Government gradually to sell its interests in various industries. A Midland spokesman said that the bank would announce further details of the acquisition in a few weeks. Midland was the only bank interested in buying the stake in Mid-Med.

Citadel back in black

CITADEL HOLDINGS, the investor in French property that is quoted on the Alternative Investment Market, said that it made profits of £3 million in 1998 against a loss of £100,000 the previous year. Sten Mortstedt, chairman, said that the company would continue its strategy of acquiring modern, well-located properties in Paris and Lyon. The improvement in the French property market helped to raise the company's net asset value by 33 per cent to 142.1p. The dividend for the year rises to 3p from 0.5p. Citadel shares were unchanged yesterday at 95%p.

MoD prefers Cobham

COBHAM, the defence aerospace group, said vesterday that it had been named as the preferred bidder for the Ministry of Defence's electronic warfare training services contract. Cobhara's FR Aviation currently operates the contract, which is due for renewal in May 2000. The company said that, although negotations were continuing, if FR got the renewal it would be worth more than £200 million over the ten-year life of the deal.

Blockleys slips into red

BLOCKLEYS, the brickmaker that recently saw off a hostile bid from Natural Building Materials, slipped into the red last year after a downturn in sales. A 10 per cent decline near the end of the year saw 1998 turnover fall to £9.4 million (£10.3 million). The group recorded a trading loss of £102,000, but after interest payments and the £450,000 cost of defending the bid the loss was El million, against a pre-tax profit of £230,000 in 1997. The final dividend is cut to 0.15p, giving a total of 0.3p (0.45p).

RAC's shortlist suggests sale of rescue service

DRESDNER Kleinwort Benson has whittled down potential buyers of the RAC to a shortlist of six as insiders indicate that a sale of the motoring organisation is more likely than a flotation. The RAC, led by Sir Michael Angus, the new chairman, is officially sticking to its twintrack strategy of having its adviser. DKB, and its broker. Cazenove, continuing to look at the options of whether to float or sell to a single buyer in order to get the best return for its 12,000 shareholders.

Insiders, however, are admitting that the recent sharp decline in the number of stock market flotations and the high-profile problems that sur-rounded the offer of William Hill, the bookmaker, indicate that a sale would not only be quicker but that it could also raise more cash.

The RAC's shareholders the 12,000 members of the RAC gentlemen's club in London's Pall Mall from which the motoring organisation has now been split - are hoping for windfalls of about £35,000 apiece when the business eventually changes hands.

Cendant, the US group that owns Green Flag, had bid £450 million for the RAC, but the takeover was blocked by the Department of Trade and Industry on competition grounds According to John Williams. of Dresdner Kleinwort Benson, the investment bank adviser is drawing up a shortlist that will evenly balance potential trade buyers and financial

The would-be buyers include Ford, the US motor company, and Cinven, the City venture capitalist. RAC yesterday revealed that the costs of its reorganisation

The RAC's Pail Mali base

sent the business into the red

Pre-tax profits on normal activities rose by 45 per cent to £24.7 million on turnover mostly subscriptions from members — which increased by 15 per cent to £310 million. But the business was hit by a raft of exceptional items amounting to £35.2 million. leaving the RAC with a pre-tax loss of £10.5 million for the More than half the costs -

£18.5 million - relate to a oneoff endowment to the Pall Mall club so that it can continue to act as a lobby organisation on motoring issues. However, about a further £9 million has to be spent on advisers dealing with the reorganisation. The RAC said that it had also made a £2.1 million provision against former members of the Pall Mail club taking legal action to get a share of the members' windfall. The organisation said that there had been a further £3.8 million of continuing integration and start-up costs respectively from its takeover of BSM and its joint venture with Trafficmaster. There were also £1.5 million of year 2000 com-

Guiton profits ahead

GUITON GROUP, the Channel Islands newspaper publisher that bought the Guernsev Evening Press at the end of last year to go alongside its Jersey Evening Post, said profits were up by 10 per cent last year. It gave warning, however, that the costs of integrating the businesses would hit this year's profits. Pre-tax profits for 1998 came in at £4.3 million, and the company is raising the final dividend to 3.44p (3.13p) for a 10 per cent uplift in the total dividend to 5.64p.

ness as a whole. This focus on graphic rather than purely nu-meric techniques is deliberate.

These days our children have lavish state-of-the art technology to simulate the exploits of a lames Bond villain or a Tomb

Raider. Imagine their reaction

if they were invited to dispense with that visual imagery and peruse the outcome of their battle decisions as a series of nu-meric tables. Remarkably.

when executives sit down to simulate battle for their companies, that is precisely what they

This is because the groundwork involved is organised by accountants, who no doubt have inherited genes that code for partiality to numeric presentation. However, behavioural studies make it clear that most line managers do not share the same genes and do not digest corporate information effective-ically been uncomfortable with the personal use of technology.

Senior managers have histor-ly via tabular presentations.

are expected to do.

ACCOUNTANCY

Shearer gives lesson in strategy

When it comes to budgeting, copy

England, says Robert Bittlestone

Three quarters of the way through the recent Eng-land v Poland football match viewers were surprised to see players huddled in conference while the game continued on the nitch beside them. Anparently they had stopped for a discussion about their objectives for the next game. "We always prepare a detailed plan," said Alan Shearer, "otherwise the players won't know what's expected of them when we play Bulgaria in June."

An unlikely scenario, but that is what happens in big corporations every year. Several months before year end, the ritual war dance called Annual Budgeting begins. Determining next year's objectives occupies about three months - time that is lost from the task of meeting this year's objectives. In a December year end company the first activity is at the end of the summer when the budget briefing pack is issued. By September the first draft of the budget is required from subsidiaries, in October there is preliminary management comment and in November detailed submission and review. culminating in board approval. If the business has a matrix structure involving international product groups or customer segments as well as geographical subsidiaries, there are additional layers of complexity. Most of this time is spent in accessing data, creating budget spreadsheets and revising them as required. Relatively little "quality" time is spent in thinking through the fundamental drivers of the business and debating ways in which new decisions could improve the bottom line. Little time is left also to incorporate new goals such as optimising shareholder value. The process invites political manipulation for any executive whose bonus depends on meeting a negotiated target. It is so much less exhausting to reduce a target than to improve achievement: even Alan Shearer must dream of being able to shift the goalposts. Some of the hallowed techniques include: submitting a low forecast for the current year end and then beating it, while conveniently omitting to clarify that the budgeted 20 per cent growth for next year is now really only 12 per cent: creative accounting that releases profit from the halance sheet by manipulating provisions; and faralistic masochism which yields under duress to a head office-imposed budget and then takes positive delight in saying "we told you so" when it is missed next year. So how can we escape this corporate nightmare? Here are some practical alternatives being adopted by a growing number of large corporations: The world does not stop at midnight on December 31. We should refuse to allow our common sense to be overruled by the proponents of financial eschatology. Instead, we should

Robert Bittlestone predicts a watershed in budgeting establish a continuous forecast on a 12 or 24-month ahead rolling basis. The future cannot be predicted exactly, so we should explicitly incorporate a risk range of possible outcomes in forecasts, rather than a single Performance rewards should be based on beating historic performance and our competitors' achievement, not on budget negotiation skills. If we pay people based on growth against last year set against a benchmark of our competitors' results, then the political aspects of budgetsetting become irrelevant. Interactive graphic models should be used to make explicit the linkage between cause and effect. We should use modern technology to help us to visualise immediately the effect on shareholder value of, say, a reduction in customer payment period from 60 to 40 days. Automation of these aspects cuts out weeks of "back office" data nancial dynamics of their busiapart perhaps for e-mail. Even that still has its sceptics. But the approaching millennium is a cross-over year in this regard:

ANY OTHER BUSINESS

newly appointed managers in their early thirties have been educated since the 1980s to use computers themselves. By 2005 this microprocessing meteorite will have eradicated the last of the dinosaurs and there will be no more excuses for dedicating a quarter of every year to the production of next year's budgdon't intend to wait until then. churning and involves the executive team in visualising the fi-

Robert Bittlestone is managing director of Metapraxis Ltd.

came Chancellor of the Exchequer we heard much in favour

Chinese walls must be built to last

THE one clincher that clients put forward against Pannell Kerr Forster on a similar when arguing against the further consolidation of accountancy firms is that of conflict of interest. With only a Big Five group of firms, companies find it an immensely complicated task to select an adviser - in even the simplest of cases who is not "conflicted out". .

When it comes to court work, such as that of expert witnesses, this was not quite so much of a problem. The half a dozen or so firms in the mid-tier were perfectly capable of providing help without much likelihood of problems.

But even they are now starting to consolidate, and the latest efforts to merge, by Robson Rhodes and Pannell Kerr Forster, have provoked a court action that is likely to provide the best guidance that on the merger. professional firms throughout the City need on Chinese

Whereas the case of KPMG and Prince Jefri Bolkiah, the brother of the Sultan of Brunei, last December dealt with the problems of an overlap of clients, the new case deals with the much more likely problem of professional firms falling over each other.

The Prince Jefri case provides a warning to firms. But it is one of greed. KPMG fell into the trap by behaving like characters from an old Tom and Jerry cartoon. As soon as the words Sultan of Brunei came up, their eyes started revolving like cash registers. They knew that there was bound to be a conflict. But all those fees...there had to be a way to get around the conflict.

But as the House of Lords finally ruled last December, there was not. Partly this was because of the sheer number of people within KPMG who had worked on the original Prince Jefri project. When it comes to 12 partners, 15 directors, 9 consultants, 43 managers and 18 assistant managers, and a small amount of more than £4 million in fees, it is going to be very difficult to ring-fence that lot when another project to investigate its workings comes into the office. The lesson learnt in future will simply be that professional firms just don't take up such assignments.

But the Robson Rhodes case is different. Their partner, Frank Attwood, who had triumphed over Ernst & Young in the Merretts case, was asked by a group of Lloyd's names to act as an expert witness to that simple adage.

case. He did so. The work started.

Then came the news that Robsons intended merging with Pannells. Attwood said that they would have to resign the work. The syndicate took him and the firm to court and argued that this would be a breach of contract. The syndicate won. And the judge imposed a series of conditions laying down how confidentiality was to work, assuming the merger is voted through by partners. One of the conditions is that neither of the partners involved can attend partners' meetings during the period of the action. As a result, neither Frank Attwood nor his fellow partner, Hosein Hamedani, can go to the partners' meeting which will vote

> But the process is aided by the fact that it involves a very small team of people. It is more manageable. And the process is also aided by the fact that the judge refined Lord Millett's judgment in the Prince Jefri case. Lord Millett said then that "in my opinion, an effective Chinese wall needs to be an established part of the organisational structure of the firm, not created ad hoc and dependent on the acceptance of evidence sworn for the purpose by members of staff engaged on the relevant But in the Robson Rhodes judgment, Mr Justice Laddie says: 'The crucial question is will the barriers work? If they do, it does not mat-ter whether they were created before the problem arose or are erected afterwards.

ROBERT BRUCE

"It seems to me that all Lord Millett was saying was that Chinese walls which have become part of the fabric of the institution are more likely to work than those artifi-cially put in place to meet a one-off

So what now appears to be acceptable is that Attwood and his team have to work in a separate building, not take part in partnership affairs and have all their documentation removed and held at the firm's solicitors.

In short, the Chinese walls should be effective and rigorous and be seen by the outside world to be serious. Professional firms should, in short, behave professionally. There is nothing new in that sentiment. But professional firms, be they lawyers, accountants or whoever, would do themselves several favours by sticking

More pressing concerns

IT WAS, of course, the power of the press. This week the effort by Arthur Andersen to poach the KPMG practice in Canada was aborted amid a welter of recriminations. But those in the know suggest that one of the reasons is that press barons like to keep their own company. Rupert Murdoch is chairman and chief executive of The News Corporation, parent company of The Times, and News Corp is audited by Arthur Andersen.

Conrad Black, whose Hollinger company owns The Daily Telegraph among other publications, has KPMG Canada as auditors. It is thought that he preferred to stick to the idea that never the twain should meet.

Party on

AT LEAST Robson Rhodes partner Frank Attwood will be able to go to the odd Christmas party this year. Having been barred from partners' Rhodes who, for part of his meetings as a result of being an expert witness in a case in which a Lloyd's syndicate is suing Robson's new merger partner. Pannell Kerr Forster, the Chinese walls do not go as far as that. He will still be allowed a social life. The judgment that defines the relevent restrictions considered the hypothetical idea of preventing Attwood

"meeting at a Christmas party

another partner of Robson

time, happens to work with an ex-Pannell Kerr Forster partner who is, or was, connected in some way with the Syndicate litigation". Fortunately for Attwood, Mr Justice Laddie decided that in his view "that goes far beyond preventing leakage of information and extends into the realm of the fanciful and theoretical".

Anticlimax WHEN Gordon Brown beof the idea of a general anti-avoidance rule, a GAAR, to curb the antisocial behaviour of tax advisers who preferred to help taxpayers to keep their money rather than giving too much of it to the Treasury. Now the impracticalities of such a rule have sunk in, there has been much less rattling of Treasury sabres. But tax insiders are looking out for the Chancellor's holiday plans. Portugal has just introduced a GAAR. ROBERT BRUCE

ا حكدة من الاصل

5

edwtohanniohe parklent ettevedoans iryndisba

	1999 Low Controlly 60 4/- 5	7% 584 6	Record run continues	High Low Company	Price 196 1999 Price 186 (b) +/- % P/E (b) Law Company (a) +/- % P/E
On Property of the Party of the	615% 446 Allical Decision   460°2+ 37, 8.8   311°2 29°3 Ballors 610°3 285°4   4.9   15°4 No. Band Steven   25°5 11°5   25°5 Genomicing A 565° - 2°5 22°5   22°5 Genomicing A 565° + 12°5 2.5   25°5 22°5 Harginari Ballor 26°5 + 12°5 2.5   140°5 Harginari Ballor 26°5 - 2°5 11°5   140°5 Harginari Ballor 26°5 11°5 11°5 11°5 11°5 11°5 11°5 11°5 1	1547   1154   1154   1575	TRADING PERIOD: Settlement takes place five business days after the day of trade. Changes are calculated on the previous day's close, but adjustments are made when a stock is ex-dividend. Changes, yields and price/earnings ratios are based on middle prices.    1980	40°-2 34°-2 Care Drop- SS-9 9 Coffices SS-9 9 Coffices SS-9 SS-9 Coffices SS-9 SS-9 Coffices SS-9 SS-9 Coffices SS-9 SS-9 Coffices SS-9 33 Octor library SS-9 33 Octor library SS-9 SS-9 Proposition SS-9 SS-9 Proposition SS-9 SS-9 Proposition SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 Proposition SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 Proposition SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 Proposition SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 Proposition SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 Proposition SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9 SS-9	200
The state of the s	174   1775   Barchayer   1955   + 75   - 22   2   2   2   2   2   2   2   2		15th   12th	427- 235 AR  215- 147- fep Holo  215- 147- fep Holo  215- 258- Bennise Br  2467- 248- Bennise Br  2467- 247- Bennise Br  247- Br  248- Bennise Br  248- Br  257- Br  257- Br  258- Bennise Br  267- Br  278-	3490+   181   2490   187   189   2490   187   189   2490   189   2490   189   2490   189   2490   189   2490   189
The second secon	981 730 Severt 942 - 11, 36 16 16 17 14 15 11 16 16 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18	202- 109- Decisi 109 74 7 207  202- 109- Decisi 109 74 6.0  203- 109- Decisi 109 74 6.0  205- 345 Decision 109- 109- 109- 109- 109- 109- 109- 109-	200 210 Generors 225	216- 165- 187- 187- 188- 188- 188- 188- 188- 188	165 +
7/	### 1	8 587 514 Sendish Four S21 - 1 40 10.8 8 587 516 Send Shin Bang S27 3 3.8 16.1 8 157 516 Send Shin Bang S27 3 3.8 16.1 8 158 158 158 158 158 158 158 158 158 15	30° 27° Settings Entry 344 + 3 0.4  30° 27° Settings Entry 344 + 3 0.4  30° 27° Settings Entry 344 + 3 0.4  30° 28° Adam DelChard 475° - 4 22 192  30° 28° Semant 135° 7.4 135  30° Semant 135° 7.4 135° Sem	285 1000 Congres 1265 1000 Congres 1265 1000 Congres 1265 1000 Congres 1265 1795 1795 1795 1795 1795 1795 1795 179	220 + 2- 12 18.7  231 + 2- 12 18.7  331 + 2- 2.7  345 + 2- 2.7  35 + 2
	6007   374	719 184 SISSES 224 48 117 124 125 13 11 1 125 15 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	HOUSEHOLD GDS & TEXT    10	87 - 222 Granger and Same List on Same List	4115 - 4 31 18.1  489 + 4 19 8.5  25 - 27 18.9  83 + 9 90 10.4  176 - 2 23 18.4  176 - 2 240  177 - 2 259 18.5  178 - 1 34 27.5  179 - 1 34 27.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 259 12.5  170 - 2 2 240  270 - 2 259 12.5  171 - 2 259 12.5  172 - 3 259 12.5  173 - 3 259 12.5  174 - 3 259 12.5  175 - 3 259 12.5  177 - 4 5 15.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  177 - 1 5 5 12.5  178 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 2 250 12.5  179 - 5 250 12.5  179 - 5 250 12.5  170 - 5 250 12.5
	1511	141 31'-16kppc 100' 4'' 13'-11'-11'-11'-11'-11'-11'-11'-11'-11'-	Fast-track air travel to Scandinavia?  You've got it.  With more direct flights more often from the UK, there's no quicker way to get to our part of the world.  For more information about SAS, give us a ring on 0845 60 727 727, or visit www.sas.se - we're looking forward to seeing you on board soon!  Fast-track air travel to Scandinavia?  You've got it.  Fast-track air travel to Scandinavia?  You've got it.  With more direct flights more often from the UK, there's no quicker way to get to our part of the world.  For more information about SAS, give us a ring on 0845 60 727 727, or visit www.sas.se - we're looking forward to seeing you on board soon!  OTHER FINANCIAL  It's pure Scandinavia?  It's pure Scandinavia?  You've got it.  With more direct flights more often from the UK, there's no quicker way to get to our part of the world.  For more information about SAS, give us a ring on 0845 60 727 727, or visit www.sas.se - we're looking forward to seeing you on board soon!  OTHER FINANCIAL  It's pure Scandinavia  It's pu	655 4779 Peet 3139 255 Priter Prop 1007 257 Priter	509 3.4 16.6 101 85 TBI 87°7 * 2.20 22.4 24°5 2015 TBI 270°7 * 5 4 10.3 24°5 2015 TBI 270°7 * 5 4 10.3 26°5 2017 TBIDER & Britan 330 6.3 101°, 65°4 Ustand 79 * 6.7 44° 24° Ust Camers 27°7 * 6.7
}	250	165   121+ Contison    140+ 62   93   155	5 1 24 199 Denken	RETAILERS. 225 200 A to Suchy 1574 Alexan 1574 Alexan 2574 Alexan 45 257 Alexan 46 257 Alexan 1574 Areath Beny 1174 777 Alexan 1184 Areath Beny 1177 Alexan	25 19 12.7 25 175 Systems 985 1 24 190
	Ser: 330-9 Brox Homes  3: 307-9 Brox Homes  3: 307-	22   23   24   25   25   25   25   25   25   25	98 - 148	1455 795 Oltoma Gue 90 775 bler Bouldon 7 44 BN Ga 187 50 Folkland Ste 1111 789 Fine All De 245 1609 Print Bull St 549 429 Formacies 515 300 Practi Cost] 369 775 Guergoa Hog 857 755 GUES 557 556 CISS	SSC   27   56   18.4   SP   68   Charles Mai   44
ı	25: 162 Personner 277, 3 3 4 92 145 55 + Personser 155 - 2: 34  105: 55 + Personser 105 - 2: 34  105: 55 + Personser 105  105: 15 + Personser 105  107: 15 + Personser 105  108: 25 + Personser 105  109: 25 + Personser 105	50 45 Federal Meter 170" 53 79 1 37" 29" Relatestant West 35 + 5 4 5 1 36" 25" Relate Meter 277" 124 1 24 1 5 9 36" 25" Relate Meter 277" 1 24 1 5 9 36" 25" Relate Meter 277" 27 1 3 1 3 1 3 1 3 1 3 1 3 1 3 1 3 1 3 1	17   Production   137   12   25   234     74   Production   137   12   25   234     75   137   157   157   157   157     75   157   157   157   157     75   157   157   157   157     75   157   157   157   157     75   157   157   157   157     75   157   157   157     75   157   157   157     75   157   157   157     75   157   157   157     75   157   157	195 166 Orders (cd 32's 19's Paties; 75's 60's Partidge Part 31's 20's 05 Gp 10's 74 Rossbys 50 33 San Empa	1865 + 15
	57 - Amond Jales 597.  17 - 14 - Academic 167.  18 - 17 - Academic 167.  19 - 17 - Academic 167.  19 - 18 - 18 - 18 - 18 - 18 - 18 - 18 -	### ##################################	1807   1807	SUPPORT SE  765 3277 AEA Tech 2597 87 Acom 278 180 Acom 1 38 Albra Arric 69 377 Alphaseric 515 38 Anna Secue 2509 4077 Aladas WS 2509 4077 Aladas WS	12": 10": Soda Perilleum 12", 36 68 68 50"; 45" 60": Sparte 8 Det Mede 22", 31 4 22"; 13" 52" 52" 52" 52" 52" 52" 52" 52" 52" 52

هكذا من الأصل

187	1	THE	TIMES UNIT TRUST IN	. 16 ]	VICE		Sea Ber
COM CONTESTMENTS LTD  TOT OTH THOSE  WAS DONE 135 TO 16' 30 - 0 20  STORE OF OFFICE 135 TO 16' 30 - 0 20  STORE OF OFFICE 135 TO 16' 30 - 0 20  STORE OFFI 135 TO 15' 30 - 0 20  STORE OFFI 15' 30 - 0 20  STORE OFFI 15' 30 - 0 20  STORE OFFI 15' 30 - 0 20  STORE OFF	CAMADA LIFE HIGHT (LIC) LTD 91707 822 188 Car Gard Car 14-39 36-501 - 250 C 9 Car Gard Car 167 39 199 71 - 200 C 9 4 40-404m 645,70 681 57 - 710 C 9 Car 14-61 60 59 39 4 90 4 38	Recovers: 7063 - 9 cm 173 Sent C 750 r 175 63 - 9 cm 173 Sent C 750 r 175 63 - 2 cm 173 Sent C 750 r 175 63 - 2 cm 173 Sent C 750 r 175 64 65 65 65 65 65 65 65 65 65 65 65 65 65	Select French International   Sele	Sel Bar - 4 & Sel Ser Sel Ser Sel Ser Sel Ser Sel Ser Sel	FISS 100 Acc 19230 12430 - 1.20 107 FTZ 100 Des 107 20 11220 - 1.20 107 GM & Fat to: 65.56 68.25 - 0.01 5.33 4b Access 225.20 245.50 - 1.80 3.75 High Year # 225.20 341.50 - 1.80 3.75	PRODUCTION DATE TREATS LTD   PRODUCTION DAT	SDOTTER! WINDOWS THRO MEST   SHEET SESS DESS  SHEET SESS DESS*
a useins 101 to 125 to 2.06 strang Blood 56.50 57.60 79.10 5.5 B GOVERT UNIT THUST LTD. 171 J75 7779 Osenberg 6777 407 7888	Tarth State can 450 10 456 10 2 30 10 69 622 188 50 20160 - 260 0 3	99   PLEADING PRINATE PURO MISSIT LTD	MYESCO FLAND EARLAGERS LTD US E 8390 619 333 Deallog, 6508 619 733 UP G	quanta 255.98 772.20(+2.35 1.57) qloc 2 197.90 210.03(+1.49 2.45) pomble: 102.3(108.26 -0.9) 0.86	FISE 100 Acc 19320 12480 - 1.20 107 177 177 177 177 177 177 177 177 17	Dec	Signature   Section   Se
AURIT THE TYPE (TO 1788)  1787 1797 Personaling 1177 1497 17889  1588 1798 1798 1798 1798 1798 1798 1798 17	Manufacture   12.22   37   131   0.11   130   130   131   0.11   130   131   0.01   132   2.51   13	Physic Festion 1962s (1979 - 1967 ) 55 FOREIGN & COLUMNAL LIMIT 1997 The PIETT Sen 200 Administral 19777 1990 150	US Start Disp be	de Sit (fail The Migra Lid) wheat Gridge 254230 December 91634 6242713	Pittisaid Pyrysesal Panedon Bird Times*   British	March   Marc	Note
Famols   250 07 251 70 25	CAPEL-CORE INTERES UT INSERT LTD 918 (27) 7433 Emp 4(5) 537 7433 Emp 5161 251 7455 According 5 fact 195 91 441 195 - 5 50 Employable 5 195 91 441 0 1 1 1 0 0 1 Employable 5 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1		100   100	Acam 240 80 251.50 + 100 .	Money Report 1 192-90 177-00 443 1869 187-90 197-90 294-50 + 2.60	Premier let $1.47 $5.89 + 0.01 457 $0.00: 125.51 $33.52 + 0.01 1.58 $0.00: 10.05 101.05 + 1.71 125 UE Growth 218.92 222.69 + 1.85 1.21 QUALTER FUND MANAGEMENT LTD	SHAP (ALBERT 2) Supplies: 91277 227 280 Dualing: 91277 227 670 Empirics: 91277 227 280 Dualing: 91277 227 670 Empirics: 729 0 75530 - 230 Un Authoriz: 729 0 75200 - 0.70
inc 43 % 45 69; 0 013 8 % incer Prints  Gen 401 10 473 16 - 0 47  Size 1967 199 29 - 0 57	CH		Part 5 Gat	Accom 8013.09 1009.00 + 5.00 0.54  For Part 776.40 3.58.09 + 4.00 2.47  Accom 95.70 1019.00 + 6.00 2.47  Accom 95.70 0.05 70 3.00  So Co Rec 274.00 2.20 0. 1.59  Accom 229.20 2.20 0. 1.59  Accom 129.20 2.20 0. 1.59  Accom 175.00 155.00 - 1.30  For Book 175.00 155.00 - 1.30  For Book 175.00 155.00 - 1.30  For Book 175.00 155.50 + 0.30 0.05	Repair   1980   1982	0771 550 0000   16 inc lon lor   122.65   136 341 + 0.53   3.07     Incument fust   147.23   183.46 + 0.74   0.02     UE Smaller Cos   175.50   133.47   0.01   1.71     RELEMBLE SHAFT MORRO 2.70	European 72° 00 265.30 - 2.50 In Barth de Care 144.22 157.70 - 70 77 Probed Person 300,00 369.50 + 3.00 UK State Cor 125.00 162.87 5.00
Richas 2005-5 25:10 - 4:20 200 177:23 125:06 - 09: 201 69:17 74:54 - 1:71 1:66 2021 90:47 105:29 - 1:52 2021 176:61 198:91 - 4:44 2021 77:59 - 6:66	CAZENQUE UNIT TRUST SCORT LTD B171 605 0780 Carriore Public 130 91 115 13 ~ 0.75 165 Carriore Public 250 55 72 05	- do-Acopin 95,68 35.2 - 0.5 Comentals 153.86 174.55 - 0.3 4.9 4.5 4.5 4.5 4.5 4.5 4.5 4.5 4.5 4.5 4.5	Section (1)   Section	175.00 186.90 + 0.30 0.09 terds 6th 529 to 561.00 + 0.30 0.09 kerds 6th 529 to 561.00 + 0.30 kerds 784.00 834.10 + 0.40 kerds 4 Manchapter per Friends Provident	British 1988 297 39 + 718   43   European Growth 217 40 234.50 - 4.30   GB 6 Food by 188,50 115,10 425   Jacobse 198,50 115,10 + 150 367	##### 597 #53 Belled Lefe 541 20 574.10 + 240 1.95 Butteschild Field Management Deuter: ##77 #22 1900 Cited Services: 6808 124 214 Fret Arteus Portfolio Paul	SINGSH I FRIEDLANDER HVESTMERT FUNDS 1.1 8177 825 6225 Contament 155 80 195.49 + 2.20 Sixth Gell 121 80 128.201 + 1 40 by 1s Part 73.95 79.00 + 2.46 Manuard 1879.15 2014.65 + 113.05
wh 200 65 20156 7 164 of fictional of 70 170 197 7 1 164 of fictional of 70 170 197 7 1 164 of fictional of 70 170 170 170 170 170 170 170 170 170	Surgeon Particle   22.33   23 161   0.37		400 Ch	G SECURITIES Sets/Gelf Rig: 01945 399 390 case 823 10 859 00 - 4,71 0.06 Acasem 1008 69 1085 00 - 6,00 0.06 Pagenty 759 30 000 60 - 5 10 0.19	Instal Count 42.98 44.82 - 0.19 Managed 17.70 124.90 + 0.90 1.99 Managed 17.70 124.90 + 0.90 1.99 Managed 17.70 124.90 + 0.90 1.99 Managed 191.80 200.30 + 2.56 Managed STEMPELL INVEST FOR LTD	Aus Profic 5.23 3.67 + 0.05 15.00 15	See   See   18   18   18   18   18   18   18
920 mu 79,85 80,32 - 0,21 13; 9200 147,59 157,50 - 0,99 127 98000, Acc 179,00 196,59 39/ 98000, Inc 195,60 177,10 300	CBF CHURCH OF EMOLAND FEMOS B171-588 1815		Orienzada Minister Frances Facuciar Fr. 1 27 67 21 65 987 + 0.83 176 Cross From 52.94 55.75 + 0.22 4.59 April 17 67 67 67 67 67 67 67 67 67 67 67 67 67	Parameter   180   50   50   50   50   50   50   50	BONGAN GYDEFELL INVEST FOR LITO	UR 55.05 91.27 • 0.80 UR 56.05 91.27 • 0.80 UR 56.05 91.27 • 0.80 UR 57.05 91.27 • 0.80 UR 57.05 91.25	Ages Car Fund $ 262.57 1 - 0 14 European $ 276.42 1 + 166 Gabbai Read $ 92.67 1 + 0 89 Saturd $ 48.34
al Auc. 1048 60 11-13 cm; - 700 148 al line 872 10 884 06; - 5 80 1 12 list int Auc. 270 90 236 147 - 0 10 6 84 ad lant lau. 105 20 111 169 105 50 143 80 152 6 0 10 148	FIGURE 1 1997 10. 31 = 442, 444	2 Indicate 579.90 670.00 - 140 - 400-Acount 654.10 694.30 - 140	100	Standar   Sep   Sep   Sep   Co   5 pm   Co	Terripose Galler, 1815. 21 (1988) - 7,10 (19	Telegraphy of the second secon	UK Streets $ 195.50 $ 1.189 UK Streets $ 89.04 $ 0.15 Uk Energ Landes $ 89.04 $ 0.15 Uk Energ Landes $ 180.05 Uk Fronthel Fel $ 83.50 $ 0.75 Uk Fronthel Fel $ 83.50 $ 0.75 Uk Fronthel Fel $ 83.50 $ 0.75 Uk Fronthel Fel $ 99.50 $ 7 0.70 Uk Street $ 99.50 $ 7 0.70
a ticker # 104_3b	Britz-Mileg Desis 6677-000 Cast Eng 8645 6977-629     PRESTINE PORTPULIO (PPT PRINCE)     Incame Fands	1000 6 1201   1912   190-19   1913   190-19   1914   191	New Section # 5528	hand # 1052'50 1092.10 + 2.60 474 Access # 617.00 1052'50 + 1546 474 Access # 617.00 1052'50 + 1546 474 Access # 617.00 1052'50 + 1546 47 Access # 617.00 1052'50 + 2.60 125 Access # 10 0 75.21  + 60.1 5.30 Access # 25.00 5.00 125 Access # 25.00 5.00 125 Access # 26.00 1055.50 + 2.30 129 Access # 26.00 1055.50 + 2.30 129 Access # 26.00 1055.50 + 2.30 105 Access # 1200.00 1055.50 + 2.30 0.40 Access # 1200.00 1055.50	Margor Profess Act.   359.20   316.40   + 1.00   9.27     Escripa   299.50   317.70   + 0.70     Kigh Income   327.73   21.937   + 0.23   16.00     Japan Brown   195.86   45.727   - 8.39     Will Dian Chin Acc.   475.50   197.50   + 1.60   0.72     All Hills Exp.   42.10   107.40   + 1.00   0.94	Sam Digre   37.89   887   88
200887, 7169 7562 - 117 Refere & 102.99 - 044 6.35 Refere 17590 124001 246 Galler 17590 124001 246 Galler 772 1840 - 149 665	Holosopt Franks	Packets   Province   Desire   Packets	FOT Franks (Franks (Fr	eas 998.00 1045.00 + 8.00 9.49   Cheston 1200 40 125.40 + 10.70 0.49   Cheston 4 121.60 128.60 + 0.59 2.44   Cheston 4 151.60 128.60 + 0.59 2.44   Cheston 4 154.60 174.20 + 0.70 2.44   Cheston 5 163 05.30 - 0.70 2.44   Cheston 6 163 05.30 + 0.70 2.44   Cheston 6 163 05.30 + 0.70 2.40 3.60   Cheston 6 163 05.40 074 7.24 3.60		Sunt 4 States European Bowl 2	Engene 25'90 772'90 - 578 En Esstero 149 10 157 70 - 2.10 Entestero 149 10 157 70 - 2.10 Entestero 293.00 74'30'7 + 2.80 Encent 293.00 199.00'r + 1.20 Engene 220 10 232.60 - 1.40 Sorti Socs 766 60 81'1.20 - 980
7 URBIT TST MERS 7 URBIT TST MERS 717 373 15 February 120 20 1 120 201 - 640 6421	# 4 General 147 73 157 90 ≥ 1096 145 -01- Accord 252-9 210 251 ≥ 132 145	5	Supplied Press   105 to 109 11   5.24   Food	Precipit # 17190 128.50 + 0.99 2.44  Access # 164 50 17429 + 0.70 2.44  Pres Cor 81 65 55 55  Access # 650 65 55  Access # 650 65 55  Access # 650 65 55  Access # 273 65 65 65  Access # 273 65 65 75 11 - 2.00 3.60  Access # 273 65 2.37 51 - 2.00 3.60  Access # 1710 75 187 70 14 13 70 0.45  Access # 750 1 187 70 14 13 70 0.45  Access # 750 1 187 70 14 13 70 0.45  Access # 750 1 2.50 5 622 400  Access # 750 2.50 5 622 400  Access # 250 55 50 - 835 0.34	######################################	### PATE AL LIAMETE 177 MISSET LTD Eary String Sith STALL Desirings SITH SITH SITHS Early S State Missens Francis Early 1787 (0) 1991 (0) = 12.00 1 13 Early Secure # 194 (0) 173.00 - 12.00 1 13 Early Secure # 194 (0) 173.00 - 12.00 1 14 Early Secure # 194 (0) 173.00 - 12.00 1 14 Early Secure # 195 (0) 175 (0) - 107 (0) 0 Early Secure # 195 (0) 175 (0) - 107 (0) 0 Early Secure # 195 (0) 175 (0) - 107 (0) 0 Early Secure # 195 (0) 175 (0) - 107 (0) 0 Early Secure # 195 (0) 175 (0) - 107 (0) 0 Early Secure # 195 (0) 175 (0) - 107 (0) 0 Early Secure # 195 (0) 175 (0) - 107 (0) 0 Early Secure # 195 (0) 175 (0) 0 Early Secure	SOCIETE CEMERALE WHIT TRUSTS LTD Climat Service: 0000 180 254360 LTC Count Age 107 18 11750 + 155
ne Equate 250 0 373 29 = 1,0 2 2 2 miles benefit 250 0 302 29 = 2,30 3 60 miles benefit 200 0 25 6 miles benefit 200 0 25 6 miles benefit 200 0 25 6 miles	Or National Growth Prints   100	7 do Agent 279 88-2 - 161 5 PP Pa. Esma Sec 190 27 272 - 256 F longue 2 81-5 90.2 - 256 171 20 Agent 2 171 98-35 170 171 0 Play Erth Car 256 171 171 2 150 10 Play Erth Car 256 171 171 2 150 10 Play Erth Car 256 171 171 2 150 10 Play Erth Car 256 171 171 2 150	12-5 (a.c.) 21 (2.6.0) 2.20 (a.c.) 2.20 (a	Access 41.50 43.50 - 2.00 62.50 (2.50 62.5	INCURRANT JOHNISTONE UT MEMOT BASS 980 930 Aromat, Galant 85 47 85.94 - 0.94 Sandr Ingulate # 144 10 147 507 + 0.90 251	Herk loc 1821-4 243.78 257.90 + 1.90 1.99	$279EREGAN COUT TET MICHES 1.70 0x01 73 71 983 Candit Primace 63.41 65.571 + 0.05
al 35.7 to 381 to 2.7 to 5.6 to 5.8 to 5.7 to 5.9 t	Depositions 91.50 91.50; + 0.01 5.02; Homemaker Fund 123.85 129.02; + 1.15 1.43; CON UNIT TRUST MICHES LTD	P Floris 6.7 35.2 - 0.2 25. P To the Fres 6.7 25. P To the Fres 6.	George 12 16074 178291 071 selected on American 171.00 181.82 971 40.40 American 171.00 181.80 975 40.40 American 171.00 181.80 181.80 40.40 American 175.60 81.54 11.80 American 175.60 American 175.60 American 175.60 American 175.60 American 17	Accept 145.10 153.40 - 160 3.05. Accept 7 249.80 254.20 - 0.10 3.05   22.70 31.00 - 0.20   Accept 31.90 31.60 - 0.20   Accept 31.90 31.60 - 0.20	Carpenson   144.20	Tigh No. Delid         382,70         287,70         4 1.90         1.90<	booms # 79.79 - 85.33. + 0.77 bd Samb 156.70 186.00 - 0.26
	0171 588 1815	Demonstration Post 506 10 555-70 - 6.55 (20 1 555-70 555 55 555 55 55 55 55 55 55 55 55 55	Libers On FRY Unit TRUST MISRS LTD  Desting 01404 806 585  US SCENT 9 107 76 107 16 1 20 168  Person 1 107 76 202 92 1 45 0.96  Recome	ged Gestrig: 34.10 34.44 ± 0.05 0.85 ged formano # 38.60 38.91; ± 0.13 24.9 ged En 1504.60 1542.30 ± 7.60 1.85 en 61.50 65.00 ± 0.50 1.95	Pacific Growth 78.30 92.51 - 1.45 0.97 Japan Bourin 1 11380 + 0.250  Portificial Acc A   54.01 + 0.45 1.05  Fortificial Sec A   54.00 + 0.45 1.05  Gal Acc A   54.00 + 0.45 1.05  Gal No A   54.00 + 0.45 1.05  Gal No A   54.00 + 0.47 5.39  Gal No A   55.00 + 0.47 5.39	ROYAL LOSSON GAIT TST MERS LTD	STANDARD LIFE DEFERRIBENTS LTD Cust help Textus 6000 33 32 53 Adv Line: 4000 33 33 Interchant Finals (USE) Retail States:
F RATEONIAL UNIT TRUST 18875 LTD 173 8500 9 Secon 141 80 147 26 - 4.90 1.20	Inc., impel for   1071 87 1 168 07   3 CT	FF Express Tries for Electric 4 (48.90 148.97 + 0.5) 152 for Electric 4 (48.90 156.80 - 0.55 152	September   Sept	25 454 259 40 274 30 + 2.70 0.50 Accepts 359 70 350 45 + 3.60 0.50 Accepts 3790 9700 + 0.70 297	AFRI MOTUAL LAMIT MERIS LTD Brandine: 81277 227 380 Decilop (1277 281 910 Augr Equity 227 35 24250 + 0.84 152	Jupin Golde 1927 115 III 71 + 237 0.37 Sector Size 2270 3070 + 520 1.55 UK Goods 1999 16909 + 230 240 Mel Goods 572 47200 + 730 155 ST JAMESTS PLACE UT GROUP LTD	Asia Pair Cith Act 1 57 57 + 1.23 Conground Refear 1 59.55   1 0.21 Conground Refear 1 77 141 - 0.25 Conground Refear 1 77 141 - 0.25 Conground Refear 1 54.51 + 1.45 Golden Act 2 62.23   1 0.74 Conground Refear 1 62.23   1 0.74 Conground Refear 1 62.23   1 0.74
er Cos 89 % $4 $21 - 0.32   225 ground   164 90   17 921 - 0.90   0.77 IOSEEN UNIT TRUST MORES LTD 1545 886 888 Dig 1808 183 580 Opp Acr 385 26 40 51   166	177   178   200   178	P Rhumaged Partition Services   4649 Partition Services   4649 Partition Services   4649 Partition   4649	10-40 362 12 - 131 252 - 40-A	ISSET 1709-50 1807-780 +12-40 0.53 Accum 1956-90 207-250 +14-10 0.53 Accum 1956-90 207-250 +14-10 0.53 Accum 1957-780 Fig. 1887 1844-555 Accum 1957-780 Fig. 1887 1844-555	NP1 NOVESTANDAY INGRES 8171 623 4500 Assesses Dial 194 61 - 115 Fa East Dial 191 50 136 45 Castal Care Tiel 1 121 30 - 0.27 0.61	### 1307 F8900 FOF East Inc. GE Earth Pring late: 661.5 4 702.9 10 + 240 0.25 GE Earth Pring late: 661.5 4 702.9 10 + 240 0.25 GE Earth Pring late: 661.5 4 702.9 10 + 240 0.25 GE Earth Pring late: 461.5 4 702.9 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11 11	Grand & Inche # 49.73
Nr. Inc. 47-44 50.39 - 0.24 Inc. 92-29 97-65 - 0.15 0-82 Ain No. 7-890 150-29 - 1-07 pr. Oppo Acc 158-85 167-67 - 2-24 render 151-37 266-631 - 2-347 3-660	Fishs Her Cas	0345 Set 195/7 CARDA 556 90 455 R - 220 672	Section   Sect	CHANT MANAGERS LTB	Constit Care thet 1	UK Haga Inc Inc. 205.70 277.70 + 130 2.321	UK EMACH ACC   54.78 + 0.17   UK GBB Inc.   37.63   + 0.25
g Com 99 23 64 69 0.81 0.79 or loc # 30.06 21 65 - 0.15 8.00 1.88 loc 27 69 75 02 - 0.70 0.53 fur loc # 27 9.21 - 0.62 6.20 loc 4.70 1.88 loc 27 84 27 9.31 - 0.62 6.20 loc 4.70 1.88 loc 4.70 8.70 3.70 5.70 6.70 1.42 8.70 6.70 1.42 8.70 6.70 6.70 1.42 8.70 6.70 6.70 6.70 6.70 6.70 6.70 6.70 6	CLERICAL MEDICAL OT NEGRS LTD ESSE 772 203 4marcar Gentr 141 83 150 80 - 0.98 Drappi Group 46-55 51-81 - 0.32 0.85	CA Existence Ch		- INITE INDIN - 112 1-0	RATIVEST UNIT TRUST MANAGERS LITO	SAMBOR ASSECT MIGHT (US) PLC 9771 338 9672 Extrema Grad. 154.09 164.09 + 1.99 Ground Bd 61.64 65.09† + 0.45 5.02 UK Grade 135.90 144.57 + 0.47 1.42
Note   107 64   219 31   - 0.02   620   180 602   179 51   - 10.02   620   180 602   179 60   180 602   170 602   180 602   170 602   180 602   170 602	Francisco George 141 CS 7 192-88 - 122 6 CC 192-9 (CC 192-192-192-192-192-192-192-192-192-192-	Fractical Invitor 15954 170(3) - 0,83 2.62			Section   141	SARACINI (BUTTST MISTS LTD) ING 6777 782 6500 Em, 6777 286 6500 Showl Acc. 465,00 609 30 0.33 Income 730.40 TEARO 365 SAME & PROSPER GROUP	File East East (year) 224 179 248,000 Steb 20 Europe 200 97 258,77 + 2 80 Steb 3 Europe 300 97 258,77 + 2 80 Steb 5 Not Am 4 666 4 4951 + 1165 FT Justice (year) 126 424 143,902 + 4 68 18mg 3 Go Em 2,117 2,229
Gerts les 66 15 70 00) - 0 52 0 25 mes les 2007 11 32 67 3 16 mes 4cc 207 48 207 48 3 16 mes 4cc 207 48 3 17 15 5 13 14 mes 4cc 207 48 3 17 15 5 13 14 16 5 14 16 5 14 16 5 14 16 17 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18	Pedignal Carm 102.27 108.27 4 6 77 102. Ped Sin Cas Inc 45 35 4 7 98 6 16 12 4 6 6 4 6 7 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	December Funds   256 60   255.13   - 0.24   107			MESPITOR FUND MISSS LTD	Area Santa Cos 197 70 210.30 - 270 Cost 193 60 210 5.25 Chan bagge 44.51 47.65 - 1.83 (1.77 Campaign) 84.72 90.13 - 0.42 (0.34 6.77 6.77 6.77 6.77 6.77 6.77 6.77 6.7	### TEMPART AND STORY SHOT THE MARKS LITD #### 178.20
1455-91 1586-24 - 10-87 c 1455-91 1586-24 - 10-87 c 1455-91 1586-21 - 10-87 c 1455-91 1596-25 c 159-92	COLONIAL FREST STATE FO MIGRS (UR) LTD	UK Growth & Inc. #   345,27   360,397   - 278   294				Exer Satil Cas: 97.77 104.00 → 0.59 But incore: # 76.97 73.66 ÷ 0.43 3.97 Fa Baston: 2.29 88.22 ± 0.36 FE Sin Cas: 97.70 53.770 + 3.89 0.48 February Satisfactors: 97.70 53.770 + 3.89 0.48 Facility Fundamental Satisfactors: 97.70 53.770 + 3.89 0.48	Sem Small Co   75 17   81 12 - 0 44     Japan   120 90 127 77 - 1     Acta Paradi: 76 30 255 90 - 1     Acta Paradi: 76 30 255 90 + 5 50     Inv   Incel Acc
narince 105 73 110,73 - 0 09 1 46 Orath Chart Trust Mers Ltd 20 0733 N Cas 2765 00 2393 90	Riserced	Martinista Francis			Executed Global 127.26 122-411 + 268 2277 Heartgroad to: 317 88 32731 - 248 1.28 1.29 1.29 1.29 1.29 1.29 1.29 1.29 1.29	Grandh   GSA20   GS49.07   0.40   0.15     High lacrona   S686   5686   ± 604   562     High lacrona   155.80   175.30   2.30     High lacrona   156.80   309.10†   1.00   845     Japan Scorde   166.90   176.50   0.10     Japan Scorde   166.90   176.50   1.00     Japan Scorde   166.90   176.50   1.20     Japan Scorde   176.90   1.20     Japan Scorde   176.90   1.20   1.20   1.20     Japan Scorde   176.90   1.20   1.20   1.20   1.20     Japan Scorde   176.90   1.2	Megal Cash 95.46 95.46 0.01  Stati LIFE OF CARVADA OF MISRS LTD  SERVICES 725  Aca Bank 18.50 17.497  Comp Bit Clin bac 111.32 177.551
YS USOT TREEST MEERS LYD DI BOOK DI BOOK DIRCHES 164 MIGUT SYS LYD DIRCHES 164 MIGUT SYS LYD DIRCHES 164 MIGUT SYS LYD DIRCHES 164 MIGUT SYS LYD	9171 556 8890 Coccision UT 45 45 49 601 2.74 COCCE (BEARTY) BV FUNDS LTD 8890 595 550	Mr & Cluste (4th 12873 137-515 - 3-40 2.36 Implemente Grade 189.84 350.84 - 0.23 Prote Crando 153.91 164.61 - 2.90 0.66				Second Act	Corp 98 d Eq. Acc 117.25 10 (17)   17.25   10 (17)   17.25   10 (17)   17.25   10 (17)   17.25   10 (17)   17.25   10 (17)   17.25   10 (17)   17.25
come 115 89 122 541 - 196 207 Seltes his: 108 27 115 18 - 0 65 287 E URINT TBUST INSINT LTD SCB 911 Old Pens: 168 30 169 80 - 4.90	Carech 279 70 344 40 - 100 123 UK Goly Inc 98 70 140 47 - 012 307 Earqueat Grands 13460 137 89 - 099 UF Spec City 246.00 251 70 + 3.50 142	No.   Security   Sec	HACKE		-de-Access 195.70 123.00 + 2.11 1.15 101.46 187.95 + 0.59 4.20 101.46 187.95 + 0.59 4.20 18078HICH BINNON TST MANUAGERS 201650 582 234 186.77 196.111 + 1.11 180	300 250 - 100 100 100 100 100 100 100 100 100	Smir Cays Acc. 45.08 47.58 UK Growth Inc. 95.54 107.05 UK Growth Acc. 17.271 186.68 Estra Income # 64.31 48.02 Wichinsta Grin 60.70 64.19
Peral Pero	For Co-up Pointing use CBM Upin Tries!  CREDIT SUISSE ASSET MGMT FDS (Int) LTD 01277 690 370  European Mc 110 50 117 16 + 0 60 Edwards 12 13390 142-01: - 0 30 0.82	Ame (mange: 468 % 458 76] - 756 Packs: 147.25 147.35 - 198 177 Emergraph Miles: 195.77 77.77 - 1.25 0.05 Pros. Cara (agest) 114.55 114.55 - 6.45 6.47	ESSENTIAL BUSIN SLOANL STREET, JERMYN STREET, CU CANARY WHARF AND HEAT TEL: 101401 HACKETT 801480 4225 N	OVENT GARDEN, THE CITY, THROW AIRPORT	(B) Fronts County 6216 - 104	Carriero de la França (n. 1984) 526 540 Carriero - 624 2º 636 62 507 (1.22	TO FROM MANAGERS LINETED
45/90 4788 - 015  tot (as 13:10 137:50 - 055  conte d 7/20 80:13; - 007 611;  (69:90 45:10; - 230 259  377:20 30:50 - 335  monitae 32:51 36:41 - 0.79 149	Cologodo Mic. 110 50 1 14 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	Manager   Personal Personal Personal   Manager   Manag	LAURENCE LEER UNIT TRUST MONT 1 NOW J. 1177 556 5850 01529	CONT STVESTORS LTD	IR leaf, Today   93.37	According   Acco	Emplem 163.26 170.95 - 199 TEMPLETUR PROSTREMT MEMT LTD 0137 A00.4000 Tumpletur Funde (DEC) Abbit Sharms Group Let 1
Cos 64 10 63 19 4 013 170 Sn Cre 74 09 774 10 - 100 24 30 312 201 + 2 55 180 F IRELAND PURC MICRE LTD	DESCRIPTIONARY LIMIT FURID MICRS 9171 377 8919 Doc loc 304 70 314 10 2.77	American 251 7 (2005) 17-7 American 251 7 (2005)	きゅうかっか 151-8 163241 048 Noore でする 56200 4 10047 11645 - 117 279 いたま Cos 13722 125341 - 014 144 らか Suc State 0164 694 - 0.29 225 機能的 によったする 652 7002 - 229 225 88312	ed Fo (55.30) (550.70) 2.40 e 3 (35.40) 1348.90) 3.80 ON UNIT TRUST SIGNS LTD 222.400 214.60 219.30) 3	Police : 60.73 - 0.27 0.79 Smoth Seat Helm : 50.67 - 0.97 0.84 Smoth Seat Helm : 50.67 - 0.97 0.84 Smoth Seat Helm : 50.68 - 0.05 4.80 Hill Secot : 50.44 - 0.07 0.70 Property 98.56 103.45 + 0.14 4.44  OLD MENTOAL FUNE MISSE LTD	Galecti Erona Males, 41 77 44.553 + 9.27 0.04 -60-Actions 42.79 44.993 + 8.27 0.04 Rogo Var Bell Inc. 48.65 50.15 + 0.02 7.00 -66-Actions 48.53 50.15 + 0.02 7.00	Belanced Acc ; 275.38 - 3.08 Belanced lec ; 211.42 - 2.36 The Acc ; 168.61 - 2.37
289 8673 Press SCD 90 C25 70 164 Cards 284 50 216 20 175 Caper STD 40 256 22 689 AVE PORIOR LTD page Hole Deax 9161 522 4896	CRESSINGER PACKET PACKET (UKD) LTD   Dealers STIT   475 7554 Packet Packet 851 611 7   American Car.   744 7 291 94 00;   Bord Nover 11757 122247 - 0.33 694   Europea 20162 275 7 625   Europea 376 13500 13633 015 (35	Breker Unit Treeds Bullet 189 36 199 251 - 1 X 1 25 GLOBAL ASSET MARKGEMENT SAN SUMMER STREET, ASS 9998	LAZIND SMIT TST MGRS &TD  Ensing: 0676 6996428  5	K DAYESTANDAT MEGAT LTD 115 7870 50 Acc 803 30 110,20 - 890 0.55	##25## 76# 860 Excipator bet 40 70 513.90 + 4.30 80 1 - 40- Accom 517.90 545.20 + 4.50 80 1 Accel for 556 90.83 6.31 60 Accel for 97 40 91.45 - 1.70	Second   S	State Dec.   160.16
Feeda (0.000) (0.000) 489 1 (0.000) (0.000) 489 10 tectore 6 (0.000) (0.400) - 4.41 (0.000) 10 Feeda (0.000) (0.400) - 1.000 (0.000)	Execute Sector   $44.00   277.14   - 0.00   10.00	Faceboard Of Nov. 1 75, 56 5 52 1 36 5 62 1 36 6 62 53 6 5 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6 6	Fig. Co. 1827: 37700; 713-193   MARIO   575-55   575-55   525-55   586-31   586-31   586-31   575-55	8 & SPENCER UNIT TRUST LTD  85412  Cam # 114 30 114 30 + 0.30 3 12  Cam # 214 30 257 20 - 0.51 114	Track Borne by 72.77 75.84; - 9.03 2.49 (sepan) Acade by 122.10 137.10 + 1.78 0.53	Parameter, 12759 170.59 + 0.67 1.61 -06-Accept 140.08 150.83 + 0.77 1.65 -05-Accept 29.57 17.52 + 0.27 0.08 -05-Accept 29.57 17.52 + 0.27 0.08 -05-Accept 29.57 17.52 + 0.27 0.08	THORSESUL USED 135 BERKS LTD 8771 659 8082 Captal 156.40 186.40 + 0.70 ( lateralocal 101 70 107 46 + 250
	Service	GURECHAP UT MERS LTD 077 825 5806 Sursus Gu S Free: 59 D0 165 0 - 41 54 Surst Feb. 54 20 65 0 - 41 54 Surst Feb. 54 20 65 0 - 41 54		2000 2755 37490 - 200 695 10-2 1758 192-201 - 123 122 125 125 125 125 125 125 125 125 125	Lam Art. Complet. 58 : 3 62 17 - 0 01 0.55 Un. All St Marr Inc. 107.50 109.007 - 0.50 1.61 Sealer End Tracks	6000 121 93 130 051 + 100 40-80000 121 6 13127 - 0.06 10 Editorio 420 17 442.00 + 184 2.21 45 44 50 0 - 20 0 221	THEREADMENDLE HYPERTHERITS CHING THE GROWN DESCRIPTION THE SERVE DESCRIPTION Threadments Inventored Services Hammad Francis Age Migd Can Acc. 81.91 64.82 - 0.75 0 Ed Maja Can Acc. 93.45 63.29 + 0.25 1 Can My Can Acc. 93.65 62.87 + 0.25 1 Can My Can Acc. 93.65 62.87 + 0.25 1 Can My Can Acc. 93.65 62.87 + 0.25 1
COL Acc	Section   France   Fig.   Section   Const.   Section   Section   Const.   Section	Comme Name   Comme   Comme   Comme   Comme   Comme Name   Comme   Comm	LEGAL & COMERAL (UT MERS) LTD	200 DER 1	Any Geode Ped 80 1	US Squade Care 23.08 51.29 - 0.99 0.77 64- Azzara 51.24 54.30 - 1.09 0.77 165 Smile Care 31.99 52.52 - 65.0 17.95 52.52 - 65.0 17.95 52.52 - 65.0 17.95 52.52 - 65.0 17.95 52.52 64.0 17.95 52.52 64.0 17.95 52.52 64.0 17.95 52.52 65.0 17.0 17.0 17.0 17.0 17.0 17.0 17.0 17	Act high cits Acc
### ##############################	EXCEPTION   TOTAL   SERVICE	For Goldness Flight see Investor Gidoness Flight HALLIFIX LIT MIGHT LTD Dealers 01404 613110	2 (2) (2) (2) (2) (3) (4) (4) (4) (4) (5) (5) (5) (5) (5) (5) (5) (5) (5) (5	Pt40 115 10 112 131 + 0.53 2 14 10 198 33 17 20 - 1 37 2 30 1 12 37 1 12 37 1 12 37 1 12 37 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1	PEARL DRITTRUSTS LTD	Sen Sent Ces 4467 6590 - 003 144 -On-Action 4861 8863 - 007 144 Collect Senty Inc 12773 1577 - 676 085 Apon Sent Ces 710 8822 + 943 063 -On-Accion 782 3865 043 063 Osemon Sent Ces 3857 77533 - 166 077	UK Montal Sect 50 28 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5
ys Capital Terrestrets Frontis Time 8988 783 8567 F. Francis Charles 137 95 0 209 901 - 2 30 2 341 Sept. 195 0 209 901 - 2 30 2 341 Sept. 195 0 209 901 - 2 30 2 341 Sept. 195 0 209 901 - 2 30 2 341 Sept. 195 20 209 901 - 2 30 4 4 5	Line   Tender   Ten	Secretary Co. 170 170 170 170 170 170 170 170 170 170	1986   1987   1984   1985   1986	### ### ### ### ### ### ### ### ### ##	THE VICTURE AND AND AN EASTER I	40 Acom 15114 197.55 + 137 022 Pacit: 175.65 185.17 - 141 1220 40 Acom 275.43 278.65 - 183 228	Amer Gath 4cc 1 76.99   Amer Gath 4 60.06   Amer Gath 5 60.06   Amer Gath 6 7 60.06   Amer Gath 6 7 60.00   Am or Act 145 (2) (49 (4) - 4 (4) 40	Table 1 Table	Empirica: 01277 600 220 Gestury 21277 60G 412	(20.00 - 10.00 100.07 - 150 04) MANTHE 1.00のかのない 57.70 15170 1 14 056 MTT 50 2.00 Aug 1 12 1 15 1 - 215 MTT 50 1.00 Aug 1 12 10 10 - 215 MTT 50 1.00 Aug 1 12 10 10 - 215 MTT 50 1.00 Aug 1 12 10 10 - 215 MTT 50 1.00 Aug 1 12 10 10 - 215 MTT 50 1.00 Aug 1 12 10 10 - 215 MTT 50 1.00 Aug 1 12 10 10 - 215 MTT 50 1.00 Aug 1 12 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	ONTER MANAGEMENT CO LTD  SE RECE  102.45, 747.201 ± 5.05, 2.21  NC :034.66 131.201 ± 5.05, 2.21  NC :034.66 131.201 ± 5.05, 2.21  NC :034.66 131.201 ± 5.05, 0.21  NC :034.66 131.201 ± 5.05, 0.21  NC :034.66 131.201 ± 5.05, 0.21	PERFECURE CHET TOT MEANT CLASS 417 CM	40 Acoust 190 (1 198.2) - 0.15 274 15 Safe Cos 193 7261 - 167 0 19 40 Acoust 72.65 75.27 - 167 0 10  BEST TOURS ASSOCIABLE OF MORES LTD	Escopers Grants $ 64 gr   G Spin Set Counts $ 67 47 5 Each Sin Care Cith $ 66.55 HT-Salar Order Acc 1 34 56 Cithol Rend of 51 BA 6 Cithol Rend of 51 BA 6 Cithol Rend of 51 BA 6
Femin Querrelate 289,77 314 90 + 4 90 6 12 289,77 314 90 + 4 90 6 12 289,78 324 32 24 4 86 9 13 28 625 102 90 102 90 4 30 6 32 28 102 102 70 200 70 4 30 6 39 28 Sentin Courte 6000 8262222 28 Can 100 30 101 101 101 9 9 00 055	CHOUGHANCE FROM WENT LTD 9771 373 7261 From Each 16 701 00 301 10 10 Equil able unit trust rights LTD	Us Cap Earls (1577) (1589) - 15 5 - 1 48 System Cas (1557) (1551) - 15 5 - 1 Majn Income France (1557) - 15 5 -	A 2017 - 10.07 2017 - 421 272   Bearing 2017 - 121 272 273 273 274 274 274 274 274 274 274 274 274 274	RRY FIRST MANAGERS LTD	do-Assam 981 15 102468 - 5.22 0.00 1 1 102468 - 5.22 0.00 1 102468 - 5.22 0.00 1 102468 - 5.22 0.00 1 102468 - 5.22 0.00 1 102468 - 5.20 0.00 1 102468 - 5.2	## 204 2000 Couly have ## 201 07 07 07 07 157 Couly have ## 2017 157 05 0 07 15 211 Couly Sandary ## 2017 157 05 0 07 15 211 Couly Sandary ## 2017 157 0 07 157 Observation Open ## 157 157 0 07 157 Observation Open ## 157 0 07 157 American ## 2017 157 157 157 157 American ## 2017 157 157 157 157 American ## 2017 21177 1 166 115	James Good Acc : 44 55 James Good Acc : 44 55 James Good Acc : 44 55 James Good Acc : 45 53
FINE SEARGERS LTD 41994 74576 7110 - 259 46 Cos 151.00 162.00 230 46 Cos 152.00 162.00 230 46 Cos 152.00 162.00 230		Unique (NAC STATE LE CONTRACTOR STATE AND	2005	#한다 1770년 1873년 4월2년 1882년 1882년 - 1873년 1882년	O MARY 1995 7990 790 034 1	ASSENCE SULES (5.135) + 0.27 (1.45) ASSENCE SULES (10.71) + 1.01 (1.5) ASSENCE SULES (10.71) + 1.06 (1.15) ASSENCE SULES (10.71) + 1.06 (1.15) ASSENCE SULES (10.71) + 1.06 (1.15)	UK (Aust Geoff) 64.26 1 UK (Aust Engs.) 60 Det UK Scheel Geoff) 60 74 UK Scheel Geoff) 55 74 UK Come Geoff 55 74
1 Geografia 677 20 277 27 27 27 27 27 27 27 27 27 27 27 27	Instruction	Personal Funds Car offer t Car	### 125 PRO 12	100 (4) 101 (4) 4 1 502 4 54 1 4 1 502 4 54 1 4 1 502 4 54 1 4 1 502 4 5 1 5 1 5 1 5 1 5 1 5 1 5 1 5 1 5 1 5	-10-102-5 F.50 9402 - 2.23 047	Table 18   18   18   18   18   18   18   18	Apper Sed Seath ( 80.55 Apper Sen Cor. (Seh ) 50.37 Apper Sen Cor. (Seh ) 50.37 Apper Sen Cor. (Sept. 1975 ) 60.55 Apper Sed Core Apper Sen Cor. (Sept. 1975 ) 60.55 Apper Sed Core Apper Sen Cor. (Sept. 1975 ) 60.55
(2017年 1477年 1787年 1477年 1787年 1477年 1787年 1477年 1787年 1477年 1787年 1477年 1477年 1477年 1477年 1477年 1477年 1477年 1477年 1787年 1787	EXETER FIRM MANAGERS LTD  0332 412 144  Gain 19 on 30 94 126 197 + 130  Fild 117 - 030  147 - 158 197 199 69	Star Lat. Star L	Prince   P	per 17100: 1914000: 1.15 - key (1940: 146-09: -0,900, 191 ) per 26-70 (18-14 -1,744 ) (1	127 127 4E 4E 15 15 15 16 16	Banguan 177,13 (812) 1 09 1 1-	East Sept. 67 (1) 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
S FRANCIS UT INGRS LTD IN 1209 - And Inc. 125 (2) 1 (2) (1) Opposited 18 (5) (5) (7)	## 150	Sent School (sent 157 sent)	17	200 20 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	Note 20 10 4 54 11 57 267 4 0 40 258 14 14 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15	45 Action 57.8 MILES + 0.77 3 A2  15. Committee 61.95 7.35 + 0.25 7.91  45 Action 77.86 87.75 + 0.27 1.91  Red to Lat 119.07 76.517 + 0.37 1.62  15.07 76.527 + 0.37 1.62  15.07 76.527 + 0.37 1.62	EMITTED PRISERVA Y GT TST MEDIAT LTD: 01277 698 286 UK Selec Acc & 508 57 548 97 306 31 December - 2010 48 98 12 301
PRINT MICRS LTD ####################################	FOR ACT IN THE ACT OF	So face A Control of the Control of	750 100 1050 1050 1050 1050 1050 1050 10	1978年 - 1979年 - 1764 - 1979年 - 1879年	Eng. 8171 838 0088 Dag. 8171 San Mand. A. d. C. C. 440.01 1.1.15 Lung. Mar. 3125 36.11 1.035 Face Hard A. 15.1 1.023 4.157 Lung. Mar. 3126 36.157 Lung. Mar. 3127 4.157 Lung. Mar. 3127 Lung. Mar. 312	lectionlety 3748 149.29 + 100 but he 177 2477 + 266 447 do Account 257 2465 + 600 447 Will for te tre 2044 27657 + 200 551 do Account 257 3467 + 205 571 scottmass Lev motospolitants	Mb Andreas 1279 13191 086 (as seed to be a s
60 4 50 27 27 26 25 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15	Gast Fred 129 to 155000 4 25 Beach Freds 250 to 155000 4 25 Beach Freds 250 4 25 4 25 Improve Freds	Michigan Signature Co.	100   100	#957 7453 - 1743 063 U #7 860 8109 - 1850 863 U # 51760 55379 - 0743 224 A #8 73633 7560 - 0940 275 U	Marina 2250 25636 - 860 5	R197 966 9901 1	990 Deptit PFS LTD 994 Best 1 120 Deptit 1 Pass Genda 1 120 de pm 5-47 746 594 Op. 2006 74.5 m 1397 1977 194 Op. 1694 1955 252 Op. 1694 1555 252 Op. 1695 757	Actions Page 9 19 20 1 25 152 153 154 155 155 155 155 155 155 155 155 155	HSEC UNIT TRUST WILHT LTD Partners 6000 181 600 November 6000 200 565	150 250 250 250 100 48-460 100 100 100 100 100 100 100 100 100 1	He Co. 10:29 14 947 - 19:30 127 G 10:49 13:57 15:48 127 35:38 127 G 10:49 13:58 15:280 - 12:30 12:5 10:40 15:360 16:380 - 12:00 7:45 U 10:40 15:360 16:380 - 12:00 7:45 U	2705 23.45 + 110 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2	SCOTTESH BUTTON, with least 1,170	For Wildlegalate car ACM Impatrosate:
ent in a 1938 (227) 65 66 (unit for minut LTD 80 (276) 66 (a 96 (u) + 0 (a ) 47 (u) 67 (a 96 (u) + 0 (a ) 47	Source : 19670 - 107 500 Service : 1965 - 196 600 Service : 1966 - 196 600 Service : 1960 - 196 544 Service : 1960 - 196 544 Service : 1960 - 196 544	Marco #   Marco   100	945 741 012 250 5-Am	### HE 1955 15-73   15-75   15	PRESIDEN PERTYOLIO MIGRIS LTD H1402 658 122	66 Access 2.1.00 344.94 689 2.21 Sheet Report Int 27.50 131.671 110 116 Sheet Report Int 27.50 131.671 1	#14 206 4000
T EARNIGHES LTD 7 5000 20 20 20 00 00 - 102 5 00 00 00 00 00 00 00 00 00 00 00 00 00	Agent   Agen	index fembries	### 100   10	100 Fine 100 M	HIP: difueds 있었 않고. Pass Sulfaced: 9054 항경 Leftryson: 12580 10290 : 1200	dc-Accum 131130 162530 + 280 092 ∫.	South FT efformation  "Neith expensived as CAR (Companied Annual Return  "Le dividual a Made core, the significant case of Periodic Charge deviation from capital (i) Ex- Charge:
60 0000 2500 - 000 000 Fig. 0000 2500 - 000 260				·

THE STIMES

MUSIC Double tribute to Sir Neville Marriner.

NEW MOVIES: John Travolta's yuppie lawyer keeps James Christopher gripped, even without any nymphomaniacs

Legal eagle, has a flutter

none of the Hollywood ingredients of a great courtroom thriller. There are no psychotic attorneys, no heart-clutching car chases, no nymphomaniacs. The film is an old-fashioned slow-burner, based on a small environmental catastroohe in one of the most boring bits of New England that God created. I've been there. The town of Woburn is stretched out like a road-kill beside an anonymous motorway.

Yet A Civil Action is the most compelling legal drama I've seen in years. Part of the fascination is undoubtedly the fact that it is based on a real case, expertly documented in Jonathan Harr's bestselling novel. But the reason the film grips is an alarming national conviction that courts in America have more in common with casinos than democracy.

Travolta's plump ambu-lance-chaser, Jan Schlichtmann, never lets go of the analogy. As the case unfolds his voiceover unleashes statistics, calls the odds and places the bets. The case itself is utterly self-evident. Local chemical companies have been illegally dumping toxic waste into the ground for years. The chemicals have dribbled into the water system, and eight families have suffered the deaths of children, mental deficiencies, and leukaemia.

The task of proving anything is an entirely different matter. Stuffed into an expensive Italian suit, Travolta's slick Boston yuppie initially resists the action. But compelled by his crusading sense of vanity, he breaks all his own rules and finds himself squaring up to companies with no scruples and very deep pockets. Worse. he finds himself squaring up to Robert Duvall's wily defence lawyer in a titanic battle sions. of nerve. The director Steven Zaillian casts brilliantly. There is the usual spread of villains and victims, the slow drip of evidence being collected and the sight of witnesses (Stephen Fry and Tony Shal-houb) being squeezed like sponges. But it's the exhibarating clash of egos and styles that proves so compelling. Travolta milks the jury, while Du-vall's shrivelled old-timer coolly beguiles the judge. Duvall is terrifying because he never seems to be there, even when he is there. Apart from the sly self-demeaning chuckle, he does little but Sellotape his battered briefcase, play with pens, eat his packed lunches. and listen to the Red Sox game on his transistor.

Shot with claustrophobic formality in oak-stained courtrooms, stuffy Boston clubs and swanky hotel suites, the film eleverly pricks away at more deep-seated insecurities.

A Civil Action Empire 15, 115 mins Meaty courtroom drama with John Travolta and Robert Duvall

Hallways UCI Whiteleys 15. 96 mins Playful comedy about male bonding The Faculty

Warner Village West End 15. 104 mins Fishy sci-fi chiller with high comedy quota Nô

Barbican 15. 85 mins A slick, seductive conjuring trick from Robert Lepage The Red Violin

Odeon Haymarket 15, 130 mins Ripping yarn with spooky violin Slam Metro

15, 99 mins The gritty, enthralling world of a rap poet Orgazmo

18, 90 mins

Slapstick on a porno set derables is why his hapless partners (led by the excellent William H. Macy) allow them-selves to be sucked into the abyss. Travolta is still swat-ting away multimillion-dollar settlements — the Holy Grails of his practice - as the bailiffs move into their offices. A portrait of an heroic idealist, or the reckless stand of an egomaniac? Draw your own conclu-

Rose Troche's romantic, London-based comedy, Bed-rooms and Hallways, slots neatly between David Kane's This Year's Love and the forthcoming Notting Hill. Simon Callow has never been so funny, or so spectacularly miscast, as a heterosexual New Age svengali who runs a male support group. Every week the club meet in his Tibetan room to contemplate the spiritual business of being male. "Will you pass Terry the harpoon please?" he croons as another acolyte struggles with his in-ner demons. The macho dy-namics are hilariously shortcircuited when Kevin Mc-Kidd's grumpy Leo is physically attracted to James Purefoy's hunky Brendan. Chaos, jealousy and homophobia divide wire. The delectable Jennifer Ehle comes knocking at Mc-Kidd's door, and discovers that her first boyfriend is hav-ing an affair with her recent ex. Troche pushes the film towards outright farce with her Bedrooms and kitsch cutaways to McKidd's pina colada fantasies. But it is splendidly salvaged by memorable cameos from a raft of bitchy British thesps, notably Tom Hollander, Hugo Weaving and Harriet Walter. Personality disorder of the week goes to The Faculty in charge of a decrepit high school in Ohio. The football coach is psychotic, the history teacher is a chronic alcoholic, and the English tutor is in serious need of therapy. So far, so perfectly normal, until the faculty is invaded by alien squid foetuses from outer space. The red parasites crawl into ears, wriggle around under the skin and, in moments of high excite-ment, explode out of faces like giant catfish.

LINKS

Amazingly, none of the pupils seems to care apart from the school geek, Elijah Wood. Kevin Williamson, the scribe behind the Post-Modern teen horror Scream, provides another trainspotter's medley of horror cliches. The surprise is that it's actually quite enter-taining in the "who's next for calimari?" vein, as the director. Robert Rodriguez, flogs the creeping paranoia with seat-clutching wit.

Robert Lepage's third fea-ture, No, is a self-contained chunk of his dazzling sevenhour stage epic. Seven Streams of the River Ota. A gawky actress (Anne-Marie Cadieux) plays a sluttish maid in a ridiculous Feydeau farce chosen to represent Canada at the 1970 World Fair in Osaka. Her boyfriend (Alexis Martin) makes bombs for the Quebec separatist movement in his flat in Montreal. From these unpromising ingredients Lepage fashions a supple black comedy. There are ingenious sleights of hand, but little hard evidence as to what exactly is going on. What's left is a psychedelic chain of associations and a lot of intriguing ques-

nated François Girard's best work, notably Thirty Two Short Films About Glenn Gould. In The Red Violin, it is a musical instrument that obsesses the director. The violin, varnished with a dead woman's blood, turns successive fiddlers into the Jimi Hendrix of their age. It's a wildly romantic, utterly corny fable that spans three centuries, five languages and several continents. But like the violin itself, the film is spookily hard to put

The action pivots around an auction room in Montreal. Between bids, the film flashes

Mug shots: Robert Duvall and John Travolta are on opposite sides in Steven Zaillian's compelling fact-based courtroom drama, A Civil Action counterpointed by shifts in musical styles (John Corigliano). But there isn't a single frame that aspires to anything more substantial than shameless myth-making. Jason Flemyng's Byronic genius cradles between his naked thighs. Greta Scaochi's lamentable Pre-Raphaelite tears her

it. Samuel L. Jackson's American specialist drools over its quality. A ripping yarn, if not ripping art.

Justice gets its second mauling of the week in Marc Levin's Slam, a fierce film that documents the fears of a black poet who gets sucked into the prison system on a minor drugs charge. Saul Williams puts in a hair-raising perform-ance as the dreadlocked poet who keeps the prison-yard meat-heads at bay with bursts of rapping eloquence. If his stand is somewhat crudely overlaid with symbolism, the urgency with which it's filmed is not. Williams, a gaunt, troubled presence, makes a sensational screen debut. The gritty, documentary style frames his edgy performance without lionising it. The film has already picked off two top festival awards at Cannes and Sundance. I won't be remotely surprised if it picks up more.

Even garbage collectors might choke on Trey Parker's spoof of the LA porn industry, Orgazmo. A Bible-thumping Mormon (Parker) ends up in a porn flick, dressed as a caped crusader. His diminutive sidekick, Ben Chapleski, sports a giant phallus on top of his head and launches himself at naked women. Parker's insuf-ferable fiancée nearly expires with shock. To say I nearly exnired with excitement would be deeply misleading.

NEW ON VIDEO

clothes off at the mere sound of

LE BOSSU Pathé, 15, 1997

FRENCH cinema likes this swashbuckling tale of honour. greed and revenge in the early 18th century: this is its sixth remake. It makes excellent material for Daniel Auteuil and Fabrice Luchini, perfectly cast as a dashing sword-for-hire and the villain who grabs wealth and a title. Philippe de Broca's film lacks the visual finesse of Cyrano de Bergerac, but its humour, good spirits and rousing swordplay provide many other delights. Marie Gillan adds the feminine touch. To buy or rent.

■ BUFFALO '66

Columbia TriStar, 15, 1997 VINCENT GALLO stars in and makes his quirky directing debut with this wayward tale of a malcontent convict returning home to his unresponsive parents in Buffalo, New York. Along the way he kidnaps a tap-dancing student (a great performance from Chris-tina Ricci) and gets her to pose as his wife. Gallo the director indulges Gallo the actor rather too much, but a good first feature. Available to rent.

■ PRIMARY COLORS

CIC, 15, 1998
REAL events may have overtaken this slick account of a Clintonesque Governor's scandal-ridden race to the White House. But nothing has erod-ed the finely pitched perform-ances, nor director Mike Nichols's skill in juggling his bus-tling characters. John Travolta is convincingly charismatic as the would-be President with a silver tongue and a fatal attraction for the opposite sex, while Emma Thompson hits all the right notes as his sharp cookie of a wife. A rental release.

■ RIEN NE VA PLUS Artificial Eye, 15, 1997 ISABELLE HUPPERT and Michel Serrault would be worth watching even if they did nothing but stand at a bus stop, though you still wish Claude Chabrol, the director, had filled this comedy thriller with something more worth their time. They play an ill-matched couple of swindlers who get into deeper water than usual with an international money scam. Lots of fun early on, full of piquant human observations; but boredom creeps in once the scam moves in. Chabrol's fiftieth feature.

GEOFF BROWN

ARTS

Singing along with Abba

RECOMMENDED TODAY

Guide to arts and entertainment compiled by Marit Hargle

LONDON

SUDDEMLY LAST SUMMER: Sheila Comedy (0171-389 1731), Pre from tonight, Spm.

ROYAL PHILI/APIMONIC ORCHESTRA: The sense contrasting Berg and Brahms continues with Daniele Gettl conducting Berg's Violin Concerno (sofots) Mark (Rapkari) and two works by Brahms: Variations on a theme by Haydn and the Third Symphony. Barbican (0171-638 8891), Tonight, 7.30pm. (2)

BLOOD KNOT: Barry Wallman and Gordon Case star in Athol Fugard's updated version of his celebrated lupdated version of his celebrated black and white brothers play. William Judd directs. Riverside Studios (0181-237 1111). Opens tonight, 7.45pm. (5) ELSEWHERE

CHELTENHABIL Veteran rocker-cum-pazzmar, Van Morrison, kicks off the International Jazz Festival here. The gravel-voiced singer is joined on stage by a live band headed by saxophonial Pee Wee Ellis (Town Hall, bright, 7.15pm and 9.15pm). The testival continues until Sunday with contribu-tions from Humphrey Lyttelton, Chick Corea, Django Bates and many more. Festival Box Office (01242, 227979).

GLASGOW: The Royal Scottish National Orchestra concludes its Discovery Senes with an evening of British music. Purcell opens the programme followed by the Scottleh premere of Tippett's colourum The Rose Lake, Walton's Colo Concerto, performed by Raphael Walffisch, and

Van the Man opens the Cheltenham Jazz Festival

Britten's Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra James Loughran conducts. Royal Concert Hall (0141-287 5511). Tonight, 7pm. (§)

MANCHESTER: Soprano Rebecca Evans Joine the Hallé Orchestra as soloist in Britten's Les Burningtions. Two symphonies follow: Mozart's Una and Beethoven's Froica. The conductor is Iona Brown. Bridgewither Hall (0161-907 9000). Toxicht 7. 20nom 50.

OXFORD: After an extended London nur Fascinating Alda's latest show, Barelaced Chic, arrives in town for three nights of topical satire and song. Playhouse (01865 798600). Tonight and Set, 7.30pm. Tomorrow, 8pm. (2)

NEW WEST END SHOWS

🗷 House full, returns only 🏳 Some seats available 🗋 Seats at all prices

NAMIMA MIAI: Musical based on the songs of Abba: Slobhan McCarthy and Lise Stokke play mother and daughter on the eve of the girt's wedding. Phylidia Lloyd directs. See review, right. Prince Edward (0171-447 5400).

[] ROBERTO ZUCCO: James Macdonald's acclaimed Stratford production of Bernard-Merie Kolt meannersing drama. Zubin Varia elements in the later inco.

☐ THE GIN GAME: Dorothy Tunn and Joss Acidand play old folk in a retirement home whose card-playing styles ecto theu sad lives. Frith Sanbury directs a surprising Pufitzer

Savov (0171-836 8888). (A) THE PRISONER OF SECOND AVENUE: Richard Dreyluss and Marsha Mason make their British ■ GOOD: C.P.Taylor's best play, tracing a liberal professor's gradual descent into working with the Nazis. Charles Dance heeds a strong cast. Michael Grandage directs. Donmar (0171-388 1732).

⑤

THE COLONEL BIRD: Bulgarian author Hristo Boytchev's award-win-ning play about an asylum taken over by the lunatics. Rupert Gould directs. Gate (0171-229 0708).

SACRED HEART: In Mick Mahoney's new play two second-generation trish lads from NW3 meet again after years estranged, Edward Half directs. Ambassadors (0171-565 5000). ☐ GROSS INDECENCY: The Three

☐ HAMLET: Paul Ritys plays the prince in Laurence Boswell's new production. With Donald Sumter as

ung Vic (0171-928 6363). (5)

FILMS ON GENERAL RELEASE

James Christopher's choice of the latest movies

NEW RELEASES

TEA WITH MUSSOLINI (PG): Flashes of genus and dry humour illuminate Zeffinelli's sentmental tribute to the s sentamental धारायक करणात्र nad English spinsters who le director in Florence before Smith, Joan Plowright, and Judi Dench.

PLUNKETT & MACLEANE (15): Jake Scott's 18th-century swashbuck closer to Burch Cassey and the Sundance Kid than The Rake's Progress With Robert Carlyle and Johny Lee Miller.

BLAST FROM THE PAST (12): Ingenious comedy about a man (Brendan Fraser) released after 35 ars in a nuclear bunker. His 1950s values make him (ook mystical, m and blindingly naive in the sleazy 1990s. Bit Kelly directs.

BEYOND SILENCE (12): Plucky performances can't save this, a tortuous trawl through a German soap in which a young girl tries to get

THE NIGHT OF THE HUNTER (12): Charles Laughton's one and only stab at directing is a Tom Sawyer

AUGUST IN THE WATER (ICA): You could hang Sogo shift's surreal Japanese science action in the Tate. It's a beautiful, inscrutable look at a city epidemic that turns the guts to stone

CURRENT

GODS AND MONSTERS (15): Ian McKallen excels as a legendary honor movie director who grooms his gardener (Brendan Fraser) for a role er darker than that of over-musicled

AMERICAN HISTORY X (18): Edw Norton is feroclously compelling as a white supremacist skinhead in Tony Kave's lavish, controversial but ed attempt to get under the skir

PAYBACK (18): Med Gibson blasts his way inrough Brian Helgeland's chunky ler. With Gregg Henry, William vane, James Cobum and Kris

THE RUGRATS MOVIE (U): Painles big cartoon adventure in which taring bodders bond in a spooky lorest. With enough for adults; an unavoidable necessity for three to eight-year-olds.

Tonic for troupers

magine you decided to slot Ring-a-Roses, The Grand Old Duke of York, Hushabye Baby and a score of other nursery hums into a musical play about the intricacies of bee-keeping or the perils of hang-gliding. You would have set yourself a challenge only a little more taxing than that facing the creators of Mamma Mia!, who are celebrating the 25th anniversary of Abba's Eurovision Song Contest triumph by cramming 20 or so of their numbers into an endearingly preposterous tale about a bride's search for her dad.

How does this exercise in creative shoehorning work? Well, take the celebrated title song, which most people would assume to be all about a child's ambivalent feelings for a maddening mum. Here it is the mother who is singing that she's brokenhearted, blue since the day we parted. Here, the joint objects of her woe are the three men she loved and lost 21 years ago. And, believe it or not. it is they who chorus all that guff about taking one look, hearing a bell ring and forgetting everything.

Fortunately, our librettist is Catherine Johnson, who has a nice, naff story to tell and her tongue stuck so far into her cheek it tumbles out of an ear and down to a knee. How else would she get away with setting her story in and around a white-plastered taverna on an Aegean island where there are no suntans, no music that doesn't hie from Sweden, and, apart from a priest dressed as an Anglican vicar, nary a Greek to be seen? How else would she get away with that story?

Lisa Stokke's sweet young Sophie has belatedly twigged that her longmissing, long-unmentioned Pa is either a banker, an architect or a travel-writer. So she secretly invites all three to her wedding in hopes of discovering which of them should be giving her away. This comes as rather a

¬ he Duke's centenary up nicely. Serious collectors will be rummaging through the 24 discs in RCA's new Centennial Edition. Wynton

Marsalis pays his own tribute with his Lincoln Centre Jazz

Pete Long's anorak-free orchestra, Echoes of Ellington, will always be around to supply some perspective. There is never any doubting Long's commitment to the cause, but the irreverent, freewheeling mood he generates on the bandstand also reminds us that, for Ellington, composition was not something to be pondered on Mt Olympus but a hectic work-in-progress to be pursued in clubs, on trains and in quiet corners of studios.

Although the atmosphere is ton's final years.

falls this month, and the party is warming shock to her mother Donna. Take an educated guess at the reaction of Siobhan McCarthy, the splendidly feisty. full-voiced actress who plays the part. That's right, it is to launch into the song SOS with the most appealing of the candidates, Hilton Macrae's ar-chitect: I wish I understood, our love used to be so good, etc, etc.

As many another number re-emphasises, lyrics were never Benny Andersson and Björn Ulvaeus's strength. It was the pounding rhythms that mattered, along with melodies that remained relentlessly upbeat whatever the emotional provocation. Time after time on the first night the familiar sounds were greeted with applause and knowing laughter. After all, to follow Donna's collapse in dismay with Chiquitita — "tell me the truth. I'm a shoulder you can cry on, your best friend and the one you must rely on" — is quite a jolly in-joke, especially when the song is robustly rendered by Louise Plowright and Jenny Galloway. Yes, and before a setting moon twice as big as Naxos has brought Phyllida Lloyd's bouncy production to a suitably improbable close, we somehow contrive to hear Money. Money. Money. Super Trouper and lots more. For that, Abba fans will doubtless forgive anything. And with so much fun in the theatrical air, the rest of us might as well indulge them.

BENEDICT NIGHTINGALE

● This review appeared in late editions of The Times yesterday

Dancing queens: (from left) Louise Plowright (Tanya). Siobhan McCarthy (Donna). Jenny Galloway (Rosie)

Putting up his Dukes

the Cotton Club or the barnstorming ambience of the Newnort Festival shows - the choice of material veers a long way from the standard greatest-hits package

True, we did get Take the A-Train. vet even here Long looked to an offbeat source, resurrecting the pungent arrangement that Billy Strayhorn scribbled out at short notice for the Songbook album with Ella Fitzgerald. Patricia Revell handled the vocals with cool flair: Bruce Adams added a evoking the speakeasy years at playful muted trumpet solo.

Reveil was back on hand for Rose of the Rio Grande, an ancient Harry Warren hit which found its way on to the programme for Ellington's historic Carnegie Hall concert of 1943, but the jaunty melody sat uneasily alongside Ellington's Rockin' in Rhythm had set the evening off on a familiar note, but the programme continually sprang surprises. Ellington's very first tune, Soda Fountain Rag, was recreated by Don Innes at the piano, and the orchestra plunged convincingly into the funereal harmonies of Mercer Ellington's Blue Serge.

The Blanton-Webster band of the early 1940s served as a touchstone, but the time-travelling delved further back on Rent Party Blues, initially propelled by Clark Tracey's quaint two-beat pulse on the cymbal. Trombones and reeds did not always mesh, and the recently rediscovered closing number by Strayhorn, Pentonsilic. outstayed its welcome. But the spirit of the music came through loud and clear.

CLIVE DAVIS

I hey don't come more op The posite than poetry and dance. The one speaks directly from the mind, the other directly from the body. So what happens when you put them together, as this year's Spring Loaded festival at London's Place Theatre has done? Not a lot, as it happens, because this innovative event, which thrown away the opportunity to make something of itself. of John Hegley. a very funny man, and even funnier on stage than on the page. His poems, many about growing up in Luton, are packaged as comedy but carry a bite. Beneath the bass line of his pleasantly silly rhymes lurks a clutch of astringent arrows. Hegley fires them with maximum accuracy and timing; just when you think a poem is nonsense calls itself Elbow Room, has he turns it around in a flash. His verse is the most commendable offering in a twohour revue that sees the comedian acting as both compere and star attraction. The dance is represented by several short duets of little import, along with two longer chunks of

words have it

dance theatre. In the best tradition of variety entertainment, a little music is thrown in, along with a couple of cabbages - chucked at the audience at the show's start just to ensure we are awake when the lurid red house lights dim. Potatoes come later, part of Hegley's reprise of last year's Dances With Potatoes.

The only substantial dance is Cinder Reilly, a goofy retelling of the Cinderella tale performed by the Irish dance theatre company Clerkinworks. They tap their way saucily through a mildly entertaining spoof in which Cinders gets less than she bargained for. The jokes are thin: the choreography even thinner.

Wendy Houston gets the second half's centrepiece. Her Happy Hour is "15 minutes of some bits of a longer piece and we can only be grateful that we were not subjected to the fully monty. In this display of theatrical vanity, Houston regales us with a verbal monologue that sees her adopt several tedious personae: from a wheedling bartender to a selfrecriminating drunk. A perfunctory arsenal of agitated gestures accompanies this feeble and boring enterprise. If Hegley's own meagre contribution to the proceedings is any indication, he views dance merely as physical punctuation to his words. He moves with an intriguing flexibility and intelligence, but shows no understanding of what it is that dance can say and words cannot. And if the band of Luton is so interested in dance why has he surrounded himself with such second-rate acts?

OPERA & BALLET

COLUSEUM 0171 632 8300 (2/4/1) ENGLISH MATIONAL OPERA Tomor 7.30 MEPHISTOPHELES

THEATRES

CC 24th (C1 big 6c) 0171 344 0055 Gas 413 3321/0600 614 903 YOLL FOR A TICKET M.O.S. WHICHER OUTSTANDING MUSICAL

CHICAGO The Musical STILL THE HOTTEST SHOW

Mon-Sat & Wed & Sat Mate 3

NLDWYCH 0171 416 6000 cc 0171 957 001/420 0000[blog fee] Grps 0171 416 6075/413 3321

"Joyd Webber's best show since Phaging" D.Tel WHISTLE DOWN THE WIND HIST NEW MUSICAL AT TOWN DAR low brooking to Mayorh 2000 Set 7,45 Mass They & Set 3,00

SAVOY THEATRE

0171 836 8888

Original cast album now on sale JOSS 🧎 ACHLAND

COMEDY OTT 300 TOTAL Directed by Sean Met From Tonight, 14 weeks

CRETERION 369 1737/344 444 MEATIOUS 40 CITEAT YEAR THE REDUCED SHAKESPEARE COMPANY THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

(atmogras) Mats Thur at Spm, Set at Spm Sun at 4pm, Eras at 8pm
Laugh, I nearly cled Times
CO NOW S.Times
Tuesdays only at 8pm
THE COMPLETE HISTORY OF AMERICA (abridged) Booking 18 September 39

THEATRES MIRON 0171 658 18 0171 359 1740/344 4444 David Hare's PLENTY BEAUTY AND THE BEAST Directed by Jonathan Kent FROM 18th APPR. Aon-Set 7.20pm, Thur & Set Mat 3pm

Mades Word & Sat 2.30

NOW BOOKING TO FEB 2000

GOOD

by CP Taylor Eves 7.30, Mats Thu & Sat 3

SS cc (bkg fee) 24hr 7 days 0171 494 5000/344 4444/420 0000 Grps 494

NOW IN ITS 10TH

EREATHTAKEEG YEARS
Eves 7.45 Mats Wed & Set 3per
Good mats avail for Wed Mat
& some parts - apply B.O.

IN MICHAEL FRA

HULTI AWARD WINNING PLAY COPENHACIEN

Dr by MICHAEL BLAKENORE

Mon-Sat 7.30 Mats Thu & Sat 2.30

4413 3311/0870 841 0841 MISS SAIGON

APOLLO SHAFTESBURY AVE 0171 464 SEORS44 4444 MARK LITTLE IN DEFENDING THE CAVEMAN by Rob Becker Uprostously transy D Tel ABSOLUTELY ERELLIANT n Gray (Men are from Mars...) Thurs 8, Fri 8.45, San 6 & 8.45 Now booking to 2nd Oct

APOLLO VICTORIA CC 0171 416 055 cc24hrs 0171 344 44440171 420 0000 Grps 416 6075/413 3321 STARLIGHT EXPRESS SEE IT AND YOU STILL WON'T BELIEVE IT! EVEN 7.45, Tue & Set Spri

DGE 484 5080/416 6080/34 MAYAZO COODI (+) May Tenji Grap 404 545 416 GOZSINI SZZIMAG 5558 DAPPREN (MAY am Demony GREASE

NOW IN IT'S 6TH SENSATIONAL YEAR

SUDDENLY LAST SUMMER by Tennessee Williams With Shells Gisti and Rachel Weiss Mon-Set Sprit, Wed & Set Mate 4pg

FORTURE BO & CC 0171 836 2238/344 4444/494 5388 NOW IN ITS 100: HET YEAR METTLETON. THE WOMAN IN BLACK Adapted by Stephen Medicinal The next firstling and chilling play for years' D.Mell Mon-Sat 8.00, Main Tue 3.00 & Sat 4.00 Receiving time 2 bys

GARRICK 0171 494 5085/344 4444 ting too) Gos 0171 484 5454/413 3321 TAN EPIC FOR OUR EPOCH E.S.d. The Royal National Thants Production
WILLIAM PREP MARIORE
GAUNT WHITCHURCH YATES
JE Principlys
AN INSPECTOR CALLS BEG, STEAL, BORROW OR, BETTER STILL, JUST BUY A TICKET? 'A THRELLING PIECE OF THEATHE NECH MUST BE SEEN BY ALL'DUM

> Mon-Fri 7.45, Sat 5 & 8.15 GELGUO 0171 494 5065 (+big fee) STRANAGANZA E. St CROSS INDECENCY

The Three Trible of Occur Wilde by Moises Kapimen by Moises Kapimen MATICALLY CHARGED AND Mon-Sat 7.45 mats West, Sat 2.30 DITI 600 8000 CE 344 4444 (big) 1981 RICHARD MARSHA DREYFUSS MASON

NEIL SIMON'S THE PRISONER OF SECOND AVENUE MOT-Set 7.45, Wed & Set Mats 3.00 HER MAJESTY'S 24hr 494 5400 htg feejcc344 4444420 0000fee 484 5464413 3311/436 558 AHDREW LLOYD WEBBER Duchess 0171 494 5075 ec 0171 20 0000 (Dig 100) Gape 0171 494 5454 Dugad Sara Matthew Burre Kestelman Marsh

THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA Sirected by HAROLD PRINCE MOW INKS TO JUNE 2000
Eves 7.45 Mets Wed & Sat 3.00
Apply to Box Office daily for return and Wed Wat sensitability LONDON APOLLO Han BO(no bkg fee) 0870 606 3400

CC(+blog lee) 420 0000344 444 Grps 0171 416 6075 DOCTOR DOLITTLE ES IS A SUPERFEE HIT ITY PURE PLEASURE Daily Mai Book, music & lyrics by Lasie Brizass Directed by

Tue-Set 7.30, Mats West Set 2.30

Ę

LONDON PALLADIUM 0171 494 344 4444 (bigg feet) Grps 0171 494 5454/413 3321 SATURDAY NIGHT FEVER Bathokkal neght out diagra HOT STUFF ANY NIGHT OF THE WEEK Times

FEVER IS STALL DEFECTIOUS D.T. Mon-Set 7:30 Wed & Sel Main 2:30 NOW BOOKING TO OCT 1999 SOME SEATS AWAIL FOR WEDS MA LYCELAN 80+CC(20ns)0870 606 3440 0171418 80897344 4444420 0000 THE SEASON'S SENSATION Royal Hallonal Theatre Pro

Rodgers & Hessmerstein OKLAHOMA! OH WHAT A BEAUTIFUL EVENING D.Mail, Guerd, Times, Ind., aic Evis 7,30 Mais Wad & Sat 2,30 160 stractly seets @ 15 held 161 the day Mon-Ther at 80 11 WSSIS ONLY TO 25 JUNE

LYCSUM 0670 242 9000 (blog fee) Groups 1771 416 6050 THE LION KING Pedomances begin 24 Sept ANIMAL CRACKERS

Marx Brothers' Musical Cornedy BRESISTIBLE FUN' Times Mon-Sat 7.45, Mats Wed & Sat 3.00 Easter Special Children hall price MATIONAL THEATRE BO 017 452 3000 Grps 0171 452 3010 4hr cc blog lee 0171 420 0000 OLIVIER Tont, Tomor 7.15 (PREVIEWS) CANDIDE LYTTELTON Tont, Tomor 7.30 HE FOREST a comedy b Alexander Ostrovsky in a new version by Alan Ayokbourn. COTTESLOE Tont, Tomor 7.30, THE REOT a new play by Nick

NEW LONDON Drury Lane WC2 BO 0171 405 0072 cc 24trs 344 4444 Gips 405 1567/413 2011 THE ANDREW LLDYD WEBSER T.S. ELICT INTERNATIONAL AWARD ING MUSICAL Even 7.45 Mats Tun & Sat 3.00 Bas open at 6.45

Good seeks and for Toes the OLD VIC 0171 494 5372 &1 line DAVID SUCHET *AMADEUS

BY PETER SCHAFTER NICHOLAS LE PREVOS as Salien From 19th April 1-fighly Theatrical & expensity frecised by PETER HALL' Gdn 1CHACKING NIGHT OUT D.Tel EVERYONE MUST GO' Now

cc 24h/8 (biog fee) 0171 344 4444 (biog the WORLD'S MOST POPULAR LES MISERABLES NOW IN ITS 14TH
TECORD BREAKING YEAR END 7.30 Mass Tru & Sec 2.30 6000 SEATS AVAILABLE the lies close to must belie ast E.O. for easy par until the Interval PHOENIX BOICC 0171 369 1735 BEST MUSICAL Olivier/Drama Awards Plays & Playsrativor Novello Awar

WILLY RUSSELL'S BLOOD BROTHERS trius. De audence to its fact and rearing its approved 0 Mail Even 7.45 Mats Thurs 3pm Set 4pm PICCADELLY 0171 389 1734/344 4444 PRIMEILA SCALES TREOTHY WEST STEVEN PACEY MICEL TERRY THE BIRTHDAY PARTY By HAROLD PINTER FROM 20th APRIL Mon-Set Born, Thur 3pm, Sal 5pm PICCADILLY 0171 369 1734

344444, FINAL WEEK SLAVA'S SNOWSHOW The World's Greetest Cloum Ion-Sel 7.30, Mais Thurs & Set 2.30 PRINCE OF WALES ON A 839 S967 0171 420 0052 oct 24km 344 4444 Trull of Ungent Passion and Vitality, WEST SIDE STORY 紅形物性物 HIT'S HOME HAND" D.Teleo

Eres 7.45, Max Thurs & Set 3.00

PRINCE FORMARD 0171 447 54 0870 8401111/0171 344 444 enny Anderson & Bjorn Uka MAMMA MTA!

QUEENS 0171 494 5040 (E1 big led) Groups 0171 494 5454/0870 240 1205 SEWELL DEXTER MACBETH by William Shekespetre Even 7.30 Mets Sal 2.30 Extra Met Thur at 2.30

ROYAL SHAKESPEARE COMPANY STRATFORD 01789 295623/ RST: From tomor OTHELLO Swar: From tornor TALES FROM OVID TOP: OROGNOKO Tont LONDON 0171 638 8891 Barbican: THE LION THE WITCH AND THE WARDHOBE Today 1.45 & 7.15 Pic ROBERTO

ZUCCO Today 2.00 & 7.15 ROYAL COURT Duke of Yorks 0171 565 5000 cc524hs 420 0005 Best New Play Othics Apparls 1986 THE WELR by Congr Mc Phemon, Mcn-Set 7:30 Wed & Set Met 3:30
Upstains (Ambersandors, West 50)
SACRED HEART by Mick Materiery
Tues-Set 7:30. Set Met 4:00

SAVOY THEATHE 0171 $36 866 DOROTHY ACKLAND THE GIN CAME A STUMMING PIECE OF THEATRE BOSION Globa n-Set 7.45 Male Thur & Set 3.00 SHAFTESBURY 07000 21 12 21 0670 840 1111/0171 344 4444 (Dag las)

TRUSH TO _ RENT LITS THE HOTTEST PROPERTY IN TOWN MOTH on-Sat 7.30, Mals Wed, Sat 2.00 MOW BOOKSING TO 2000 Eves 8, Tue 245, Set 5 & 8 AGATHA CHRISTTE'S THE MOUSETRAP

47th YEAR

NO THEATRE Box Of & co (no lee) 0171 930 8800 *BUDD6* The Buddy Holly Story BRILLIANT' Sun

*BUDDE* WONDERFUL STUFF Sun Tel Tues-Thurs 8.0 Fri 5.30 & 8.30 Set 5 & 8.30
Sundays 4.00pm, Kids 1/2 price
ALL SEATS 1/2 PRICE FRI 5.30 PERF 10th TRUMPHOUT YEAR Over 3,500 Performances Now booking 'Ill the year 2000

VALUEVILLE OTT: 836 9987
077: 344 4444 (+blig fee)
ALSON STEADMAN
STELLA GONET
AULA SAWALNA
THE MEMORY OF WATER
By Stride Supplies on Directed by Teey Johnson
TROP-DEAD FURBIT Express
Man-Sat Sym Mate Thu & Sat Sym

VICTORIA PALACE 0171 E34 1317/344 4444 (no lee) 5m, Rege & Rock in Roll THE NEW BOCKY HORROR SHOW JASON DONOVAN weeks only from 14 April

Whitehell 0171 369 1735/344 4444 Oxford Stage Company presents. Elegator Brown in: MAKING NOISE QUIET.Y Opens 14 April, 6 weeks only

WYNEDHANS 350 1738/344 4444 1998 TONY AWARD BEST PLAY 987 OLIVER AWARD BEST CONEDY 1906 STANDARD AWARD "ART A new play by Yesmina Reza Trans by Christopher Hempton Sturningly brillent and turny Tweet Eves 8, Mats Wed 2, Set 6 Sun 5

DEBRA CRAINE THE ALL AMERICAN SOLID COLD

THE ORIGINATOR THE INHOVATOR THE EMANCIPATOR THE ARCHITECT OF ROCK 'N'ROLL

CHRIS MONTEZ LITTLE EVA JOHNNY PRESTON BRIAN HYLAND

THE 13 MAY BOURNEMOUTH BIC SAT 15 MAY GLASGOW SECC SUN 16 MAY ABERDEEN EXHIBITION CENTRE MON 17 MAY MANCHESTER EVENING NEWS ARENA THE 18 MAY INENICASTLE TELEMEST ARENA

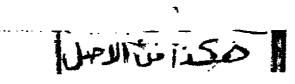

THE 20 BAY WENRLEY AREAA Way Aband 20th or 9171 483 3331, Tickshop: " July or 9171 344 4444 First Call 9171 429 1900, Stangroon 9171 734 2822. SAT 22 MAY CARDET BITEDWITHHAL ANDMA (SALCHE ME (240r yr.) 9679 121912) minsty began is (SALCHE ME (240r yr.) 9679 121912) minsty began be Marie Prof. 150 Mar. Marie ALL 3199115 7.3874

ENTERTAINMENTS LISTINGS

TO ADVERTISE IN THIS SECTION PLEASE:

Telephone: Anna Chacholiades 0171 680 6224 Heidi Bierer 0171 680 6223

Fax 0171 782 7930 Email: tnl.ents@newsint.co.uk

MUSIC Neville Marriner at 75

CLASSICAL CDS

Brendel's Beethoven

Forty years in fields of glory

MUSIC: Richard Morrison meets Sir Neville Marriner, as he prepares to conduct his 75th birthday gala

f ever a pocket cartoon summed up a man's achievement, it was the celebrated one carried by The New Yorker a few years ago. It showed a parrot listen-ing to the radio. Out of the air-waves came the announcer's voice: "That was the Academy of St Martin-in-the-Fields . . . Quick as a flash, the parrot chirped in: "... conducted by Sir Neville Marriner."

There was indeed a time when this majestic combo seemed intent on recording everything and touring everywhere. Ask Marriner how many pieces he has recorded and he answers, with delightful nonchalance: "Oh, someone totted them up once, but they lost count after 1,600."

Today, with the record industry much shrunken, the Academy's dominance is less marked -- but it remains the most famous chamber orchesra in the world. Time, then, to celebrate Marriner's achievement, for next week a Festival Hall concert marks not only his own 75th birthday but also the 40th anniversary of the auspicious moment when he founded the ensemble that transformed orchestral stand-

The London music scene of the 1950s was very different from today's: less disciplined. more ebuilient. For a while Marriner, an LSO violinist, arked about with the best of hem. "I used to travel to conerts with a violinist called Petr Gibbs, who had been an IAF pilot and owned a Tiger Noth," he recalls. "One day we took a lot of flour-bags up vith us and bombed the LSO us on the road from Brussels Ostend. I don't think I could blerate players like that in my rchestra now.' But something in Marriner ebelled against this easyoing scene. The concept of the cademy began innocuously usly at first," he says. "We sed to gather in my flat to lay chamber music for fun. hen our keyboard player, ack Churchill, who was muic director at St Martin-inhe-Fields Church, suggested hat we give a concert there afer a service. He said straglers were always hanging round, hoping to keep warm.

"Well, we discussed names n the pub. We weren't big enough to be called an orchesira, and we hated the word 'ensemble'. Then the vicar said: You know that around the Strand in the 18th century there were clubs called academies, for people with similar interests in the arts or sciences? We said: 'Fine, we'll call ourselves the Academy.' Then he said: 'Don't forget the church . . . So we came up with this ridiculous name."

'Ms Joshua seduced

s irresistibly sexv.

egotistical arlas

Hardel

Sir Neville Marriner: "The most important test of a future Academy player is to take them on tour and see if you can bear to spend time with them"

Ridiculous or not, it was instantly successful. The boss of the newly founded L'Oiseau Lyre record label came to that first concert and signed up the Academy on the spot. "We immediately recorded all those Italian ice-cream merchants: Manfredini, Corelli, and so on," Marriner recalls. "So in one leap we had gone from being a friendly society into something al-Like Solti most professional." I think I The rest is history. The Sixties were the boom years of will keep er - who quickly on going turned from fiddle to baton — fashioned the perfect reuntil I'm cording orchestra: clean in texture, stopped > clinical in technique, brilliant in timbre. "The work flooded in. I remember recording all the Mozart horn concertos twice in the same week for different labels."

Marriner complains of being "typecast" by those early years. "Because I cultivated a lively style, people somehow thought I was too superficial for the po-faced stuff like Mahler." In fact, as his career blos-somed conducting European and American symphony or-chestras, he broadened his repertoire hugely. Does he ever turn on the radio and not recognise a recording as his?

New Production

Sung in English

April 19 | 24 | 28 | 30

May 5 | 7 | 13 | 15 | 18

21 | 25 | 28 at 7.00pm

Tickets from £5 - £55

English National Opera

London Coliseum WC2 Box Office 0171 632 8300 24 beers

"Sometimes you turn on the radio and hope it isn't yours. That happens to many musicians. I remember Alfred Brendel recalling how he was listening to a piano recital on the radio, and making a mental note of everything he didn't like about it, when the announcer said that the pianist was Alfred Brendel."

Marriner's way of selecting players for the Academy has remained constant. First comes an audition. You can tell within five can do." Then they are put into the Academy for a concert or two to see how quickly they absorb its immaculate ensemble style. "But the most important test," Mar-riner says, "is to take them on tour and see if you can bear to spend time with them. If they are miserable devils, they don't get invited back."

About two applicants in a hundred get through, and the turnover is high. The average age of players in this 40-year-old orchestra is about 30," Marriner notes. "We find that the women have babies and then can't tour, while the men sooner or later need more security than we can offer, and join one of the salaried orchestras." Marriner takes little trouble to conceal his disdain for the latter. "I get so mad with contract orchestras. Invariably, two people are missing from any rehearsal because they are at the dentist — usually a viola and double bass." The most pampered orchestras, he says, are in America. "The union rules there are so restrictive that orchestras virtually price themselves out of recordings. In Munich, the conductor can call a 12-hour rehearsal with two half-hour breaks, if he wants. In America a rehearsal is two-and-a-half hours maximum, with at least 20 minutes they will stop in mid bar if you overrun."

Similarly, Marriner has a strong aversion to government subsidy. The Academy has always been unsubsidised. "If the Arts Council give you mon-ey, they also tell you how to spend it. We didn't want other people's fingers poking into our artistic pie. Of course, the result is that the orchestra is always on a knife-edge, financially." That's why the Academy can be heard regularly in Germany (where ticket prices are much higher) yet has no London season. "We once sold out the Festival Hall and still lost £32,000 in a single night."

Marriner says.
He talks of loosening ties with the Academy, having "decided two or three years ago that I wasn't immortal". And he revels in his new rural life in Devon. "I find that, when

I'm filling in the diary for 2004. my wife has already booked weeks that are important for work in the garden." But what of his work with orchestras round the world? "Like Solti, I will probably go on until I'm stopped," he says wryly. "The awful thing about a conductor becoming geriatric is that you seem to become more desirable, not less. I just wish all these offers had come in when I was 30."

Times readers can purchase two tickets for the price of one on the top three ficket prices (£30, £24, £18) for Sir Neville Marriner's 75th Birthday Gala Concert, performed by the Academy of St Martinin-the-Fields at the Festival Hall next Wednesday at 7.30pm. To book, call Times Live on 0870-842 2212. Lines are open 24 hours a day. The programme is Mozart, Britten and Mendelssohn

NEW CLASSICAL CDS: Brahms with bite; young Mozart; Brendel shines

CHAMBER

■ BRAHMS

Clarinet Quintet,ete
Berg Quartet/Meyer
EMI 5 56759-2 * * * £15.99 MORE live recordings from the Mozartsaal in Vienna's Konzerthaus; and, as ever. there is little doubt about who is playing. From the finely drawn, ardent opening string notes of Brahms's Clarinet Quintet, before the soloist rises, lark-like, this is the distinctive sound of the Alban Berg Quartet. And, with Sabine Meyer's feisty clarinet, this is about the most high-fibre performance in the catalogue.

As the opening movement gets under way, the string en-semble can be gritty, acerbic even. And the slow movement, in this exceptionally close, intimate recording, reveals a fiercely intense partnership between soloist and quarter.

Hariolf Schlichtig, who was the fine viola player of the Cherubini Quartet, throws himself into the fray as the extra player for the Quintet in G, an imaginative and less predictable coupling of repertoire than the often inevitable Mozart Clarinet Quintet. As expected, the Berg Quartet meet the cross-accents of the opening head-on and, with Schlichtig contributing to its rich fabric, stomp splendidly through the Hungarian finale.

HILARY FINCH

OPERA

■ MOZART Dessay/Bartoli/Asawa/ Sabbatini/Les Talents Lyriques/Rousset Decca 460 772-2 (3 CDs) * * £38.99

THE final quintet of defiance against Roman tyranny. which runs for just under a minute, is one of the few pieces of concise composition in Mitridate. The 14-year-old Mozart's excursion into opera seria takes its time in telling the story of two brothers, Sifare

CDs reviewed in The Times can be ordered from the Times Music Shop on 0345 023498

and Farnace, rivals for the hand of Aspasia on opposing sides in the Graeco-Roman wars. Even the most fervent Mozartian is likely to admit that there are tedious patches.

Mitridate is rarely staged and even more rarely recorded. But Decca has taken the plunge and cast the piece most generously. Natalie Dessay is in top form as Aspasia, surrounded by lies, treachery and even a possible marriage with King Mitridate himself. To her go the big emotional outbursts and Dessay dispatches them with almost greedy bril-

Decca cast a mezzo (Cecilia Bartoli) and a counter-tenor (Brian Asawa) as the warring brothers. Bartoli is the great stylist, but Asawa is by no means outclassed. Sabbatini makes much of Mitridate's death scene and Rousset is a highly sympathetic conductor.

JOHN HIGGINS

ORCHESTRAL

■ BEETHOVEN Piano Concertos Nos 1-5 Brendel/VPO/Rattle Philips 462 781-2 (3 CDs) * * * £38.99

THESE recordings of the Beethoven piano concertos are sophisticated, discerning and tasteful, with nothing exaggerated, so it all sounds exactly as it should. But listen more closely and you realise the subtleties of inflection in No 3, the barely perceptible tempo modifications in No 4 and the unforced authority of the Emperor. Add to that the sparkling wit of the rondo finales to Nos I and 2 and Alfred Brendel's superbly meticulous pianism and you have a set to treasure. Such joy radiates from the partnership with Simon Rattle and the Vienna Philharmonic, and such seamless give and take from two distinctive but eminently compatible musical personalities, that it is easy to see why Brendel should be content for this fourth go round to be, as he says it will, his last.

> BARRY MILLINGTON

* Worth hearing * * Worth considering * * * Worth buying

Bach to nature t has never been cooler to CONCERT be a counter-tenor, never

L more remunerative to be a mezzo. But when did you last hear a really great contralto? The answer may well be the last time you played a CD by Nathalie Stutzmann, for the French contralto visits England all too seldom, and hers is a truly rare voice.

Her repertoire stretches over at least 400 years of music, but her voice and spirit are never more exquisitely tuned than in the Baroque era. Here, her early training as a bassoon player tells in every sinuously inflected line, every per-fectly judged breath. And when the composer is Bach, and instrumental and vocal lines intertwine, then the symbiotic relationship is unusually compelling. Imagine, then, the "contented rest" of Bach's cantata Vergnügte Ruh breathed out in the voices of oboe d'amore (Anthony Robson), violin (Catherine Mackintosh, leading the Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment) and Stutzmann herself. Only the following contemplation of the world as a "house of sin" could have broken the spell; and here Stutzmann's sharp-etched rhythms tightened the tension before it was released once again in the sighs shared with violins and violas as the "wayward heart wandered, lost without the ballast of its contin-Susan Sheppard's eloquent cello came into its own, though, underlining Stutzmann's ardent goodnight to the world in the cantata Ich habe genug. Spuzmann's con-train traced and paraphrased the valedictory Song of Simeon with rare sensitivity, graphically using vowels to lift the melodic line, and consonants to propel it. It was a moving tribute to the late Francis Baines, double-bass player with the OAE, who was commemorated in this concert.

Barbican -

Robson took up a reedy oboe da caccia here, after what seemed an exhausting performance with Mackintosh of Bach's Concerto in C minor for Oboe and Violin. This was a brisk, no-nonsense performance of a work which deserves a little more space. But the Corelli Concerto Grosso Op 6 No l, which began the evening, lived dangerously without compromising the music, and revealed the OAE's strings at their best.

HILARY FINCH

THE SUNDAY TIMES is THE SUNDAY PAPERS

BOOKS

American in Paris, and London, and

ince the beginning of time there have been about half a billion Americans. On the date of Independence in 1776, there were roughly two million people living in the East Coast colonies and the vast uncharted territories beyond. Today there are approximately 270 million. and we will know the exact number shortly after the offi-cial census that takes place next year (a decennial nose count is mandated by the US Constitution).

From this historical pool of humanity, the creators of the American National Biography have selected 17.500 individuals. Each subject receives a write-up of between 750 and 7,500 words, and the profiles are spread over 24 hefty volumes. The principal criterion - a helpful one - is that the candidate must have expired before 1996. Citizenship is not a prerequisite, but "significant influence" is expected, so some names appear which are cus-tomarily associated with other lands. W. H. Auden has an entry (though he did become an American citizen after the war) and so does Peter Sellers, who never thought of changing citizenship. For a nation which is made up of immigrants, transients and a free-flowing population, citizenship would be an unworkable restriction.

Not since putting a man on the Moon has an American organisation undertaken such an ambitious logistical project. RAYMOND SEITZ

AMERICAN NATIONAL BIOGRAPHY (24 vols.) Eds. John A. Garraty and Mark C. Carnes OUP, £1500

ISBN 0 19 520635 5

The inspirational authority for the task was the American Council of Learned Societies, an umbrella confederation of academic associations founded in 1919. There are 61 member groups running the gamut from the African Studies Association to the Sonneck Society for American Music. The ACLS published the country's first biographic dictionary in the 1930s, and although annual supplements followed, the content and tone of the earlier compendium were considered, by the end of the century, woefully out of date.

From its position at the apex of America's intelligensia, the ACLS was able to exploit the academic network of the United States. Under the direction of managing editor Paul Betz. some 200 senior and associate editors divided into 19 categorical task forces. These committees selected the subjects, commissioned the essays from 6.100 contributors and completed the final review. They were supported by ranks of copy editors and fact-checkers at the Oxford University Press in North Carolina. Money came from the ACLS's own fund-raising as well as grants from the Mellon and Rockefeller Foundations and the National Endowment for the Humanities. The new Biography. according to Stanley Katz, the President Emeritus of the ACLS, is the product of the "often invoked, but rarely manifest, scholarly community".

In an era of sometimes cacophonous political correctness, the editors have made a iudicious effort to redress the balance between white males. who dominated the earlier biographic dictionary, and women and minorities, who were frequently neglected. Sacagawea, who barely rated a mention before, is here given full treatment, not only for her exploits as guide on the Lewis and Clark expedition to the Northwest Territories, but for ber own life as well (we learn. for example, that she married a Shoshone with the unfortunate name of "Jerk Mear").

Oscar Charleston, the outstanding black baseball star of the prewar Negro League, is given long overdue recognition. So. too. Martha Ballard whose ordinary life as an 18thcentury midwife would have faded into oblivion had it not been for her valuable diaries. More questionable, perhaps, is the inclusion of Benjamin Franklin's common law wife, Deborah, except that she signed her letters to her travelling husband with the words, Your a feck shonet wife".

These volumes are an absorbing panorama of the long, colourful American parade. As expensive reference works they naturally belong in schools and libraries, and the succinct bibliographies that appear at the end of each entry are a scholar's feast. In a way, this is a pity, because the essays are well written and often entertaining, and the Biogra-phy would be perfectly suita-ble for the bedside table were it not for the weight. The pages are strewn with little nuggets.

A ake, for example, the profile of George Jessel (1898-1981), the vaudeville comic who turned down the lead role in The Jazz Singer. In the same year as the movie appeared (1927), Jessel made a different contribution to life and art. Having mixed a mid-morning tomato drink for himself in a Palm Beach bar. he offered a taste to a Philadelphia socialite named Mary Brown Warburton, who promptly spilled it down the front of her white gown, thereby christening herself and the drink 'Bloody Mary'."

American National Biography represents such a colossal effort that it probably never would have taken flight without the psychological imperative of the looming millennium. But its publication now is indeed something to celebrate.

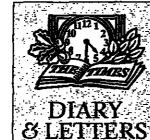

Manhattan transfer: W. H. Auden emigrated to New York in 1939 and became an American citizen in 1946

■ LUCINDA LAMBTON has been in 31 states in the US this winter, researching a new book (and three television films for the BBC). She has discovered a whole family tribe of Lambtons - though now they spell themselves "Lampton" descended from some of her own ancestors who went out in 1764. Most of them are in Mississippi, and one of them, she tells us, is a landowner called Dinwiddy Lampton, who has 380 horse-drawn coaches that he drives in turn round his estate. She has also discovered she is related to Mark Twain through his mother. But her book will go beyond the personal to trace the survival of old European ways in America. using all the photographs she has been taking.

THE Bibliothèque nationale of France is moving fast. It has now set up a website for the public on which books amounting to two million pages can be read by the "internauts", as the French call them, along with numerous historic recordings such as Guillaume Apollinaire reading his poems. Many French people will not be sorry if the monstrous new library building is pulled down and hands its job over o the Internet.

A COLLECTION of essays called A Passion for Books is being published by Macmillan for World Book Day on April 23 (£15.99). Among the contributors, Ferdinand Mount takes a swipe at literary theory, John Bayley admits that he hardly remembers the book that won the Booker Prize when he was chairman of the jury, and Margaret Drabble tells a tale that Angus Wilson told ber. In the days when he presided over the Reading Room in the British Library, he had occasion to reprimand a woman for eating oranges at her desk. She protested that she was not eating the oranges, just squeezing the juice over

A light shone on family history Andrew O'Hagan on the family ictorian fathers cast long shadows. There was something eminently paternal in the spirit of the age. Edmund Gosse pinned it down in Father and Son: the lofty father. caustic, remote and busy with the world's small detail, and the solitary son, piddling away the hours in the midst of dreams and fevers. This was also true for Gosse's acquaintance Robert Louis Stevenson, a brillant writer and a creature of strong fathers, who - to the morning of his death - allowed those fathers to blink in and out of his life. "The atmosphere of his father's sterling industry," wrote Stevenson in his unfinished novel Weir of Hermiston, "was the best of Archie's education. Assuredly it did not attract him; assuredly it rather rebutted and depressed. Yet it was still present, unobserved like the ticking of a clock, an arid ideal, a tasteless stimulant in the boy's life." However arid the ideals of Stevenson's father — and there was always something of the family in his dry cough - the truth must be that their interests were not remote from his character as a writer. Their hard work as engineers, their mastery of weather, mathematics and the high sea, find a strange relative in the sentences of Robert Louis Stevenson. their landlubbing son and grandson and nephew and cousin. In this book, Bella Bathurst has found a way to althat built Scotland's lighthouses low the Stevensons to stand for themselves and yet she also allows for the possibility that we might read, in the story of the fathers, a crucial story of the storytelling son.

Bathurst has a natural gift for narrative. She has a not un-Stevenson-like attentiveness: she catches as much with the ear as the eye. And so we enter into a bold and tender story. Louis's grandfather Robert Stevenson. "a slave to self-improvement", built the Bell Rock lighthouse, off the coast of Arbroath, in 1807. It was a massive undertaking: to build a light on a dangerous crag, using thousands of tons of stone. in the worst of weather and with no great public enthusiasm for the job. Robert Stevenson is half Ab-raham, half King Canute; he has a God-fearing resilience as he squares up to the fury of God's elements. He seems to have been a man who was almost overcome with a sense of public duty, and overcome too with a sense of the symbolic value of lighthouses. Bathurst is not the type to be blinded by romance, however. "The fact that he was to be proved right," she says, "makes him admirable, it does not always make him likeable.

You detect more sympathy for Robert's son, Alan, who took up a secret pen and made a friend of Wordsworth, but who toed the line quite spectacularly, by building the lighthouse at Skerryvore. The light stood 138 ft above the first course of stonework: a magisterial construction which threw its light over some of the most treacherous sea imaginable.

THE LIGHTHOUSE STEVENSONS By Bella Bathurst HarperCollins, £15.99

Bathurst has qualities of restraint and is Scottishly parsed in the face of the facts: she cleaves ever to the sunnier side of detail and only seldom to emotion. But she has what the best biographers always have — a certain love for her subject. There's an attractive duality at the centre of her affections: she adores the industry of these Stevensons, yet she is mindful of the places where application fails; where the heart gives out.

Louis's father, Thomas -Alan's brother - was never workshy either. Yet he. to. had a secret hankering to be a writer. He crumbled in the face of his father's objections as his own son would not and lost himself in note-taking on the subject of waves and "heathen writers". There is an anxiety of influence detectable in each of these men: each if them wanted to live up to his father and yet find a way o live as himself. Robert Lous Stevenson broke excruciating waves of disappointment over his father's head: he turned hs back on lighthouses, but in al the squall, he seems to have found his writer's voice.

ella Bathurst has built a lamp hersel: it illuminates the work of a literary hero, a family business, a hab it of mind and a Scottish period. She gives us a sense of the lives of the keepers and provides a eulogy for a kind of life now going or gone: all the lighthouses, including the ones built by her Stevensons are now unmanned. Bella Bathurst is what people used to call the genuine article: from the summit of this terrific first book she looks to become one of the best biographers of her generation. In the meantime, you might do yourself a favour and fold The Lighthouse Steventons into your knapsack.

This week The Times offers readers the chance to buy two tickets for the price of one for some of the best shows in London.

2 FOR 1 TICKETS

AT SIX TOP SHOWS

AN PRESENTATION INSPECTOR

Amadeus, Old Vic, SE1. Peter Shaffer's wickedly funny play currently starring David Suchet. Offer valid from April 12-May 31 Monday-Thursday evenings at 7.30pm and matinees on Wednesday and Saturday at 2.30pm (at 3pm from April 19). Tickets normally £32.50 each.

lood Brothers, Phoenix Theatre, WC2, Winner of the Olivier Best Musical production award. Offer valid from April 12-June 30 Monday-Friday evenings at 7.45pm and matinees on Thursday at 3pm and Saturday 4pm Tickess normally £32.50 each.

An Inspector Calls, Garrick Theatre, WC2. Winner of 19 awards, the National Theatre production of J. B. Pnestley's thriller stars William Gaunt, Offer valid Monday-Thursday evenings at 7.45pm from April 12-May 15. Tickets normally £29.50 each.

The Woman in Black, Fortune Theatre, WC2. Susan Hill's frightening ghost story, now in its tenth year. Offer valid Mon-Thurs evenings at 8pm from May 1-June 30. Tickets normally £23.50 each Buddy, Strand Theatre, WC2. Rock'n'roll musical of The Buddy Holly Story. Offer valid Tuesday-Thursday evenings at 8pm, Friday evenings at 8.30pm and Sunday matinees at 4pm from April 12-May 31. Tickets normally £27 each (Tues-Thurs and Sun mats) and £30 each Friday evenings.

The Reduced Shakespeare Company, Criterion Theatre, W1. The longest-running comedy in the West End includes all 37 of the Bard's plays. Offer valid for Tuesday-Friday evenings at 8pm and matinees on Thursday at 3pm, Saturday at 5pm and Sunday at 4pm from April 12-June 30. Tickets normally £95 each.

There is a £2 transaction fee per booking.

0870 842 2211

CHANGING TIMES

Hit by a bolt from the blue

domly reconstructing the minds of ordinary folk in Sixties San Francisco. in the heyday of the hippy drug-culture. When a flash of cosmic blue light strikes men and women (and even roaming animals) it quickens their DNA. sharpening their faculties and magnifying their physical powers so that they become a superhuman race of the future - "the Blues". Driven into violent action by their heightened awareness. each Blue becomes bent obsessively on realising his or her deepest yearnings: great sex. harmony with nature, abiding compassionate love, or (occasionally) brutal psychotic violence. One of their number takes on the role of leader, galvanising the Blues into a cult, inventing rituals of mixing and drinking each other's blood to enhance their mystical powers. The woman he was coupled with at the moment the blue light struck becomes the cult's sex goddess, the child conceived in that instant grows to amazonic strength and wrestles bears in the wilderness. But among them stalks Grey Man — a zombie created when the blue light struck a man dying of cancer. at the moment of his death. Grey Man's quest is the destruction of all other Blues, a task he pursues with grizzly determination, dismembering and mutilating Blues and friends of Blues as he tracks

The narrator of this tale is not a Blue, but Chance, a mixed race graduate student. caught up in the Blue world. After abandoning his research on Thucydides, Chance bears witness to the extinguished hopes of the Blues. If we are to believe his tale, it is he who helps finally to annihilate Grey Man and who rescues a Blue remnant to see anthem down.

other day. Walter Mosley's earlier mysteries, with their quirky black hero-narrator Easy

LISA JARDINE

BLUE LIGHT By Walter Mosley Serpent's Tail, £9.99 ISBN 1 85242 611 X

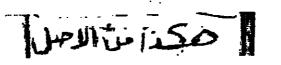

Rawlins, have something of a cult following. He specialises in getting inside the minds and lives of North American itinerant blacks and white trash - living lonely, confused lives in a penumbra world of pain and disappointment on the fringes of affluent gritty, real-life dialogue and crafts his plots around closely observed detail of life as a social outsider.

Blue Light is a newventure.

into "science fiction" In fact. "science" has very litte to do with this fiction uncess we mean the chemistry which produces the substances beloved of drug-users. In Blu Light. Mosley details meticulously the grainy, disorientaed insanity of being high of something-or-other in San Hancisco during the Vietnas War years. He describes wih mesmerising clarity the halucinatory twilight world of nightmares and cuphoria inhabited by losers and driften who move from one fix to arither. The blood-exchanges, lore-ins and brutalities merge nto a single inchoate dreamvorld. We cannot even be sun that the entire "History" is not a product of Chance's debded mind, since at the end of the book he is confined to a state mental hospital, registere as society. He writes compelling. a paranoid schizophrenic

Washed ashore in a bomb-damaged land

The scarring runs deeper than the flattened landscape in Philip Casey's novel, set in postwar London

he water star is a reflection: imperfect, but beautiful in itself. Its darklit image shivers in a breath of wind, or is obscured by the observer's shadow in the moon, but that mutability, that elusiveness, is part of its arresting mystery. Lean diwn too close to the pool and it will appear to vanish altogether.
Philip Casey's second novel, The Vater Star. works in the same way. Casey is a poet and a raywright: he has a poet's delicate er and a playwright's eye for crection. The tale that unfolds in tis thick, satisfying volume is not articularly complex - any more ian the circumstances of any of or lives are complex, which is to sy, infinitely and infinitesimally h. London, 1950: the city is a bomb tie, a building site, and there is lenty of work for Brendan and ligh Kinsella, natives of Co Modord. Father and son,

Brindan's wife and Hugh's mother Mire is dead, buried near the blue

Irish mountain that haunts them in their grey London days, Croghan Kinsella.

The city separates them. Each longs for home, for the past, finds himself strange even when not among strangers. The London of Hugh's imagination is nowhere to be found: "When he was a child, he had always thought that London had no hills. He remembered this as he walked up the incline of Tollington Park, past the large Protestant church and into Everleigh Street, where the Irish faithful were congregating. Hugh was perversely proud that his church had a corrugated iron roof, in contrast to its grand Protestant neighbour. No matter that Catholic churches in Ireland were of good stone and slate, the poverty of this one made him feel a cut above the Prods, morally speaking."

But when Hugh's longing mani-fests itself in a vision of his dead mother, Brendan hides his own sense of loss in a fear of his son's madness, and Hugh goes his own

He finds a home with Elizabeth Frampton, who takes him into her house and her bed. She has another lodger, Karl, a German, whose family was killed in Hamburg in the war. He manages his bereavement by carving their effigies as he sits in the garden — and by loving Elizabeth. When she takes to Hugh he is faced with another loss. Brendan, meanwhile, finds comfort after his son's disappearance with Sarah, an Irish woman sent away from home when she became pregnant with her daughter Deirdre. Through the interweaving and the overlapping of these relationships, Casey examines how human nature is shaped by sorrow, how people will find a way — sometimes, it seems, despite themselves — to take comfort from others, to make homes where they can, even among the ruins. Casey's technique, too, is one of interweaving and overlapping. He will tell the same story more than once, each time from a different vantage point: Hugh's own experience of his arrival at Elizabeth's house and then Karl's vision of the events. Of course, it is not the "same story" that's told, which is precisely the point. As an idea in the abstract this might seem laboured; in the novel, however, it works seamlessly, simply functioning as it is meant to and unfolding the story like a fan.

Karl works as a labourer, too; Elizabeth trusts he will find work for Hugh. As Hugh sees it: "Elizabeth glanced at him across the table. He had been watching a stray hair which had wandered from her well-brushed head. As their eyes met, she looked back again to Karl. 'Can you fix a start for Hugh on Monday?' Karl sized him up. 'If he's willing to work hard. Brickie's mate, Hugh."

And then, as Karl perceives it:
"Can you fix a start for Hugh on Monday?" She asked quietly. Of course. Elizabeth had but to ask, no matter what complication or indebtedness to those he despised that it might entail. It was against his interest, he knew simply by the way she spoke of the young man; but Elizabeth had made a request. He pretended to consider. 'If he's willing to work hard. Brickie's mate, Hugh.

This style, formal yet flexible, opens the novel out, and the different perspectives made these hardscrabble lives — death is a frequent visitor to this household and comfort too easily found in a bottle of wine or whiskey - vivid.

Casey's tale comes to the reader bearing praise from Sebastian Barry, and like the author of The Steward of Christendom and The Whereabouts of Eneas McNulty. he has an unsentimental but affectionate view of Ireland and the

is language is more austere than Barry's: his characters aren't given to speechifying and a large part of his skill is in the way he digs through their inarticu-lacy to find the real emotion

The Water Star is a graceful, gentle novel that does not shy from the truth. Is its metaphor of lives rebuilt from rubble — whether the detritus of the past or the structures shattered by the Blitz - too pat? Perhaps, sometimes. But reading along one finds oneself thinking, yes, but that's just how things are. That seems a small thing, but it is a fine compliment to a work of

THE WATER STAR Picador, £14.99 ISBN 0 330 371 908

Blame it on the theorist

SEVERAL DECEPTIONS By Jane Stevenson Jonathan Cape, £14.99 ISBN 0 224 05939 4

JANE STEVENSON'S first collection of fiction consists of four novellas with the common theme of deception. A professor undercut by his own in-tellect amusingly blames all the problems in his life on the semiotics nut Umberto Eco. In another story, an international lawyer plays at terrorism. But the most finely tuned quart tells the story of Judy O'Grady, an Irish woman who changes her name to Ananda and becomes a novice in a Tibetan nunnery. Things heat up during a spell in Simla, the former British hill-station in northern India, when the unlikely heroine unexpectedly warms to the dying em-bers of colonialism. Steven-son's careful plotting and at-tention to detail prove she is a new voice worth listening to.

Into the fire

THE FAREWELL ANGEL By Carmen Martin Gaite Harvill, £9.99 ISBN 1 86046 358 4

LEONARDO is released from his Madrid prison cell on the same day as he learns his par-ents have died in a car crash. He returns home with a full wallet, but his heart is heavier still. First he reminisces in a sepia-tinted haze, churning up memories which eventually lead him to a white house on the edge of a cliff where his grandmother raised him. But it is not until he meets the building's new owner that he is fully redeemed. This is essentially a novel about storytell-ing. Carmen Martin Gaite, a bestselling author in her native Spain, weaves traditional childhood tales into her own complex and peculiar one.

Alter ego

ALLAN STEIN: A Novel By Matthew Stadler Fourth Estate, £10 ISBN 1841151076

A SUCKER for small boys, Matthew swaps Seattle for Paris after an affair with a 15-year-old pupil switches from fantasy to reality. For the sheer hell of it, rather than disguise, he changes his name to that of his best friend back home: the museum curator Herbert Widener. "Herbert" is pathologically excitable and attracts trouble with the ease of an Enid Blyton heroine, and within 30 pages he becomes embroiled in a mystery involving a set of drawings which leature Allan Stein, the lithe nephew of Gertrude. Slipping in and out of fact and fiction with apparent effortlessness, Matthew Stadler's writing is slick, funny and ever so stylish.

ALEX O'CONNELL

All at sea (and loving it)

Fim Severin delights in a byage on one of the greatest sailing ships ever built hanks to the State Literarure Officer of Western Australia, I found myif last month in the small coast town of Albany runnirla "Writer's Workshop". Anng the local students was a lil of passage: a tall, well-spen Englishman, rather oldshioned and — I would withe explained, on his way rold the world in a sailing bo travelling in slow stages. Hoped to pick up a few tips and writing up his logbook. agperhaps there would be anventual account of his voyag I guessed he was retired atfulfilling his lifelong ambi-tic I asked him his favourite anor - "Eric Newby" was thimmediate reply. e — and other Newby fans -rill delight in Learning the Ries. The book is the seience of Newby's photogiphs taken during his classi 1938-39 voyage as an agrentice saior aboard the for-masted barque Moshulu. P sea-struck Newby was 18 yers old when he signed on it the round-ne-world trip to Sith Australia, outward bund with a bad of stone ballst in which ne Belfast docke had concaled two dead des as a pungent joke, and back to Europe with a load of wheat. Newby told us the tale initially in The Last Grain Race and, more recently, in What the Traveller Saw. But no matter - now he gets the chance to show us his photo-graphs, and the publishers have done him proud. The pictures are thoughtfully presented. They take us from the initial preparations in dock, around the Cape of Good Hope, to the drab little Australian wheat ports, and back home around the Horn with a ferocious gale to contend with. The photographs

LEARNING THE ROPES By Eric Newby John Munay £22.50 ISBN 0 7195 5636 8

After 24 days at sea, the Moshulu rounded the northwest African coast — the man on the weather yard-arm is hauling out the head of the sail are superb. Anyone who has known how tired one can be after hours of hard labour at sea must admire the gritty persist-ence with which the young photographer kept going with his folding bellows Zeiss Su-per Ikonta. The pictures from aloft which show Moshulu's deck slathered in white foam as the waves break over her in a gale must have required real dedication - one hand on the camera button and the other hanging on for dear life. For all his gentle, wry, self-deprecating humour, Newby has a sinewy determination without which we would never have gone with him Slowly Down the Ganges or on A Short Walk in the Hindu Kush.

The photos give the impression not of tall, graceful elegance, but of brute industrial strength at sea. Moshulu and her sister ship bulk carriers were, it is claimed, the most powerful sailing ships ever built. They were also utilitarian to the point of starkness. There was no flourish, no panache, just plain hard-nosed money-making if operating costs could be cut to the bone. So the crews were minimal and stingily paid — Newby got his job by return post because apprentices were cheap la-bour. He received ten shillings a month. The sailmaker, a master craftsman with 43 years' experience, got £7. The Captain did not do much better: he got £20 a month, "which didn't seem much for such a lonely position of responsibility". Details like this, well-researched and defily put, are packed into Newby's characteristically charming foreword and the captions to his pictures. They demonstrate how he loved every moment of his trip — well, almost every moment. Oddly enough, doing the washing-up for the entire crew using half a kerosene can of hot water per session was, it seems, "far preferable" to cleaning the lavatories. One doesn't imagine that the ap-prentices left much on their plates. Newby makes the point that one common feature among the young seamen was their constant hunger. So it is the ultimate quirk that Moshulu is now tied up in Philadelphia and converted to a float-

Welcome to the age of Witspell: Peter Ackroyd talks about his new novel, The Plato Papers, a satire set 2,000 years in the

IN metro THIS

SATURDAY

ALSO: boxers, squatters and bikers — Adventures in Other England by Nik Cohen; and God is a kamikaze pilot — the weird fictional world of Bo Fowler

A myth the size of a mountain

hi: Crazy Horse (Ti-Sunka-Witco) figured prominently mong the housands of Nathe Amerians who taught fuster the meaning of the etm. "Littl Bighorn", almost very otherfact about him is pen to delite. This is because ne never ace spoke for the public reced, or allowed himtelf to become the sort of cigaritore sava: who signed autographs at fild West shows for a dollar apop. As Larry Mc-Murtry :gues in this fine meditation the most elusive figure in American history. Crazy Hose wasn't shy of attention. E just didn't like to spend tomuch time with the sorts of paple who keep score.

Most rifiable facts about Crazy Hise were collected in interview with elderly Sioux well intrhe 20th century and. as a rest, almost everything historia: know about him has to I qualified by that innocuou adverb. "probably". He was robably born a member of e Oglala wing of the Great toux nation in 1840, near wat is now Bear Butte, South Jakota. He probably led theioux into some of their famoupre-Bighorn victories. such athe battles of the Bozeman ed the Rosebud. And he was phably responsible for leadir Captain William Fetterm; and his troops beyond

By Larry McMurtry Penguin, £12.99 ISBN 0 297 84242 0

the safe perimeters of Fort Phil Kearney in December, 1866, where they were succinctly slaughtered. Neither high-born nor selfcongratulatory, Crazy Horse was the closest thing to a populist that the Sioux Nation ever possessed. As a youth, he displayed a keen talent for horses, and when he wasn't hunting buffalo, he was engaged in vision-quests, seeking instruction from the spirits he admired more than people. On one such mystic expedition, he was told to live the simple life, shun adornments and devote himself solely to the weakest members of his tribe. According to most accounts, he lived faithfully to these precepts for the rest of his life. Crazy Horse did not surrender to the white generals so much as to the white weather. And when he turned over his arms after the terrible winter of 1876-77, he learnt from experience that deal-making with Washington was neither his, nor his people's, best suit.

The enormous statue of Crazy Horse in South Dakota

After negotiating for hunting privileges which were immediately revoked, he displeased his victors by refusing to betray his people, and even-tually developed a following among the youngest warriors of his tribe. This popularity was noted not only by Washington, but by Sioux leaders as well, most of whom considered Crazy Horse a threat. As McMurtry sees it, Crazy Horse was disliked by politicians on both sides for not being sufficiently political. In the end, it cost him his life. On September 6, 1877. Crazy Horse was slain by an unre-markable private named William Gentles while resisting efforts to incarcerate him. As should be expected from such a mythical life, nobody agrees on what happened that day, or has any idea where Crazy Horse's parents eventually disposed of his body.

Today, though, the world's largest sculpture is being dynamited into the Black Hills of South Dakota. It has taken more than half a century to complete and when it is finished it will depict not only the head of Crazy Horse, but also the only indisputable fact about him: he may not be clearly remembered, but he was definitely larger than life.

Nimble-fingered

hen we speak of the as he makes his way home Holocaust, the imeach night. ages summoned are mostly those of the concentration camp. Władysław Szpilman's powerful memoir, The Pianist (Gollancz, £12.99; ISBN 0 575 06708 X) supplies a whole other iconography, that of the Warsaw ghetto. A Jewish pianist, he managed to survive the ghetto and outside it in Warsaw on the run.

The most dramatic aspect of Szpilman's story comes in the war's final days when he was discovered by a German officer. On learning that he was a pianist, Wilm Hosenfeld persuaded him to play the Cho-pin Nocturne in C sharp minor. Hosenfeld then showed him where to hide and brought him food.

One can see why the Polish authornies had Szpilman's book withdrawn soon after its publication in 1946. His account of the "good Poles" who hid him may have been ideologically acceptable, but that of a "good German" wasn't. Yet the Hosenfeld section of the book is the least interesting. Far more arresting are his tableaux of ghetto life the lice so inescapable they even penetrated the bread; a German officer's casual defenestration of a dazed old man in the building opposite; the corpses who stare up at him

The ghetto remains for most of us an unfathomable place. Szpilman describes the torment of confinement. He's also an artful guide to the differences between the Jews in the ghetto - not the homogenous group of the Nazi imagination, but people whose prewar status was reproduced during the war. Szpilman observes them from one of the ghetto cafés where he plays. He also recounts the sadism of the Jewish police and the daring of the underground to which he belonged.

Once he's been spirited out of the ghetto, the book becomes a desperate chronicle of hunger, loneliness and pessimism. Looking out on a bombed landscape, he imagines himself the last person alive. Twice he's on the point of suicide when capture seems imminent. The third time be swallows sleeping-pills but awakes the next day.

For me, this book had an added poignancy. The Chopin Nocturne which saved Szpilman's life was the same one which saved my mother's. when she played it in Plazow concentration camp for Amon Goeth. What would Frédéric Chopin have made of that?

ANNE KARPF

THE AND TIMES BOOKSHOP C: BECAUSE COWARDS GET CANCER TOO by John Diamond published in paperback by Vermilion. . RRP £6.99, you pay just £5.99 Save £2 un the hardback version. RRP £9.99, you pay £7.99 SAVE £4 ON BRUCE CHATWIN a biography by Nicholas Shakespeare published by The Harvill Press. RRP £20, you pay just £16

CALL: 0990 134 459 CALLS CHARGED AT

All the latest bestsellers are available through

The Times Bookshop: Please call for details for these or any book in print.

Fax +14 1326 374 688. e-mail: beokshop@the-times.co.uk ● FREE UK pestage and packing ● Delivery in 28 days

Qty		14	le/Au	thor				-	_	110	bal Pr	HCE
Sumame			inii				. Title	B		İ.,
Address			code									1444
I enclose chequi Please write you Debit my Maste	ır neme an	d add	iress (	on the	bac	k of	all c	heg	ues
		$\overline{}$	1			_		_	_		~	$\neg$

For Republic of Ireland and overseas orders add 20% to total book cost. Delivery is by airmail in Europe, surface to rest of world. (Airmail outside Europe add 35%.) The successed retail price of a book can be subject to change by the cyntish without prior notice. Tick box if you prefer not to receive details of other offers

Bargains of the week: abiding memories in Devon; a gourmet gathering in Guernsey, the art of Van Dyck in Antwerp

A selection of last-minute holidays and travel opportunities at home, on the Continent and further afield. many at bargain prices

BRITISH ISLES

ABBA are making a big noise in London again with the opening this week of Mamma Mia. featuring many of the group's songs. Top seats together with Friday and Saturday night at a central four-star hotel, plus dinner with champagne, are on offer from Theatrebreak. The package costs £219, with discounts available over the next two Bank Holiday weekends. Details: 01904 679999.

THE hymn Abide With Me caused more excitement than Abba when sung at Wembley Cup Finals, and the Rev Henry Lyte, who wrote it, can be remembered at the Berry Head Hotel, his former home overlooking the sea at Brixham, Devon. Two nights' dinner, B&B costs £96 with Sunvil UK for the next two weekends. Details: 0181-232 9788.

SEATTLE

ORLANDO LOS ANGELES BOSTON

NEW YORK

THE boat comes free, for a day at least, on holidays with Norfolk Broads Direct until May 23. Stay in apartments beside the river at Wroxham from Elli for a short break (£164 for a week) and a motor launch will be provided for a day. Details: 01603 782207.

■ GOURMETS can enjoy Guernsey's eating experience competition this month on a visit to a winning hotel, which includes a five-course meal the first night, seven the next and a rest on the third. The threenight break with Guernsey Travel Service costs £229, with return flights from Gatwick. Details: 0181-891 6020.

■ CHESTER can be explored at a saving this month with Goldenrail, which has dinner, B&B at the Queens Hotel for £49. Details: 01904 638973.

■ COTTAGES in Rosscar-bery, Co Cork, are available for two weeks at the price of one from April 17 with Irish Ferries Holidays. The offer cuts the price for a fortnight to £63 if six are sharing. Travel hy sea or air can also be arranged. Details: 08705 170000. EUROPE

TUSCANY can be enjoyed at special prices, before the politicians and superstars arrive for their summer holidays. Crystal Premier Italy has reduced the price for a week in selected villas from the next two Saturdays to £249, based on five sharing, but including car hire and return flights from Gatwick. Or you can take two weeks for the price of one. Details: 0181-390 5554.

■ PRAGUE discounts are available this month from Travellers Czech: three nights B&B cost from £289, including return flights from Heathrow, Stansted and Manchester. Details: 01959 540700.

GREECE's quieter islands and resorts are on special offer next month from Greek Options. Villa and apartment holidays cost from £199, including return flights from Garwick on the first three Sundays. Details: 0171-233 5233.

■ ORCHIDS, violets and white narcissi burst into flower in the Massif Central in May and will make a perfect backdrop to walks with Belle France, available all month. A circular tour, walking about 11 miles each day and enjoying four nights half-board in three hotels in the Cevennes, costs from £336, with a short Channel crossing for car and passengers. Details: 01797 223777.

■ VAN DYCK will be the next artist, after Monet's success in London, to draw huge crowds in Antwerp to the largest exhibition of his works, and Prospect Music and Art Tours is planning ahead to spare enthusiasts long queues. Two-night breaks in four-star hotels, a timed entry ticket and return Eurostar travel will be available from May 18 from £199. Details: 0171-486 5705.

■ MALTA for a week for £159 - and with half-board - is on offer from Lunn Poly, with a flight from Gatwick on April 16. Details from the company's Holiday Shops.

FREE flights are a promotion from Orient Lines for selected Aegean holidays combining a cruise and city break. The offer cuts the price for a week to £735, including five nights full board on a cruise to Ephesus, Mykonos and Rhodes and two nights in a first-class hotel in Istanbul. The first trip begins with a BA flight from Heathrow on May 18. Details: 0171-409 2500.

In the heart of Prague, available on a three-night bargain

LONG HAUL

A RED SEA Discovery cruise. sailing on April 15, is available at huge discounts from Voyages of Discovery, even though the region is less troubled today than other parts of the world. Prices for outside cabins are reduced to £699 and for inside ones to £599, including full board and return flights to Crete for the ten-night trip to Israel, Egypt, Syria and Jordan. Defails: 01293 433030.

A PARADISE isle at a dream price is on offer until June 30 from Thomas Cook Holidays. A formight at Lang-kawi Holiday Villas, Malay-sia, costs £489, with return flights from Manchester, or E40 more from Heathrow, No meals included but because the Asian economies are still in trouble the cost of living is low. Details: 01733 418450.

FLORIDA without the kids comes cheap at the moment with Jetsave. Families are the Disney state's most frequent visitors so, with children back at school, prices have been cut. Best deals are from Cardiff with return flights on April 23 and car hire costing from £149. Deals for less than £200. with flights from Gatwick and

Glasgow later this mon also on offer and curaccommodation can by ranged. Details: 01342 3m

THAILAND two-centers idays are on offer fronts from Tradewinds, so to can sample the bustle of in kok for four nights h spending ten quieter ores Partaya resort hotel. The comes with flights from row between May I and Details: 0870-751 0004

ZIMBABWE tours are ing reduced by £225 b waves until June 30. cm the cost of a week's to £870. The package incluentum Saturday flights in Gatwick. B&B in hotel a the tour taking in Had Kariba, Hwange and Vida Falls. Details: 0181-875 [18]

 All prices per person ad hased on two sharing a ro unless otherwise stated.

See The Times on Saturday for more fligh bargains and last-minute holidays

0171 782 7824(TRADE

NEW YORK £667 HONG KONG £159

BANGKOK "£806 CALIFORNIA £148

AUSTRALIA SAVER

Departures 1/4/99 - 31/10/99 £ 1269

FIRST CLASS

NEW YORK T 1988 BANGKOK 1211

*£816 TOKYO

TO ADVERTISE CALL 0171 481 1989 (TRADE) 0171 481 4000 (PRIVATE)

CHECK-IN

0171 481 9313(PRIVATE

100 leading scheduled airlines BEST BUYS PITTSBURGH T£187 VANCOUVER £248 AUSTRALIA £205 N. ORLEANS £253 EZO9 DENVER £253 £227 TORONTO £282 £229 CALGARY £239 HAWAJI

LAS VEGAS HOLIDAY £184 E285 LOS ANGELES tr £10 popmi fr £15 papmi fr £46 papmi fr £56 papmi LÄS VEGAS CAR RELITAL Alamo fr £ 16per week HUNDREDS COLLER US CITIES AVAILABLE

Departures 1/5/99 £486 AUSTRALIAN VISA SERVICE AVAILABLE AUSTRALIAN HOTELS NEW ZEALAND HOTELS ír £16 pppnt

fr £17 pppnt fr £19 per day fr £32 prmpnt CAR RENTAL HOTEL PASSES CANTAS BRITISH AIRWAYS

BANGKOK 5ms 3*Hotel 01/5 - 24/6 + £380 SINGAPORE 5rts 3 * Hotel up to 30/6 fr £439 HONG KONG 3ms 4*Hotel 01/5 - 31/5 # £445 PHUKET 10ms 4+Hotel 01/5 - 19/6 + £499 BANGKOK & PHUKET

TWO CENTRE HOLIDAYS 2rts BANGKOK 3-khotel 10nts PHUKET 4th hotel Departures up to 17/6/99

DUBAI 5nt HOLIDAY 5* JUMEIRAH BEACH # £499
Departuris 1/6/99 - 31/7/99 ove prices brokude rise flights based on pp two share. Dates subject to availability 1.000,000 discount fares BUSINESS CLASS DUBAL TO .C. SINGAPORE CIES

REST OF THE WORLD C239 SINGAPORE C367 DU8AI (287 HONG KONG (372 BAHRAIN £324 BANGKOK £384 £334 HARARE 6394 MEXICO CITY £359 RIO D. JANEIRO £410

SOUTH AFRICA DIRECT Departures 6/4/99 - 31/5/99 JOHANNESBURG + 63 - €339 F £358 CAPE TOWN ₽£376

ir C21 pppm fr C28 pppm TRAVEL EXTRAS * Hotels * Insurance * Car Rental *

* Motorhomes * Villas * Coach Tours

HOTELS

£1648 HONG KONG £211 JO'BURG *£1758 AUSTRALIA £285 HOTELS LE MERIDIEN, BANGKOK fr £17 ppp HYATT REGENCY, H.K. RENAISSANCE, TOKYO

USA & CANADA 01772 727 272 USTRALIA & NZ 01772 727 727 PAR EAST 01772 727 727

USA HOTELS

Fly to our site and book your flight www.airnet.co.uk

OPEN 9am - 9pm 7 DAYS A WEEK

ITV Teletent Page 275

REST OF THE WORLD 01772 727 273 HOLIDAY OFFERS 01772 727 757 BUSINESS CLASS 01772 727 747

Manchester from £72 Paris Paris from £82 retorn loc. types & charges Amsterdam from £86 reform inc. texas & charges Hanover icult from £143 Prague

THE DETAILS MAKE IT Magic MAJOR USA. MAY SALE £171 L ANGELES £280 PHILADELPHIA £220 S. FRANCISCO £250 NEW YORK £220 LAS VEGAS WASHINGTON £220 CHICAGO SAN DIEGO £250 DALLAS SEATTLE $250 N. ORLEANS £250 RESERVATIONS AT 0171 393 1065 Cheap

BRITISH AIRWAYS

Paris .....£139 pp\

Amsterdam .....from £139pp

Brussels ......from £155pp

Dublin ......from £169pp

Madrid ......£187pp

Reservations: 0181 563 8959

Sunday 10-4pm - Weekdays until 8pm

24 hour brochure line ref: w1bst

0990 462442

£184 0845 6071623 🛂 British Midland More offers available from r all ports in the UK and Ireland. The Airline for Europe d available on sciencial dates and flights. Subject to availability Travel must include a Saturday right star Plight prices include passenger service changes, (IX and foreign levical taxes fourharms rates may early Cults are recorded.

GO AMERICANA FAST - TRACK !!! ******** To to 50% OFF ECOHOMY CLASS 0171 637 7853 Up to 50% OFF BUSINESS CLASS 0171 637 8485

Fly to over 1000 cities in 99/00 on over 75 major airlines, save up to 50% on Americana's favourite airlines, hotels, car rentaill!

AMERICANA VACATIONS PLC 11 Little Portland St. London WIN 5DF Americana Vacations Pic., ABTA DSSES acting as agents for ATOL bolders.

Charter Flight CENTRE 10% OFF CARHIRE EUROPE WORLDWIDG ATHENS EIGH AUSTRALIA EIGH ISRAEL EIGH CARABA EIGH PORTUGAL EIGH AGABRAA EIGH PORTUGAL EIGH AGABRA EIGH CYPRUS EIGH AGABRA EIGH TURRY ENG DELANDO EIGH EUREY ENG DELANDO EIGH EUREY EIGH EIGH EIGHT TONG AFR WORLDWIDE DISCOUNT FLIGHTS 01715656805[ LIGHT SEARCHERS

01920 484007 Always Leisure

SON OFF FIRST CLASS

2 50% OFF CONCORDE

37 MILLERNUM OFFERS

371 636 4152

Specialist in Tailor-made vacations to the

4 USA * CAMADA * MEXICO *

4 HAWAII * CARRESEAN * EUROPE *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * AUSTRALASIA *

* MIDDLE EAST * AFRICA * ORIENI * ORIEN FLIGHT CENTRE

> 0181 669 8607 GLOBAL FLIGHTS ALL DESTINATIONS ANAMARIE
>
> Alcaria 1:53 Green to 1
>
> Majora 2:5 May 5
>
> Maling 300 Malin 49
>
> Gerone 2:50 Cybus 30
>
> USACuande 1:50 Perbod 30
>
> South Minta 2:27 Certiform 154
>
> Rode God 2:38 Turkey 53
>
> BEST RATES CAR HIPETHSACCOM 9670 606 4316 LIGHTSEEKERS

0171 663 4425

For details of our rax-inclusive return flights from GATWICK contact your travel agent or call AB Airlines FREE on

0800 45 88 111

Nice from £125 Shannon from £82 Barcelona from £122 (also available from Luton) Berlin from £124 (to 31st May 1999) www.abairlines.com

AB AIRLINES FIRST FOR VALUE

USA TAUCK COACH TOURS USA AND CANADA 866455

COST FLIGHT! Tol... 01428 654600

Travel Insurance From £1 per day SUN SELECTION 01582 476026

MORE THAN JUST LOW COST FLIGHTS WORLDWILL

IGHAUL TRAVEL: 0171-938 3366 FOR YOUR FIRST & BUSINESS CLASS: 0171-938 3444 FREE COPY OF THE TRANSATLANTIC & EUROPEAN: 0171-937 548 TRAILFINDER BIRMINGHAM WORLDWIDE TRAVEL: 0121-236 1234 MAGAZINE CALL WORLDWIDE TRAVEL: 0117-929 9000 BRISTOL 0171 938 3366 GLASGOW WORLDWIDE TRAVEL: Q141-353 2224 ANYTIME WORLDWIDE TRAVEL: 0161-839 6969 FIRST & BUSINESS: 0161-839 3434

WORLDWIDE TRAVEL: 0191-261 2345 NEWCASTLE THE TRAVEL EXPERTS NO CREDIT CARD SURCHARG OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

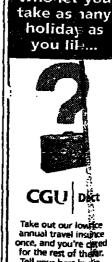

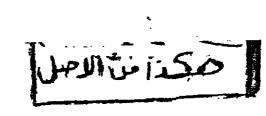

BEST TOURS OVERSEAS ( BEST OFFERS WORLDWISE ### 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 10 BANISION F CITS HEW YORK F CITS DELH EAS WEDGE 256 BUENNES COM MERCURNE 1975 JORURG 229 ROSAO 549 LAGOS 227 SYDNEY DISS SINGMOVIE 226 WINDLINER 220 fet for 1980. Refer

PA TO PROPERTY DEVELOPER

cating opportunity to work alongside property developer. Plenty of involvement, including some property management, good secretarial skills and telephone manner necessary. £19,000 inc.
For more information on this and other

0171 938 3855. Ret AM/TT/0899

PA/Office Manager - package to £25,000

For small, triandly, professional office in Maytair dealing with country matters. Dynamic, young director needs a right hand person to help organise his professional and personal life. Must be fleetible and able to work under pressure with fast, accurate sudio typing, of which there is massed Super position for a smart, well apoleon, organised individual who others commitment in return for fun. Fex CV with covering letter and current salary.

0171 409 1904

PERMANENT APPLICANTS

We have a number of Senior Secretarial/PA permanent vacancies, salaries ranging £20-30,000, located in the West End, City and Middlesex areas. We require 60 wpm, Word for Windows and Excel.

Temporary applicants: We are currently recruiting PA/Senior Secretaries with the following skills:

• 60 wpm • Word for Windows, Excel, PowerPoint • Telemarketing/Customer Services

d and suitably experienced candidates call

- RENÉE MANN ASSOCIATES

Group Sec. - Furringdon 15k + Benefits 2nd jobber with excellent organisational skills required for an ad agency. You need to be a team player with 50wpm typing, basic PowerPoint and Excel. Must be confident and bright.

net design co. req. young receptionist, 8.30-1.30. Priendl comment. Enthusiastic and easy going personality required.

Working for a triently group director. Past typing of Towns and excellent PowerPoint and Excel preferred. Assertive team player Elicient Secs/Receptionists Urganity required. Temp & Perm.

P/T Receptionist - West London £9k

dioSec London Bridge £18k + Benefits

HW Executive

CREME DIRECT

0171 629 4463.

MEDICAL

MEDICAL SECRETARY / RECEPTIONIST MEDICAL DEGRETARY / NEUER FIONIS!

Two new members of staff needed for rapidly expanding private medical centre in City. Must be confident and well spoken, one to work as medical secretary and one as receptionist. Very varied work will include computer skills (Word 97) and use of computer diary. Hours 8,30 to 5.30 / 9 to 6.

Applicants should be cheerful and obrifident with menole. Pay according to a.s.e.

people. Pay according to a.e.
Please send hand written reply with CV to:
Mrs Liz Porter,
Finsbury Circus Medical Centre,

5 London Wall Buildings, London EC2M 5NT

CREME DIRECT

7 Y

FAVEL

24(TRAN

PRIVE

22.MX

OF LOW

:

. . .

E Eas

@ ***

2 2 17

PA WITH CONSIDERABI F EXPERIENCE

needed to support the managing director and deputy managing director of leading travel and leisure or agency. We are a medium sized company and the applicant must thrive on a challenge, have excellent organisational skills and enjoy working as a member of a lively and creative team. Word, Powerpoint, Excel and

Applications in writing to: Fanny Armitage, BGB & Associates, 7 Westminster Palace Gardens, Artillery Row, London, SW1P 1RL

OFFICE OF ZAHA HADID

Busy architectural Design Company requires efficient Administration Assistant. Must be computer literate, organised and level headed. Salary e.e.e.

se epply in writing only to : Victoria Nowell Office of Zaha Hadid Studio 9 10 Bowling Green Lane London. EC1R 0BQ

JOHN D WOOD & CO.

ADMINISTRATORS

WOULD YOU LIKE THE OPPORTUNITY TO JOIN A SUCCESSFUL AND PROFESSIONALLY MOTIVATED

PROPERTY COMPANY? We are currently recruiting bright career minded individuals to assist and support a team of negotiators in several of our Letting Offices. Your WP skills must be roficient with speeds in excess of 60wom excellent career prospects for ambitious self motivated individuals. Send c.v. to Mrs G Waddell, HR Manager, John D Wood & Co. Lettings,

YOUNG TEAM SECRETARIES £18,000 to £21,000 + Bonuses +

-296 Kings Road, London SW3 5UG.

Free family P.P.P., 23 Days Holiday, IPSTL, Paid O/T. Gym and Laisure Facilities, Free or Substilled Restaurant, Life Insurance Pensions. Social Events, etc.

Country Estates, Marketing, Investment, Hotel

& Leisure, Auctions, Personnel, Shopping Centres and Residential. young fun teams of Surveyors through to more experienced Secretaries and PAs for Associate Partners. Partners and Equity

For full details and an immediate interview call 0171 709 3700 or fax CV on 0171 481 2115. Out of hours: 0850 978888 (AA Agy)

MEXCLUSIVE OFFER

CREME DIRECT

Director of dynamic worldwide media company located Sloane Square. Interest/experience in IT advantageous. Microsoft Office, shorthand, fast accurate typing and a cheerful manner would be an asset! Attractive package to include Please fax CV to 0171 581 5683

Do Your Skills Match Your Principles?

PA to Dir/Contract Professional PA for director in Arts Organisation. Liaison with senior clients, diary ment. Strong secretarial skills essential -60wpm mln -s/h and audio desirable, immediate

Snr. Sec/Admin Ass £18K pa Opportunity for enthusiastic secretary with previous admin skills to join a new dept within the Not For Profit Sector. 60 wpm, Access and

This well known health charity is seeking a confident person to manage a varied workload.

Diary management, 45wpm, mins + s/h. For more details on these and other opportunities in the Charity and Not For Profit Sector, Call now Power Point. Ability to prioritise essential.

quoting ref: LC 102 The Principle Partnership

THE SEE TIMES

6 Junction Mews, London W2 1PM Fel: 0171 706 7887, Fax: 0171 706 7889 email: dalia©tpp.co.uk

SUPER SECRETARIES PA to IT Director Experienced and confident PA required for IT

FASHION Company, - W1 - require an Office Jungo, Mast be well spoken, well presented and way facilitie in attitude. Would prefer some office experience with Win-down, 8 East Innovinge C12-14K, T.J. Office 9171 838 9823

SECULEY & SECURIER Band St jew-ellers, PA to Director offering re-sponsibility for 23. Phone: 0171 629 0461.

RECEPTION

SELECTION ELEPHONEST 1.6x + ping. Tunne tal-quidonist may for blue chip on fun environ, busy nile with va-nisty. Must be well press, have switchhourd map it 5 O levels (Martha/English). Endphalpridge Seuretaxias 0171 468 0400. Co need experienced Recognize for who is equally suppy has ding buy swinchhound, upda-ing computeries district and is partial data as she is looking a partial data as she is looking a ter numerous visitors. Sheed 7

LEGAL LA CREME

ption in sociable company, and £20,000 + bosses. King & To-Bacratiment (JT) 0171 629

LETTINGS & SALES NEGOTIATORS

Lettings Negotiators required for our South ensington & Notting Hill Gate offices.
Attractive salary commission + car.

Call lune at Chard 0171 821 6999

LETTINGS NEGOTIATOR:

Fulham Aged 25/35, swart, minimum 1 year's hiblious moeniuose. Knowledge of the gs experience. Knowled the area is desirable

nelf your CV in confid INGTON LOWNDES 88 New Kings Road, Fulhan London SW6 4LU

SECRETARY/ RECEPTIONIST. cacutive Search Co. W1 Nicely spoken, well-resented person sought r young professional co. to mid-20's, £16-£18i Call Karen George on 0181 789 0107.

EXPERIENCED PA

required ASAP for very required. CV to Lynne Seunders, 12 Chester London NW1 4ND.

TV - SEC to £16,000 Experienced secret work for busy TV Involved role for be organised, good under pressure + an effective typing, W4Ws. This is an support role but not a

SIX WEEKS TO CREME

ice ed

to he ıx-ld

Attend the only secretarial event that matters in the UK, dedicated to the needs of secretaries, PAs, office managers and 5th successful year the show provides a unique combination of motivating seminārs, spectacular fashion shows and a one stop business shop with over 150 companies from the world of Recruitment Technology, Office Products, Stationery Business Travel and Corporate Hospitality

The Personal & Professional Developmen Seminars provide the opportunity to brush up on new ones. Learn how to make "Office Politics" work for you, "Get the Best from Difficult Agression" and adopt a more pro-active role in Making More Decisions on Behalf of your Boss. Discover the effects of nformation technology in The Secretary's Role & The Future of IT" and become a planning wizard Instant". For the first time ever, Sarah Cook PA to Phil Riley, MD of Heart Radio and Julie Flynn, PA to David Beckett, Head of Cash Payments at Barclays Bank will iscuss their Manager/PA partnership and Karen Bishop, PA to Anita Roddick, The Body Snop will provide an insight on how she made it to the top.

from 18th - 20th May at London, Olympia 2. ENTRANCE to the show is FREE. Seminars are excellent value at £15 per session. For the seminar call 01923 690662. For secretaries who want to get ahead. Get to Creme.

THIS YEAR • Personal & Professional Diagropment • • [] • CRÉME EXHIBITION • CARLER BRIDGING FOREM • • NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES • . 18 May - Thursday, 20 May 1999. FOR SEMINAR AND REGISTRATION DETAILS. PLEASE COMPLETE YOUR DETAILS BELOW AND Laiest Products & Services • • THE RECRETIMENT VILLAGE • THE EXPCUENT WOMAN FASHION SHOW • Fasition For the Next Millendium

Sainsbury's, Somerfield, Tesco and Waitrose. For the UK market Carapelli produces its finest grade extra virgin olive oil from the first cold pressing which has health-giving properties attributed to its high level of mono-unsaturated fat. By using extra virgin clive oil instead of animal fat products, you can radically reduce levels of ( cholesterol in the bloodstream - and so be healthier. Simply take the voucher below to one of the participating supermarkets listed to claim your discount.

The Times is offering readers the opportunity to obtain 20 per cent off a 500ml bottle of Carapelli Extra Virgin Olive Oil, available from the following supermarkets: Budgens, Morrisons, Safeway,

20% off Carapelli

Extra Virgin Olive Oil

CREME/CARAPELLI SSO OFF YOUCHER

This voucher entitles the bearer to a bottle of 500ml bottle of Carapelli Edra Virgin Olive Oll at 66p less than the marked price. This offer is valid until Friday April 30, 1999. Coupon valid as part payment only. Only one coupon can be used against each Item purchased.

TO THE RETAILER N.C.H Marketing Services will redeem this coupon at the face value provided ONLY if it has been taken as part payment for a 500ml bottle of Carapelli Extra Virgin Olive Oil. They reserve the right to refuse payment against misredeemed coupons. Please submit coupons to: NCH Marketing Services, Corby, Northants, NN17 1NN.

Tel: 0171 481 4481 Dremierappointments Fax: 0171 782 7826

ALTERNATIVELY, PLEASE CALL: 01923 690662

Many positions for executives, professionals, mahagers, technical, administrative and military personnel are not advertised. If you qualify for a £25,000 to £250,000 job, send us your CV and let us help you find one of the nonadvertised better jobs that are available. Better still, call now for a no-cost or obligation appointment.

FOUNDED 1947 associates

An International Career Management Service

London: Tel: 0171 290 9100 Fax: 0171 290 9109 E-mail: bha@heidane.co.uk se (Sh ii) 259/283 Regent Street, Landon W1R 7FD

Bristol: Tel: 01454 878506 Fax: 01454 878606 E-mail: temp@haldane.co.uk vedrani, Asiac West Amondsbury, Bristol BS32 4AQ

Manchester: Tel: 0161 935 8670 Fac: 0161 935 8217 E-mail: bhanorth@gol.com 82 King Street, Manchester M2 4WQ

Visit our Website: www.jobhurting.com 51 Years of Job Search Success

Director of Strategic & Service Development

Based in Eastbourne Terrace, London, W2

The newly formed South East Regional Office works closely with Health Service organ across the Region, helping monitor performance, improving standards of health care and services and supporting and facilitating key service develop The government's agenda for the NHS is both challenging and exciting, joining now would give you the opportunity to see a regional office develop, and help shape the health service of the future. Effective leadership and development support is required to implement NHS Executive policy in key strategic areas. You must have strategic vision with management and development skills to help stimulate innovation within the South East Region. You will be working closely with Health Authorities:

and Trusts in developing their strategic planning and organisation learning processes. You will act as an integral part of the policy, strategic and development framework. To succeed in this role, you need substantial experience in strategic management and planning and development. With five to ten years' senior management experience at Board level, ideally within the Health Care sector, you will hold a health care related management or professional qualification. As well as demonstrating leadership you will have excellent communication skills with high interpersonal skills, particularly in influencing and negotiating. The starting salary will be in the range £49,130 - £80,400, but more may be available for an exceptional candidate. The appointment will be made on permanent contract terms. Job shares and secondments will also be considered. Relocation expenses may be available. For a job description and information pack please call our 24 hour Recruitment Line on 0171 725 5357 queling reference number SE/10/99.

The closing date for receipt of completed application forms is 23rd April 1999.

Provisional interview date: 12th May 1999.

As an equal opportunities employer, the Department of Health welcomes applications regardless of gender, race, disability or sexuality. The Department operates flexible working patterns within

NHS

THE SCOTTISH OFFICE

Appointment of Chairman to Caledonian MacBrayne Limited

Caledonian MacBrayne Limited is a Government owned company which is responsible for part of the operation of a network of approved ferry services, which in the opinion of the Secretary of State are necessary to maintain or improve economic or social conditions in the Highlands and Islands. The Board currently consists of a Chairman, 5 other appointed nonexecutive members and 4 executive members. The Chairman's vacancy will arise with effect from 1 August 1999. The period of appointment is at the discretion of Ministers but will not normally be for less than 3 years, with the possibility of renewal.

Applications are invited from people with the background and skills necessary to be a dynamic and effective Chairman of Caledonian MacBrayne. The successful candidate will have a broad knowledge of Highlands and Islands issues as well as transport issues. He or she should also possess sound analytical, presentational and communication skills, excellent chairmanship ability and the capacity to provide direction, strong leadership, inspiration and motivation for Caledonian MacBrayne Board and staff.

The Chairman will need to be able to devote 11/2 days per week to the post. The post currently attracts a salary of £21,735 per annum.

If you think you have the necessary qualities and would like to be sent an application form and accompanying information package please contact:

Gerry Smith Esq. The Scottish Office Development Department, Area 2-E, Victoria Quay, Edinburgh EH6 6QQ. Tel: 0131 244 0844. Fax: 0131 244 0871. E-mail: gerry.smith@scotland.gov.uk All correspondence will be treated strictly in confidence. Application forms should be submitted by 30 April 1999. The Scottish Office is committed to the principles of equal opportunities and public appointments based on merit, independent assessment, openness and transparency of process.

Under the provisions of the Scotland Act 1998 this appointment will fall to be made by a member of the Scottish Executive.

ENVESTOR IN PROPER

premier APPOINTMENTS

Your contribution can't be overlooked.

Head of Department - Investment Business Division

By working to encourage high standards of product quality within markets for financial services, the FSA has a high profile role to play in protecting investors' interests.

In this senior post, your contribution will be equally visible.

Leading a team of 170, currently organised as the PIA Firms Department. you will assume overall responsibility for monitoring the business conduct of some 4000 regulated firms - from sole trader independent IFAs to household name life insurance companies.

Financial Services Authority

At the same time you will lead on a range of top level policy and management issues, and you will be proactive in spotting emerging trends and devising any appropriate regulatory response within an industry for which the needs and interests of customers should always be paramount.

Few roles will give you as broad an overview of the retail financial services market as this. Fewer still can offer the scope to make such a key contribution to its development. That is why we are looking to appoint a consummate professional, possibly from a compliance background, who combines first class analytical, drafting, negotiation and presentation skills with the presence and managerial flair to take a large team through periods of significant change.

Someone, in short, who can lead from the top.

If that someone is you, please telephone 0171 269 6204 quoting reference GP412.

Closing date for receipt of applications: 26th April 1999.

Finance Director

A fully qualified accountant is needed for a leading media communications agency based in central London. The company is expanding quickly and requires somebody who is flexible, intelligent and charismatic. The successful candidate will report to the Managing Director and will be part of a core team that drives the business forward. The role requires a balance of strategic and operational expertise. Neither advertising nor media experience is a requirement. The successful candidate will bowever have to demonstrate successful management of all key financial processes.

For the successful candidate there will be a substantial basic salary, profit share and the normal executive

As part of the recruitment process, all short-listed candidates will be psychometrically profiled.

Male or female applicants should send their CV's to:

Robert Willoughby Strategic Resource Solutions 6th Floor Nicholson's House Maidenhead Berkshire SL6 1LD

Employment and Training Scheness for People with Mental Health Problem

Director

Richmond Fellowship Work Schemes £ 40,000 plus car. Central London

Are you someone with leadership, business development and ment skills who wants to make a real social contribution? RIFW Work Schemes is an independent charity, part of the Richmond Fellowship Group. A leader in the field of helping and empowering people with mental health problems.

Work Schemes helps more than 700 people at any one time in 15 projects. The Director has responsibility to lead and develop the business and keep the organisation as the acknowledged quality

if you think you have the skills, knowledge and comm then contact the Richmond Fellowship's Consultants, HACAS ng at: United House, North Road, London N7 9DP. Tel: 0171 609 9491 (24 hour), Fac: 0171 700 7599

For an informal chat, ask to speak to Derek Joseph or Sue Piper

HACASconsulting

THE CALOUSTE GULBENKIAN FOUNDATION (Lisbon)

Director of the U.K. Branch, London Applications are invited for the post of Director of the Foundation's United Kingdom Branch in succession to the resent Director Ben Whitaker who will be retiring in

A35

The Branch's work is organised around three main programmes for Arts, Education and Social Welfare, together with a special programme for Anglo-Portuguese Cultural Relations, in the UK and Ireland. Each of these four program have a substantial record of expe rvailable from the Bursar at the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation (UK Branch), 98 Portland Place, London W IN 4ET. Tel. No. 0171 636 5313 ext. 216. Fax No. 0171 636 3421

c$50,000

State of the second and the second of the

The Foundation strongly believes in Equal Opportun

Tel: 0171 481 4481

MANAGEMENTPlus

Michelin is a global market leader in radial tyres. Over 100 years of experience and reputation have contributed to the growth of our Company worldwide with 80 factories and sales operations in 170 countries.

The Michelin Group has an enviable reputation not only for its products but for the quality and expertise of its staff. As we approach the end of this century, we are looking for dynamic professionals to join our team to assure success into the next.

728 12 TANK

Z*********

Keeping our success on track

We are now looking for two exceptional individuals to drive our business forward.

Both positions offer excellent career prospects and the opportunity to make a real

Senior Brand Manager -

Ref: MTPLC/W/2

To take control of the group's flagship brand in the car sector. This role requires a high level of marketing and commercial acumen, plus the potential to develop rapidly into a Senior Management role. You will be a graduate with a marketing or commercial qualification with at least 5 years' relevant experience in marketing and brand management. Mobility for this position is

Brand Manager - Maps and Guides

Ref: MTPLC/W/3

Michelin is an Equal Opportunities Employer

This role is pivotal to the success of our marketing strategy. A graduate with at least two years' marketing experience, you'll already have held a junior brand manager position. Commercially astute with strong interpersonal skills, you're ready to make your mark with a progressive, global company.

Based in Hertfordshire, both positions require positive, dynamic individuals with innovative flair and astute commercial abilities. Background is not important but some experience in FMCG environments would be a real advantage, as would a working knowledge of French.

The company offers genuine career opportunaties and excellent benefits which will reflect your skills and abilities to influence the process of change within the organisation.

In return, you can look forward to excellent career development opportunities and early advancement in a world-class environment.

To apply, please write enclosing your CV to: Carl A Moffat, Human Resources Department, Michelin Tyre PLC, Campbell Road, Stoke on Trent, Staffordshire ST4 4EY.

Please quote the appropriate reference

Replies must be received by 30 April

HUMAN RESOURCE OPPORTUNITIES

HR Manager - Investment Bank

To join a quality global institution. Ideally graduate educated and IPD qualified, this role calls for a proactive solutions based HR professional with extensive experience as an HR Manager in a similar City Help reshape and develop the HR delivery in a prestigious Law practice. We seek a senior manager (probably graduate educated with IPD), to assume relationship responsibility for key client groups. Key involvement areas will include HR team management, manpower planning, strategy, Partner interaction, recruitment, appraisal process with some Learning & Development.

Personnel Manager This is a new appointment with a very substantial professional practice. Candidates must be of graduate calibre, IPD qualified and have at least 5 years successful Personnel delivery experience in a law firm or other professional practice environment. First class interpersonal, communication and people influencing skills are essential.

To join leading City organisations. We seek graduate level individuals, GIPD or QBE, ideally with at least 3 years of solid experience as a Generalist in a busy, proactive HR environment, excellent PC skills and Employment Law knowledge. In both positions an across the board HR client support involvement will

Global Investment Bank requires a numerate individual with excellent Excel and Access skills. Key tasks will involve the maintenance and analysis of Global Headcount and Compensation information and report preparation, along with ongoing project based tasks. Excellent career development prospects. Ref. 12151

To discuss these and other HR opportunities, or to apply, please contact Sammons HUMAN RESOURCES RECRUITMENT

POUPART HOUSE, 46 FISH STREET HILL, LONDON EC3R 6BR

Tel: 0171 293 7055 Fax: 0171 929 3858

email: hr@sammons.co.uk http://www.sammonsgroup.co.uk

RAM is at the forefront of one of the most exciting, revolutionary and fastest growing markets - mobile information solutions. Backed by BellSouth, the world's seventh largest telecommunications company, we operate the UK's most advanced dedicated wireless data network. An impressive and growing portfolio of blue chip companies and major organisations utilise our services, systems and expertise to dramatically enhance their performance, efficiency and competitiveness. We now seek two focussed Sales Professionals to join our highly progressive Business Team and build on their success. Armed with a successful track record in selling IT or Telecommunications services/products, you will develop effective Customer relationships and possess the tenacity to drive business through from conception to successful conclusion. RAM offers the best in pre/post sales support and excellent prospects in this lucrative market sector.

Ready to join the revolution? Call our retained Consultant, Kevin Lamb now on 01344 762616 for an informal discussion, or forward your resumé in confidence to Kestrel Network Sciences, Talbot

House, Fligh Street, Crowthorne, Berkshire RG45 7AQ Fax: 01344 762573 Email: klamb@kestreinetunek en

KESTREL

to £60,000 packag Car + Commission Charant Excellent Bariel

Freshwater Policy Officer

English Nature is the Government body which promotes the conservation of wildlife and natural features of England, employing over 700 people throughout

Permanent appointment - Peterborough

English Nature is seeking an individual with drive and enthusiasm to develop and promote policies for wildlife conservation in the freshwater environment. The post will be part of a small team based in our national office in Peterborough. It will have a lead role in securing protection of rivers and lakes from agricultural diffuse pollution; manage a major partnership project on UK rivers; and be responsible for forging closer links with our 21 local teams and other national conservation bodies.

Qualifications: An honours degree and at least five years' experience in nature conservation or other policy-oriented career. Good communication skills and computer literacy are also required.

Salary: Salary range is $21,500 - $32,461. Starting salary is normally the minimum of the range, however more may be available for an exceptional candidate. For further details and application form please contact Sandra Kennedy, Environmental Impacts Team, English Nature, Northminster House, Peterborough PE1 1UA. Tel: 01733 455202.

The closing date for completed applications is 30 April 1999. Interviews will be held on 20 May 1999.

We have a no smoking policy within English Nature.

English Nature is working towards Equal Opportunities, and welcomes applications from all members of society.

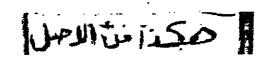

FREELANCE CONSULTANTS/ DISTRIBUTORS WANTED

for rapidly expanding innovative IT Development Company specialising in the small to medium size business sector with revolutionary product. For details Tel: 01252 815849

SOUTH OF FRANCE / MONACO Leading International Firm seeks

SOLICITOR Q-0/1 pqe

Experience gained in City Firm, to handle top quality work for high profile clients. Super training, tax free salary, career opportunities. Contact B. Dorel, E.T.C. Conseil 22 bis rue Jouffroy d'Abbans - 75017 Paris Tel. 33 1 476 68384 - Fax 33 1 462 24127

SENIORLINK BUSINESS MANAGER

Like our emergency service you respond fast to a challenge

Woking

c.£30,000 p.a. + benefits.

BENKIAN . shoni

sen. Londa - Paris 45

TO TO SE

NOTTING HILI

Pensions Actuaries

Range £60,000 - £100,000 inc.

Range £40,000 - £50,000 inc.

Range £35,000 - £47,000 inc.

Due to our success at acquiring new business, we are currently looking for qualified actuaries to join our busy employee benefits department. Successful candidates will hold a current Scheme Actuary certificate, and the skills, and have the enthusiasm and desire to succeed in a competitive

If you are a part qualified actuary with four years' experience in a pensions consultancy environment, and would like the opportunity to establish yourself in an independent, successful company then we would like to hear

You will have responsibility for monitoring and assisting other part qualified members of the actuarial team in the execution of their duties. Your actuarial studies will be actively supported by our professional team and, once qualified, you will be given consultancy responsibilities. You should therefore be client-focused with strong communication stalls.

Due to our continuing expansion, we are looking for an individual with excellent all round knowledge of Human Resource issues to join our professional team. The successful candidate may have experience in Recruitment, or Training and Development and be interested in the IPD qualification. The ability to work under pressure and to tight deadlines is essential. Additionally the ideal candidate will have an interest in employment

Human Resources Generalist

You should be a learn player with strong communication and negotia role will be Actuarial Adviser to a portfolio of corporate clients.

Near Qualified Pensions Actuary

HOUSING TRUST

This challenge may alarm some people. But not those with energy, commercial acumen and management skills to build on Help the Aged's 10 years of working in the response alarms market. It's a vital service, enabling our clients to stay constantly in-touch with a rapid response centre in case of any emergency. It gives older people the peace of mind and liberation to lead fuller lives. Now we need someone who will respond to a challenging environment with vitality,

You're a successful manager who will take this high profile, highly responsible role further. Shaping our business plan and recommending strategies for growth, you'll seize and cultivate opportunities to expand our client base with a variety of organisations. You'll take the initiative, working alongside other Help the Aged teams, including Communications, to maximise opportunities but never compromising our high standards of care for which you will be responsible. Above all, you'll build long-term, productive relationships, internally and externally, to improve our business processes and ensure we stay ahead of social and technological advances.

You're someone who is excited by challenge, with the people-manager skills to drive change and be a positive, constructive influence in any team. If fact, you'll need an impressive managerial track record, with at least 5 years' business management and budgetary control experience, 2 of which have be spent in a senior role. You will also have knowledge of Response Centres, their services and technology or experience of delivering services. In our demanding environment, you'll need the flexibility to handle pressure with confidence. PC literacy, including word processing and spreadsheets, together with proven numeracy, relating to budgets and forecasting, is essenti

Send a letter of application together with your CV to the Human Resources Department, Help the Aged, St.James's Walk, London EC1R 0BE. It is anticipated that interviews will take place on the 5th and 7th May 1999. We are committed to equal opportunities and operate a non-smoking policy. Closing date for applications 23 April 1999. As a Charity we are only able to reply to those selected for interview. If you do not hear from us within 5 weeks, we regret that your application has not been successful on this occasion.

Business Analyst – Strategy Development

to £45,000 + Benefits

Linklaters is one of the world's leading law firms with a global network of offices in each of the world's major economies. We have recently joined with four leading law firms in Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Sweden to establish the leading international law practice for multi-jurisdictional advice.

To support this growth, Linklaters & Paines is seeking a high calibre Business Analyst to assist in the continuing development of firm and practice strategy as part of a small and cohesive central management team. The work will cover a wide range of activities associated with managing a major professional services firm, and will involve considerable responsibility from the outset.

MANAGEMENTPlus

- · Reports to the Managing Partner and Director of
- Performs analysis on a range of strategic, marketing, financial and organisational issues.
- Assists with the business planning process and the analysis of performance.
- Researches various business development opportunities.

- Will be educated to degree level (2.1 or above).
- · Will have had two or three years post university experience gained ideally in one of the leading strategy consulting firms.
- · Will have a strong analytical background, focused around either business strategy, finance or
- · Will have good interpersonal skills, drive and the enthusiasm to work in a stimulating and enjoyable environment, covering a range of cross-functional

Interested candidates should apply in writing, quoting reference 497595 and enclosing a comprehensive copy of their CV to David Trapnell at Michael Page, Page House, 39-41 Parker Street, London WC2B 5LN or fax on 0171 831 2612 or e-mail: davidtrapnell@michaelpage.com

LINKLATERS

Are you looking for a challenge?

Assistant Finance Director

London W6 Package to £53,418 + Benefits

A superb opportunity now exists at Notting Hill Housing Trust. The Trust manages over 14,000 homes, housing 40,000 people in the London area. The successful candidate will be working for one of the leading, progressive housing associations, committed to both your professional and personal

The Role

This challenging role will be reporting to the Group Director of Finance and Resources. Leading a team of dedicated professional finance managers in driving the financial performance of the group, you will influence the strategic development of the group, by assessing the viability of new business and identifying ways to improve existing business performance.

The Person

The successful candidate will be a qualified accountant, a good communicator with excellent leadership skills and have a significant track record of achievement at senior management level. You will be a commercial, entrepreneurial thinker with some practical experience of the capital markets, financial planning, preparing tenders and assessing new

For further information, contact our recruitment advisers, Hays Accountancy Personnel, at 14 Great Castle Street, London WIN 7AD quoting reference: MT/NH/03. Tel: 0171 436 5533. date for the response to this post is 23rd April 1999.

Havs Accountancy Personnel

Corporate Healthcare Adviser

and be an enthusiastic and dynamic team player.

Facilities Executive

Profund Specialist

Due to our ongoing success in the Healthcare market, we are looking for a person with experience in healthcare consultancy, or private medical insurance, to join our professional team. To meet our requirements candidates should have the ability to deliver business presentations, be able to retain, service and develop existing clients, have good inter-personal skills

Due to continued expansion, we are looking for an individual with proven capabilities within an office-based administration environment. The successful candidate will be responsible for all aspects of office administration on a daily basis, including project work and site maintenance. The ideal candidate will be able to prioritise their own and others workloads, be able to work to tight deadlines, and also possess strong IT stills Applications feets incliniduals who have served in Her Makesty's Former will be unphotoned.

The opportunity his latent for a professional to Join our Profund system support teem. The "deal" candidate is lioud have at less strike years experience in a Profund environment either as a user or in a system support role. a thirties is found of the control of the strike point role, a thirties is a profund of the strike in the profuse administration strike and a willing analysis of an application and professional store.

Range £30,000 - £40,000 inc.

Range £35,000 - £47,000 inc.

Range £35,000 - £47,000 inc.

Business Development Manage

Nationwide

1999 sees the launch of the world's first national digital mobile communications network client is investing hundreds of millions of pounds and working closely with partners such as Nowa build this unique network. Rolled out across Europe, they will be able to provide companies the sear of high-speed mobile data transmission, internet/intranet access, one-to-one telephony and instant transmission functionality previously unavailable on any existing single network. In short, they will revolute

Managing sales cycles ranging from 1-6 months and longer, the ability to listen and understand a essential. You must have strong presentation skills, drive, tenacity, a sixth sense for clients' needs at

You may currently be involved with a specific vertical market, such as: ■ Transportation Distribution ■ Manufacturing ■ Construction ■ Government

■ Field Service ■ Airlines ■ Business Services

Mobile IT/Telecommunications

You may currently be involved selling products and services such as: ■ Facilities management ■ Disaster recovery

■ Outsourcing contracts ■ Capital Equipment ■ Office Equipment ■ PABXs ■ PCs ■ Software

For further information please contact Ben Atfield or one of his resourcing team on 0171 806 1472. Alternatively, send your CV with details of your current remuneration, quoting reference number BAST119 to Ben Atfield at MicGregor Boyall Telecommunications, 114 Middlesex Street, London E1 7JH. Fax: 0171 377 0569. E-mail: dolphin@mcgregor-boyall.com

McGregor ■ Boyall Telecommunications Search & Selection

GISSINGS

Business Link London Central is a successful and dynamic member of the national Business Link Network providing professional advice and support for small and medium sized

We are a highly motivated, proactive and client focused team and are looking to add tre accused team and are transaction focused team and are transaction and important to our confine commitment to help businesses grow at

We recognise the need to invest in the development of our people to ensure that they can make the best possible use of their skills and expertise in pursuit of business

Do you have the necessary energy, enthusiasus and communication skills affect with a broad and practical business background to contribute positively to the range of opportunities on offer?

If so, send your CV and letter stating how you meet the requirements, quoting the relevant reference number to:

John Henderson, Quantum Enterprise Development, 2 Sidings Court, White Rose Way, Doncaster,

YOUR ABILITIES?

000 0171-935 5452 000 0161-236 8996

O GENERAL MANAGEMENT

SUPPORTING DISCIPLINES
FLEXBLE HOURS & WORK LOCATIONS

To be considered for this career opportunity, please send your C.V.

Lansbury Est, Knaphilt, Surrey GU21 25P

MBA, IPD or

Business Degree

OTE £34K. Reading

HR experience with a training bias and able to understand ar

IT strategy. If you are a to join a company that's growing fast. Call H20 Fluid

Solutions on 0118 9583700.

Fax: 0118 9583900. E-mail:

Human Resources Manager (Ref No 90401)

Circa £35k + 15% performance bonns

As an experienced professional with full IPD membership and five years experience of HR management with experience of IP and ISO9001 you will be expected to make a major contribution to the continuing success of BLLC. Using the Business Excellence Model as your framework you will influence business strategy and oversee all formal accreditation requirements as well as managing and co-ordinating all staff recruitment

Business Adviser (Ref No 90402)

Circa £34k + 15% performance bossss

As a Business Adviser you will need to have in-depth business knowledge, professional qualifications and experience across several functions. You will work closely with some of the most dynamic businesses in the area, play a key role in the local business community and conduct detailed analyses and investigation performance and support the development of our clients.

Finance Counsellor (Ref No 90403)

Circa £34k + 15% performance bonns
The Finance Counsellor will work with small and medium sized businesses to provide a full financial planning service to develop and implement sound financial principles to underpin their growth and development. You will use your financial and finance raising experience to enable our clients to pursue their business goals.

Quality Manager (Ref No 90404)
Circa £28k + 15% performance bonus
Reporting to the Human Resources Manager you will be expected to ensure that the BLLC team is supported by high quality processes and sustains to BLLC team is supported by high quality processes and systems to underpin the qua of service to clients. Within the framework of the Business Excellence Model you will be expected to use your considerable ISO9001 experience to make a major contribution to manage the Quality System and to en-requirements are met and exceeded.

We are committed to an Equal Opportunities Policy and actively encourage applications from all sections of the community

NATIONAL DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION RETAIL DEVELOPMENT MANAGER

LONDON

Our Flexible Benefits Package includes the option to have up to 60 days. As

Don Brooks - Human Resources Executive, Gissings Consultancy Services Limited, Firsbury House, 23 Firsbury Circus

London EC2M 7UH. E-mail: BROOKSD@Gissings.co.iik

If you think you can rise to the challenge and are attracted to an east or real achievement, please apply in the strictest coulding

Established for more than 60 years, the National Dairyman's Association represents the liquid milk industry in England and Wales. Its members comprise major dairy companies, over 100 processing dairies, some 2000 independent milk retailing companies, over 100 processing dairies, some 2000 independent milk retailing companies over 100 processing dairies, some 2000 independent milk retailing companies and franchisees. They are committed to the "milkman" and need to develop businesses and franchisees. They are committed to the "milkman" and need to develop businesses and franchisees, which account for just over one third of all milk sold. The milkman elso delivers hundreds of non-dairy products.

Reporting to the Association's Director you will work closely with leading people in the industry to help Members maximise their doorstep business. You will become an essential source of advice on a wide range of issues affecting direct sales retailing and manages a general injuries to improve the industry to help Members and injuries to improve the industry to help Members and injuries to improve the industry to help Members and manages a general injuries to improve the industry to help Members and manages a general injuries to improve the industry to help Members and manage a series of initiatives to increase the industry's customers.

A graduate with a minimum of two years experience in a business oriented culture you may have a marketing qualification or experience gained in the food/rateBing you may have a marketing qualification or experience gained in the food/rateBing you may have a marketing qualification or experience of this invitative qualification or experience of this invitative qualification. tou must be an enecuve communicator, while to describe and be able to grasp the dynamics of this inclusivy quickly.

If you are interested in this position please send your cv. in confidence, to Ms Emily Elization. National Darrymen's Association, 19 Cornwell Terraca, London, NW1 4QP.

£60,000 plus Bonus

Small IMRO regulated Investment Management Firm urgently seeks an experienced (not less than 15 years) International Fixed Income Fund Manager with experience in credit analysis. He or she will have at least two years experience in dealing with a European client base and speak Buent Cerman. Further requirements are a University degree, CFA, IMRO and IMC registration. Job is based in London but requires extensive travelling throughout Europe.

Please respond to bex number 5771.

ALL BOX NUMBER REPLIES SHOULD BE ADDRESSED TO: BOX No..

C/O TIMES NEWSPAPERS P.O.BOX 3553, VIRGINIA ST,

LONDON, EI 9GA

PR & Communications Manager Competitive Package

Control Risks Group is an international business risk consultancy servicing over 3,500 multi-nationals via 16 offices worldwide. Its mission is to enable its clients to succeed in complex or hostile business environments. As part of its global business strategy it is looking to reposition Public Relations as part of the marketing mix and to capitalise on the pro-active and creative use of internal and external communications as a key to future success.

- To support the business development strategy, lialsing with business managers to identify and communicate key corporate messages externally and around the
- To produce detailed and strategic communications plans
- To develop an international PR network
- To initiate and manage press campaigns to be mirrored worldwide To pro-actively yet creatively manage PR communication via a wide-range of
- tools including website, brochures, newsletters whilst maintaining strong client confidentiality ethos.

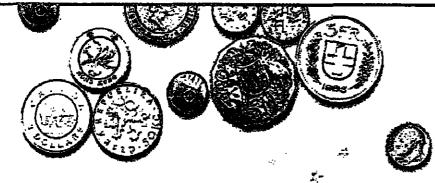

We are looking for an experienced PR professional (4+ years) with strong commercial focus and an interest in international affairs; a practical, common-sense approach; results orientated with a natural influencing style; excellent communication skills and experience of crisis management situations.

This is a unique challenge within a distinctive organisation. If you think you can make a major contribution to moving our unusual profile forward, please apply by sending CV with covering letter, stating current salary to Daire Farnon - Group Personnel Manager, Control Risks Group Limited, 83 Victoria Street, London SW1H OHW or e-mail to recruitment@control-risks.com.

tustexecutive

£18,000 - £22,000 + C.£4,600 SHIFT ALLOWANCE + EXCELLENT BENEFITS

World-class opportunities for ambitious graduate engineers.

Add up all the advantages of joining Mars Electronics International, and you simply won't find a better place to develop your career. As the global market leader in transaction electronics, we specialise in both cash-based and cashless systems - two markets set to grow dramatically over the next few years. The introduction of the Euro is already having a huge impact on our business, while cashless systems technology continues to open up new market opportunities.

We're the company that's setting the pace in these fast-moving markets, and as part of Mars we're expanding our operations, including the development of a fourth manufacturing site in Mexico. We're also strengthening our highly motivated UK manufacturing team here at Winnersh, near Reading. As a result, we have further opportunities for bright engineering graduates with anything up to 3 years' industrial experience to join us. These are unique opportunities to contribute to the support and important as technical skills. Everyone is encouraged to contribute new ideas and fresh approaches, and you'll be no exception.

You should be an enthusiastic team-player with the drive and determination to challenge the status quo and enhance process and product performance. And since all Mars companies share an outstanding record for developing their people, there's no limit to what you could ultimately achieve. In addition to a competitive salary, you'll qualify for a valuable package of non-contributory benefits including pension, health care and life assurance schemes. So if you've got what it takes to make the most of these outstanding long-term career opportunities, contact us now. To obtain further information and a personal data form which you can add to your cv, please call our 24-hour answerphone on 01189 446941, quoting ref: LSE

We are an equal-opportunity employer.

Front Office Account Manager

Haywards Heath/Crawley

There is a real buzz and sense of excitement at MeterPoint. We are a committed and vibrant company. with a staggering growth plan - and as part of our expansion we are looking for a graduate who is keen to make a name both for themself and for this dynamic

You will liaise with your customers and the operational team to ensure the contract terms are met. Our contracts are typically long-term and you will need to proactively evolve them, constantly challenging established working methods.

A customer-focused and business aware graduate, you will take report writing and statistical analysis in your Meterpoint is a division of SEEBOARD plc.

£18,000 - £22,000 + benefits

stride. With a proven record in account management and relationship building, you will be a natural enthusiast. We have some of the biggest accounts in the industry, so attention to detail is paramount and an understanding of legal contract terms would be a distinct advantage. There will be a certain amount of travel involved, so a valid driving licence is essential.

This is a real chance to make your mark in a rapidly expanding industry. Please send a full CV and covering letter to Julie Moore, Personnel Manager, MeterPoint, Russell Way, Crawley, West Sussex RH10 1UL Closing date: 15th April 1999.

Bored?

gement qualities and those who have the desire to fulfil a burning ambition to become a al – the one you have always believed existed in you.

Fortons provide a unique environment in which to progress. For the correct individuals, personal de focused wholly around long term career progression within the organisation. In addition, leadership Footons is a progressive company where excellence and effort are properly rewarded. We are not concerned with your past or pre-sent experience – we are looking for the personality with the desire, determination and drive to succeed.

If you are interested in working for one of London's most forward-thinking companies then call 0171 973 2048 or fax your CV to 0171 973 2023 Ref LPM. Alternatively send your CV to Foxtons 92 Park Lane, London W1Y 4EJ.

Applicants will ideally be aged 22-30 years.

Foxtons

People, not property

NUMBER REPLIES SHOULD BE ADDRESSED THE TIMES NEWSPAPERS P.O. BOX 3553. VIBGINA ST.

E1 96A

PARIS CERAMICS SALES PERSON

a. x

graduate j

OTE £25.000

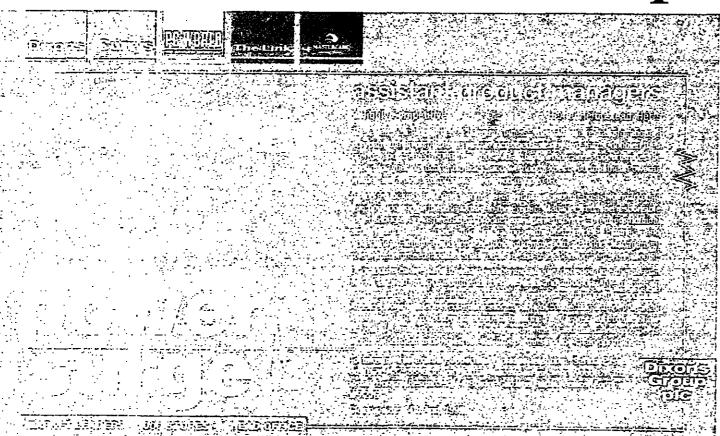

Paris Ceramics are the leading specialists in decorative ceramics, limestone, 18th Century stone and terracotta floors.

To provide Paris Ceramics' exclusive service requires flair, poise and personal style. If you are a highly motivated and ambitious 25-35 year old, possess effective selling skills and flair for design, please send your curriculum vitae to;

Sally Wilkinson, Paris Ceramics, 583 Kings Rd., London SW6 2EH.

New York . Hamburg . Los Angeles . London

MANAGEMENTPlus

GET THAT JOB!

A STEEL PART A GET LEVEL OF THE COLUMN TO TH

For nearly 20 years executives have found the London-West End | Leeds jobs they are looking for with the assistance of our London-City | March Counaught has the largest number of career consultancy offices in the UK and our program are used by major UK companies. Whether threatened with redundancy or promotional blockage, a Companyin career coach can bely

 Assess your marketability Decide on optimal career targets

 Design the best CV Contact the right executive recruit

. • FIND THE RIGHT JOB Ring new for an exploratory meeting which is free

Connaught

BRITAIN'S EXECUTIVE CAREER SERVICE 32 Savile Row, London W1X 1AG

BROADCASTING SERVICES

Business Development Manager - Advertising Agencies c£45K + cor + benefits

Our products speak for themselves. As a consumer, you're aircady using Yellow Pages, Talldog Pages and Business Pages (not to mention Yell - our award winning internet site) every day of the week. And you're in good company. people right across the UK refer to our products over 5 million times every day (that's a staggering 1.8 billion

One of the leading media groups in the country, we give our customers access to nearly 100% of the emire population. Effectively, And at the point when they are looking to buy.

Quite a message - and one that's well worth broadcasting. Always fancied yourself as a newscaster? Here's your chance. Your audience is those wonderful people who work in ad agencies - just the people whose clients need the kind of exposure you can give them. As well as developing new revenue opportunities, you'll work closely with marketing teams to build effective programmes, put in place sales development plans and nickrastely, win the confidence and credibility of advertising media planning and marketing professionals right across the country.

Coming from either a media, marketing or agency background yourself, you have a proven track record in a sales/new business role, ideally supported by a marketing qualification (CIM or similar). A credible and proven presenter (to Board level), you'll combine first-class written and verbal communication skills with excellent relationship building ability.

Succeed, and you can look forward to a first class benefits package which includes generous salary and bonus, fully expensed car free life assumnce, plus health and pension schemes. Naturally, you can also look forward to the kind of long term career opportunities that can only come from a market leading organisation like ours.

Based in London/Slough

If you have what it takes to broadcast our messa please call 01753 516091 (24 hour answerphone) for an application pack. Alternatively write enclosing full CV and salary details to: Karon Little, Personnel Manager, Yellow Pages Sales Limited, Directories House, 50 Wellington Street, Slough SU IYL,

For more information on Yellow Pages Sales Limited, please visit our microsite at http://www.monster.co.nk

FIND YOURSELF IN YELLOW PAGES

Project Officer

Graduate Development Programme £18 - 22k + benefits

Due to the dynamic growth of the Dixons Group, the newly created Project Management team are looking to recruit a number of high calibre graduates into Project Office roles based at Hemel Hempstead. The team is involved in key business change projects across the group and you would be given the opportunity to gain exposure to both the decision making and the change management processes.

Project Officers will be responsible for:

- Liaison with business managers to set up, maintain and update project plans.
- Identifying and communicating the progress of project tasks to senior business managers.
- Analysing the causes of project slippage and recommending solutions to correct those problems.
- Process mapping.

 $in_{\theta}\eta_{t_{S}}$

. . . . . .

. . .

. - . . . .

- 3

^E=

3 5

35.00

 Attending and contributing to high level . strategic meetings.

The successful candidates will have:

- A good honours degree and at least 12 months post graduate work experience.
- Good analytical, report writing and presentation skills.
- . The ability to communicate at all levels of
- A creative attitude to problem solving.
- The ability to organise yourself and
- A tenacious and resilient nature and the capacity to adapt quickly in a rapidly changing environment.

 The ambition and motivation to prove yourself quickly and move on to a project management or general management post.

Dixons will offer you the opportunity and training to enable you to succeed and will reward you with a competitive package. If you are interested, please send your CV and current salary details to Kay Jones - Wolsey at Talisman, Portland House, 4 Great Portland Street, London W1N 5AA by 19 April 1999.

Dixons Group pic

LEADING BRANDS • 1000 STORES • 1 HEAD OFFICE

SEMOR WITH GERMAN £30K + Bens

SALESMAN/ MANAGER Leading Antique Furniture Dealer

Duties include sales, veries (clean drivins Antiques Fairs. Patrick Sandberg Street, London WS 4RN Tel: 0171-229-0373

CAREER

SERVICES AREER CHANGE? "Thinking Styles" is a work related career develop-ment diagnostic tool. Stensor Machan 0181 208 0751

A CAREER IN THE WINE TRADE? We are looking for a young assistant with a clean driving license to carry out deliveries and work in our shop on Belgravia. Must be polite, enthusiastic and interested in wine.

Full Wine & Spirit Education Trust training given Tel: 0171 259 0102 Contact: Jim Eustace

graduate job

We firmly believe that we are only as good as the opportunities cur clients offer. That's why we are No. 1 and why we by harder every year to provide you, our candidates, with the kind of careers you went. To apply to any of the below vacancies call one of our team immediately.

IT Recruitment, Central London it's a cliche we know, and you probably don't believe it but you really can earn your torbune in this Top 100 company. Consumer Publishing, Sales Trainee, Central London publishing your own majorine appeals then start the route of with the best media training we know on one of the best

German Speakers, Information Sales, London The most indepensable of products needs seling to German usiness leaders. A superb start to your career in co Pinancial Recruitment, Central London
A stong team effic, and professionalers marks both this client and your personality, learn to place financial whizz kids in the city. National Newspapers, Central London Start your career where many people start their brea Telecoms Sales, London innovative and entrepreneurial company needs your (min 6 months) commercial acumen and love of IT/telecoms solutions.

CV SERVICES

CV & JobSearch Specialists Ring the team now on 01753 890243 SAME DAY CV CO Guidante to Board Director
 Said - marketing Stratogy Platerview Propagation

All Major Credit/Debit cards

CVs with IMPACT Sunday Times/Unisys award-winning personal marketing services from established, experienced career professional n interview-generating CV's n Interview Stulls Training n Fast, efficient personal service Call 0181 424 2630 now for an INFO PACK and FREE Effective Personal Marketing' booklet www.careerservices.co.uk
mpact ASSOCIATES

Business Publishing, Sales Trainees, London An indispensable part of the marketing ritx, and the most profitable area of publishing. Europe's leading publisher needs your sales ambitions THE GRADUATE

Members of the scheme will be trained in all aspects of journalism. This is an opportunity for young graduates - or those graduating this summer - with determination, flair, talent and writing ability to start their career with The Sunday Times.

THE SUNDAY TIMES

GRADUATE

FELLOWSHIPS

The Sunday Times invites applications from new or recent graduates for fellowships.

The object of the fellowships is to enable graduates interested in a career in journalism to participate in a two-year training course starting in September 1999.

This can lead to a staff position with The Sunday Times.

Applications should be made, with cv, in the first instance to:

> Richard Caseby Managing Editor The Sunday Times 1 Pennington Street London E1 9XW

Applications must be received by May 3, 1999

Does your career need a kick start? Recruitment Consultants

Graduates 1997-99

first executive

ejskerta

London/Home Counties

£ Excellent

Michael Page Finance is a teading international executive recruitment consultancy with a group turnover in excess of £250 million. With a remarkable track record of growth since our formation in 1976, we have achieved market leadership status in the recruitment of finance professionals Our client portfolio includes British Airways, Walt Disney, Cable & ess, the BBC, Guinness and the 'Big 5' accountancy firms.

As a recruitment consultant, you will gain exposure to the whole recruitment process. providing recruitment solutions for a wide range of clients. Comprehensive training will be provided in areas such as interviewing, career counselling, advertising, marketing and client presentations.

We are looking for highly motivated, ambitious individuals who possess excellent communication skills and have the drive and personality to succeed within a challenging and dynamic environment.

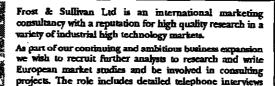

We offer excellent 'on the job' training, working along side experienced consultants together with a competitive starting salary, a quarterly bonus and company car after a

Our graduate programme commences in August. Graduates seeking their first or second career move with a genuine desire to embark on a rewarding career should send their CV with covering letter to Helen Simpson at Michael Page Finance, Page House, 39-41 Parker Street, London WC2B 5LN, indicating preference of location (London/Home Counties).

Michael Page

Australia • China • France • Germany • Hoog Kong • Italy • Netherlands • New Zealand • Singapore • Spain • UK • USA

TELECOMMUNICATIONS RESEARCH ANALYSTS

with senior contacts in major companies across Europe, analysing and interpreting the results and producing in-depth strategic reports on your findings. We are looking for high calibre graduates with appropriate qualifications in a scientific, engineering and/or business discipline to carry out research in Telecommunications markets, including the following areas:

• CIT

 Mobile Communications Transmission

Internetworking Technologies

Candidates should have excellent communication. analytical and writing skills. They should have good time management and project organisational skills, and be able to work on their own initiative to meet business deadlines.

If you have a real interest in building a career in the exciting and dynamic field of research-based consultancy, please write with full details to: Mr lain Riddell, Human Resources Manager, Frost & Sullivan Ltd, 4 Grosvenor Gardens, London SW1W 0DH or e-mail: iain_riddell@fs-europe.com (For further information on Frost & Sullivan, please visit our

O 5 T S U L L I V A N

Age.

7.

JONATHAN DOWNE 0171 576 7473

Powerbuilder, Oracle, SAP developer £24,000 Part growing conjunty soles above mentioned developed and considered Applicant man be gradente with a minimum of 24 mentio experience in Developing elizas server applications grind in unjoir software house or and Users cavisopases. Strong analytical systems implementation and presentation shells not required as in servers. For Edition and consistents in Benefux based IT consultancy firm seeking candidates for two positions for new LIK office:

Senior Financial Research Associate Selected candidate will perform strategic financial analysis on markets in the US, Latin America and Asia for global planning. Two years minimum experience in major financial institution required, Senior relationships with institutional clients and public agencies a must. Must be fluent in at least one Asian language (Chinese or Japanese). Provious small business experience a plus. Knowledge of database applications preferred, Graduate studies in economics preferred. Excellent package.

Marketing/Strategy Associate

Selected candidate will perform economic and strategic financial analysis on markets in Europe, US and Latin America. 3 years ministrum experience in blue chip financial services firm. Sentor relationships with institutional clients in US and Europe essential. Seek individual fluent in at least two-three European languages. Previous sales/marketing experience and knowledge of e-commerce a plus. Graduate studies preferred. Excellent package. Please fax C.V. to 32 2 216 9140

GOODFELIAS

Excellent opportunities within a PLC Publishing Group for graduate calibre individuals to sell ad space to chief executives of large corporations worldwide. Our publications are established, audited titles of the highest standard.

an offer you can't refuse.

REWARDS...Lots of dosh (basit + commission), plenty of backhanders (boouses), and if you're really good, private bealth care, a company car and a real opportunity to become the boss of your call the hot line 0171-753-6286

Mistress in Mayfair

sional person or a graduate, and perhaps yo think that selling advertising space is beneath you'. I thought that for 11 years, while working in a 'proper' job. When I arrived at my personal crossroads. I made the difficult ecision to try something new. In my first year I carned 47k. For the last three years I've earned in excess of 150k p.s. I go home at 5:30 and never work at weekends. My kids go to private school. I have two laxnry cars and a house in France, and I would like a mistress in Mayfair but ling advertising space is not beneath me at all and it could be good for you, too. If you live in the London area call: 0171 915 9933

SALES OPPORTUNITIES

For confident self motivated individuals wishing to comm career in the fast expanding IT industry.

Full training provided with a guaranteed offer of employs prior to course commencement. Career opportunities are UK wide, all positions offer basic salary, company car and average first years OTE circa £35,000. Training leads to an NVQ level III or IV in Sales and Sales Management, endorsed by the Chartered Institute of Marketing and City and Guilds.

ACT NOW

For further details

Tel: 01249 700055 or fax your CV Fax: 01249 700051

GRADUATES

If you are a second gradually, all uniture about which causes path to follow or you are already What does the which once party which care party application in the care party and care application in the care party and care application in the care party and care party

9 1 5

9693

fran maybe you should consider a cemer in the through protects. MEDIA SALES. NATIONAL TRANSPORT OF A SYMMET SALES.

If you are looking for a dynamic inclusivy and an expending company offering good promotional prospects, then go for the biggest and the best. As a major PLC we can offer full beining, high earning potential, 25% – 45% field year OFE (basic + commission packages) plus company cars and PPP medical course. In earlier, the right conditions must be beight and ariculate with the condition of the condition with the condition of the condition with the condition of t

f that sounds like you than call Quasar

Tel: 0171 481 4481

IMANAGEMENT*plus*

Business Link London Central is a successful and dynamic member of the national Business Link Network providing professional advice and support for small and medium sized

We are a highly motivated, proactive and client focused team and are looking to add a number of keen, energetic and innovative individuals to contribute to our continuing commitment to help businesses grow and

We recognise the need to invest in the development of our people to ensure that they can make the best possible use of their skills and expertise in pursuit of business

Do you have the necessary energy, enthusiasm and communication skills allied with a broad and practical business background to contribute positively to the range of

if so, send your CV and letter stating how you weet the requirements, quoting the relevant reference number to:

lobu Renderson Quantum Enterprise Development, I Skiings Court, White Rose Way, Doncaster, DN4 5NU Tel: 01302 761222 Fax: 01302 761333

-total: qedbq@composerve.com

Business Development Executive (Ref No 90405)

Circa £33k + 15% performance bonus

To contribute effectively to this role you will need to have sales experience in a business to business environment, and the motivation to succeed. You will enthusiastically sell BLLC's services, proactively identify and contact potential clients, increase awareness of BLLC and promote the services to businesses and intermediaries. General business acumen and a good understanding of how small and medium enterprises operate is essential.

Product Manager (Ref No 90406) Circa £25k + 15% performance bonus

A graduate with a track record of developing new products and services in a business to business environment, you will be responsible for researching, developing and evaluating new products and services to ensure that BLLC's range of services reflect client needs. You will review and improve existing services on a regular basis in line with client feedback, market changes and other developments.

Business Development Co-ordinator (Ref No 90407)

Circa £24k + 15% performance bonus As the first point of contact for BLLC business enquiries you will be responsible for advising potential clients of the range of services available. You will have the ability to deal knowledgeably with business enquiries and to qualify, allocate, administer and evaluat all leads. Your previous telephone sales/call centre experience and your IT skills will enable you to provide a professional and knowledgeable business advisory service to all callers.

Database Manager (Ref No 90409) Circa £25k + 15% performance bonus

A graduate with a minimum two years experience in a business to business environ working on database management or data handling projects you will be responsible for all aspects of the development, updating, maintenance, evaluation and analysis of the BLLC client database. You will make best use of the data available within BLLC to help target new and existing clients and to identify and implement improvements and modifications

We are committed to an Equal Opportunities Policy and activaly encourage applications from all sections of the community

Commercial Vehicle Fleet Sales Management Opportunities

Milton Keynes

Competitive Package

We have the most up-to-date commercial vehicle product range in the industry and to support further expansion we are making significant changes to increase our customer focus and further our relationships with our dealer network. We have opportunities for Fleet Sales Managers who will have responsibility for maximising commercial vehicle sales to major and key account customers in the UK and for specialist markets.

You will manage, control and direct teams who, with the dealer network, will have the objective of increasing sales with existing customers, ensuring the highest levels of after sales support and develop opportunities with new accounts. Building and developing relationships with customers is an essential part of the roles, Typically 60%+ of your time will be spent in the field working with individual members of your team in customer facing activities. You will have a comprehensive knowledge of the automotive industry with proven sales management experience. Preferably you will have truck experience in the fleet sector but you will be demonstrably hard working, proactive, tenacious with good man management skills and the ability to lead by example. You will be familiar with operating lease packages and will have the ability to identify solutions to meet customer needs. Together with a competitive salary and Company car, we offer Profit Related Pay, 23 days' holiday (rising with service), BUPA, contributory pension scheme with life assurance and disability insurance and excellent car discount schemes.

To apply please forward your CV, stating current salary package, to Mrs J Paine, Personnel Department, Mercedes-Benz (UK) Limited, Tongwell, Milton Keynes MK15 8BA to arrive no later than 12 April 1999.

Nicholson gives Cup vote to Escartefigue

By Alan Lee, racing correspondent

NOT so long ago. Aintree in April was all about one race. one enduring institution. Its supporting events were unworthy, incongruously lightweight. Now, while the Grand National maintains its unique ability to stop the country, it attracts the finest company. and there is evidence aplenty when the 1999 meeting begins

Later this week, the likes of Barton, Call Equiname and Istabraq will have the chance to revisit their Cheltenham glories. Today, it is the turn of Martin Pipe's two emphatic Festival winners. Majadou and Hors La Loi III, of Paul Nicholls' maiden Cheltenham winner, Flagship Uberalles. and of Go Ballistic, the horse who so nearly caused a Gold Cup sensation.

Come 3.45pm on Saturday. the National will command all hearts and minds, just the same as ever. Bankruptcy could not douse the obsession. nor bomb threats, protest marchers or embarrassing false starts. Even on the most chaotic sporting weekend of the year, racing has its guaranteed 15 minutes of fame. But in the meantime. Aintree provides a series of estimable races. He recalls training a would suggest Go Ballistic races, a second chance for double on the Flat in 1970. races, a second chance for many to crown their jumping

It is not like Cheltenham and never can be. The terrain. the surroundings, the atmosphere are all utterly different. Aintree has no sense of the moneyed shires. Instead, it has the feel of a city letting its hair down and, for the next three days, the place will resound to office outings, with more sharp suits and glamorously inappropriate skirts and heels than country tweeds.

David Nicholson may be in the minority in the dress sense but he has an unshakeable affinity with this spruced-up old relic of a racecourse and, for a deeply superstitious man, it has nothing to do with past success. Nicholson has not won the National, either as a jockey or a trainer, but he travels this year with perhaps his best chance and will be represented on Saturday by Call It A Day and Baronet.

Nicholson, for whom Cheltenham is annually a home match' and Aintree a bag-packing adventure, does have an enviable record in the support when Liverpool was still a mixed affair, and, only two seasons ago, he saddled six of the first 15 winners at the

Barton Bank, now retired,

won the Martell Cup that April and, 12 months ago, the corresponding race was taken by Nicholson's progressive novice, Escartefigue. Today, Nicholson bids for his hattrick in this feature event and with two of the field of five trained at his Jackdaws Castle yard, he has every chance.

The Martell Cup is an authentic Gold Cup consolation race, with £65,000 added. yet it has failed to attract more than eight runners in any of the past ten seasons. "The Irish tend to wait for Punchestown with their top chasers nowadays," Nicholson said, "and a lot of horses have a hard race at Cheltenham and this comes just too soon. But my two came out of the Gold Cup in good form."

The Cheltenham race, in which Escartefigue was a disappointing seventh while his stablemate narrowly lost first place to See More Business,

2.00 Piped Aboard

2.35 Escartefique

3.10 Dawn Leader

Going: Good to Soft

Carl Evans: 3.45 Elegant Lord.

last year's winner. "I think around Aintree he is my better hope. He raced too freely in the blinkers at Cheltenham and won't wear them again. He has won at the meeting for the past two years and I see no reason why he shouldn't win

If a reason does present itself, it could just be the rapid improvement of Majadou. Pipe considered this horse his Cheltenham banker and he won the Mildmay of Flete Chase in appropriate fashion. That, though, was a handicap over five furlongs shorter than today's trip and even with a 9lb concession as a five-year-old, he confronts a huge task.

Hors La Loi III, returning to his age-group, is far more likely to give Pipe a first-day winner — and another ess-ential boost in his quest for the trainers' title - in the Glenlivet Anniversary Novices' Hurdle.

☐ Ground conditions on the Martell Grand National course remain good to soft, soft in places after 2mm of rain fell on the track on Tuesday night.

ANTRE

ROB WRIGHT

Timekeeper's top rating: 3.10 FLAGSHIP UBERALLES.

3.45 Gale Toi

TOTE JACKPOT MEETING

4.50 Society Brief 5.20 Wisley Wonder (nb)

4.20 Afarad

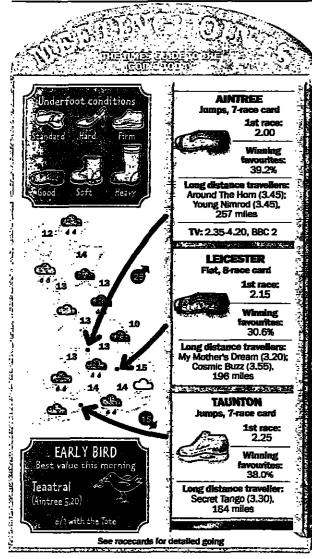

Wise King clears the last on the way to a controversial victory at Ascot yesterday

Punters wise after the event

LIFE is hard enough for punt. ers at the best of times, but those who popped into the betting shop at lunchtime yesterday for a flutter on the Allied Irish Bank Handicap Chase at Ascot never had a prayer (Chris McGrath writes). Told that Wise King would not even start the race, they were horrified to see him finish it in first place. It proved a farce sufficient to melt even the hearts of bookmakers. Between 12.23 and 1.15 pm Satellite Information Services (SIS), responsible for transmitting racecourse pictures and information to the shops, had laboured under the illusion that Wise King was a non-run-ner. Bookmakers duly deleted him from their betting and posted revised prices until apprised of the SIS mix-up. On bets struck during that period, all the leading firms decided to pay out on both Wise King and the horse he beat into second. Northern Starlight. Chief's Song. fourth, was promoted for each-way purposes but nothing could be done for Placepot punters.

The bookmakers' concession was a charitable one, as it effectively transformed a Tony McCoy treble into a four-timer. The most notable of his winners was Galant Moss in the Grosvenor Casinos Long Distance Hurdle.

2.45 Emma Peel

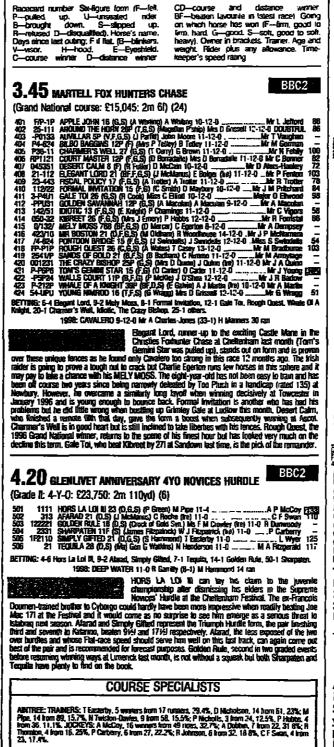

3.55 Pheisty

3.20 Lovely Island

Draw: No advantage

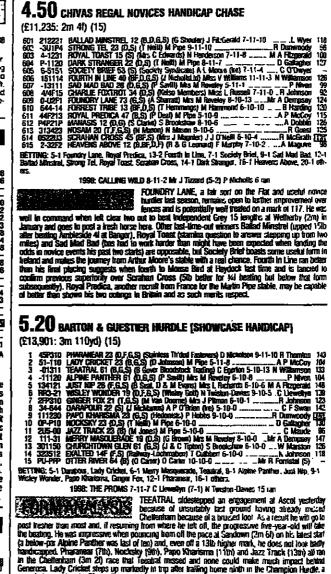

(£3,763: 1m 8yd) (14 runners)

(3-Y-O. £5.881. 5f 2f8yd) (9)

LECESTER: TRAINERS, B Hanbury, 7 winners from 24 namess, 29.2%, H Coc.l. 16 horn 62, 25 6%; P Chapple-Hyan, 3 horn 14, 21.4%; J Duslop, 24 horn 130, 18 5%, B Hills, 12 horn 66, 18.2%, J Gossien, 10 hram 61, 16.4%; J L Harrie, 8 horn 51, 157%, JJCKEYS 'PB Eddery, 27 winners from 129 rides, 20.9%, M Roberts, 13 hram 65, 20.0%; K Falkon, 19 horn 120, 15 6%; J Wester, 8 horn 54, 14 6%, W J O'Connor, 5 horn 34, 14.7%, R Hills, 11 horn 80, 13 6%, J Forking, 8 horn 61, 13 1%

READING THE RACECARD

1998: THE PROMS 7-11-7 C Liewellyn (7-1) N Twiston-Davies 15 ran TEEATRAL cidestepped an engagement at Ascot yesterday because of unsurably fact ground having already maked Cheltentiam because of a brusced loof. As a result he will go to post treather than most and, if resuming from where he left off, the progressive five-year-old will date the beating. He was impressive when pouncing from oil the pace at Sandown (2m 6) on his latest strip tablow-par Alpine Pranther was last of len) and, even off a 13th higher main, he does not look badly handicapped. Pharamear (7th), Nocksky (9th). Papo Khraisma (11th) and Jazz Track (13th) at ran in the Cheltenham (3m 2t) race that fleestrall missed and none could make much impact bethind Generoca. Lady Cricket steps up markedly in trip after trailling home ninth in the Chempion Hudde, a remark that applies to Singer Fox, who was a gambled-on laikure in the County Hurdle. Nerther are quarameted to stay—a remark that applies to Darapour, who did not quite get home when fourth (beaen St) to Khayrasoni in the Coral Cop. Merry Massquerade, in contast, is a proven stayer but this Blookle individual is languishing 8th out of the handicap and so he will race off a mark 15th higher than when successful at Newcastle last time.

BLINKERED FIRST TIME: Aintree: 2.00 Piped Aboard, 3,10 Damza. 3.45 Sands OI Gold. 4.50 Heavens Above. 5.20 Otter River. Leicester. 2.15 Lamoma. 3.20 Lovely Island. Taunton: 2.25 Willie B Brave. 2.25 Dante's Gold. 2.25 Calliope. 5.10 Bells Wood.

Black Rock Desert entered

AIDAN O'BRIEN's highly-rated three-year-old Black Rock Desert heads the 13 entries for the Castlemartin/La Louviere Studs Gladness Stakes at the Curragh on Sunday. The threeyear-old, easy winner of his only start as a juvenile and a bestpriced 12-1 for the Sagitta 2,000 Guineas, is one of three entries for the Ballydoyle trainer in the seven-furlong group three contest. "I have three horses involved — Alexfield. Orpen and Black Rock Desert - but I want to defer a decision for a day or two." O'Brien said yesterday. He added that Pink Coral would be his runner in the Peter Byrne April Fillies Race on the same card.

1 10 in

TO OPEN A CREDIT ACCOUNT FREEPHONE 0800 289 592 WILLIAM HILL RULES APPLY
PRICES SUBJECT TO FLUC TRIATION

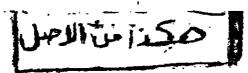

(£3.841: 1m 3f 183yd) (10)

SNOOKER

O'Sullivan gives swift reminder of potential

BY PHIL YATES

THERE is not a more entertaining spectacle in the game than watching Ronnie O Sullivan at the height of his pow-ers. It is a sight not often witnessed this season, but the world No 3 could well be coming into form at precisely the O'Sullivan, whose credentials as a potential world champion have been seriously questioned by a recent lack focus, was at his dazzling best in the second round of the British Open in Plymouth yesterday. He required only 60 minutes to whitewash Paul Davies 5-0.

For once, the usually selfcritical O'Sullivan was reasonably happy with his performance. After stealing the second frame on the black, thanks to a 40 clearance, he compiled breaks of 68 and 97 before finishing stylishly with a run of 104. In so doing, he out-scored Davies 510-79.

Steve Davis, Fergal O'Brien and Chris Small, who are all embroiled in a dogfight for places among the elite top 16 in the world rankings next season, all progressed to the next

Davis included a pair of century breaks en route to a hardfought 5-3 win over Michael Judge, while the methodical Small needed almost four hours and an unscheduled second session before defeating Drew Henry, a fellow Scot.

O'Brien endured acute anxiety on the way to edging Bradley Jones 5-4. O'Brien, from Dublin, led 4-1 before Jones recovered to 4-4. O'Brien, though, coping admirably with the growing pressure. rolled in a tricky red to a middie pocket to launch a break of 60 that enabled him to squeeze through. John Higgins, the titleholder, who is attempting to lift his fifth trophy of a lucrative season, enjoyed a comfortable passage into the last 16, even though he never threatcned to raise his game to top form. The world champion. who has complained of feeling jaded this week, won 5-1

RUGBY UNION

France hope that shuffling pack will do the trick

By MARK SOUSTER

AFTER losing at Twickenham and in an attempt to put a gloss finish on a disappointing Five Nations Championship, the France selectors have made three changes, all in the pack, to the side that plays Scotland on Saturday at the Stade de France. Christian Califano, a replacement against England, starts at loose-head prop in place of Sylvain Marconnet, while Thierry Cleda, of Pau, comes in at lock for Fabien Person who has a rib injury for lous, who has a rib injury, for his first full cap after eight appearances as a substitute. Christian Labit, the Toulouse flanker, makes his debut as France again reshuffle their back row; Thomas Lievremont switches to No 8 and Christo-phe Juillet is demoted to the substitutes' bench.

Successive defeats by Wales and England have demoralised the grand slam-winners of the past two seasons, who have also had a debilitating injury-list that has deprived them of key players such as OIivier Magne and Christophe Lamaison. That aside, Jo Maso, the France manager, has left his side, who tour Tonga. Samoa and New Zealand in June, in little doubt as to the importance of this weekend.

"Saturday's match is extra important for the players and their future. If it does not go well, we would have to make adjustments for the World Cup," Maso said. "We must rediscover the enthusiasm that we had last year and strike fear into our opponents." Scotland, who name their team today before flying out to Paris, face the prospect of losing the spine of their pack. The loss of Tom Smith, who broke his leg in the victory over Ireland, is bad enough, that of Eric Peters is a hammer blow. while doubts surround the fitness of Scott Murray. However, with David Hilton and Doddie Weir in reserve for Smith and Murray respectively, Scotland at last have strength in deoth, while Stuart last Saturday. Reid, the captain of Leeds Tykes, won his only cap against Western Samoa three years ago, but he did lead Scotland A to a junior grand slam last season. Having taken a two-year sabbatical from the police force. Reid, 29, left Bor-

Reid is expected to replace

Peters, who broke a kneecap

in Bath's defeat of Leicester

TEAM
E Manack (Stade Toulousan): X
Garbajosa (Stade Toutoussin), P Giordani (Dax), F Comba (Stade Français), C Dosninici (Sasde Français); T Castalgnède (Castres).
P Carbonneau (Brve): C Califano (Stade Toulousem), R Ibanez (Perpig-nan, captain). F Tournaire (Stade Toulousein), O Brouzet (Bègies-Bordeaux). T Clada (Pau), C Labit (Stade Toulousain). R Castel (Bez- ers). T Lievremont (Perpignari).
Replacements: C Laussucq (Stade Français). D Aucagne (Pau). T Lombard (Stade Français), C Juffet (Stade Français), D Auradou (Stade Français), S Merconnet (Stade

Français), M Dal Maso (Colorniers).

oughnuir to pursue a professional rugby career in Eng-land last year. Phil Davies, the Leeds coach, believes that Reid deserves another chance. "He is a quick decision-maker, very competitive and always gives 110 per cent," Davies said. "I am sure if he is selected, he will do himself justice." The home-based Scotland players contracted to the Super Districts will find that their season does not end in Paris this weekend. The Scottish Rugby Union are releasing them to play in two Sevens tournaments, one of which will be at Melrose on May 1. Meanwhile, the restructuring at Manchester Sale continued yesterday with the departure of Graham Dawe, the former Bath hooker, who joined the club 18 months ago as a player, but more recently has acted as assistant forwards' coach to John Mitchell, who resigned last week. Gloucester are expected to lose Terry Fanolua, the Western Samoa centre, for the remainder of the season. He damaged a knee ligament in the Tetley's Bitter Cup semi-final defeat away to Wasps on Sunday. Dion O'Cuinneagain, the Ireland open-side flanker, was given the all-clear for the match against Italy at Lansdowne Road on Saturday when he took a full part in the squad session yesterday. O'Cuinneagain damaged his shoulder in the game against Scotland last month.

هُكذا من الأصل

Cleda, who wins his first full cap for France, catches the ball during lineout practice

Harvey plays it by the book

UK PACKAGING stormed through the semi-finals of the Squash Rackets Association (SRA) National League, beating UNW Northumberland 4-1 at the Connaught Club, Chingford, and have taken their first step already towards success in the final, which is due to be played on April 20 at St Albans, where they will play

Capital One Nottingham. Nottingham reached the final with case themselves, after refusing to alter a semi-final date for which Potters Bar, their opponents, could not raise

They had requested that the final be put back 24 hours to give Natalie Grainger, of South Africa, their unbeaten fifth-string, time to travel from the Women's International Squash Players' Association (WISPA) Grand Prix finals in Hurghada. Egypt. to St Albans, but Neil Harvey, the UK Packaging team manager, reSQUASH By Colin McQuillan line-up, would have to stick to its

'If Natalie does as well as we ex-time," Phil Songhurst, the Nottingham team manager, said. "If the SRA applies the rules as they stand, we may have to play the final without a

With Linda Charman playing behind Tim Garner, Julian Wellings, Stuart Cowie and Lee Jemmett, ÜK Packaging dismissed UNW Northagainst Terry Murphy, who an adequate team, but they found fused to agree. knowing that the SRA, pect among the other top players umberland 7-3 from the two-legged. Windows Maesteg from reaching the that the tables had been turned for the meeting with UK Packaging.

an adequate team, but they found fused to agree. knowing that the SRA, pect among the other top players umberland 7-3 from the two-legged. Windows Maesteg from reaching the championships in Tignes. Nottingham expect to semi-finals, in which they will join the meeting with UK Packaging.

League for failing to field a semi-final be hard-pressed to get her back in field Simon Parke, who defeated Jona- Lingfield, Duffield and Hallamshire.

thon Power, the world champion, twice for England squad against the Rest of the World last week, with David Evans, the Welsh champion. Lee Beachill and Jason Nicolle for the final. Nicolle no longer appears in ranking lists but is still a fearsomely experienced opponent at fourthstring for the teenage Jemmett.

Beachill is England's rising star. who heat beat Alex Gough, the Welsh No I, in a quarter-final of the National League Cup. The win was not enough, however, to stop Dunraven

Sturgess told to take rest

■ CYCLING: Colin Sturgess. the captain of the Men's Health team, was told by a specialist yesterday that he should not race for at least a fortnight because he needs treatment for a degenerative disc disease. Sturgess, a former world pursuit champion, returned to Great Britain this year from Australia with the aim of gaining selection for the Olympic Games in Sydney in

Tom Steels, of Belgium. honed his form for the Paris-Roubaix Classic this weekend with victory in the Ghent-Wevelgem race vesterday.

SAILING: Paul Griffiths. from Banbury, is leading the Laser Radial fleet at the Volvo RYA national youth championships on Grafham Water. After six starts Griffiths, 16, has managed four first places, adding two yesterday Tim Hulse, from Cheshire, is in second place with Matthew McGovern, from Manchester, third.

E ICE HOCKEY: Great Britain start their world championship campaign in Denmark today determined to put up a better performance against Slovenia, against whom they lost 5-3 when they failed to be promoted from pool B. It was their worst defeat of the 1998 championship and Slovenia are expected to be one of Britain's main rivals for the top-four finish they need this

CURLING: Maarka Uusipaavalniemi, the Finland skip, led his side to a 8-3 victory against Scotland at the Ford world championships in Saint John, New Brunswick. Scotland are one of four teams tying for the last semi-final place with three games to play.

E SKENG: The children's super-giant slalom championship, the first event of the children's (ages 11-15) races at the British Land junior national

RESULTS FROM YESTERDAY'S THREE MEETINGS

Ascot Geing: good to firm, good in places 2.00 (cm 4f hd/er 1, Kings Boy (M A Fitogerato, 4-9 lavr, 2, Cezanne (20-1) 3, Molet (11-2) 5 ran 31 1-1 N Henderson Tote 51.50 51 10, 52 30, 51 50 DF 68 20 CSF 511 76.

2.30 (2m 3) 110/d chi 1 Wise King (T J Murphy, 9-2 tav), 2 Northern Starlight (6-1) 3 Philips Woody (13-2) 9 tan, 21 1 J Old Tone 24 70, 61 50, 62-20, 62-20 DF 621 00 CSF 629 16 Tricast, 1150 M 3.05 (3m holle) 1 Galant Moss (A P

2.25 Willie B Brave

GOING GOOD TO FIRM

Carl Evans: 5.10 King Torus.

SELLING HANDICAP HURDLE

(£1,558 3m 110yd) (16 runners)

2.55 Sol Music

3.30 Guido

McCoy, evers law, 2, Lord Jim (12-1), 3, Padoys Return (11-4), 5 ran, NR, Berlin Blue, Teaatral 2'H, sh hd M Pipe, Toter C1 90, C1.20, C2 50 DF: 68 80 CSF.

2.40 (2m 110yd hdle) 1. Dictarm (A P Mc-Coy. 16-1), 2. Promer Generation (5-1 [a-tay), 3, Warm Spell (6-1) Chal-Yo 5-1 [a-tay 12 ran. Hd, 5! M Pipe Tole 219.50, 24.30, 21.80, £2.50, DF: £4.50, CSF: £86.55 Tircast £498.23 Tole Trilecta: £1.017.60

J Eddery (7)

TAUNTON

4.05 Duel Island

5.40 Pekay

4.40 Country Store

5.10 Mister Horatio

ROB WRIGHT

2.25 PITMINSTER CONDITIONAL JOCKEYS

11 000U EVENNEL 24 D Warre 110-10 L Cummins
12 UFUS NARENTS TYPHOON 34 10 F G) Mrs. F George B-10-8
13 0R0P CALLUDES 19 00 11

15 OROP CALLIOPE 19 /8) A Curon 7-19-2 O McPhall 15 OROP CALLIOPE 19 /8) A Curon 7-19-2 O McPhall 15 PPP2 PUTCH 16 (E.S.) S Burner 7-19-2 A Bates 15 OROD GREENSIDE CHAT 50 C = 0.0xe 9-10-7 L Aspell (E 0-00 SILVER GULL 65 % howe 3-10-7 G G Supple

2.4 the kinner (3-) Papile's Jet (6-) Dadding Porer, 18-2 Dinner Chance, 12-1 Water 8 Blazer, 13-1 Law Freel, 16-1 Certain Surface: Stranguler's Pount, 20-1 oriest.

2.55 LANCASTER MERCEDES BENZ SPRINTER

1 5511 SOL MUSIC 27 (CD S) Fins 7-17-0 L Cummins (3)
2 3562 FERRUPNO 3 70 6-8) Fins 7-17-0 L Summins (5)
3 5148 KORTH MUSICNIN 27 (CS) R Sans 3-17-7 A Thomson
3 5148 KORTH MUSICNIN 27 (CS) R Sans 3-17-7 Publicy
2 3553 RIV. FUR COVER -70 (D.F. Mr. F Publick 7-11-2 Publicy
3 -070 COMBAGAR 5AV 118 (S) C Mission 6-11-0 J R Kawamagh
5 -070 COMBAGAR 5AV 118 (S) C Mission 6-11-0 J R Kawamagh
7 -070 PHOR GALE 24 7 in 50-05 7-11-0 S kelly (5)
3 -070 CANDAG SUANDS 20 (D.S) G Charles-Jones 8-10-9
4 MORE TO 4 AND 121 0 16 Thomson 111-0 Mission 10-10
4 MORE TO 4 MORE SUANDS 20 (D.S) G Charles-Jones 8-10-9
4 MORE TO 4 MORE SUANDS 20 (D.S) G Charles-Jones 8-10-9
4 MORE TO 4 MORE SUANDS 20 (D.S) G Charles-Jones 8-10-9
4 MORE TO 4 MORE SUANDS 20 (D.S) G Charles-Jones 8-10-9
4 MORE TO 4 MORE T

10 -000 LEGAL ROMANCE 28 CToo 6-10-9 H Orver (5) 11 14-F RABBOW STAR ST (B.T.E.S) M Por 5-10-7 R Greene

14 So Macr. 5-1 Rustina für 6-1 Moch Festand. 7-1 Fernting, 14-1 Fün Für Einer Einerberto 16 1 High Cale 19-1 Among stands 25-1 Legal Fortiers 13-1 offers

3.30 ORCHARD RESTAURANT MAIDEN HURDLE

The Robert Mod Alego Asymptotic Tide Southers to the Agint A-1 The Gene General Tide South Asymptotic Tide Southern Tide Souther

Oct 122,514 (27) (f) (14)

NOVICES CHASE (£4.713: 2m 110yd) (11)

E 0-UP DANTE'S GOLD 87 (B) C Section 8-11-3 . . . . . J G

10 0500 STANGGLER S POINT 72 (V.F.G) J Bridger 9-10-13

Pipe Tote: № 10. DF: £3.30. CSF: £7.46.

£7.46.
5.00 (3m 110yd ch) 1, Skiphntime (Mr M G Miller, 6-4 fav); 2. Alex Thuscombe (25-1), 3, Chism (11-2), 7 ran, NR Donallach Mor, Soler Warrior, 14, 191, R Miller Tote, £2, 10; £160, £5 70. DF; £21.00. CSF £24.68.
5.35 (2m 110yd hdle) 1, Interdream (R Dunwoody, 4-1 co-lav); 2, Pietro Bembo (4-1 co-lav); 3, Krabtbonik (4-1 co-lav); 10 ran 11, 5, C Mern Tote £4.00; £1.30. £1.80, £1.80 DF; £6.60. CSF £18.49 Tricast; £50.97.

4.20 (2m 3i 110yd ch) 1, Dark Stranger (A.P.McCoy, 11-10): 2, Master Chuzziewi (16-1) Eagles Rest 5-6 lav 3 ran 30l M

Placepot: £22.00 Quadpot: £11.20

(Div II: £2,514: 2m 1f) (14)

4.05 ORCHARD RESTAURANT MAIDEN HURDLE

CANQLE SMOKE 936F (7) Ms. L Richards 6-11-5 ... B Powell
2 3-3P CORNELL COSSACK 111 Miss H Moght 6-11-5 ... B Fention
3 2-44 HERE'S TO HOWE 66F M Bosley 5-11-5 ... S Wynne
4 00 UNDER THE TRAMB 131 C Morlock 5-11-5 ... J A McCarthy
5 FO AGIFT 14 Mis P Richards 1-11-0 ... Mr S Morts (7)
6 HO RISK ABOVE 65 Miss K Goog 6-11-0 ... R Massley
7 DO CLASSIC MASQUERADE 22 (7) M Pipe 4-10-13 G Supple (3)
9 DUEL ISLAND 2135 J Spearing 4-10-13 ... A Thomson
10 GP RIEBRO REAL 126 P Nicroble 4-10-13 ... A Thomson
11 6 J WISH YOU LOVE 89 P Hoobs 4-10-13 ... R Widger (5)
12 OS MERRY PRINCE 5 P Hesige 4-10-13 ... A Thomson
13 200 MISS FARA 21 M Pipe 4-10-8 ... R Greene
14 0 SEA PIG 84 S Noght 4-10-8 ... R Greene

6-4 Mass Fara, 4-1 Classic Masquerade, 5-1 Merry Prince, 8-1 Here's To Home, I Wish You Love, 14-1 Candia Smote, 16-1 Conveil Cossack, 25-1 others.

1 PODS GARRAYMA 48 (F.G. S) N Henderson 9-11-12 __ J R Kavarangh.
2 4-51 ABAVARID 192 (G.S) R Froct 10-11-7 __ T O'Cornera (?)
3 1422 SHARP COMMAND 9 (BF.D.F.G.S) P Eccles 6-11-5 . S Kelly (S)
4 - SR3 VICOSA 9 (D.F.S) R Ainer 10-11-4 __ A Thornton
5 5114 WISHING WILLIAM 51 (CD.E.S) MSC H Kreight 7-11-0 B Fertizo
5 3334 JLATARA 27 (D.F.G.S) I William 10-10-5 __ R Wildinger (S)
7 2P1P PHILATELC 49 (D.F.G.S) I William 10-10-4 __ R Wildinger (S)
9 1312 COUNTRY STORE 16 (B.F.C.D.S) in Piper 10-10-0 __ R Grazen
10 5224 (DIMNICSS VIEW 14 F TUCKEr 10-10-1 __ S Burrangh
11 PFUP NORTH-EIN VILLAGE 33 (F) 1 A Date 12-10-0 __ L Aspeil

5-2 Country Store, 9-2 Starp Command, 5-1 Juliana, 7-1 Washing William, 8-1 Rovestar, 10-1 Vicosa, Philatelic, 12-1 others.

5.10 LANCASTER MERCEDES BENZ 'VITO' HUNT-

1 6302 KING TORUS 9 (BF.CD.F.G.S) V Dormall 9-12-7 ... Mr. J. Jakes 2 255- BUZZ O'THE CROWD 331 (BF.D.F.G.S) Ms F Water 12-12-5 Mr. R Wioolecott (7) 3 5401 MISTER HORATIO 5P (D.G.S) W Lens 9-12-5 Mr M Lens (7) 4 RU34 STELL NY BUSINESS 15 (BF.CD.F.G.S) R Partier 11-12-5 Mrss P Country (5)

11-4 King Torus, 7-2 Sell in Business, 6-1 Burz O'The Clound, Stationage Gold, 8-1 Kartin's Quest, 10-1 Misser Hotatio, Fossy Bear, 12-1 others.

5.40 ORCHARD PORTMAN HANDICAP HURDLE

7-2 Spick And Spen, 4-1 Pelsny, 9-2 Eliking, 11-2 Diagon King, 8-1 Nine O Three, 10-1 Thursderpont, 12-1 Adamst Mest Cadoury Castle, 14-1 others

COURSE SPECIALISTS

TRAINERS Mes V Whitems, 5 Winners from 15 frontiers, 33 3%; is richtle-son & horn 19, 31 6%, C Barnell, 5 horr 19, 26 3%; O Stemanout, 6 fron 24, 25 0%, C Egenton, 4 born 17, 23 5%; P Moths, 24 horn 108, 21 5%.

JOCKEYS & Wadger 5 moners from 25 rdes, 19.7%, 5 Wynne, 4 eym 13.2%, 6 Tormey, 9 from 57, 15.8%, 6 Supple, 8 from 51, 15.7%, Ferian 7 from 49, 14.3%, J McCarthy, 3 from 24, 12.5%, Goly qualities

4.40 LANCASTER MERCEDES BENZ ATEGO

HANDICAP CHASE (£5,407: 3m) (11)

ERS CHASE (£2,337: 3m) (10)

(£2,696: 2m 1f) (10)

Going: good, good to firm in places 2.10 (2m hd/s) 1. Sharbedarid (D J Burchell, 7-4 fav) 2. Toy Box (16-1), 3. Cardy Cooper (40-1), 13 ran, NP, Little Mss Lucy, 13, 214 J Price Tore 12 50, £1 60, £3 20, £4 50 DF. £21 80, CSF £24 29.

2.40 (3m chi 1 Bay Fair (S Curran, 14-1) 2, The Campdonian (5-1): 3 Lord Mar (100-1) Tristrams Image (5-8 tav 16 ran 31, 31 M Bookly, Trole: S12 10, 22:30, 21,50, 520 10 DF, 512 10 CSF; 570,17 21.50. Each in the first of the

3.50 (2m 4f ch) 1, Gratomi (S Fox, 7-2); 2, Colone Bazer (14-h) 3, Inch Emperor (14-h) Jemaro (160, 15-8 lav 8 ran 141, 5 P. Ritchens Tote 24 10, 21.30, 23.00 22.90, DF 229.70 CSF 237.28, Theast 5462.08

240.208 (2m hdie) 1. Mim-Lou-And (D Gallagner 3-1) 2. Rolle (10-1), 3. Mankeno (15-2) Balladur (4m) 2-1 kev. 7 ran NR; Count Tony 2-1 71 Miss H. Knight Tote 63-40, 61 50, 52.00, DR; 58.80, CSF 525-34 Tricast 6171.29 4.95 (3m ch) 1. Grimley Gale (Mr. J. M. Pritchard, 4-9 favi; 2. Lakeside Lad (66-1), 3. Cetto: Abbey (2-1), 5 ran. 281, 41 M. Jackson. Tote, 17 40, 51 50, 513 30 DF £19 60. CSF £16 92

5.25 (2m hd/e) 1. Dream of Nurmi (R Waldey, 5-4 tax), 2. Doigns d'Or (6-1); 3. Saint Ceolis (7-1) 18 ran 3! 3! K Bailey, Tote, £2.30, £2.00, £2.20, £1.50 DF, £10.50, CSF, £7.39. Placepot: $302.00 Quadpot: £18.20

Ripon

Going: good to fam. 2.20 (58 ). Distinctly East (5 Drowne, 20-1); 2. Welch's Dream (8-1), 3, Sich Wille (6-1) Smart Ridge 5-4 lav. 13 ran 1, 21 M Tomplans 10e. 236, 70; 55 20, 52 60, 52 00. DF 598 20 CSF; 5154 53 22 50. 22 00. DF 598 20 CSF; 2154 53 2.50 (1m 41 60)(d) 1, Pieceadity (G Caner. 14-1); 2, DY Woodslook (12-1) 3, Super-Gem (9-1); 4, Portire Sophie (25-1) Goldengirmschelle 5-1 /r-fav 18 ran 11/1 /r/k Mss Kare 1/80/gan Toler 523 70; 64 10, E2.90, E3 10, E6.90, DF: £135.00, CSF: £170 13, Tricast, £1.505.70 3.25; (Im 1f) 1, Mensa: (S Drowne, 13-2), 2, Sergeant York (14-1), 3, Bring Sweets (9-2) Canta Ke Brave (5th) 2-1 /av, 6 ran NR Adelph Bby, 3 2 M Tomphyns Tole 58 40, £3.00, £2 80, DF: £28.10, CSF, £70.86.

270:30.
4.00 (6); 1, Levelled (T Cunn, 12-1); 2.
Peopperdine (33-1), 3, Young Browing
(11-1), 4, Keyo (33-1), Night Flight 100-30 few 22 ren, Nir. Pure Coincidence 14, 15
M Channon Tote 21; 150; 23-50, 211-50, 23-80 28-20 DF, 2897-10 CSF, 2349-55
Tricast; 24-025,79.

4.35 (1m 4/1 60yd) 1, Christiansted (F Cochrane, 9-2), 2, Imperal Prince (25-1), 3, Aldwych Arrov (12-1), 4, Swift (7-2 lav), 20 ran, 11, 14 F Murphy Tote 55-90, 22 00 57-40 DF 5281-30 CSF: 5116-50, Tracast, 51 23200

5.10 (1m) 1. The Cuare Fellow (G Hard. 1-2 tay): 2, Rose Dream (6-1), 3, Sunstane Boy (9-2), 11 ran 2, 61 J Gos-den, Tota: 21:60, 21:10, 22:50, 21:50, DF, 26:30 CSF- 23:55 5.45 (Im 20 t . Ultre Calm (P Goode. 12-1) 2 Trois Elles (33-1) 3. Nightglade (50-1) 4 Gilou (25-1) Rum Pointer 5-2 (av 25 tan 3: 24 P Hastam Tote (17 00 63 60 69 90, 523.10, 57 90 DF, 536-10 CSF (5346 05 Tricast 115 01

8.15 (175. 1 Tier Worker IJ Forune 9-21 2 Scilego (100-30) 3. Angels Venture (4-7 fer.) 10 ran 118 Time Love. 11 2: 7 Easterby 101e 15.40 51.20. 51.30. 51 10 0F. 55.50 CSF 517.29 True Love (12 Triwes withcrewn not under orders Rule 4 ages 200%, deduction 5p m the bound to all cets. Jackpot: not won (pool of £4,537.97 carried forward to Aintree today).
Placepot: £3,808.10 Quadpot: £103.70

£15.917.28

SHEEHAN on BRIDGE

By Robert Sheehan, bridge correspondent Your opponents bid confidently to Six No-Trumps and you find yourself on lead with a suit headed by the ace and king.

Are you tempted to double? If you automatically answer "yes"

then today's hand may give you pause for thought.

Dealer West Love all CA4 4654 ÖKQ108765 W E 🤭 932 S ♣ QJ2 ▲ AKQJ1093 ೮೩ ^ K65 493 Chamla Forrester Pass 1 S 4 H 4 NT 3 H 3 NT 6 NT Pass 6 D Pass

Double Pass All Pass Contract: Seven Spades by South. Lead: king of hearts.

This was the most dramatic deal at the 1999 Cap Gemini tournament. The first five bids of the auction are easy enough to understand. Tony Forrester's Four No-Trumps was no doubt designed to show his partner that he held a source of tricks and Zia judged the situation perfectly by jumping to Six Diamonds. He was right in the sense that his side could make sixteen tricks with diamonds as trumps but only after East-West had taken the first two in clubs. clear to Forrester and he retreated to Six No-Trumps. Could it be that at this point Chemla was blinded by his own smoke screen? He ventured a double.

Fearing the worst but real-ising that Levy would be on lead if he were declarer. Forrester advanced to Seven Spades. The spotlight was on West. What would he lead?

From the bidding it seems reasonable to place North with the ace of hearts and a good diamond suit. That would appear to mark East with values in clubs but Levy led a heart and a grateful declarer recorded +1510. East could have avoided all the heartache by bidding Four Clubs at his second The situation was not so turn but that would have 26 spoiled the story.

☐ Robert Sheehan writes on bridge Monday to Friday in Sport and in the Weekend 31 Rg1 32 Bd3 section on Saturday.

WORD-WATCHING

By Philip Howard

LEDGIT

a. Legitimate b. A book mark c. A foot-rest

a. A dog's bladder b. An Irish wench e. A blackthorn dub MAHOE a. A gardening tool

b. A tree c. An Antipodean grape MONGIBEL a. A volocano

b. A man-eating monster Answers on page 50 KEENE on CHESS

By RAYMOND KEENE CHESS CORRESPONDENT

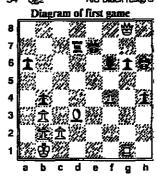

Dos Hermanas

The annual tournament at Dos Hermanas in Spain has attracted a powerful entry. comprising Anand, Kramnik. Topalov, Adams, Polgar, Kar-pov, Illescas, Gelfand, Svidler and Korchnoi. In the first round Britain's hope, Michael Adams, inflicted defeat on the powerful Russian, Peter Svidler, while Judith Polgar achieved a major upset by winning in 34 moves against world number two Viswanath-an Anand. White: Michael Adams Black: Peter Svidler Dos Hermanas 1999 Sicilian Defence

cxd4 Nf6 Nxd4 Nc3 b5 b4 Be7 Nf4 Bxb3 Qe7 29 Qxd6+ 30 Qb8+ Kg7 Kh6 33 QgS Black resigns White: Judith Polgar Black: Viswanathan Anand Dos Hermanas 1999

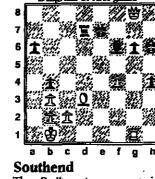

Sicilian Defence cxd4 Nf6 a6 e6 Nc3 g4 Nf5 gxf5 d5 d4 exf5 Rg1 g\f6 Ra7 a5 Rb7 Rof5 Roc8 Byf5 Rxf5 Rd1 Kg8 Kf8 Black resigns Diagram of first game

Southend The Redbus tournament in Southend ended in joint victory for grandmasters James Plaskett and Bogdan Lalic.

WINNING MOVE

from the game Chernin - Womacka. German League 1999. In this position it looks as if White's central control is balanced by Black's queenside counterplay. However, White

By Raymond Keene

White to play. This position is found a winning break-through. What did he play? Solution on page 50

Cricket goes

first class

for long haul

Richard Hobson looks forward to a congested and lengthy new season that gets under way today

TO FOLLOW the English

cricket season through its course requires stamina, tolerance and a keen sense of orientation. Never before has the programme started as early as it does today and, if the 1998

schedule seemed to be confusing, then it stands as a model of simplicity alongside the 165 long days ahead.

That it should begin in the spring tranquility of Fenner's and The Parks remains at least one constant was despited.

least one constant, yet, despite unseasonally mild weather, the crowds will be sparse and even passive interest limited. For Lancashire and Worcestershire, who take on Cambridge and Oxford University respectively, this is little more

Despite the swollen calendar, the demise of the contest between the county champions and MCC or England A is sented an early insight into the selectors' thinking for subsequent international fixtures.

bridge retain first-class status

bold step of merging with Oxford Brooke's University — the former polytechnic - to try to attract young cricketers unable to meet the stiff academic requirements of the

The England and Wales Cricket Board will announce shortly six universities designated as centres of excellence.

They will enjoy games against the counties, although it is un-clear if they will be classified first-class. Regardless, an initiative to allow talented youngsters the opportunity to continue to play to a testing stand-ard without forsaking educa-

Delegates from the counties, along with MCC, approved the idea at the First Class Forum meeting last week. Decisions on the trame-work of the game next season were deferred, but, flicking through the fixture list for 1999, it seems perverse that more cricket, including the prospect of a new 25-over com-taining a structure for succes-and the public a degree of fa-petition, will be introduced.

tion has to be applauded.

Whether Oxford and Cam-than extended net practice.

CRICKET

England are no match for peerless Pakistan

FROM RICHARD HOBSON IN SHARJAH

SHARJAH (Pakistan won toss): Pakistan beat England

A FEISTY, belatedly thrilling partnership between Graeme Hick and Andrew Flintoff could not disguise the fact that England were heavily beaten by a highly-motivated Pakistan side at the CBFS Stadium yesterday. Although conditions in Sharjah could hardly contrast more strikingly to those back home, the enormity of this defeat - the seventh in eight one-day internationals ought to alarm the selectors just five weeks before the start of the World Cup. Inferior in every department, England conceded their highest total in this form of cricket, with the Pakistan innings of 323 for five underpinned by Ijaz Ahmed, who scored 137 from 130 balls. No England batsman could match him and unless the side recovers to beat India tomorrow, the prospects of qualifying for the final of the triangular tournament will be Briefly, Hick, who made 65. and Flintoff, whose 50 included four sixes, suggested that, in conditions heavily in favour of the batsmen, something akin to a miracle might materialise. However, Saqlain Mushtag claimed both wickets in the space of four balls to expose the lower order.

Pakistan have undergone a transformation since Wasim Akram returned as captain at the start of the year. They must now be considered even as potential winners of the tournament beginning on May 14. The confidence brimming through the ranks just three days after winning the Pepsi Cup in Bangalore became apparent from the first legitimate delivery, propelled to the boundary by Saeed Anwar and coursed through the innings until Moin Khan struck the last two balls for six. That Flintoff, making his international debut in one-day cricket, should be entrusted with the last over suggested that Alec Stewart wants to assess the young Lancashire all-rounder under pressure. Despite bearing the brunt of the powerful late hitting. Flintoff can be judged neither better nor worse than his more experienced colleagues.

Collectively England failed to maintain a consistent line and length on a slow surface permitting little margin for error. A listless performance in the field could at least be mitigated in part by afternoon temperatures in the high 30s

Ijaz paddles the ball round to the leg side during his explosive innings of 137 in 130 deliveries for Pakistan yesterday

16-hour journey from the training camp in Lahore.

Ijaz Ahmed found an effective foil in Shahid Afridi during a partnership of 87 in 17 overs for the second wicket before Inzamam-ul-Hag, restraining his aggressive instincts, pro-

PAKISTAN

PARISTAN
Saced Anwar c Stewart b Gough...
(27 balls, 1 ex. 2 fours)
Stehled Artidi c Gough b Ealtern...
(54 bells, 1 ex. 3 fours)
Maz Ahmed c Hick b Gough...
(100 balls, 1 sv. 12 fours)
Inzamam-ul-Heq c Hick b Gough...
(46 balls, 3 fours)
Wassin Alvam c Hollicake b Flinto
(15 balls, 3 fours)
(15 balls, 3 fours)

(0 bells) Extras (b 1, lb 10, w 3, nb 4)_ to Hick at long-off. In his next vided even stouter support in a stand of 145 at more than a run over, Gough accounted for Inzamam as the stocky batsman per ball. Ijaz struck Croft on to attempted a similar stroke, having scored 59 from 64 balls the roof of the pavilion as he raised the tempo soon after with just three fours. A fine. completing a half-century. low catch by Adam Hollioake Stewart rotated the bowlers in diving to his right at deep cover vain before liaz drove Gough to remove Wasim represented in Sharjah to extend their database on the opposition. If he quick enough to make life extremely unpleasant for batsmen. Undaunted when Stewart struck him for successive boundaries in his first over, he responded by taking three wickets in a fiery new-ball spell timed at 95 miles per hour. Knight played on to the tenth ball of the innings and Stewart edged an attempted drive to Inzamam at slip.

Thorpe flattered with some well-timed strokes, but the clip off his legs that found short mid-wicket was not among them and Azhar Mahmood breached Fairbrother's defences. Then it was just a damage an England fielder.

England are using the time did not know so already, David Lloyd, the coach, can now log the fact that Shoaib Akhtar is a shame. If nothing else, it prefar into the next millennium must be considered a matter of doubt. For cricketing purposes, Oxford have reacted to the possibility of being downgraded by taking the

involved in the World Cup. The National League, emtion, replaces what used to be known as the Sunday League, before games became allocated ed to different days of the alli 10015 week, seemingly at random Rather than starting grandly with a full programme, it begins in dribs and drabs 0111220 Leicestershire Hampshire on April 17 in the first division, with another game — plus two from the second division — a day later. Once again, the championship is peripatetic. At least Leicestershire, defending the title, have been allowed the courtesy of playing in the first. ing start

Takil

QUANCESTATE A 16-page guide to the coming season, with full details of the World Cup and domestic competitions

courtesy of playing in the first National League from 50 m 45

overs before it has even begun surpassed the previous capaci-

U-turn on a moratorium on overseas players for a mai year when the best will be for tinkering, as did the round of matches, against Essex at Chelmsford starting on Tuesday next week. Do not, however, make the mistake of thinking that this sets the tone. By the middle of May, four-day games will have begun on five different days of the week. An expansion of the Nat-West Trophy to 60 teams represents another minefield to the unwary. As well as the minor counties, it features recreational teams from each of the first-class counties, comprising the best club cricketers in the area. Denmark are also admitted for the first time.

The World Cup will nudge county affairs into the background well before England open the tournament against Sri Lanka at Lord's on May 14. In the week before, any. number of disgruntled sweats have the opportunity to press a point in warm-up matches between the 12 competing nations and the counties.

By far the most intriguing takes place at Canterbury on Clearly, the concept of re-May 7, when Kent entertain England - a throwback to the sive seasons, allowing players days of Alfred Mynn and Fuller Pilch. Surely this conmiliarity, is anathema to hyfirms that, however much peractive decision-makers. people tamper with the game. no idea is original, simply 2 variation of a theme.

Paul Todd gives the pitch at The Parks a final roll before the game there today. Photograph: Ben Gurr

42.4-0]. Segiain Mushroq 7.3-0-23-3 (w 3.1 sxc 5-0-17-0, 2-0-42, 0.5-0-2-1]. Ashina Mehmood 10-1-55-1 (1 sx. 6 lours, one spell). Shahid Afridi 9-0-53-3 (3 stes. 2 lours. 5-0-3-0, 4-0-19-3). Salim Melik 2-0-17-0 (1 sxc one spell) Umphras: K Trancis Sh Lanka) and D Rob-inson (Zimbabwe). Tistrd umphra: D B Har (Australia). Reterrer: S Wettmuny (Sn Lanka). Compiled by Bill Francial McGrath mars match-winning performance

ANTIGUA (final day of five): Austrlia beat West Indies by

IT MAY have been enough to make any red-blooded fast bowler spit, but it cost Glenn McGrath a fine, a reprimand and a warning before he delivered the victory that Australia craved to maintain their grip on the Frank Worrell Trophy.

McGrath did not have to stoop to anything so distaste-ful. Adrian Griffith, who had been forced to retire hurt when McGrath hit him on the elbow, had defied Australia for almost five hours, but there were still 215 hours and 41 overs remaining when Mc-Grath had Corey Colymore caught at third slip to give him

AN EXCLUSIVE PRIZE DRAW

FROM PAT GIBSON IN ANTIGUA

series and Australia victory by 176 runs to ensure that the series ended level at 2-2.

Few in the stands noticed anything untoward as the umpires removed the bails at the end of the fourth day, but the all-seeing eye of television captured the unattractive spectacle of McGrath spitting on the pitch in the vicinity of Griffith Just in case officialdom had missed it. Brian Lara, the West Indies captain, drew it to the attention of Raman Subba Row, the match referee, and, after studying several television replays, he charged Mc-Grath with bringing the game

IN HERES AND THE S

SCOREBOARD FROM SHARJAH

BOWLING: Gough 10-1-55-3 (nb 3, w 1, 4 laurs, 1 sx; 51-261, 2-0-80, 3-0-21-2) Martin 19 (10-0-84-0 (w 2, 9 laurs, 7-0-35-0, 2-0-15-0, 10-13-0); Eathern 10-0-62-1 (nb 1; 4 laurs; one spail; Chrift 60-36-0 (2 sses; one spail; Hotillantes 5-0-30-0 (surs; 4-0-24-0, 10-6-0), High 2-0-13-0 (one spail); Filmbolf 7-0-62-1 (2 sres, 5 laurs, 4-0-25-0, 3-0-37-1).

ENGLAND

N V Knight & Shoalb.

At the subsequent hearing. Subba Row accepted that, in the act of spitting. McGrath was not actually aiming at Griffith but found that because the incident had been seen by so many television viewers if not too many spectators, it demanded disciplinary action. Consequently, Mc-Grath was reprimanded, warned and, since he was already under a suspended sentence of 30 per cent of his match fee (about £900) for abusing Alan Mullally during the sixth Test at Melbourne earlier this year, fined. McGrath, whose sustained aggression has done more than anything to quell the great West Indies revival in this series, apologised for "something which occurred on the spur of the moment" and later shook hands with Griffith. There was more frustration for him yesterday when Griffith, a left-hander from Barbados playing in only his third Test, continued to defy all his attempts to get him out. West Indies had lost Jimmy Adams in the third over after they resumed on 105 for four when he overbalanced as Colin Miller surprised him with a quicker ball and lan Healy completed a brilliant leg-side stumping.

Griffith, who often seemed to be all at sea against Mc-Grath, managed to see him off and went on to survive comfortably enough against the swing of Adam Dale and the spin of Miller and Stuart MacGill.

Ridley Jacobs kept Griffith company for 25 overs before Steve Waugh, the captain, turned again to the medium pace of Greg Blewett, who had already taken the important wicket of Carl Hooper. Again Blewett did the trick, surprising Jacobs with his skiddy pace to have him leg-before and, though Nehemiah Perry survived to lunch, the new ball was due soon afterwards and McGrath took it at 189 and resumed his assault on Griffith. However, it was MacGill who began to pick his way through the tail. Perry slogged him to mid-wicket and, when the leg spinner bowled Curtly Ambrose, West Indies were 190 for eight with 45 overs remaining.

Griffith's long vigil ended on 56 when he was given out leg-before playing no stroke to a MacGill leg-break and it was only a matter of time before McGrath completed one of the greatest fast bowling performances seen even in these

SCOREBOARD FROM ANTIGUA

Ambrose 5 for 94). Second Innings 306 (J L Langer 127, M E Waugh 65, C A Walsh 4 for 78) WEST INDIES: First Innings 222 (B C

Second Innings

Extras (b 5, lb 12, mb 3) FALL OF WICKETS: 1-56, 2-58, 3-69, 4-87, 5-105, 6-145, 7-184, 8-190,

BOWLING. McGrath 35.5-15-50-3; Dale 12-5-28-1; MacGit 26-8-80-3; Miller 21-10-27-1, Blewett 8-3-9-2. Umpires. D.L. Orchard (South Africa) and S.A. Bucknor.

RUGBY LEAGUE: LONDON BRONCOS CAPTAIN FACES DECISION ON WEMBLEY START

Edwards far from final thumbs-up

SHAUN EDWARDS, the London Broncos captain, is considering whether he should risk permanent injury by making a record-extending eleventh Silk Cut Challenge Cup final app-earance at Wembley against Leeds Rhinos next month. A specialist has advised the former Great Britain scrum half not to play for up to 12 weeks after he broke his right thumb in the semi-final defeat of Castleford Tigers. Edwards played the second half of the match and six days afterwards against Hull Sharks using painkillers before going for Xrays. "It's broken in a really bad place and if it doesn't set properly, I might end up with very bad arthritis — and I'm right-handed," Edwards said. Dan Stains, the Broncos coach, is reluctant to rule out a player with such a learless reputation as Edwards, who BY CHRISTOPHER IRVINE

WORD-WATCHING

(b) A label projecting from a leaf of a book.

From from ledge + it. The Bookseller, 1885: "Half-bound, with Parchment Ledgits for the

(a) A dog's skin blown up as a bladder, and used to float the herring-nets. The Manx word.

As empty as a mollag = quite empty. As full as a mollag = dead drunk. "Your head's as empty as a mollag."

played on with a fractured eye socket during Wigan's 1990 cup final defeat of War-

Meanwhile, London hope to have Robbie Simpson, Robbie Beazley and Peter Gill back in their pack for the visit to the Stoop Memorial Ground tomorrow night of St Helens, the JJB Super League leaders. However, their front-row problems have not been helped by an injury to Matt Salter in the defeat at Leeds on Monday.

LEDGIT

MOLLAG

After a 30-14 league defeat away to Halifax on Tuesday night. Andy Gregory, the Salford Reds coach, summoned his players to a 7am training session yesterday, accusing some of them of living in "thecomfort zone". Malcolm Alker, the Salford hooker, has sprung a shoulder, but Gregory hopes to have Gary Broadbent at full back and David Hulme at loose forward for the visit of Castleford.

MONGIBEL

(b) The New Zealand Whitewood tree, Melicytus ramiflorus. "Mahoe grows to a height of noti more than 50 feet."

(a) Mount Etna. From Monte Gibello. From the Arabic jabal - a mountain. "Within us we' felt too often such furnaces or Mongibels or Mongibels of fires."

SOLUTION TO WINNING MOVE 1 Qxc6! and if 1 ... dxc6 2 Rd8+ Qf8 3 Rxf8+ Kxf8. 4 Rd8+ Ke7 5 Nxc6+ Kf6 6 Nxb8 and White.

Perfect for sightseeing: Trelissick Gardens, Falmouth harbour and town centre

● Today The Times, in association with the Virgin One account, offers readers the Chance to win a lovely cottage in the typical Cornish village of Perranwell Station. Smithy Cottage, with its two bedrooms and pretty garden, is the ideal holiday home. Close to Truro and an 18-hole golf course, our prize cottage will provide the lucky winner with the perfect place from which to watch the eclipse of the sun on August 11. HOW TO ENTER Collect 19 Times tokens and two tokens from The Sunday Times and attach them to an entry form which will appear again next Tuesday. Tokens will appear up to April 18 and a bonus token will be published. tomorrow. The winner will be chosen at random from all entries received by Friday, April 30, 1999. Normal Times Newspapers prize draw rules apply. The terms and conditions will appear again on Saturday.

 The One account offers a 24-hour, seven-day telephone banking service and, by bringing together all your banking and borrowing, gives you the opportunity to save thousands of pounds in interest charges on your mortgage. Even if you are not lucky by finding out how much a Virgin One account could save you by making the most of all your money.

For the altimate in financial flexibility. call the Virgin One account 08456 000 00 1

CHANGING TIMES

صكدا سالاص

to ng ni-

he

tably, follow. Such concern is nothing new. After the first Grand National in 1839, one newspaper in Liverpool savaged the race as "an affront to humanitarian principles" and, from that day, the accusation has become an annual event.

public disapproval will, inevi-

"The ard"

W new av 10day

The Company

Times and the Dal Lagor

and the second s

· Linds 10 &

YEAVOR AND

tails of the

i ( up and

As far as we know, the Oueen has not yet called in the Prime Minister over the dangers of Aintree, but another sport that had its infancy in the nineteenth century did

Taking the pursuit of danger to its peak

not get off so lightly. The first great accident in mountain climbing occurred in 1865, when four of a team of seven fell to their deaths on the Matterhorn. Queen Victoria was so far from being amused that she called in Gladstone to get the new and dangerous Sport banned.

The tragedy that caused such a wave of excitement, grief and indignation came only two hours after a party. led by Edward Whymper, the English climber, had achieved the first ascent of

More than a century later, Alan Lyall, another climber (with an obsession to match that of Whymper) has devoted years of his life to producing a mountain of a book, a magnificently encyclopaedic guide to the most famous accident in climbing history.

<sup>6</sup>Many English gentlemen were caught in a rough race to the top<sup>7</sup>

On July 14, 1865, a team composed of Whymper, Charles Hudson, a clergyman, Lord Francis Douglas, the beir to the Marquess of Queensberry, and Douglas Haddow, a 19-year-old novice son, also Peter, as guides, set out for the Matterhorn.

The climb proved to be easier than they feared, but during the descent things went horribly wrong. Haddow slipped and pulled Hudson, Croz and Douglas with him. The rope between the elder Taugwalder and Douglas broke and the four fell 4,000ft to their deaths. Eventually, Whymper and the Taugwalders returned, terrified, to Zermatt. The next day, Whymper recovered three of the bodies. The body of Lord Douglas was never found. In the great flurry of of public speculation that followed, the British press asked how four could have fallen (including two experienced climbers and a renowned guide) while three remained safe. Ruclimber, with Michel Croz. mours spread that Whymper Peter Taugwalder and his or Taugwalder had cut the or Taugwalder had cut the rope to save their own skins.

An inquiry was set up at Zermatt, but, despite days of interrogations, no charges were made and rumours persisted. Dozens of letters were published in The Times and Whymper himself was obliged to give an account of the incident in the newspaper in August, 1865. An editorial in The Times asked "why the best blood of England was to inaccessible peaks". These English gentlemen. like many since, were actually caught up in a rough, tough race to be first to the top. National pride added an edge to the adventure. Whymper had initially persuaded Jean-Antoine Carel, an Italian climber, to attempt the mountain with him. Bad waste itself scaling hitherto

A contemporary illustration of the Matterhorn tragedy

weather ruled that out — but on July 11, while Whymper was still asleep, Carel and a team set out to conquer the Matterhorn. Whymper was outraged and the race was on. When the English party no footprints in the snow, Whymper realised that they had won and hurled rocks down the Italian side of the mountain to let Carel's party know they had been beaten.

In London, Queen Victoria's private secretary wrote to the Prime Minister: 'The Queen commands me to ask if you think she can say anything to mark her disapproval of the dangerous Alpine ex-cursions which this year have occasioned so much loss of life." Gladstone replied that he saw "no room for action". If the Victorians had any doubts about the thoroughness of the enquiry in Zermatt, they would have none about the exhaustive archive assembled by Lyall. He is a lawyer and his book is the case for the defence of Whymper and climbing as a sport.

Mountaineering survived the avalanche of public hostijity that this first and most famous accident heaped upon it, but whenever there is a death on the mountains, in the canyons or in any other dangerous sport, the public will be baffled by the attempts of sportsmen to explain why they take such risks.

Lyall covers every inch of the Matterhorn and every detail of the fall, but can never quite explain what drives the climber to the top. If you really want to know what makes men play with danger and death on the mountains, you are left clinging to the words of George Mailory.

Asked why he wanted to climb Everest, he replied: "Because it's there." Mallory lies where he died, close to the top of his mountain. ☐ The First Descent of the Matterhorn by Alan Lyall is available from Henry Sother-an Ltd. Phone: 0171 439 6151.

JOHN BRYANT

FOOTBALL

Vialli looks to make flying start

THE flight to triumph in the Cup Winners' Cup is mostly made up of runway and Chelsea, in three rounds against markedly inferior opponents, have been trundling over the tarmac for seven months. However, tonight, in the first leg of the semi-final, Gianluca Vialli's side will have to take wing if they hope to land in the final, at Villa Park on May 19. and retain the trophy.

Playing against Real Mallorca at Stamford Bridge, one virtue must be ditched. Chelsea are renowned for the patience of their style, but it will not be enough simply to lap against the Spanish dub's defence. Coastal erosion has never removed a cliff in just 90 minutes. Although Mallorca are not a particularly tall team. they are capable of monumen-

Whatever other advantages they retain. Chelsea, who have scored 45 times in 30 FA Carling Premiership matches, have conceded wryly that they will not beat Manchester Unile on goal differ ence. The side has made good progress with a strategy that is, in essence, conservative. To some extent, the approach has been foisted upon them.

Part of Chelsea's intended decamped to panache when Brian Denmark Laudrup decided that he would be happier in his homeland. Nonetheless, there is a worldliness to Vialli, the player-manager. He is relatively new to the post, but, as a veteran footballer, he carries in his mind the old tradition of painstaking prudence that used to define the sport in Italy. Chelsea are talented enough to adopt different guises. A year ago, at the same stage of tournament, they produced a barnstorming performance to score three goals in the second leg after Vicenza had taken the lead. A recreation of the mood and catapulting attacks of that occasion may be called for against a resolute Mallorca.

Both Real Madrid and Barcelona have been beaten by Mallorca this season and they now represent Spain's last genuine prospect of a European trophy, after Atletico Madrid's decisive 3-1 defeat at home by Parma in the Uefa Cup on

The environment that they enter this evening will cause them no disquiet. In the quarter-final, an overawed Valerenga looked as they might be more intent on collecting autographs at Stamford Bridge than in writing their own names into the history books. Mallorca, accustomed to trips to the Nou Camp and the Santiago Bernabéu, will not be so stagestruck in West London. The Cup Winners' Cup has, so far, been a per project for Vialli and its matches bring the most regular sightings of the forward. He chose himself for both games with Valerenga and will probably take part ing test. While Graham Rix, Vialli's customary lieutenant, serves a prison sentence, Ray Wilkins holds the supervisory role on the sidelines.

It is Vialli's judgment that will be applied to the case of Gustavo Poyet. The Uruguayan has not started a match since Boxing Day, when his knee was badly injured, and on his return, as a substitute in the victory away to Charlton Athletic on Saturday, his display was convalescent in tone. The player has doubts over the depth of his fitness, but pointed out that he returned, after six months of recovery from cruciate ligament damage, to face Vicenza last season.

Vialli will contemplate using him in some capacity, so important has been his knack of supplying the breakthrough with a goal from midfield.

Roa, who is excelling with Mallorca in Spain, made his name as the man who knocked England out of the World Cup

Roa's savings account swelling

here is always something about a Latin American goalkeep-er. René Higuita eave us the scorpion save at Wembley, José Luis Chilavert was the magnificent prima donna of the World Cup and, tonight. Carlos Roa intends to stand defiant against Cheisea Roa is the Argentina goalkeeper who saved penalties from Paul Ince and David Batty to eliminate England from the World Cup last summer. He organises the meanest desence in Spain, where his team, Real Mallorca, have remained stubbornly among the Primera Liga leaders by conceding less than a goal a game — 21 in 28 matches. Modest with it, Roa, who typically let nothing pass him last weekend when Mallorca won 2-0 away to Villarreal. said: "We don't let in many, but it's down to the whole team's hard graft. We're a disciplined side who work hard defensively all over the pitch." Roa read speculation that Manchester United looked his way for a successor to Peter Schmeichel, but he would have difficulty fulfilling the Rob Hughes, Chief Sports Writer, on an Argentine goalkeeper threatening to block English hopes still play some games on Saturday afternoons. As a Seventh Day Adventist, this goal-Spanish Sunday routine.

The island community. with its modest 14,000-seat Lluis Sitiar stadium, supports a club built on Wimbledon finances and Arsenal method. Hector Cuper, the coach, also an Argentinian, last season blended Mallorca into a side that finished fifth in Spain, but those players quickly dispersed. Nine were sold off, but Cuper took other people's casts-offs and welded them

DETAILS

CHELSEA (possibler, 4-4-2): E de Goey — A Ferrer, M Dessally, F Leboeuf, G Le Saux — D Petrescu, D Wise, R D Matteo, G Poyer — G Visili, G Zola. REAL MALLORCA (possible, 4-4-2) C Ros — X Olazota, G Sunaro, Marce fino, M Soler — Lauren, Y Engonga, A Beguza, V Paunovic — Danu, É Bageni

Reference D Joi (The Netherlands)

TELEVISION: Channel 5. live, from 7.30.

through camaraderie and So, at a profit of £7 million, team ethic.

"Dani" Garcia, a striker Madrid, Vicente Engonga, a midfield enforcer, and Elena Marcelino, a tough centre back, have all gained international caps late in their careers. Next, Cuper plundered Lanus, his former club on the outskirts of Buenos Aires, for Gustavo Siviero, an uncompromising central defender.

Trom Lanus, too, came Ariel Ibragaza, a mid-field player, and Ari-el "Chupa" Lopez, a striker, though the latter might start on the bench, replaced by Leonardo Biagini. inevitably Argentinian.

Completing his brew, the coach has two Yugoslavs -Veljko Paunovic, whom Chelsea must prevent from creating on the right, and Jovan Stankovic, who would run the other flank were he not suspended. Lauren Etama-May-

(Scot) 5-3. M Williams (Wales) bt C Harmson (Eng) 5-2. M King (Eng) to D Morgan (Wales) 5-3. F O'Brien (Int) bt B Jones (Eng) 5-4: S Davis (Eng) bt M Judge (Ine) 5-3: B O'Sutiliven (Eng) bt P Davves (Wales) 5-0. J Higgins (Scot) bt T Murphy (N Ine) 5-1. C Small (Scot) bt D Penny (Scot) 5-3: N Wales (Eng) bt A Davies (Wales) 5-2: P Ebdon (Eng) bt A Davies (Wales) 5-2: P Ebdon

(Eng) bt A Daves (Wales) 5-2; P Ebdon (Eng) bt M Gray (Eng) 5-4

SOUASH

SRA MATIONAL LEAGUE: Semi-finals: UK Packaging 4 UNW Northumberland 1 (T Gamer bi T Hands 15-10, 14-15, 15-5, 15-9, J Weijings bi J Dale 11-15, 15-1, 15-5, 12-16, 15-6, 5 Cowle bt P Misrogon 15-8, 15-5, 15-5; L Jemmet bi D Woodman 15-9, 15-10, 14-15, 15-6; L Chermen lost to J Marin 5-9, 9-2, 10-8, 3-9, 5-9); Capital One Notimohem sep Paties Bar.

Notingham wo Potters Bar.

NSL CUP: Quarter-tinet: Capital One Notlingham 1 Dunraven Windows Massing 2.

TENNIS

er, from Cameroon, forms a partnership with Engonga in front of the back four that does for Mallorca what Vieira and Petit do for Arsenal. "Nobody," Engonga said, "beats us at running.

Cuper has recast Mallorca in the cosmopolitan manner of When the Argentinian observed that Chelsea have great players but that nothing intimidates his team, it is no idle boast. The new Mallorca have beaten Barcelona, Real Madrid and thrashed Atlético Madrid 4-0. Not until late January, when Mallorca skidded in torrential rain to a 4-2 defeat away to Celta Vigo, was Roa's goal breached more than once in a match.

"Lettuce", as the vegetarian Roa is known to his teammates, has never been so wet or so exposed. In the Cup Winners' Cup, Heart of Midlothian, Racing Genk, of Belgium, and Varteks Varazdin, of Croatia, have been squeezed out with a miserly aggregate of six goals to three. Cuper said: "Chelsea are technically very good, but I'd never regard an opposing team as one we cannot beat."

O'Leary decides to retain Korsten

By Stephen Wood

LEEDS United are expected to complete the permanent signing of Willem Korsten, the midfield player, who has been on loan at Elland Road for the past three months. Korsten, whose registration papers are still held by Vitesse Arnhem. the Dutch club, has impressed David O'Leary, the Leeds manager, during the loan spell. The fee could rise to £1.5 million and O'Leary will aim to complete the deal before April 15, the transfer deadline day in The Netherlands.

O'Leary said: "Only time will tell whether we will be able to get another two or three people during the summer, but for now, Korsten will be a nice acquisition for us."

O'Leary wants at least another centre back and striker. Alan Stubbs, the Celtic defender, has expressed a wish to return to English football and O'Leary is believed to be interested in signing the former Bolton Wanderers player.

Charlton Athletic are investigating a proposal to build a new stadium at the Millennium Dome site in Greenwich. The site is only half a mile away from their present home at The Valley and a new stadium would increase the club's existing crowd capacity from Paul Jones, the Southampton goalkeeper, could miss the rest of the season through iniury. Jones, 31, suffered back spasms before Wales's European championship qualifying match against Switzerland last week and is awaiting the results of a scan that will dictate whether he can play again before June.

Halifax Town, the Nationwide League third division club, have dismissed Kieron O'Regan, their manager, and Andy May, O'Regan's assistant. Dave Worthington has been appointed on a game-togame basis.

Edilson, a left back with Red Star Belgrade, of Yugoslavia, is expected to arrive for a trial with Liverpool tomorrow. If the Brazil-born player impres-ses, the Anfield club could make the move permanent for about £500,000.

New back treatment benefits Heskey

By Chris Moore

EMILE HESKEY, the Leicester City striker who has been handicapped by a back injury, has returned to action after revolutionary training sessions with David Rennie, a physiotherapist and former swimming international.

Leicester's club doctors had suspected that Heskey's injury was related to a stress fracture, but tests by Rennie at the East Midlands therapy clinic in Loughborough diagnosed an imbalance of the muscles in his back. Rennie holds a degree in sports science.

Mick Yeoman, the Leicester City physio, said: "His muscles have not been firing together properly. This condition will not show up medically. It's something that's a bit off the wall. "Emile has been suffering from back spasms for several months. Ten minutes into a game, his back would seize up. We'd massage it at half-time, but gradually it just took

"He was assessed for two weeks at the clinic and has spent the last two weeks undergoing special training and exercises with David Rennie. He has a session with him before he trains with the rest of the players and another two-

"It usually involves sprinting and cycling while timed on a heart-rate monitor. It's a new concept and there's no one else in the country specialising in it."

Yeoman said that Heskey was initially sceptical about the treatment — "but since beginning this treatment, he's really picked up and is now a different person mentally. "He came in at half-time against Spurs last Saturday pain-free but was still very concerned that the discomfort would soon come back. We had to reassure him it wouldn't. He had a blinder in the second half."

Heskey has lost 9lb in nine days and is "ahead of schedule" on his recovery programme. "David Rennie thinks he has only reached 80 per cent of his overall fitness potential," Yeoman said.

FOOTBALL IN BRIEF

Coucens Park Rangers are likely to release up to 20 players in the summer in a bid to ease their wage bill. The club has been losing nearly £100,000 a week since dropping out of the FA Carling Premiership three years ago.

There are 44 professionals on the books, compared to 24 when they played in the Premiership. Steve Morrow, the former Arsenal midfield player player, and Gavin Peacock. who was signed from Chelsea. and who together cost the club more than £500,000 a year, are likely top the list of those to be sold.

Gerhard Aigner, the secretary of Uefa, the European governing body, has suggested that all players should have to pass a referees' test before signing their first professional contract. Aigner also proposes that players should then referee a match once a month at local youth level. Hibernian have clinched a sponsorship deal estimated to be worth £500,000 over the next two years with Carlsberg.

■ Javier Margas, the West ham United and Chile international defender, has told Nelson Acosta, the national coach, that he wants to retire because he is exhausted by the demands of the game. Margas 29, has played only a handful of games for the club since signing from Universidad Catolica.

BASEBALL

NATIONAL LEAGUE: San Diego 4 Colorado 3; Cincinnati 6 San Francisco 7; Flonda 3 New York Mets 12; Pitisburgh 8 Montinasi 2; Atlantia 11; Philadelphia 3; Houston 4 Chicago Cubs 2; Los Angeles 3 Arizona 2 (10/ms) AMERICAN LEAGUE: Minnesota 6 Toronto 1; Taxas 6 Detroil 0; Anahern 6 Cleveland 5; Osidand 4 New York Yankees 7, Seattle 3 Chicago White Sox 11.

MATIONAL ASSOCIATION (MEA): Phila-delphie 95 Milwanide 87: Toronto 70 Meami 92: Cleveland 98 Chicago 99; New York 72 Orlando 81, Washington 93 New Jersey 97: Houston 111 Golden Sale 74; Portland 98 Vancouver 89: Seable 108 Sacramento 112 (01), Los Angeles Clopers 83 Phoenia 88, Lee Angeles Career 108 I lain 93

PIFA WORLD YOUTH CUP: Group A (n Lagos): Nigena 2 Germany (I. Group B (n Kaduna): Chana 1 Argentina (I. Group C (n spedan): Mexico 3 Australia 1.

Tuesday's late results Tuesday's late results

UEFA CUP: Semi-finals, first leg: Attético
Machid 1 Parme 3, Marsailes 0 Bologna 0
FA CAPLING PREUMERSHEP: Arsenst 1
Blackburn 0, Laicaster 2 Aston Vita 2 MATHONWIDE LEAGUE: Second division: Bournemouth 1 Macclesfield 0, Lutin 2 York 1: Walsail 1 Westham 0. Third division: Brighton 1 Cambridge Utid 3.
Strewsbury 0 Harrispool 1.
BANK OF SCOTILAND SCOTTISH PREMIERI LEAGUE: Ouncide Utid 1 Hearts 3
MYMAN LEAGUE: Second division: Tooling and Mitcham 1 Met Poice 0. Third divigion: Claption 1 East Thurnock 0, Lewes 6
Camberley 2

Camberley 2 LEAGUE OF WALES: Intel Cable-Tel 1 BARY 2: BREWERY LEAGUE: Premier division: Bendon 3 Brierley Hill D. Darleston 6 Smethack 2: Wastall Wood 0 Dudley Town 1 League Cap: Third round, first leg: Cradley 3 Woherhampton Casuels 1: Westfields 3 Kington 4. PORTIN'S LEAGUE: Premier division: Derty 3 Sicke 2: Everton 2 Sunderland 5. First division: Barrisky 1 West Bromeich 2 League Cap: Semi-firet: Stockport 3 Bereford 1.

2 Lingue 21.
ARNOTT INSURANCE NORTH LEAGUEFirst divinion: Chester-le-Street 1 West
Auckland 1. Easington 3 Stockton 1.
SCREWEIX DIRECT LEAGUE: Premier division: Bachweil 5 Caine 1.

In Spencer 3.
UNILET SUSSEX COUNTY LEAGUE:
First division: Eastbourne ? Harisham 1: UNDET Storage Cooking 1 Estatem 1: Frait division: Eestbourne 2 Halsham 1: Rednii 0 Ringrier 0. WINSTONI EAD KENT LEAGUE: Premier division: Stade Green 2 Faversham 1 DUTCH LEAGUE: Cambuur Leeuwarden 1 Roda JC Kerlmade 1.

fixtures because the English

FOOTBALL

Kirck off 7.30 unless stated

Cup Winners' Cup

Semi-finals, first leg

Nationwide Conference

Cheisea v Real Mallorca (7.45).... Lokomotiv Moscow v Lazio (5.0)...

Hereford v Kingstonian (7.45)...

RYMAN LEAGUE: Premier division: Purfiest v Cheshem (7.45). League Cup: Semi-dinal, second leg: Alcestrol v Bromley, First division: Leyton Permant v Series. Second division: Thame Utol v

ENDSLEIGH CHALLENGE TROPHY: Semi-final, second leg: Doncaster (2) v Morecambe (1) (7.45). SMIRNOFF IRISH LEAGUE First divi-

SMIRNOFF HIGH LEAGUE: First divi-sion: Dugarion Swifts v Carock (7 45) FAI HARP NATIONAL LEAGUE: Premier division: DIRECT LEAGUE: Premier division: Bishop Sutton v Bridgor.

BASKETBALL

HALFORD HEWITT CUP FIRST-ROUND DRAW: Malvern v Bishop's Stotton's Loretto v Wetlingborough, Ning's, Canterbury v Westmisser; Binghian v Highgate, Framlingham v Lancing; Storyhursi v Dutwich: Cardord v Epsom; Repton v Radiey, Bradfield v City of London's Chorterhouse v Downside: Warson's v Wetlington: Mil Hill v Taunton's Gresham's v Marchiston; Eon v Marborough: Ampletom v Edinburgh Academy, Uppropham v Stove, Fetties v Trent; King Edward's, Berningham v Rugby, Berkhamslad v Tonbruge; Rossall v Forest; Fetsed v Alderham, Bedford v Chigwel; Sherborne v Shrewsbury, Eastbourne v Oundle; Cdton v St Pauf's, Glenalmond v Hurspherpoint; Charlesh v Winchester. The Leys v Merchant Taylors', Bundell's v St Bees. Wrekin v Whitgit.

HOCKEY BELFAST: Under-18 Europeen Trophy: Final: England 3 Germany 2 ICE HOCKEY

FOR THE RECORD

NATIONAL LEAGUE (NHL): Carolina 4 New Jersey 2: New York Islanders 3 Buttalo 4; Phoena 0 San Jose 1

RUGBY LEAGUE JJB SUPER LEAGUE: Halifar 30 Selford 14. NORTHERN FORD PREMIERSHIP: Bramley 28 Doncaster 10

SAILING

CLIPPER ROUND-THE-WORLD RACE-Leg 4e (Hong Kong to Singapore, with miles to finish): 1, Mermerus (B Sol-lars): 574. 2, Chrysolie (T Hedges) 578. 3, Antiope (K Hams) 577. 4, Anel (A Thomson) 578; 5, Senca (R Dean) 586: 6, Taeping (N Fleming) 587, 7, Thermopykae (M Tod) 591 SNOOKER

PLYMOUTH PAVILIONS: British Open: Second round: M Holt (Eng) bt () Finbow (Eng) 5-2, B Morgan (Eng) of A McManus

TODAY'S FIXTURES

MENERVA SPARTAN SOUTH MEDLANDS LEAGUE: Premier division; Beaconsield Sycob v Harrigey, Somerseit Ambury v Royston Challenge Trophy; Senti-final: Potiers Bar v Waltham Abbey. COURAGE COMBINED COUNTIES LEAGUE: Premier division: Chessington and Hook v Cove

JEWSON EASTERN COUNTIES LEAGUE: Premier division: Viroxion COUNTIES NORTHERN COUNTIES EAST LEAGUE: Premier division: Amold Town v North Femby, Thackley v Garloth Town NORTH WESTERN TRAINS LEAGUE: First division: Glossop North End v St

CRICKET University matches 11.30 frst da; of three FENNER'S: Cambridge University v Lancastrie
THE PARKS: Ortard Uraversity

GOLF

Charterhouse chase more glory in epic

THE Halford Hewitt Cup, to the cognoscenti just as much a part of spring as daffodils and the Boat Race, starts in Kent today, maintaining a tradition that celebrates its 75th anniversary this year. The competition, "the Hewitt" to its intimates, is a knockout foursomes competition between 640 members of the Public Schools Golfing Society. On Sunday afternoon, the winners will be hailed by their peers - and they will merit the accolade, for theirs will be a victory hard won. They will have played six rounds of matchplay golf in fewer than 96 hours: no wonder it is regarded as one of the toughest tournaments in amateur golf.

The format is simple - ten players per team, five foursomes over 18 holes - but the discrepancy in handicaps will be wide.There will be teams playing at Royal Cinque Ports and Royal St George's with combined handicans in excess of 100 and others with a total of less than ten.

The holders are Charterhouse, who beat Tonbridge 3-2 last year. Both teams will be strong again, as will Shrewsbury and Malvern.

FOR FIRST TIME TELEPHONE CALLERS STAKING £25 OR MORE TODAY USING SWITCH, SOLO OR DELTA BANK OR BUILDING SOCIETY DEBIT CARDS US MASTERS GOLF 25/1 M. O'Meara 9/2 D. Duval 6/1 T. Woods 28/1 C. Montgomerie 16/1 D. Love 28/1 V. Singh 20/1 E. Eis 33/1 S. Elkington 22/1 L. Westwood 33/1 J. Furyk 25/1 F. Couples 33/1 J. Huston 33/1 N. Price 25/1 J. Leonard 25/1 P. Mickelson 40/1 S. Hoch Each way One Quarter the odds a place 1,2,3,4 or on request Each way One Fifth the odds a place 1,2,3,4,5. Others on request HE WORLD PLAYER, MATCH BETTING & TODAYS THREE BALLS TONIGHT'S 'LIVE' FOOTBALL Stamford Bridge, Kick off 7.45pm, Live on CH5. LATEST WILLIAM HILL ODDS ON TELETEXT CH4 P601/602/603 RING NOW BET NOW Free bet is a £25 correct score bet on tonight's Chelses v Mallorca match. (Please place your bet today and make your free bet TO OPEN A CREDIT ACCOUNT FREEPHONE 0800 289 892, WILLIAM HILL RULES APPLY PRICES SUBJECT TO FLUCTUATION

FREE* £25 BET

THE TIMES THURSDAY APRIL 8 1999

Changes to Augusta National bring big hitters to the fore

Pointing the way: Woods, already a champion, passes the time with Garcia, one for the future, during practice for the Masters at Augusta National

THE 63rd Masters begins this morning with animated talk of golf's new rivalry. Welcome to the dawning of an era in which Tiger Woods and David Duval will battle it out around the world as Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus did in the early Sixties and then Nicklaus and Tom Watson did in the Seventies and Eighties.

Will Mark O'Meara, the champion, help either Woods or Duval into the winner's green jacket on Sunday evening, so promising that we will be enthralled for the coming years by the derring-do of Duval, so cerebral and lowkey off the course and so thunderous on it, and Woods's insouciant power?

Such a view needs a ring of authenticity to underscore it. It does not come from Jack Nicklaus, whose absence from the Masters was likened by Greg Norman to "your wife losing the diamond out of her wedding ring". Nicklaus has played in every Masters since 1959, when he was an amateur, but he misses the event this year because he has not recovered fully after having a ceramic hip fitted three months

"I think the reason Arnold and I became a rivalry was because Arnold was winning most of the major championships and then I came along and won my first major by

Woods favoured in the long run

FROM JOHN HOPKINS, GOLF CORRESPONDENT, IN AUGUSTA

beating Arnold in a play-off and then came back in 1963 and won the Masters. So. all of a sudden, it was two fellows winning major championships against each other."

This is hardly the case with Woods, who has won one major championship — the Masters in 1997 — and Duval, who has won 11 of his past 34 events but not yet a major. That doesn't mean they aren't the two best players in the world, because I think they are." Nicklaus said, "but if you want to create a rivalry, wait until one wins the Masters and another wins the US Open. Then you've got a rivalry."

Furthermore, raising Duval and Woods to a status far above their rivals seems to be ignoring Ernie Els, who has won twice as many major championships as Woods and Duval combined and is a legitimate member of the group of great players under 30. It also holds the US PGA title and so could win two major championships in a row if he were to triumph this week, Davis Love III, who has finished in the top ten here three times in the Nineties, and Lee Westwood, whose form was impressive in Jacksonville two weeks ago.

For years now, Europe's challenge has been small in numbers but large in impact, Europeans having won ten of the past 19 Masters. Oddly, this year, when a record 18 members of the European Tour have been invited to com-

The glorious exception is Sergio García, 19, the precociously talented Spaniard who is competing in his 27th professional tournament. García, coached and guided by Severiano Ballesteros and José Maria Olazábal, is a good bet to be the first Amateur champion since Peter McEvoy in 1978 to play all four rounds.

challenge seems weaker than

There is speculation as to when Garcia will turn professional and although the informed guess is at the Spanish Open in two weeks, it is not written in stone.

Colin Montgomerie has always firmly held the view that he cannot play Augusta, that a course with such wide fairways does not reward his accuracy from the tee or his inclination to hit a high fade. Funny, that. It didn't seem to stop Nicklaus from winning If, as Nicklaus said, it is too soon to be talking of a Duval and Woods rivalry, it is not too soon to suggest that Duval may be too emotionally spent to win his third event in succes-sion, while Woods, who is close to his best, can triumph.

The changes to the course, lengthening the 2nd and 17th holes and planting 35ft pine trees on the right of the 15th. can only help Woods and the doubling of the length of some of the rough should hardly af-fect him. With his enormous length, he can get nearer to the 2nd green in two than most and so position himself better to pitch close. "Everything they have done has made it better for the long hitter," Love said. The more difficult it is always gives the advantage to the long

The Masters has been won more in the Nineties by a golfer of finesse — Faldo (1990 and 1996), Olazábal (1994), Crenshaw (1995), O'Meara (1998) than one of length — Woo-snam (1991), Couples (1992) and Woods (1997). The changes this year suggest that it will be a big hitter who will wear the green jacket. If it is Woods, then, perhaps, we can talk of a

a phrase), but most people have been pointing and saying. "Call that rough?".

because at an inch and a half

it doesn't exactly grab you round the ankles and rip

A reassuring amount of laughing and gooning takes place on practice days. On the 18th green, Fred Funk makes a putt and thrusts both arms up, O'Meara-fashion. On the 15th green, John Miller, a round-faced amateur from Indiana, lets one of his small, round-faced children make

And at the short i6th hall across the water. so that it

bounces four times and reaches the safety of the far bank, to

Who will look and applause.

over that precipice of history when the time comes? Most people nominate the players they feel deserve to win - Norman. Couples,

Daly - or the people who seem dead certs - Duval,

Woods. So I'm plumping for Ernie Els, which isn't controversial: Sergio Garcia, because for a young European amateur to win it would be deliriously exciting: Phil Mickel-

son. because it's about time,

quite honestly, that he stopped loafing about in major tournaments: and Jesper

Parnevik. because everyone has a Scunthorpe United and his putt for him (it goes in).

holes in your jumper.

Strolling along the precipice of paradise This year, momentously there is a bit of rough (to coin

CBS man with a sculpted haircut and a nice blazer speaks to camera. from a position high up above the 18th green at Augusta National. Below us, this historic. emerald arena looks quite small - but then so was the Globe Theatre, as it happens: so is the Mona Lisa. He clears Lynne Truss feels the shivers down her spine in the technicolour dreamworld of Augusta National

"As Mark O'Meara lined up his 105th butt of the tournament," he says earnestly (and identically) for the fifth time. "he realised that hanging in to make a leap of faith" - long pause — "in himself." Choose a film for the way you feel tonight.

> Langer's putter is. People wandering around

Sky Box Office, starting every 15 mins The Rainmaker Sky Box Office, starting every 30 mins Devil's Advocate an expression of pinch-me awe Sky Box Office, starting every 60 mins last seen on the Good Will Hunting Sky Box Office, starting every 60 mins As Good As It Gets

Sky Box Office, starting every 60 mins The Witches isn't it"? Sky Premier 2 at 7,00pm The Hustler Sky Cinema Digital at 8.00pm

Spawn Sky MovieMax 3 at 9.00pm Grosse Pointe Blank Sky Premier 2 at 9,00pm The English Patient The Guns Of Navarone

Anastasia

Sky Cinema 2 at 9.00pm The Devil's Own Sky Premier 3 at 10,00pm SkyDigital gives Jerry Maguire Sky Premier Digital at 10,20pm The Relic

Sky MovieMax 4 at midnight sky dolla) TV as you want it.

FilmFour at 10,00pm

08702 42 42 42 Point Break onight only ou all these

there had gotten him to the precipice of history." He paushis throat and begins again. es, to let the phrase "precipice of history" sink in and then resumes. "Now was the time

> Wow. It's all shiver-up-thespine stuff here at Augusta National, a place whose reputation for exclusivity means that entrance to the course in Masters week is something like having a day-ticket to paradise - especially if your idea of paradise includes waving at Greg Norman or seeing for yourself how long Bernhard on practice days, and spotting Jack Nicklaus in a buggy. have by someone colour-blind? teenage Richard Attenborough in the film A Matter of Life and Death, when he steps off the celestial escalator, sees the blonde with the big book and says, with eyes like saucers, 'This is heaven, It's got flowering bushes, you know. Famous for it. Fullblown azaleas all over the shop, in those garish pinks, cherries and mauves that always look like they've been applied afterwards by someone colour-blind with too much paint on the brush. It's all immaculately tidy. It's quiet. It's "southern by the grace of God". And it's all

United States unless stated

denotes an amateur all times BST

13.06 today: G Sarazen, B Nelson, S

Snead (honorary starters)
13.15 today and 16.11 tomorrow: W
Casper, G Brewer, D Ford

13,26 and 16.22: S Pate, S Hoch,

(Swe). O Browne 13.48 and 16.44: A Lyle (GB),

13.37 and 16.33: J Daly, G Hjertsted

13.59 and 16.55: C Stadler, C Party

14.10 and 17.06: R Floyd, C Montgomene (GB), S Jones 14.21 and 17.17: J M Qlazabal (Sp), 14.32 and 17.28: E Els (SA). O Love III.

Tilehman 14.43 and 17.39: Jileonard, calling you (but only where applicable) "Maam". Today, the best players in the world start teeing off with their names announced and a round of applause. Or to put it another way, the precipice of history leads them to take the leap of faith - long pause in luck, nerve and a following wind. Practice days are considerably more relaxed and the visitors take pictures of scoreboards and litter bins and grab Fred Couples's autograph before he can dodge out of the way played over a small lake, Phil Mickelson and John Daly Personally, I have an ambivboth rise to the crowd's trickabout collecting shot challenge and "skip" the The azaleas look like they have been painted > autographs that means I hang back from the feeding frenzy and then, afterwards, feel a shameful urge to mug the people who've been successful. Which is my way of admitting that I let Couples go, when he was this close and now will never forgive myself. Out on the course, the prettyin-pink is at odds with the weirdly surreal, as the huge greens, like Dali clocks, bend in the middle and flop at the edges and the wide tilting fairways try to trick the unwary into believing that the course is easy - just before they lose ori-

T Dodds (Nam) 15,16 and 18.12; T Walson

P Sioland (Swe), A Magee

' S Garcia (Sp), T Herror

T Immelman (SA), S Stricke 16.22 and 13.26; B Crenshaw,

* T McKmoht, L Roberts

16.33 and 13.37: S Ballesleros (Sp),

16.44 and 13.48: J Maggert. V Singh (Fiji), P Stowart

15,38 and 18,34: T Woods,

15.00 and 18.56: T Aaron. M.A. Jiménez (Sp.), C. Parry 16.11 and 13.15; G. Player (SA),

TEE TIMES FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW 14.54 and 17.50: F Couples, S Elungton (Aus), S McCarron 15.05 and 18.01: 8 Faxon, J P Hayes, 16.55 and 13.59; N Faldo (GB), B Walts, J Durant 17.05 and 14.10; F Zoeller, M Ozako (Japan), F Funk 17,17 and 14.21; A Palmer, * J Miller, Parnevik is mine.

W Wood 17,28 and 14,32: B Langer (Ger), M Calcavecchia, D Clarke (GB) 17,39 and 14,43: P Mickelson, M Kuchar, S Applety (Aus) 15.27 and 18.23: I Woosnam (GB), G Norman (Aus), J Parnevik (Swe) 17:50 and 14:54: L Janzen, J Cook, F Lickiter 18:01 and 15:05: J Hass, W Andrado, 15.49 and 18.45: L Mize, C Franco (Par), J Sturnan 7 Bjorn (Den) 18.12 and 15.16: M O'Meara, * H Kcuhne, L Westwood (GB) 18.23 and 15.27: D Duvel, N Price

(2im), R Tway 18.34 and 15.38; C Coody, B Jobe. P-U Johansson (Swe) 18,45 and 15,49; M Brooks, S Cink, O Toms 18.56 and 16.00: P Azinger, J Furyl, G Day

An inspirational voyage

Simon's Journey BBC1, 9.30pm

Simon Weston, OBE, the Welsh Guardsman who survived 46 per cent burns during the Falklands war, has been the subject of four previous BBC war, has been the subject of four previous BBC films. The latest brings us up-to-date and includes a summary of his story so far, from the excruciatingly painful treatment of his face and hands, through the years of depression, unemployment and heavy drinking. to the determination to leave home, find a new role and determination to leave home, find a new role and set up a charity, and the subsequent achievement of national fame as a fundraiser and public speaker. In the last film he returned to the speaker. In the last film he returned to the Falklands and met the Argentine pilot whose bomb hit the Sir Galahad and caused Simon's injuries. Tonight we see the pilot, Carlos Cachón. accompanied by his wife, visiting the Westons at home. Another highlight of the film is Weston's fundraising participation in a New York marathon, sponsored by Paul Newman.

Making It: Habitat

BBC2, 7.30pm (not Scotland or Northern Ireland) In an effort to regain its place at or near the head of the field of domestic interior design, the Habitat company recruited the designer Tom Dixon to give its product range a new look. At a London showcase for young designers, he discovers two graduates of Brighton University. Jacqui Caley and Rachael Roberts, and offers them short-term contracts on the basis of their exhibits. The real world proves both exhibitarating and frustrating for the pair, although Dixon does seem to be pleased with what they turn out and takes them to Venice to see samples of Caley's designs being made...

NYPD Blue

Channel 4, 10pm Detective Sipowicz (Dennis Franz) is in double jeopardy as he allows his concern over Simone (Jimmy Smits) to affect his judgment while investigating the murder of a 75-year-old widow. Simone is awaiting a heart transplant operation (the precinct officers have orders to report in any likely, donors) and Sipowicz loses control when confronted with the mutilated body of a woman whose only relatives, her two sons, are apparently indifferent to her fate. When one of them attempts to hang himself after questioning, does Sipowicz rescusci-tate him just a little too slowly, in order to provide his best buddy with a new heart? Tony Patrick

Simon Weston meets Paul Newman as part of his fundraising (BBC1, 9.30pm)

Golf: The US Masters

Bob Harris Country

Radio 2, 7pm

BBC2, 9pm and BBC1, 10.30pm Steve Ryder introduces coverage of the opening round of the 63rd Masters from Augusta. Georgia Mark O'Meara ranks high among the favourites ditto his fellow American and close friend Tiger Woods, the 1997 victor, who lost out as O'Meara triumphed 12 months ago. The British challenge is likely to be spearheaded by Colin Montgomerie who ended 1998 as Europe's top golfer for the sixth successive year — and the ever-confident Lee Westwood. The drama will unravel beneath the towering pine trees and along the azalea-fringed fairways which make the Augusta National golf course one of the most spectacular in the world. We will have to wait until the early hours of Monday:

Radio 2's country music output has been under-going a rethink and the result is this new series;

presented by the man who made breathy delivery something of a fashion during his time fronting The Old Grey Whistle Test. The arrival of Harris as presenter is in fact the main change to the programme and it will be interesting to see how well his laid-back style meshes with the uptront,

"aw-shucks" approach that is the hallmark of most country music folk. The first programme should have little difficulty attracting an audience for it has Emmylou Harris in the studio, fresh from her second album collaboration with Linda Ronstadt

Louise Godfrey (:

RADIO CHOICE

Mayoral Chains

Radio 4, 8pm Lord Archer of Weston-super-Mare, Ken Livingstone and the other candidates to be Mayor of London ought to listen to this account, presented by Nigel Wrench, of the various attempts that have been made to run London property down the centuries. Afterwards, they may feel like giving up the candidacy and moving on to something easier. As Wrench reports, in medieval times the monarch and the Lord Mayor fought each other to a standstill for control of the ciry, a battle that was of course as nothing compared with Margaret Thatcher versus Livingstone in the 1980s (Thatcher by a knockout). There is also the question of how the Mayor will get on with the Lord Mayor of the City of Lordon potentially a versel relationship. City of London, potentially a vexed relationship.

RADIO 1 (BBC)

6.30em Zoe Ball 9.00 Simon Mayo 12.00 Jo Whitey 2.00pm Mark Radciffe 4.00 Chris Moyles 5.45 Newsbeat 6.00 Dave Pearce 8.00 Steve Lamacq: The Evening Session 10.00 The Global Update 10.10 John Peel 12.00 Andy Kershaw 2.00em

RADIO 2 (BBC)

6.00am Sarah Kennedy 7.30 Wake Up to Wogen 9.30 Ken Bruce 12.00 Jimmy Young 2.00pm Ed Stewart 5.05 Johnnie Walker 7.00 Bob Harris Country. See Choice 8.00 Paul Jones 9.00 Take It Easy: California Cool (3/6) 9.30 The News Huddinas. New series 10.00 The Alan Price Set (5/6) 10.30 Richard Alfinson 12.00 Mo Dutta 3.00am Alex Lester

RADIO 5 LIVE (BBC)

5.00am Morning Reports 6.00 Breakfast 9.00 Nicky Campbell 12.00 The Midday News 1.00pm Ian Payne. Recing from Aintree: coverage of the 2.00, 2.35, 3.10 and 3.45 races 4.00 Drive 7.00 News Extra 7.30 Wembley, the Church of Football New series Four-part documentary charting the history of Wembley stadium 8.00 Inside Edge 9.00 Hoops 9.30 Sportshop 10.00 Late Night 1.00am Up All Night

6.00am The Big Boys Breaklast 9.00 Scott Chisholm & Sally James 12.00 Justice With Jacobs 1.00pm Anna Raebum 4.00 The Sports Zone 7.45 Cup Winner's Cup: Chelsea v Mallorca 10.00 James Whale 1.00am Ian Collins

TALK RADIO

VIRGIN

6.30am Breakfast Show Team 9.30 Russ Williams 1.00pm Nick Abbol 4.00 Harnet Scott 6.45 Pete and Geoff 10.00 Gary Davies 1.00am James Merritt 4.30 Phill Kennedy and Dolly Parton. Harris (Emmylou, not Bob) talks about her new solo album. Peter Barnard

BBC WORLD SERVICE 5.00am The World Today 7.00 World News 7.15 Outlook 7.55
My Century 8.00 World News 8.05 World Business Report 8.15 Insight 8.30 Assignment 9.00 World News 9.05 From Our Own Correspondent 9.20 Off the Shelf News Cl A Kuhapping 9.35
The Works 10.00 World News 10.05 Network 10.20 Andy Kershaw's World of Music 10.50 Sports Round-Up 11.00
Newsdesk 11.30 Britain Today 11.45 World Business Report
12.00 Newsdesk 12.30pm Assignment 1.00 World News 1.05
Outlook 1.45 Sports Round-Up 2.00 Newshour 3.00 World
News 3.05 The Worlds 3.30 Mendian Books 4.00 World News
4.05 Sports Round-Up 4.1 5 Westway 4.30 The Greenfield Collection 5.00 Europe Today 5.30 World Business Report
5.45 Insight 6.00 Newdesk 6.30 Record News 6.45 Sports
Round-Up 7.00 World News 7.15 Britain Today 7.30
Assignment 8.00 World News 8.05 The Worlds 8.30 Coffee - A Hellish Braw 8.45 Off the Shelf News Cl A Kudnapping 9.00 Helish Braw 8.45 Off the Shalf News Of A Kadnapping 8.00 Newshour 10.00 World News 10.05 World Business-Report 10.20 Britain Today 10.30 Meridian Books 11.00 World News 11.15 Sports Round-Up 11.30 Blues World 12.00 World News m Outlook 12.45 Insight 1.00 The World Today 1.30 The Works 1.55 My Century 2.00 The World Today 2.30 - Westway 2.45 Performance 3.00 The World Today 3.30 World

CLASSIC FM

6.00am Michael Mapoin's Fasier Breakfast. A selection of rousing music to start the day 8.00 Henry Kelly. The Half of Fame Hour and CD of the Week 12.00 Lunchtone Requests. Jane Jones presents fevounte music 2.00pm Concerto. Bech (Concerto for 3 Violins in D major) 3.00 Jamie Chick. Continuous Classics and Atternoon Romance 6.30 Newsnight. The falest headlines and sport updates 7.00 Smooth Classics at Seven. John Brunning introduces classic sounds 9.00 Evening Concert. Britten (The Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra); Vaughan Williams (A London Symphony); Wagner (Slegfried Idyll), Tchalkovsky (Romeo and Jutlet) 11.00 Mann at Night 2.00am Concerto. Bach (Concerto for 3 Violins in Director) 1, 200 Mart Criffithe. The Early Repositions of the Concerto for 1 of the Concerto for 3 of the Concerto for 1 of the Concert major) (r) 3.00 Mark Griffiths, The Early Breakfast Show

Vanska MacMillan (The Confession of Isobel Gowole); Walton (Cello Concerto); Vaughan

V.£

Stalle, ...

Sports Round-Up

6.00am On Air with Petroc Trelawny Includes Nielsen (Overture: A Fantasy Journey to the Faroes): Antonio Soler (Fandango)
9.00 Masterworks with Peter Hobday, Bach (Chaconne (Partita No 2 in D minor, BWV1004): Beethoven (Variations and Fugue in E flat, Op 35, Engles): Moral Sternborg in C minor).

Eroica); Moeran (Symphony in G minor)

10.30 Artist of the Week: John Tomlinson

11.00 Sound Stories: Cathedrals Richard Baker investigates the significance of Gloucester

12.00 Composer of the Week: Britten (r)
1.00pm The Radio 3 Lunchtime Concert Joshua Rifkin, piano, plays preludes and fugues by Bach interspersed with some classic rags by Scott

Jopin (r)

2.00 The BBC Orchestras BBC Symphony Orchestra.
Rossini (Overture: The Italian Girl in Algiers): Beelhoven (Piano Concerto No 3 in C minor):
Deltus (On Hearing the First Cuckoo in Spring):
Elgar (Symphony No 2 in E (lat)

4.00 The Plano Return of the weekly series in which Pians Lane investigales the world of the plano past and present (r)

and present (r) 5.00 In Turne Sean Rafferty introduces music including

Prokofiev (Pano Sonata No 2), performed by Barry Douglas Performance on 3: Endless Parade Introduced by Geoffrey Baskerville Timothy Hugh. cello, BBC Scottish Symphony Orchestra under Usmo

9.15 Postscript Cinema Apocalyptica (4/5) 9.40 Prench Plano Music for Four Hends Faure (Dolly Suite, Op 56). Kalia and Marielle Labeque, piano duel 10.00 Music Restored Lucie Skeaping introduces a selection of 18th-century French chamber music from the time of Louis XIV 11.00 Night Waves Paul Allen talks to Tony Harrison

11.00 Night Waves Paul Allen talks to Tony Harrison about using mythology to interpret modem life and writing dialogue in rhyming couplets
11.30 Jazz Notes Alyn Shipton is joined by Campbell Burrap to review the latest CDs
12.00 Through the Night Includes Granger (The Warnors, 12.25 Handel (Tno Sonata, Op 2 No 3)
12.35 Beethoven (Variations, Op 121a) 1.00
Monte-Carlo PO, Stravinsky (The Farry's Kiss);
Tchsikovsky (Symphony No 4) 2.05 Spohr (Duo, Op 148) 2.20 Mozari (Piano Concerto No 20) 3.00
Karg-Elert (Nun dankat alle Gori) 3.05 Viene (Violin Sonata) 3.40 Dukas (La pen) 4.05 Bach (Violin Sonata No 3 in C, BWY1005) 4.30 Locatella (Concerto grosso in E flat. Op 7 No 6) 4.45
Geminiani (Concerto grosso, Op 5 No 12) 5.00 Geminiani (Concerto grosso, Op 5 No 12) 5.00
Rossini (Overture: The Barber of Seville) 5.15
Vivaldi (Sonata, Op 1 No 12) 5.25 Somers (Suite, North Country) 5.40 Chopin (Barcarolle, Op 60)
5.55 Schubert (Songs)

5.30am World News 5.35 Shipping Forecast
5.40 Inshore Forecast 5.45 Prayer for the Day
5.47 Farming Today Rural issues, with Arma Hill
6.00 Today with John Humphrys and Sue MacGregor
9.00 Metryn Bragg: In Our Time Guests join Metryn Bragg to consider ideas and events which have influenced the present age 9.30 Automatic for the People Alan Dein talks to people who once left their mark on vinyl by using auto-recording booths (3/4)

auto-recording booths (3/4)

9.45 (FM) Sertal: Just William — The 80th Anniversary (4/5)

9.45 (LW) Dally Service

10.00 Woman's Hour Shella McClennon chats to Martine McCutchson about her transition from soan star to stoper soap star to singer

11.00 Crossing Continents An innovative scheme

11.00 Crossing Continents An innovative scheme designed to improve relations between Estonia and Russia by having larmers loster deprived children from the city

11.30 My Uncle Freddie by Alex Ferguson Cornedy set on Tyneside charung the relationship between a boy and his uncle (4/6) (r)

12.00 (LW) News Headtlines; Shipping Forecast

12.00 (FM) News 12.04pm You and Yours Consumer news and investigations

12.00 (FM) News 12.04pm You and Yours Consumer news and investigations
1.00 The World at One with James Cox
1.30 Open Country Richard Undge encounters the widile of Norlolk's waterlands (r)
2.00 The Archers Yesterday's edition (r)
2.15 Afternoon Pley: Woman of Ice An archaeologist working high in the Altai Mountains discovers a princess in the ice Bryony Lavery's (antasy tale, staring Suzanna Hamilton and Mahilda Ziegler (r)
3.00 Cell You and Yours 0870 010 0444 Consumer rustice programme, presented by Peter White rustice programme, presented by Peter White 3.28 Radio 4 Appeal Professor Anthony Clare speaks on behalf of Obsessive Action (r)

ores the role money plays in relationships (3/4) (r)

3.45 This Scottred late Anna Massey narrates part 69 of the history of Britain (r)

4.00 Nice Work Alison Milchell investigates the 4.00 Nice Work Alson Mitchell investigates the charging world of work.

4.30 The Material World Trevor Philips investigates occurrences of earthquakes in Britain.

5.00 PM with Clare English and Eddie Mair.

6.00 Sty O'Clock News.

6.30 That Reminds Me Nichotas Parsons reminisces about his career in comedy (3/5).

7.00 The Archers The latest from Ambridge.

7.15 Front Row Round-up of arts news.

7.45 Diary of a Provincial Lady E.M. Detafield's household journal Broadcast earlier (1).

8.00 Mayoral Chain Nigel Wrench looks at the latest plans for governing London. See Choice.

8.30 Midterm Blues Dennis Sewell assesses William Hague's success in transforming the Conservative.

3.30 What's Yours is Mine Rory Cellan-Jones expl-

Hague's success in transforming the Conservative party into a wable opposition

And the party into a wable opposition

And the party into a wable opposition

And the party into a wable opposition

And the party into a wable opposition

And the party into a wable opposition

And the party into a wable opposition of the wable opposition

And the party into a wable opposition of the wable op part four of Robert Harris's finiter

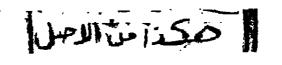

11.00 Late Night on 4: Do Go On Griff Phys Jones.

Graeme Garden and Metanie Hudson join Ainsley Elliot in a satirical discussion of media absurday. focusing on an (2/6) 11.30 Experimental Feature: Your Place or Mine?
The true story of a rapist who apologised to his victim two months later (2/5) (r)

12.00 News 12.30am The Late Book: Earthly Joys Kevin Whately reads part four of Philippa Gregory's novel 12.48 Shipping Forecest 1.00 As World Service

FREQUENCY GUIDE. RADIO 1. FM 97.6-99.8. RADIO 2. FM 88.0-90.2. RADIO 3. FM 90.2-92.4. RADIO 4. FM 92.4-94.6; LW 198; MW 720. RADIO 5 LIVE. MW 693, 908. WORLD SERVICE. MW 648; LW 198 (12.45-555ml) CLASSIC FM. FM 100-102. VIRGIN RADIO, FM 105.8; MW 1197, 1215. TALK RADIO, MW 1053, 1089. Berry O'Keefe

Patching things up on the home front flourishing out-of-town superstore where DIYminel television producers can nickub all the materials they need n cible them to go home and builithemselves their very own printime DIY show.

mbIY SOS (BBCI) — the first of another series, with yet anoer twist on the home improve-mentheme — Lowri Turner and Nicknowles are part SAS-style dentators and part marriage guidancrounsellors.

lys see, the gimmick of this sho is that the couple whose hour is being renovated are on ther ink of divorce owing to one paper's incompetence at DIY. By findy installing those flat-pack kiten cupboards, or making the becom habitable, Lowri and Nij are saving marriages across Brain. It's God's work. The other gimick is that viewers get to see clis of three houses showing calamitously executed DIY and can phone in to choose which of these DIY SOSs will be answered.

What is the point of this show? it's hard to tell. There's not enough DIY tips or design advice to make it instructional and it's hard to imagine TV viewers will respond to the telephone lines with the same zeal as they do to, say, the Who Wants To Be A Millionaire? telephone lines. Maybe it's just there to fill in part of the TV schedules that wasn't already filled with a home improvement show.

Next week's candidates include Lucy Wood, who is so cack-handed that she must think DIY stands for Demolish-It-Yourself; Margaret Knight, whose husband won't connect her shower; and Yvonne Ferguson, whose husband has built an extension to the house but hasn't yet got around to building a door into it. Why don't these cheapskates just call in a reputable builder to finish off the job properly?

Now, any TV producer looking for a more intrepid renovation challenge might care to take a look at The Last Train (ITV), a sci-fi drama which doesn't provoke the traditional reaction when watching sci-ti on TV of forcing you to watch through parted fingers (not because you're scared, obviously; but because you daren't look for fear that the next scene will be more preposterous than the last one).

n The Last Train the world has been ravaged by a meteorite. There's not a building or human being left standing. The only apparent survivors are a handful of men and women whose Sheffield-bound train carriage was shielded from the blast by being halfway through a railway tunnel when the meteorite struck.

"Our challenge this week," Lowri and Nick could say, "is to tidy up this awful mess. Now, God took six days to build the world from REVIEW scratch. We're on a skimpier budget and tighter deadlines, so we're hoping to do it in five. To give us a helping hand we'll be using quickdrying emulsion instead of gloss. followed by a fast-drying, waterbased varnish - just like we did on those bedroom cupboards we spruced up last week. Phone and tell us where you'd like us to start: if you'd like us to redecorate Europe first, press One. For our priority, then press Three."

Joe

Joseph

Did I mention that the meteorite was "the size of Birmingham"? (Doesn't that place just always spell trouble?) Well, so far — there are five more episodes to go - the train passengers have just melted out of their cryogenic frozen suspension to discover that there's no other sign of life apart from several savage dogs.

There's a policeman, a thief, a mother with two children, a pregnant woman, a woman from the Ministry of Defence, an elderly lady — all pretty ordinary folk, none of them scientists, who look out across the newly barren horizon and announce: "If I'm not mistaken, this devastation is the result of a meteorite the size of Birmingham crashing into Africa and unleashing tidal waves that have caused binomial dispractor ripples across the Earth's surface."

Africa, press Two. If you would like us to make transforming Asia They are strangers to each other, suddenly forced to rely on each other to survive in a world plagued by acid rain, hungry dogs, and no convenient pizza delivery services. The author Matthew Graham, who wrote two series of This Life, is obviously a fan of all those John Wyndham adaptations and Quatermass films. And he has adopted their trick of inflaming the eeriness of his story by planting it in familiar surroundings rather than on an unknown planet inhabited by creatures who all look like David Mellor.

Trankly, not all that much → happens in this opening episode, which, paradoxically, makes it more seductive than if it had contained dozens of subplots and encounters with spooky Meliorites. As long as Lowri and Nick don't turn up in their overalis, then it looks very promising. Watching just 40 minutes of American TV politics in Battle For Congress (BBC2) — the first of Ann Parisio's fascinating two-part documentary following last autumn's contest between the Republican and Democratic candidates to represent California's Santa Barbara district - made you grateful that British election campaigns are limited to three weeks and that commercial TV and radio stations are not crammed with contrived electioneering commercials by the rival candidates.

You got a clearer picture of what made the candidates tick and what they stood for from watching them relaxing at home than you did from their TV commercials. Of course, there is one way of using television to reveal politicians' true natures while simultaneously giving us handy tips on how to lay a laminate wood floor. But no doubt some TV producer is already working on "DIY MP". At any rate, let's hope not.

BBC1 6.0m Business Breakfast (65040) 7.0BBC Breakfast News (T) (67175)

9.EKilroy (T) (9123330) g (Style Challenge (r) (8867750) 10.1 The Vanessa Show (T) (5946953) 10. News; Weather (T) (9175427) 11 Change That (9152576) 115 Can't Cook, Won't Cook (T) (9155663) 115 News; Weather (T) (5191206) 120 Going for a Song (2835773)

125pm Wipeout (9885458) 120 The Weather Show (T) (76052595) One O'Clock News (T) (37934) O Regional News; Weather (58122040) O Neighbours Madge makes a new friend (1) (16380137)

ns ironside An attorney suffering from amnesia turns to the Chief for help (r) (1278595)

55 Through the Keyhole (r) (1) (2237750) 25 Children's BBC: Helpl It's the Hair Bear Bunch (8674934) 3.45 Chucklewood Critters (2661972) 4.10 Avrin and the Chipmunks (1415156) 4.20 Julia Jekyll and Harriet Hyde (5978446) A.35 Goosebumps (7679779) 5.00 Newsround (5601576) 5.10 Mami 7 (2/62175)

5.33 Rewind (T) (492663) 5,35 Neighbours (r) (T) (811408) 6.00 Six O'Clock News; Weather (T) (427) 6.30 Regional News Magazine (779) 7.00 Watchdog with Anne Robinson Consumer investigation show, putting some of the biggest dames on the high street under the spotight (T) (2576)

7.30 EastEnders lan catches Martin burgling has house (T) (663) 8.00 Harbour Lights The Blades salvage a businessman's camb of vintage Scotch, leading to a highly harged game of cat and mouse. //eanwhile, Jane's ex-boylinend males an unscheduled appearance (T) (1,7156) 8.50 Points of View Vewers' opinions of the week's programmes (T) (905361)

9.00 Nine O'Clock News; Regional News; Weather (T) (85(5)

9.30 CBOICE Simm's Journey Update on the Falidands war veteran Simon Westor (T) (77205) 10.30 CHOICE Goff: The US Masters Action Irgin Augusta (20175)

Eddie Kidd, the former motorcycle stunt-rider (11.30pm)

*1.30 Snapshot: Eddle Kidd Profile of the former daredevil stunt-rider as he tries to get back on his feet following the first erious accident of his career — which left him brain-damaged and in a vheelchair (T) (23243)

12.00 The Neon Empire (TVM 1989) Mob ooss Ray Sharkey fulfils his dream of opening a casino in 1940s Las Vegas. With Martin Landau and Gary Busey. Directed by Larry Peerce (1) (810731) 1.50am Weather (2327915)

BBC2

7.00am Children's BBC Breakfast Show: Polka Dot Shorts (5539392) 7,10 The Siver Brumby (9095446) 7,35 Top Cat (8427682) 7,55 Bots Master (8438798) 8,20 Buried Treasure (8143069) 8,40 Blue Peter (9310175) 9.10 Goober and the Ghost Chasers (7111576) 9.35 Student Bodies (8876408) 10.00 Teletubbies (25601) 10.30 FILM: Filipper (36446) 12.00 Wildlife Showcase (70750) 12.30pm Working Lunch (93214) 1.00

Wishing (38364717)

1.10 The Leisure Hour Tips on getting started in golf (r) (1966021)

2.10 Racing from Aintree Clare Baiding and Pichard Pitman introduce the 2.35 Martell Cup Chase, 3.10 Sandernan Maghuli Novice Chase, 3.45 Martell Footunters Chase and the 4.20 Glenlivet Anniversary Hurdia (83847088)

4.55 Esther (T) (9449311) 5.30 Whose House? (156)

6.00 Star Trek: Deep Space Nine Quark is chosen to succeed Nagus Zek as leader of the Ferengi (r) (T) (740798) 6.45 Buffy the Vampire Slayer New series.

The Master's remains go missing, and the gang get embroiled in sinister plans for his resurrection (T) (151175) 7.30 Making It The story of two talented design students from

Brighton University who were spotted by Habital (T) (205) 8.00 Ray Mears's World of Survival Ray sits the eastern shore of Lake Eyasi in

Tanzania (r) (T) (9866) 8.30 Top Gear Tiff Needell test-drives the Jaguar XK180 and Quentin Willson driving three-year-old cars (T) (1601)

Mark O'Meara, the defending US ters champion (9pm)

9.00 CHOICE Golf: The US Masters Sleve Rider presents live first-round coverage from the pine-lined fairways of the Augusta National in Georgia (7866) 10.30 Newsnight Including news summary at 11.00 (1) (990934)

11.18 Video Nation Shorts (T) (440682) 11.20 Late Review The new Abba musical Mamma Mia (689601)

12.00 The Phil Silvers Show Bilko's nest-egg is threatened (r) (8053373) 12.25em Holiday Weather (2366354)

12.30 BBC Learning Zone: Open University: A New Sun is Born — Part 1: The Coup
1.00 The North Sea: Managing the Common Pool 1.30 Power and Vision:
The West and the Rest 2.00 Exam Revision: GCSE Bitesize Revision -French 1 4.00 Teaching Film and Media: Film Education — An Ideal Husband: Text to Text 4.30 Film Education: The Producer's Tale 5.00 Teacher Training: Planet Europe — Studying Abroad with Erasmus 5.15 Planet Europe: Making Friends 5.30 Go Higher. Why Go Into Higher Education? 5.45 Open University: Playing Safe 6.10 Living with Drought

HTV

5.30am ITV Morning News (31430) 6.00 GMTV (2066040) 9.25 CITV: Tirry Toons (7136885) 9.50 The Fantastic Voyages of Sinbad the Sallor (8873311) 10.20 Bugs Bunny (7439088) 10.30 ITV News Headlines (T) (8821601)

10.35 HTV News (T) (8820972) 10.40 The Beers and I (1974) Disney drama, starring Patrick Wayne as an Army veteran who decides to set up home near an Indian reservation. Directed by Bernard McEveety (T) (31806953) 12.15pm HTV News (T) (7289663) 12.30 ITV Lunchtime News (T) (2810717) 12.55 Shortland Street (1979595) 1.30 Lie Detector (T) (16379021)

1.55 The Jerry Springer Show (T) (5244779) 2.40 Wheel of Fortune (T) (2233934) 3.10 ITV News Headlines (T) (5934330) 3.15 HTV News (1) (5933601) 3.20 CITV: Mopatop's Shop (5921866) 3.30

The Adventures of Dawdle (5789972) 3.40 The Sylvester and Tweety Mysteries (4294595) 3.50 Lavender Castle (5799088) 4.05 Hey Amold! (7240311) 4.30 Children's Ward (330) 5.00 Lie Detector (r) (T) (7408)

5.30 WEST: Pleasure Guide (T) (682) 5.30 WALES: Crazy Creatures (T) (682) 5.58 HTV Weather (406866) 6.00 HTV News (T) (595)

6.26 HTV Crimestoppers (232232) 6.30 ITV Evening News; Weather (T) (175) 7.00 Emmerdale (T) (2412) 7.30 WEST: We Can Work It Out with Judy Finnigan and the team (359)
7.30 WALES: Wales This Week Current affairs issues. Last ın series (359) 8.00 The Bill Quinnan returns to duty for the 9.00 The Last Train Harriet seeks help from

Current affairs with Martin Beshir and Trevor McDonald (10pm)

10.00 WEST: Tonight with Trevor McDonald New series. The veteran newscast delves behind the headlines (T) (1934) 10.00 WALES: The Ferret New series. Consumer reports, with Chris Segar (75205) 10.30 WALES: The Sharp End New series.

Political discussion (84953) 11.00 TV Nightly News, Weather (T) (319088) 11.20 HTV News and Weather (T) (820791) 11.30 A Trip in the Cosmic Buggy The pub and club scene (T) (18311)

11.30 WALES: Tonight with 7 McDonald See 10pm (7) (58885) Trevor 12.00 Public Morals (r) (54002) 12.30am The Jerry Springer Show (9442248) 1.15 Trainspotters (4/13) (342248) 2.15 Pop Down the Pub (19557)

2.45 Box Office America (4203002) 3.10 Cybernet Computer news (84668002) 3.40 Murder, She Wrote (2062151) 4.30 Coach (83030267) 4.50 ITV Nightscreen (3570460)

CENTRAL

As HTV West except: 10.35-10.40am Central News (8820972) 12.20-12.30pm Central News (9407392)

12.55 Lie Detector (2895408) 1.25 The Jerry Springer Show (4069224) 2.10-2.40 Echo Point (89032595)

3.15-3.20 Central News; Weather (5933601) 5.30 Shortland Street (682) 6.00-6.30 Central News at Six (595)

11.20-11.30 Central News; Weather (820791) 11.30-12.35 Wonderful You (443359) 1.20am Jenny (6490593)

1.50 Pop Down the Pub (4057083) 2.15-3.10 T in the Park (7458915) 3.35 The Making of Hard Rain (44096267) 4.05 Central Jobfinder '99 (8591422)

5.20-5.30 Asian Eye (9734606)

As HTV West except: 10.35am-10.40 Westcountry News (T) (8820972) 12.15pm Westcountry News (T) (7289663) 12.27-12.30 Illuminations (9415311) 12.55-1.25 Westcountry Lunchtime Live (1) (2895408) 1.25 The Jerry Springer Show (T) (4069224) 2.10-2.40 Lie Detector (T2348476) 5.30 Dig It with Den (682) 6.00-6.30 Westcountry Live; Weather (T) (595) 11.20-11.30 Westcountry News; Weather (T) (820791) 11.30-12.30 Wonderful You (5/7) (r) (T) (58885)

THE PROPERTY OF THE PERSON OF

As HTV West except: 12.15pm-12.30 Meridian AS IT West except. 12.15pm-12.30 Methods News; Weather (7289663) 5.30 Ridgeriders (4/4) (1) (682) 6.00-6.30 Meridian Tonight (1) (595) 7.29-7.30 Meridian Weather (169243) 11.20 Meridian News; Weather (1) (820791) 11.30-12.30 Fitz (1) (58885) 5.00am-5.30 Freescreen (1) (36267)

ANGLIA As HTV West except. 12.14pm Anglia Air Watch (9427156) 12.15-12.30 Anglia News and Weather (7289663) 5.25-6.00 About Anglia (8343458) 6.00-6.30 Anglia News (1) (595) 11.19 Anglia Air Watch (444408) 11.20 Angila News and Weather (T) (820791) 11.30 Crime Night (149576) 11.45-12.00 The Ticket (r) (177359)

S40

Starts: 5.55am Sesame Street (r) (28192311) 7.00 The Big Breakfast (69069175) 9.00 The Bigger Breakfast (T) (92372866) 9.05 Saved by the Bell (T) (92129682) 9.30 Sam and Max (93420717) 10.00 Eerle Indiana: The Other | Dimension (T) (83281885) 10.30 CatDog (T) (39071885) 10.45 Boy Meets World (T) (44771507) 11.15 Moesha (T) (51426430) 11.45 The Bigger Breakfast (99336205) 12.00 Dawson's Creek (T) (93403040) 1.00pm Planed Plant, (1) (69039934) 1.30 FILM: The Vicious Circle (1) (21118717) 3.00 Doors to Manual (5/6) (T) (41830175) 3.30 Collectors' Lot (T) (99452088) 4.00 Fifteen-to-One (T) (99431595) 4.30 Ricki Lake (T) (99437779) 5.00 Planed Plant (41802392) 5.30 Countdown (T) (99451359) 6. (1802392) 3.30 Countribut (1) (189451359) 6.

00 Newyddion 6 (1) (49985779) 6.10 Heno (1) (39766224) 7.00 Pobol y Cwm (1) (41822156) 7.30 Newyddion (1) (99438408) 8.00 Slaymaker (1) (41808576) 8.30 Pam Fi Duw? (1) (41810311) 9.00 i dot (27559779) 10.00 Father Ted (1) (51276224) 10.35 Friends (1) (81268427) 11.05 The 11 O'Clock Show (85806330) 11.35 King of the Hill (1) (67403359) 12.05am Secrets of the Circus (1) (15415354) 12.35 Prev (1) (86000373) 1.30 (15415354) 12.35 Prey (T) (86000373) 1.30 Dispatches (T) (12554286) 2.05 Diwedd

CHANNEL 4

5.55am Sesame Street (5179779) 7.00 The Big Breakfast (50885) 9.00 The Bigger Breakfast (1) (3380446) 9.05 Saved by the Bell (7114663)

9.30 Sam and Max (29514) 10.00 Eerie Indiana: The Other Dimension 10.30 Catdog (3157392)

10.45 Boy Meets World (938243) 11.15 Moesha (935156)

11.45 The Bigger Breakfast (2406040) 12.00 Sesame Street (T) (39066) 12.30pm Bewitched (T) (23330) 1.00 Pet Rescue (T) (53972)

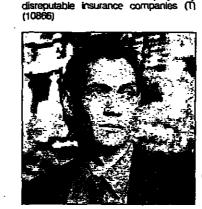

1.30 The Three Stooges (r) (95346137)
1.50 Sahara (1943) An American tank sergeant gets isolated during the retreat from El Alamein, and proceeds to harass the pursuing Nazis. Second World War drama, with Humphrey Bogart. Directed by Zoltan Korda (T) (21717311)

3.30 Collectors' Lot (T) (953) 4.00 Fifteen-to-One (T) (208) 4.30 Countdown (T) (7696446) 4.55 Ricki Lake (T) (9441779) 5.30 Pet Rescue (T) (224)

6.00 Friends (r) (1) (137) 6.30 Hollyoaks Ruth confides in Jas (1) (717) 7.00 Channel 4 News; Weather (T) (753935) 7.55 Dovetales The experiences of a Protestant woman who was raised in the mainly Catholic town of Newry (7/8) (T) (936137)

8.00 Designs on Your Bra Richard Seymour and Dick Powell accept the challenge to find radical design atternatives to familiar items, beginning with a look at that the bra (1/3) (r) (T) (9953) 9.00 Secrets of the Circus This powerful documentary searches for examples of neglect within the animal-care industry (r) M (1205) 9.30 Dispatches Reporter Joe Lavburn reveals some of the tactics employed by

Jimmy Smits stars as Detective Bobby Simone (10pm)

10.00 CHOICE NYPD Blue A donor heart becomes available for Bobby, while Andy breaks down in the washroom (T) (9576)

11.00 The 11 O'Clock Show (6750) 11.30 Ally McBeal (r) (T) (56427) 12.30am 4 Later Introduction (6755915) 1.25 Vids (9640016)

1.55 Late Toon: Guy's Dog (1926642) 2.10 NYPD Blue (r) (T) (2339731) 3.00 St Elsewhere (r) (3769828) 3.50 The Hurricane (1937) Blustery drama about the inhabitants of a South Pacific island should before a south Pacific destroys their homes. Dorothy Lamour and C. Aubrey Smith star. Directed by John Ford (680644) 5.35 How We Used to Live: Britons at War

CHANNEL 5

6.00am 5 News and Sport Headline round-up (5927801) 7.00 WideWorld Part live. Maggie Philbin looks at science in the 17th century (r) (T)

7.30 Milkshake! (2672175)

7.35 Dappledown Farm (r): 5 News Update

8.00 Alvin and the Chipmunks (r) (8876021) 8.30 Witchworld (r), 5 News Ubdate (8875392)

9.00 Fame and Fortune (r) (T) (4747717) 9.25 Russell Grant's Postcards (3205137)

9.35 The Oprah Winfrey Show (6895040) 10.25 Sunset Beach Antonio is trapped (1) (4288514) 11.15 Leeza (r) (3969427)

12.00 5 News at Noon (T) (8886408) 12.30pm Family Affairs Gabby has a visitor (r) (T); 5 News Update (3237327)

1.00 The Bold and the Beautiful Enc gives Ridge a friendly warning (T) (2883088) 1.30 The Roseanne Show Entertainment show, presented by the outspoken comedienne (r); 5 News Update (4687868)

2.00 100 Per Cent Gold (2187205) 2.30 Good Afternoon An hour of leisure, irrestyle and documentary, featuring real-life soap Liverpool Murns, Rob Butler's word game Cryptogram and Selling the Family Silver, 5 News Update 3.30 The Oregon Trail (1975) Action adventure about a family who pack up their belongings and set off on a 2,000-mile trek to the beautiful Williamette Valley. Rod Taylor and Douglas V Fowley star. Directed by Boris Sagai (2947663)

5.20 5 News (59295069)

5.30 100 Per Cent (6174972) 6.00 5 News; Weather Round-up of the day's stories, including First on Five (T)

6.30 Family Affairs Gabby receives a hefty credit-card bill (T) (6162137)

7.00 Knight Rider Part one. The head of a computer corporation hires Michael 10 unmask the treacherous employee leaking his closely guarded business secrets to a rival. Spy-fi drama, staming David Hasselhoff (T) (2181021)

7.30 Cup Winners' Cup Chelsea v Real Maliorca (Kick-off 7.45pm). Steve Scott presents all the action from the Cup Winners' Cup semi-final first-leg at Stamford Bridge (T) (7710576)

0.00 Marked for Death (1990) Sleven Seagal stars as a former narcotics agent who takes on a gang of Jameican drug dealers terrorising Chicago. Action thaller, with Basil Wallace. Directed by Dwight H. Little; 5 News Update

11.50 Red Shoe Diaries A female bounty hunter trails a thief (8058205) 12.25am The Pepsi Chart With Martine McCutcheon (6865286)

12.55 National Hockey League (50622731) 5.30 100 Per Cent (r) (6961151)

VIDEO Plus+ and VIDEO Plus+ codes
The numbers after each programme are for VIDEO Plus+ programming Just enter the VIDEO Plus+ number(s) for the relevant programme(s) into your video recorder for easy taping.
For more details call VIDEO Plus+ on 0540 750710.
Calls charged at 25p per minute at all times
VIDEO Plus+®, 14 Blacklands Trc, London, SW3 25P VIDEO Plus+® is a registered trademark of Gemstar Development Corporation, ♥ 1998

SATELLITE, CABLE AND DIGITAL

• For further listings see Saturday's Vision SKY ONE

1.55 BBC News 24 (54960248)

7.00am Count Duckula (78:205) 7.30 (mmm, 1800-0) 8.00 Earthworm Jen (1001) 8.30 Godzús (10030) 9.00 Pásmon (34972) 9.30 The Simpsons 28:265) 10.00 Shadow Raiders (67:601) 10.30 Xena (14972) 11.30 Legend of the Hidden-City (88:391) 12.00 Tarzan (75:717) 13.00 Xena (15:95) 3.200 Sally Jessy Raphael 65:300 3.00 Jenry Jones (90179) 4.00 Pitomon (2582) 4.30 Shadow Raiders (866) 8.00 Sas Trick Voyage (67:5) 8.00 America's Dumbest Chrismals (93:59) 6.30 Drein Team (33:11) 7.00 The Simpsons (97:6) 7.30 The Simpsons (97:6) 7.30 The Simpsons (98:95) 8.00 America's Dumbest Chrismals (32:4) 8.30 America's Dumbest Chrismals (32:4) 8.30 America's Dumbest Chrismals (32:4) 8.30 Merica's Dumbest Chrima's (324) 8.30 Marcis Dumbest Chrima's (324) 8.30 Marcis Weerest TV (2359) 9.00 Friends 6385) 9.30 ER (65595) 10.30 Veronica's Octor (1955) 11.00 Gream Team (60311) 1.36 %2 T. Chrimatolic Chris 11.30 Star Trei, vovager (16408) 12.30am Lee and Crose (93625) 1.30 Long Play (4734908)

SKY BOX OFFICE

Sky's pay-per-view movie channels. To view any film relegancine 0950 800888 SAT BOX OFFICE 1 (Transponder 51) ne Devit's Advocate (1997) SX1 BCX OFFICE 2 (Transponder SD) The Reinmaker (1998) SX1 BOX OFFICE 3 (Transconder 59)

Anastesta (1997) Sphere (1997) SYY BOX OFFICE 4 (Transponder 58) SKY PREMIER

8.00am Amy (1981) (19953) 8.00 Fly Away Home (1996) (57224) 10.00 ft Takes Two (1995) (56240) 12.00 in Like Flym (1985) (76775) 2.00pm Amy (1981) (8302) 4.00 Fly Away Home (1996) 902) 6.00 ft Takes Two (1995) (37585) 800 (45870) 8.00 ft (8324) 8.30 ft 19821 hapo il Takes Two (1995) (1995) 800 riolymane Bezz (1993): 8.30 li Postino (1995) (1989934: 10.20 Jerry Maguire (1996) (2292227) 12.40am A Sante to Kill (1996) (22922): 3.10 Children of a Lesser God (1986)

SKY MOVIEMAX

SABern Rockford Files: If the Frame Fits 1996) (22233: 7.10 Mander, She Wrote: South By Southwest (1997)

(80133682) 9.00 Behind the Waterfall (1995) (79446) 11.00 Bigfoot: The Unforgettable Encounter (1994) (2894) 1.00 Murder, She Wrote: South By

1.00 Murrier, She Wrote: South By Southwest (1997) (4034) 3.00 Behind the Waterial (1995) (10224) 5.00 Bigtoot: The Untergettable Encounter (1994) (3708) 7.00 Rockford Files: I Still Love LA (1995) (83137) 9.00 Rumshi' Home (1998) (15359) 11.00 Bound (1996) (789446) 12.50em Nemesis (1992) (204441) 2.25 Murphy's Rockance (1995) (715909) 4.15 Rockford Files: I Shi Love LA (1995) (32413557) SKY CINEMA 4.00pm The Bohemian Girl (1936) (7496069) 6.00 Tarzan's Revenge (1938) (4706250) 8.00 The Hustler (1961) (83742205) 10.15 Hud (1963) (7796137) Trans World Sport EUROSPORT

(83742405) 10.19 had (1969) (1969) (1970) 12.05am 100 Years, 100 Moves: Beyond the Law (3948625) 12.55 Mrar9*H (1970) (742625) 2.50 Rawhide (1950) (77602644) 4.20 Son of Palettere (1952) (6249189)

FILMFOUR 6.00pm The Chorus (1982) (5849309)
6.20 Traveller (1974) (6997243) 7.40
Seven Shrry Corrs (7095934) 8.00 Other People's Money (1991) (33854595) 8.45
ROOND (2252408) 10.00 Point Break (1991) (25522653) 12.05em Darkness in Tallinn (1993) (9162977) 1.40 in My Dreams (3312828) 1.50 Denise Calls Up (1995) (4157199) 3.100 Close

TNT 9.00pm Cannery Row (1982) (70350345) 11.15 Diner (1982) (97363205) 1.15am The Hunger (1983) (71213828) 3.00 Cannery Row (1982) (84753373)

SKY SPORTS 1 SKY SPORTS 1

7.00em Sports Centre 7.1s Wreeting 8.1s
You is On Say Sports! 9.00 Racing 9.30
Aerobics 10.00 Boaring 10.30 Rugby
Learus 12.00 Aerobics 12.30pm Boaring
1.00 Rally Chemponiship 1.30 European Your Weekly 2.00 Watersports 3.00 Total Sport 3.30 Rugby League 5.00 Wresting
6.00 Sports Centre 6.30 Boaring 7.00
League Review 8.00 Sperish Football
10.00 Sports Centre 10.1s You're On Sky
Sports! 11.00 Boaring 11.30 Futbol Mundal 12.00 Sports Centre 12.15em You're On Sky Sports! 1.00 League Review 2.00
Futbol Mundal 2.30 Spartsh Football 4.30
Trans World Sport 5.30 Sports Centre

SKY SPORTS 2 7.00em Aerobics 7.30 Sports Centre 7.45 7.00em Aerobus 7.30 Sports Centre 7.45
Racing 8.15 Unbelevable Sports 8.45
Sports Centre 9.00 Fish TV 10.00 Golf Extra 12.00 Live International Cincker 8.00pm
Inside the PGA Tour 8.30 The Rugby Cub
9.30 Basebal 11.30 Motor Racing 12.00
What a Weekend 12.30ams The Rugby Cub
1.30 Trans World Sport 2.30 Motor Racing
2.00 Shorts Centre 3.00 Soorts Centre

SKY SPORTS 3

UK GOLD 7.00am Crossroads 7.30 Neighbours 7.55 EastEnders 8.30 The Bill 9.30 The House of Eliott 10.30 Rhoda 11.00 Dallas 11.55

Comedians 11.00 Granada Man and

12.00am Wrestling 1.00pm Fish TV 2.00 Live Snooker 5.00 League Review 6.00 What A Weekend 6.30 Molor Recing 7.00 outer 10.00 What A Weekend 10.30

7.30em Curling 8.30 Footbell 10.30 Footbell 11.30 Terms 12.00 Live Terms 3.00pm Live Cycling 4.00 Live Football 8.00 Trial Biung 8.30 Recing Line 7.00 Live Football 9.00 Boung 9.30 Football 11.00 Ricang Line 11.30 Ten-Pin Bowling

Neighbours 12.25pm EastEnders 1.00 Bugs 2.00 Dallas 2.55 The Bit 3.55 Bugs 2.00 Dates 2.55 The But 3.55 EastEnders 4.30 Rhode 5.00 Dynasty 7.00 Ever Decreasing Craties 7.40 Less of the Summer Wine 8.20 Dad's Army 9.00 The Young Ones 8.45 Bottom 10.25 Stark 11.30 The Bill 12.30am Behveen the Lines as Dad's Army 4.00 The Bill 12.30am Behveen the Lines as Dad's Army 4.00 The Stark 1.30 The Bill 12.30am Behveen the Lines 11.30 The Bill 12.30am Between the Lines 1.25 Dad's Army 2.00 The Man from Aurtie 2.45 Shopping with Scieenshop

GRANADA PLUS 6.00am Within These Walls 7.00 How's Your Fother? 7.30 The Odd Couple 8.00 Families 8.30 Mind Your Langauge 9.00 Classic Coronation Street 9.30 Emmerdale Farm 10.00 Upstars, Downstars 11.00 Chartie's Angels 12.00 Classic Coronation Street 12.30pm Emmerciale Farm 1.00 Mind Your Language 1.30 Me and My Gri 2.00 Upsters, Downstairs 3.00 The Love Boat 4.00 The Professionals 5.00 Charle's Angele 6.00 Emmerdale Farm 8.30 Classic Coronalion Street 7.00 The Professionals 8.00 The Benny Hill Show 9.00 The Sweeney 10.00 Hale and Pace 10.30 The

The late Massimo Troisi stars in Michael Radford's Oscar-winning romantic drama II Postino (Sky Premier, 8.30pm)

CARLTON SELECT

5.00mm What's Conkno? 5.30 Gredock 6.00 My Two Wives 6.30 Our House 7.00 Shine On, Harvey Moon 8.00 Sale and Sound 8.30 An Inspector Calls 9.00 St Eisewhere 10.00 A Difficult Women 11.00 Hill Street Blues 12.00 My Two Wives 12.30mm Gn.30ck 1.00 Close -

DISNEY CHANNEL

6.00em Gumm Bears 6.25 Classic Toons 6.35 Tale Spn 7.00 Classic Toons 7.10 Aladdin 7.35 101 Delmatars 8.00 Goof Troop 8.25 Classic Toons 8.30 Timon and Pumbas 9.00 At Alack 9.35 Doug 10.00 Recess 10.15 Peoper Ann 10.30 Ned's New 11.00 Smart Guy 11.30 Teen Angel 12.00 Boy Meets World 12.30pm Brotherly Love 1.00 Dinosturs 1.30 Amezing Armets 1.55 Winne the Pooh 2.10 Bits Sce 2.20 Best 2.45 Winne the Pooh 3.00 The Liste Memad 3.30 An Adada 4.00 101 Delmanans 4.30 Hertules 5.00 Recess 5.15 Pepper Arr$330 Smar Gu, 6.00 Teen Anga 8.30 Esp Meets Ward 7.00 FILM Knight in Camelot (1998) 8.25 Honey I

Strunk the Kude 9.10 Dinosaurs 10.00 Home Improvement 10.30 The Wonder Years 11.00 Dr Quinn FOX KIDS NETWORK

8.00am Masked Rider 6.30 Beetleborgs Metallix 6.55 Power Rangers Turbo 7.20 Power Rangers Turbo 7.45 Silver Surfer 8.10 Morral Kombat 8.35 Mosgli. The New Advancer of the Republic Rep Adventures of Jungle Book 9.00 Goosebumps 9.25 Eene, Indiana: The Other Dimension 9.50 Oggy and the Cockroacters 10.00 Goosebumps 10.25 Mad Jack the Pirate 10.40 The Secret Files of the Spy Dogs 10.50 Oggy and the Cockroaches 11.00 Goosebumps 11.25 Denris and Gnasher 11.50 Oggy and the Cockroaches 12.00 Goosebumps 12.25pm The Incredible Hulk 12.50 Oggy and the Cockroaches 1.00 Goosebu 1.28 Fantasic Four 1.50 Oggy and the Cockrosches 2.00 Goosebumps 2.25 X-Men 2.50 Oggy and the Codroaches 3.00 Goosebumps 3.30 X-Press 3.35 Spiderman 4.00 Goosebumps. Night of the living Durring III 4.25 Hero Turtles The Nati Mutation 5.00 Dennis and Grasher

5.30 Ace Ventura 5.00 Donkey Kong Country 6.30 Eek/Stravagenza 6.55 Oppy and the Cockocaches 7.00 Close NICKELODEON

6.00am Brothers Flub 7.00 Asatini Real Monsters 8.00 Cartog 9.00 Rugrats 10.00 The Wild Thomberrys 11.00 Sabrina the Teenage Witch 12.00 Mossite 1.00pm Rentord Rejects 2.00 Hey Arrold 3.00 Rugrats 4.30 Sirsier Sisjer 5.00 Sabrina the Teenage Witch 7.00 Close TROUBLE 7.00cm USA High 8.00 Seved By The Bell. The New Class 9.00 Hang Time 10.00 Sweet Valley High 11.00 Saved By The Bell The College Years 12.00 The Fresh Prince of Bel-Ar 1.20 Backstreet Boys in Concert 2.30 Blast 9.00 City Guys 3.30 City Guys 4.00 Welrd Science 4.30 Welrd Science 6.00 in March 2016 Serves
5.00 in the House 5.30 in the House 6.00 Saved By The Belt: The New Class 6.30 Saved By The Belt. The New Class 7.00 Sugar's Real Life Stories 7.10 Bangs 7.30 USA High BRAVO 8.00pm Marial Law 9.00 Cops 9.30 The Late Lounge 10.00 Extreme Championship Wresting 10.30 Erope Confessions 11.00 FILM: Monkey Shines: An Experiment in Fear (1988) 1.00am Erote Confessions 1.30 The Late Lounge 2.00 Marial Law 2.00 EM to Viscon (1989) 5.00 Extreme

3.00 FiLM: Vixen (1988) 5.00 Externe Championship Wrestling 5.30 Cops 6.00 PARAMOUNT COMEDY

7.00pm Cucless 7.30 Caroline in the City 8.00 Mad About You 8.30 Spn Cay 9.00 Drop the Dead Donisey 9.30 Whose Line is 8. Anyway? 10.00 Frasier 10.30 Cheers 11.00 Seriseld 11.30 Spn City 12.00 Late Night with David Letternan 1.00am Garry Standling's Show 1.30 Nurses 2.00 Almost Perfect 2.30 Tips and Fibs 3.00 Mork and Mindy 3.30 Abbott and Cossello 4.00 Close THE SCHI CHANNEL

SATELL ITTE- ROOM MUDANICHT ONLY 7.30am Bloomberg Information Television 8.00 Sightings 8.00 Buck Flogers in the 25th Century 10.00 The Sx Million Dotlar Man 11.00 Dark Shadows 11.30 The Ray Bracibury Theatre 12.00 The Twilight Zor 12.30pm The Twilght Zone 1.00 Tales of the Unexpected 1.30 Tales of the Unexpected 2.00 Amazing Stones 2.30 Mystenes, Magic and Marcies 3.00 Buck Rogers in the 25th Ceptury 4.00 The Incredible Hulk 5.00 Sigrings 6.00 Time Tray 7.00 The Sx Milton Dollar Man 8.00 PSI Factor Chronicles of the Paranormel 9.00 Babyton 5 10.00 FB.Mt. Memory Flux (1994) 11.40 Sci-Focus Special 12.00 Twin Peaks 1.00am FBLM: Pharmam (1979) 2.40 Sci-Focus Special 3.00 Dark Shadows 3.30 Dark Shadows 4.00 Close HCAME 2.1 ETELLIDE

HOME & LEISURE 8.00am Simply Parting 6.30 Instant Gardens 7.00 Garden Calendar 7.30 The Restoration Game 8.00 Australia's Strangest Home Improvements 8.30 The Close Guide 9.00 The Joy of Painting 9.30 Grassmots 10.00 Instant Gardens 10.30 Antiques Trail 11.00 Hotked on Fishing Andques Iran 1.00 Hower on France with Paul Young 11.25 The Home and Leisure House 11.30 Total Fishing with Matt Hayes 12.00 These Four Wells 12.30pm Our House Down Under 100 The Furnisure Guys 1.30 Home Savy 2.00 New Yarkee Workshop 2.30 Home Agan with Bob Vita 3.00 This Cid House with Sleve and Norm 3.30 Twick Country

4.00pm Rex Hunt Fishing Adventures 4.30 The Diceman 5.00 Best of British 6.00 Whichte SOS 6.30 Untamed Amazonia 7.30 Flightine 8.80 Medical Defectives 8.30

3.30 Two's Country

DISCOVERY

Medical Detectives 9.00 Shadow of the Assassin 10.00 Forensci Detectives 11.00 The FBI Files 12.00 Engineering Disasters 1.00am Fughtine 1.30 The Diceman 2.00 ANIMAL PLANET 11.30am Wad Ones 12.00 Hollywood Safan 1.00pm Humers 2.00 The Making of the Loopard Son 3.00 Man-Eating Tigers 4.00 Wild at Heart 5.00 Wildlife Rescue 5.30 Wildlife Rescue 5.00 Per Rescue 7.00 Wildlife SOS 7.30 Wildlife SOS 8.00 Animal Doctor 9.00 Emergency Vets 9.30 Emergency Vets 10.00 Emergency Vets 11.30 Emergency Vets 11.30 Emergency Vets 11.00 Emergency Vets 12.00 Close

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC 7.00pm The Prince of Stooghis 7.30 Cold Water, Warm Blood 8.80 Animal Attraction 9.00 Extreme Earth/ Volcanic Eruption 18.86 On the Edge Return to Everess 11.00 On the Edge: Miracle at Sea 12.00 HISTORY

4.00pm Spies in the Sky 5.00 Battleships 6.00 Nero: Lagend of a Monster 7.00 Playback. Eve Polland 7.30 Bomb to the Beatles: I, Witness — Teenagers CARLTON FOOD 9.00am Food Network Daily 9.30 Coxon's Kitchen College 10.00 Chef for a Day 10.30 Nancy Lam's Wol. Wiz 11.00 Worrell Thompson Cooks 11.30 Ideal Home Cooks

12.00 Food Network Daily 12.30pm Food Factory 1.00 Coxon's Kitchen College 1.30 The Green Gourmel 2.00 Japantasy 2.30 Food Network Daily 3.00 Simply Fish 3.45 More Simply Antony 4.00 Mindula's Indian Kitchen 5.00 Close

LIVING 6.00am. Can'i Cook, Won'i Cook 6.30 Animai Rescue 7.00 Professor Bubble 7.25 Caileu 7.30 Polka Dol Shorts 7.40 Johnson and Friends 7.50 Belbaloos 7.55 Practical Parenting 8.00 Barney and Fnends 8.25 My Zoo 8.30 Tiny and Crew 8.50 Practical Parenting 9.00 Special Babies 9.30 Home and Away 10.00 The Jerry Springer Show and Away 10.00 The Jeny Springer Show 10.50 Mauny Powch 11.60 Brookside 12.10pm Through the Keyhole 12.40 Rescue 911 1.10 Beyond Belief. Fact or Fiction 1.40 Maury Povich 2.30 Special Bables 3.00 The Jeny Springer Show 3.50 Michael Cole 4.40 Home and Away 5.10 Through the Keyhole 5.40 Can't Cook, Won't Cook 6.15 The Jeny Springer Show 7.05 Rescue 911 7.35 Animal Rescue 8.00 (A Law 9.00 FILM: Woman with a Past 11982) 11.00 Seebew (1992) 11.00 Sexteey ZEE TV

5.00am Hasya Te Na Ghar Vesya 5.30 Hit Thi Hit Hal 6.00 Hero Kal Asj Au 6.30 Awaz Nayee Anciaz Wohl 7.00 Fath 7.30 News 8.00 Karoban Dunya 8.30 Tara 9.00 Zarjeeren 9.30 Zee Health Show 10.00 Urdu Drama 11.00 Pol Luck 11.30 Sharjah Cup 1999: England v Palestan 3.00pm it's My Choice 9.30 Sharjah Cup 1999: England v Palestan 6.30 Chait Aur Nayat 8.00 Hasratein 9.30 Eluri 2 10.30 X.Zone 11.30 Emirates World of Cnokel 12.00 News 12.30am Zee ol Cricket 12.00 News 12.30em Zee Business Show 1.00 Bangla TV 1.30 Parvarian 2.00 FILM: Hindi Movie: Saboot Mangta Hai Kacnoon 4.30 An

CRICKET 48

England wilt as Ijaz whips up a desert storm

SPORT

GOLF 50

Woods and Duval ready to dispute mastery at Augusta

THURSDAY APRIL 8 1999

Sale teenager wings in for debut against Wales as Woodward gives youth its head

England to unleash the 'new Lomu

By DAVID HANDS RUGBY CORRESPONDENT

WHEN Steve Hanley took the well-worn path from Aspatria to Sale last September, his ambition was a first XV place with the Allied Dunbar Premiership club and perhaps, if things went well, an appearance for England Under-21. Instead, on Sunday, the rawboned Cumbrian will step out for England at Wembley in the match against Wales that will conclude the Five Nations Championship and determine whether the millennium ends with an English grand slam.

It is a rise to stardom along the same trajectory taken by Jonathan Wilkinson last season. Hanley will be 20 in June. a month later than Wilkinson. who won his first cap as a replacement against freland in April last year at 18. Not for 31 years have England fielded a senior side including two teenagers — David Gay, of Bath, and Bryan West, of France reshuffle.

Loughborough Colleges, both in the back row.

Hanley's selection on the left wing, one of three changes to the XV that started against France last month, is typical of Clive Woodward. The England coach has a banker in Tony Underwood, who may yet find a place in the squad if Jeremy Guscott's hamstring gives way before the weekend. but it is the promotion of youth that excites him in a way that is very un-English. Suspicion of youth has been an unfortunate characteristic of some past England managements.

Woodward first set eyes on Hanley in November at the insistence of John Mitchell, his assistant and then director of rugby at Sale. Hanley, 6ft 4in and lost arrived from Aspatria as an outside centre. which is where Mitchell believes that he may yet play. Even then, Wigan had exing rugby league, but the Hanleys are a union family: Melvyn, his father, is director of rugby at Aspatria.

Within weeks, the newcomer was scoring tries to the manner born, displaying strength. pace and, importantly, foot-

Pair of aces: Wilkinson, left, and Hanley will form England's first teenaged duo at senior level for 31 years when they take the field in the Five Nations Championship title decider at Wembley on Sunday balling skills. Hanley is not a head-down, bulldozing wing. He has a change of pace, a swerve, imagination and distributive skills that come from his experience in midfield. "it's a big decision to put a young guy in, especially for on merit and I'm looking forward to seeing him play." Woodward said.

Age and inexperience have seldom weighed heavily with Woodward - witness the emergence of Matt Perry, Dan Luger and David Rees, the unfortunate Sale wing, whose place has now been taken, in effect, by his club-mate. "David has been brilliant, talking me through things, and I'm sure he'll be on the phone this week to help me out," Hanley said. In fact, Luger will move wing, with Hanley playing on the left, the position that he occupies for Sale.

The move south tied in happily enough with Hanley's studies at the University of Central Lancashire in Preston. where he is a second-year student of sports science. "The great thing about Steve is that he plays with a smile on his face," Mitchell said. "He's a good learner, too."

TEAMS

S Arctive (reviewser Factors), V E Longer (statif, in Medicard, (Schoolseler), S Brown (Fachmond), F Waters (Wasps), P Mensith (Harlequire), J Writiness (Harlequire); B Medicard (Fachmond), F Waters (Wasps), P Mensith (Harlequire), J Writiness (Harlequire); M Regain (Bath), D Conaption (Richmond), R Fidler (Goucesier), N Comwell (Goucesier), R Pool-Jones (State Français), A Diprose (Serecers, captan), Replacements: N Watshe (Harlequire), A King (Wasps), M Shaw (Marcastle Faccors), G Chuter (Saracers), W Green (Wasps), S Shaw (Wasps), P Volley (Wasps).

He learnt quickly enough to win a place in the England A side that played Scotland and Ireland, only to suffer a partial dislocation of the shoulder in Dublin when he was in contention for a senior place against France. He trained with England during the week leading up to that match and heard on Tuesday that he would win his

"Now I wake up in the morning and find it hard to believe what's happened," Hanley said. "I hope nerves won't have a negative effect on my game. I love union. I have done since I was a kid, and although the offer from Wigan npting, the dream was always to play for England."

Inevitably, Hanley will be compared to Jonah Lomu because of his physique and Mitchell will remind him that Lomu's first outings with the All Blacks, as a teenager against France in 1994, did not go so well. Hanley's prospects are better. He is part of a settled side, playing effective rugby with no great expectancy from the public, though on the especially proud of our disciplinary record, but I do not

With Dennis Bergkamp in the magnificent form that brought him the winning goal against Blackburn, Arsenal should not have too many problems reaching Wenger's target of 77 points for the season, a tally that he believes will be sufficient to retain the championship. Manchester United, a point ahead having played a game less, just have Much may depend on the form of Leeds United, who must meet each of the three brought them seven consecutive league victories, they will be confident of scrambling into a European Cup place the edge.

believe it is a problem."

horizon is the prize of a place in the England World Cup squad in the autumn.

Hanley will also find himself up against a player he knows well - Shane Howarth, the Sale fly half, who wears the No I5 jersey for Wales. He has learnt much from Howarth's experience, but will relish the chance of taking his club colleague on, ball in hand. He will also benefit from the presence at centre of Guscott, whose strained hamstring will be monitored throughout the week, though Woodward is confident that he will play. Otherwise England's only amendment to the side that started against France is at scrum half, where Matt Dawson take: over from the injured Kytan Bracken. Austin Healey reurns to the bench. his eight-wek suspension ending on Saturday. It was a decision that Woodward took with ease. "It didn't cross my mind to extend his sentence," he said. "He's served his time. he's fresh, he's it, he's been around the squad and knows what's going on."\

| Phil Vickery, the former England tight-head prop. starts his first much for Gloucester since October when he plays in the final d the Cheltenham and Gouces ter Cup against Bedford a Northampton tomorrow after recovering from a neck injury.

TWO SSWOR

No 1686

ACROSS I Speak with impediment

- 5 Having footwear (4) 9 Boring paperwork (5) 10 Large, smooth stone (7) 11 Its artist his own subject
- 12 First principles: back to them. for the ignorant (6) 13 Wanting to sit on eggs (6) 16 One not extinct after all 19 Concern, necessitate (7)
- 20 Triatomic oxygen (5) 21 Open-air pool (4) 22 Bridge bid (4-3); remove-obtain (licence) (4.3)
- DOWN I Influence; totter (4) 2 Without purpose (7) 3 In very generous style (12) 4 One cut atformal opening (6) 6 Monster Hercules killed: tiny
- water creature (5) 7 Wizard of Oz girl (7) 8 Disorientation in (eg) new country (7.5)
- 12 Ox. collegi; two Scot. kings 14 Colombia/Venezuela river
- m 15 Consequence (6) 17 Clear and bright (5) 18 One's grand family home (4)

SOLUTION TO NO 1685 ACROSS: 1 Hatchet job 9 Fixture 10 Quipu 11 Thor 12 Ecliptic 14 Entail 15 Senlac 18 Ebenezer 20 Fuss 22 Optic 23 (mperi) 24 Donkey-work DOWN: 2 Ague 3 Clench 4 Enquired 5 Joist 6 Bouncy castle 7 Off the record S Exhort 13 Wiscacre 16 Louvre 17 Review 19 Eaten 21 Spar

THE SEATIMES BOOKSHOP

NEW TIMES CROSSWORD BOOK AVAILABLE! The Times Two Crosswords Book S is now available, at £3.50 inc. p&p. Call 0990 134 459 for credit card orders, or send a chequepayable to News Books, to The Times Bookshop, PO Box 345, Falmouth TRH JYX

Ban on cards for Keown

next lowest tally.

THE Arsenal defence, if not the team, remains on course for a record-breaking season, but it will have to man the barricades without Martin Keown for two of the side's final six FA Carling Premiership matches after a bizarre ruling by the Football Association yesterday. The North London club had been hoping that the centre half's dismissal against Blackburn Rovers on Tuesday night would merit only a one-game ban because Keown's previous sending off this season, at Sheffield Wednesday, had been rescinded.

However, while the England defender did not serve suspension for Hillsborough red card the FA's disciplinary department has ruled that the dismissal remains on the record books, so Keown must now miss two games. Lancaster Gate can work in mysterious ways. Keown will be suspended for the trip to Middlesbrough

MICHAEL SCHUMACHER claimed yesterday that the Ferraris will be a match for the lightning-fast McLarens in the Brazilian Grand Prix in São Paulo on Sunday. Eddie Irvine, Schumacher's team-mate, won the opening race of the season in Australia last month, but only

Ferrari's celebrations were overshadowed by the 1'sec lead that the McLarens were building each lap on their Italian rivals at the start of the race. Schu-macher said: "In Australia, we had a problem with grip, which was caused by a combination of the aerodynamics and

"During the tests at Jerez, we realised what was going wrong and since then the performances have improved. In Australthe mechanicals.

after both McLaren cars had to retire.

in just over two weeks' time, season and 21 since Arsène followed by the home match Wenger took over. The Highbury manager remains unreagainst Derby County, when Steve Bould, 36, will attempt pentant, however, and is not to maintain the back four's about to start disciplining his phenomenal record of 21 clean sheets in 32 league games of a You could not say that on season in which they have con-

By MATT DICKINSON

Tuesday night Martin Keown played a dirty game," he said. ccded just 13 goals - ten less than Chelsea, who have the with some justification. "He made a mistake with his reac-It is almost as remarkable a tion for the second booking, figure as the number of red but I believe half the red cards cards earned by Arsenal playwe have received are deserved ers, which now totals nine this and half not so. I am not

TITLE RUN-IN

MANCHESTER URITED: April 17: Sheft Wed (ft) April 25: Leads (a) May 1: Asken Vita (h) May 5: Liverpool (a) May 9: Asken Vita (h) May 12: Blackburn (a) May 16: Tothenham (h) ARSENAL: April 19: Wartbledon (h) April 24: Meddlecurough (a) May 12: Derby (ti), May 5: Tothenham (a) May 11: Leads (a) May 16: Abril 16: Leads (h) May 16: April 18: Leads (h) CHELSEA: April 11: Wortbledon (a) April 14: Meddlesbrough (a) April 18: Leads (h) April 25: Sheft Wed (a) May 1: Everton (h) May 5: Leads (h) May 10: Tothenham (a) May 16: Dorby (h)

LEEDS UNITED: April 12: Liverpool (h) April 17: Charlton (a) April 25: Manchester Linted (h) May 1: West Ham (a) May 5: Chetsa (a) May 11: Arsonal (h) May 18: Covenity (a)

BY OUR SPORTS STAFF

tential, and now we're close to 100 per cent. The improvements have not involved major changes, we've just worked Schumacher also takes heart from the fact that neither Mika Hakkinen, the world champion, nor David Coulthard, his team-mate, managed to finish in Mel-said. "The McLarens were extremely fast.

but after a certain point in the race neither of them were on the track. I feel confident about Brazil because I consider Melbourne to have been something separate.

sure of that. I like Interlagos, I have won

"We will be up there near the front, I'm

"That's what counts." Schumacher on things in a number of areas."

bourne, unlike the two Ferraris.

teams above them during the run-in. Chelsea face them at Stamford Bridge while Arsenal and Manchester United must travel to Elland Road. If David O'Leary's side can carry on the form that has Schumacher gears up for Brazil fine health." Ferrari's superstitious fans have extra reason to hope for a victory by > season - with Schumacher managing the feat in 1994 and 1995. Stéphane Sarrazin, a test driver for the Prost team, will make his Formula One debut in Brazil, driving for Minardi. Luca Badoer, the first-choice Minardi driver, was injured during a test session last month and the team asked Alain Prost the Prost team owner, if they could > their leading driver. Seven of the past ten winners in Brazil have gone on to take the world championship at the end of the call on the young French driver. Sarrazin said he was looking forward to the challenge. "I am very proud about the trust Alain Prost and the Minardi team have put in me," Sarrazin said, "! know it's not going to be easy."

OUR LOWEST LINE RENTAL This offer is exclusive to ODYSSEY

Normally £19.99 per month. SAVE £102 per year and NOT 20 - NOT 100

BUT 180 MINUTES of FREE calls per month

FREE

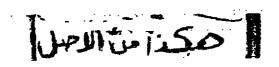

Ericsson GA628 GSM phone (Saving £10) minutes of off peak calls per month (Save up to £108 per year) FREE 3 Coloured Fashion Panels (saving £30.00) FREE Portable hands-free car kit (saving £45.00) FREE Car charger (saving £20,00) FREE Leather Case (saving £20.00) FREE Next day delivery

尺 FREE 女 CHARGE!

0500 74 0000°°

May Corporation Pts. 15 Old Cale Co.

ia. we were at 95 per cent of the F399's po- there twice before and the Ferrari is in